INDUCTEES FOR A NEW MARIN UNIT

Sixty-five recruits from Marin and the Bay Area were sworn into the 904th Military Airlift Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base today. The unit, transferred from Stewart Air Force Base near Newburgh, N.Y., is being strengthened because many of its 950 men, all reservists, chose not to come to California. Standing in the front row to the left of Capt. Harold L. Davis, personnel officer for the 904th, are five Marinites (from left)—William Casassa, 18; Wayne Magliulo, 18; Clyde Faus, 18, and Don Graham, 22, all of San Rafael, and Ed Dietrich, 18, of Novato. $1 Commute Raise Asked By Bus Line

Greyhound Acts On Gate Span Toll Increase Vote

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A flat $1 hike in the cost of all 20-ride coupon books sold to Marin commuters was asked today by Greyhound Lines West.

The bus company has said on Monday that it would ask for a 4.5 to 5 per cent fare hike, but today told the Independent-Journal that further study of its need for more revenue found the $1 hike on all coupon books would be the "fairest" way to raise the money.

The hike, which would be the fifth in less than five years, was needed to cover the cost of a sharp jump in tolls on the Golden Gate Bridge, said Greyhound's general counsel, William L. McCracken.

BUS TOLL RAISED

McCracken said Greyhound's $1 increase would be asked in an application this afternoon to the California Public Utilities Commission. The application asks that the fare hike coincide with the Jan. 1 effective date of the toll hike, he said.

Bus tolls on the bridge were $1 until March 1965, when bridge directors cut it to 13 cents to encourage Greyhound to hold down fares. At that time, McCracken said, a Greyhound application for a fare hike was amended to pass the entire benefit of this toll cut on to the commuter.

COMMUTER PAYS?

For this reason, he said, the entire cost of the toll raise should also be passed on to the commuter. He figured the annual cost to Greyhound of the toll raise at $109,000 an upward revision from his estimate of $90,000 on Monday.

The net effect of the Greyhound application, if approved by the PUC, will be to cost most bus commuters $2 more a month, since most buy two coupon books a month, McCracken said.

Examples of the higher prices for the coupon books are in Sausalito, where the book cost will go from $9.10 to $10.10; in San Rafael, where the cost will go from $13.60 to $14.60; and in Novato, ehere it will go from $15.90 to $16.90, McCracken said.

Greyhound's most recent fare hike, for 8.75 per cent, was approved by the PUC on Nov. 18, bringing the total hike since 1965 to 45 per cent, according to the PUC.

Opposition to the higher bridge toll for busses has been voted by the Marin County Transit District Board of directors and last night by the Sausalito City Council. The bridge board should rescind the hike until it operates its own transit system, both bodies said.

Plan Afoot To Revamp The Auto

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Nixon administration has drafted a five-year plan for an alternative to the dirty, noisy standard car motor. The possibilities include steam engines, gas turbines, electric cars —and even "exotic energy conversion techniques."

The plans calls for making "unconventional" new cars commercially available by the mid-1970s if everything works right —or at least by the 1980s.

"Although progress is being made in control of pollutant emissions from the internal combustion engine, it is becoming increasingly attractive and imperative that alternative control concepts be developed," the plan said.

The plan was developed by the Health, Education and Welfare Department and was recommended to President Richard M. Nixon last week by his air quality advisory board.

"The availability of alternatives to the internal combustion engine will influence environmental control in at least three areas: Air pollution control, indoor and occupational health

DOMINO THEORY BELIEVER

Reds' Foe Backs Nixon Asia Policy

LONDON (AP) — Sir Robert Grainger Ker Thompson, the British guerrilla fighter President Richard M. Nixon consulted in Vietnam War policy, is a domino man.

He subscribes heavily to the theory that if America lets South Vietnam fall to the Communists, the rest of South Asia will follow like a stack of dominoes.

"Anyone can produce arguments, which the ignorant will be happy to devour, against it," he said in a television interview Sunday. "But you go and ask the dominoes.

"I visited Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman in Kuala Lumpur and (Prime Minister) Lee Kuan Yew in Singapore and they are both perfectly clear on this—that if the United States fails in Vietnam then Asia will go Communist. And that will spread . . .

"So many people seem to be proposing that President Nixon should come out on the steps of the White House, with a piece of paper in his hand saying 'Peace in Our Time.' And we all know where that led last time."

In October, the veteran of the successful anti-Communist campaign in Malaya went to Vietnam to assess the war for Nixon.

On Monday, the President announced the withdrawal of another 50,000 troops from the war and made clear that Thompson had influenced his decision. Nixon said the Briton's report was "candid and impressive."

Thompson said of Nixon: "He is taking risks for peace and I think they are justifiable. We did not agree in everything, but we saw eye-to-eye on most things."

Thompson, 53, went to Malaya in 1938 as a cadet in the colonial service.

Thompson's career was forged as the Communist threat in Malaya advanced after World War II. He was made staff officer to the director of operations in 1950, when the guerrilla insurgency was at its height.

The problem in Malaya differed from that confronting the United States in several major respects: The Communist guerrillas were a small minority with no widespread support even among the Malayan Chinese. There was no Ho Chi Minh Trail to bring them supplies from outside. And the British after World War II fostered Malayan nationalism, while the French tried to crush the Vietnamese variety, developing a

Newark Mayor, Others Indicted On Extortion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio and eight other present or former Newark, N.J., officials were indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges involving extortion and income tax violations.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said the charges are contained in two indictments, one naming Addonizio, the officials and three other persons on income tax charges and a second 66-count action accusing Addonizio and 14 other Newark area men, some alleged Cosa Nostra leaders, of extorting $253,500 from an engineering firm.

It was the second major federal indictment announced in two days. Yesterday Simone (Sam the Plumber) DeCavalcante and 54 others were indicted in an alleged $20 million gambling ring.

The 15 were charged in one count of conspiring to affect interstate commerce by extortion. Anther charged them with thwarting construction in Newark, and 65 counts alleged they actually committed extortion against a firm identified as Constrad, Inc.

Each of the 65 extortion charges alleged that the 15 obtained 65 separate payments from Constrad. The engineering firm serves as a consultant, prime contractor and subcontractor for various city projects, such as sewer construction and urban renewal.

The payments ranged from $500 to $37,000, the indictment said. It added that officials of the firm were "induced both by the wrongful use of fear of financial injury and under color of official right" to make the payments.

Indicted were Addonizio, Director of Public Works Benjamin Krusch, Councilman Frank Addonizio, City Judge Anthony

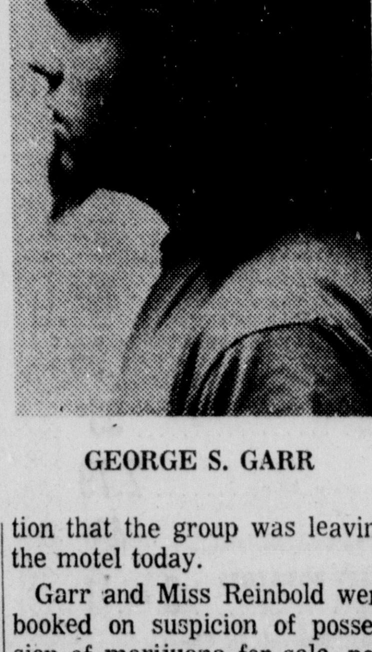
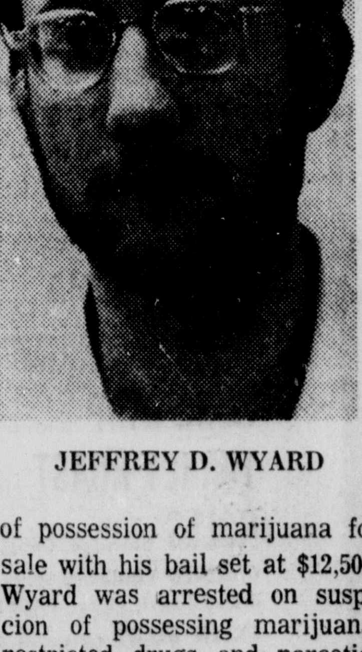
LINDA REINBOLD

DAVID S. KING



GEORGE S. GARR



JEFFREY D. WYARD

Hashish valued at $134,000 on today's market as well as more than $24,000 in cash were seized yesterday by drug agents in a raid on a Tamalpais Valley motel in which four persons were arrested.

Booked into Marin County's new jail in the Civic Center were George Steven Garr, 23, and Linda Ann Reinbold, 19, who gave their address as the Fountain Motel; David Stuart King, 25, of Billings, Mont., and Jeffrey David Wyard, 25 of Missoula, Mont.

Agent Alfred Teixeira of the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau said that the Fountain Motel had been watched for several days before yesterday's raid after an unusual amount of traffic was seen going to rooms there. He added that the drug abuse bureau also received anonymous calls reporting that narcotics sales were being made at the motel.

Yesterday afternoon, Teixeira knocked on the door of Room 20 and when he was greeted with a heavy odor of stale hashish smoke, he arrested King and Wyard, who said they are students who came to Marin from Montana about two weeks ago.

In their room agents found most of the approximately 30 pounds of hashish which was seized as well as $24,400 in a paper bag on the bed. Also found were three kilos of suspected marijuana and several hundred tablets agents thought were LSD.

In another room in the motel, agents found the remainder of the drugs plus Garr and Miss Reinbold.

Teixeira said that the raid, joined by state agents, was made after he received information that the group was leaving the motel today.

Garr and Miss Reinbold were booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale, possessing restricted drugs for sale and possession of narcotics. Their bail was set at $6,250.

King was booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale with his bail set at $12,500. Wyard was arrested on suspicion of possessing marijuana, restricted drugs and narcotics for sale and his bail was $12,500. All were held in lieu of bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Nixons Planning California Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon are expected to fly to their Southern California home the day after Christmas — barring a special session of Congress.

The Nixons would spend about 10 days at their home in San Clemente, if present plans hold.

Nixon, however, last week told Congress he will call them into special session on Dec. 26 if they do not act before then on pending appropriation bills. At the same time, Nixon said that if Congress members had to stay in Washington during the holidays, he would be here with them.

House Boss Sets Reconvening Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack said today the second session of the 91st Congress will begin Monday, Jan. 19.

He also told reporters he was sure the current session would end before Christmas.

$1 Commute Raise Asked By Bus Line

Greyhound Acts On Gate Span Toll Increase Vote

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A flat $1 hike in the cost of all 20-ride coupon books sold to Marin commuters was asked today by Greyhound Lines West.

The bus company has said on Monday that it would ask for a 4.5 to 5 per cent fare hike, but today told the Independent-Journal that further study of its need for more revenue found the $1 hike on all coupon books would be the "fairest" way to raise the money.

The hike, which would be the fifth in less than five years, was needed to cover the cost of a sharp jump in tolls on the Golden Gate Bridge, said Greyhound's general counsel, William L. McCracken.

BUS TOLL RAISED

McCracken said Greyhound's $1 increase would be asked in an application this afternoon to the California Public Utilities Commission. The application asks that the fare hike coincide with the Jan. 1 effective date of the toll hike, he said.

COMMUTER PAYS?

For this reason, he said, the entire cost of the toll raise should also be passed on to the commuter. He figured the annual cost to Greyhound of the toll raise at $109,000 an upward revision from his estimate of $90,000 on Monday.

The net effect of the Greyhound application, if approved by the PUC, will be to cost most bus commuters $2 more a month, since most buy two coupon books a month, McCracken said.

Greyhound's most recent fare hike, for 8.75 per cent, was approved by the PUC on Nov. 18, bringing the total hike since 1965 to 45 per cent, according to the PUC.

Opposition to the higher bridge toll for busses has been voted by the Marin County Transit District Board of directors and last night by the Sausalito City Council. The bridge board should rescind the hike until it operates its own transit system, both bodies said.

No More Lightning?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Stricter rules on manned rocket launches during bad weather will be enforced to avoid a scare like the one from two lightning bolts that struck Apollo 12 last month, the testing chief for the Manned Spacecraft Center says.

Don Arabian, here for a conference of the American Geophysical Union, told newsmen Wednesday that the Saturn booster for the moon-bound Apollo 12 generated two lightning bolts as it passed through a cloud layer shortly after liftoff.

If the same conditions exist in the future as on Nov. 14 when the Apollo 12 craft generated two lightning bolts after liftoff, Arabian said, "there would be no launch."

Lords Argue Hanging

LONDON (AP) — The British House of Commons voted nearly 2 to 1 Tuesday night to abolish capital punishment, but the outcome in the House of Lords is in doubt.

The Lords open a two-day debate on the issue today, with many Conservative peers favoring the return of the hangman. Two amendments were proposed in the upper house, one to delay a decision until next summer and another to postpone the decision for at least another year.

Parliament in 1965 suspended the death penalty for a trial period of five years. The House of Commons voted 343-185 last night to make the suspension permanent.

Charge To Nixon?

TORONTO (AP) — Beatle John Lennon says he is going to send the $72,000 bill for a forthcoming Christmas poster peace campaign to President Richard M. Nixon.

Thousands of the posters — bearing the message "War is over, if you want it" — are due to go on display in 11 of the world's major cities during the next week.

"They cost less than the life of one man and I am sending the bill for printing to President Richard Nixon," Lennon said as he arrived at International Airport with his wife, Yoko Ono.

El Al Trial Ends

WINTERTHUR, Switzerland (AP) — The three-week El Al trial ended today with the verdicts on three Arab commandos and an Israeli security agent expected Monday.

Mohamed Abu el Heiga, 24, Tawfik Ibrahim Yousef, 34, and Amena Dahbor, 22, all members of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, are accused of killing Yoram Peres, an Israeli trainee pilot who died of bullet wounds after their machinegun attack on an El Al airliner at Zurich airport Feb. 18.

Hayakawa Speech At Cornell Draws Jeers, Chicken

ITAHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—Ignoring jeers and a live chicken thrown on the stage, S. I. Hayakawa told Cornell University students last night he believed young persons should serve in a national service corps.

Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, president of San Francisco State University, said, "Our young men and women from 14 to 20 are our greatest underused natural resource."

He suggested young persons spend two years in a national service corps as mental hospital assistants, teachers aides or urban conservation workers.

The controversial administrator said the service would give young persons a "sense of meaningful involvement in society," something they now lack.

At one point in the speech, someone threw a live chicken on the stage and yelled, "You're a turkey." The chicken was removed immediately.

Agnew Sparks Mail

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System says a network program devoted to discussion of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's criticism of television drew more than 5,000 letters, a majority approving CBS' handling of the issue.

CBS added however that the over-all mail ran 4- to 5-1 in Agnew's favor in the 37,427 letters received at the network headquarters here since the vice president's Nov. 13 speech in Des Moines.

CBS newsman Mike Wallace, reporting the figures on the "60 Minutes" program last night, said the 37,427 total included 5,152 letters that responded to the Nov. 25 edition of the same program.

Heroin Kills Teens

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 200 teenagers have died this year from involvement with heroin, a city health official says.

Dr. Michael Baden, associate medical examiner, said Tuesday that 210 youngsters from 15 to 19 years old had died from heroin use this year, compared to 72 last year. Another 250 deaths from heroin have been reported in the age 20 to 24 bracket, he said.

Baden predicted more than 900 persons would die by the year's end from heroin. He spoke at a hearing of the New York State Democratic Advisory Committee on Crime and Safety in the Streets.

Death Verdict

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A youth convicted of the gunshot murder of screenwriter Stirling Silliphant's 18-year-old son has been condemned to death by a jury.

Chester A. Johnson, 22, was convicted yesterday of killing Loren E. Silliphant in the latter's Hollywood apartment. The prosecution said Johnson had gone there in the mistaken supposition he could obtain narcotics.

Investigators expressed the belief Johnson had been given a wrong address.

Nine Anarchists Held In Italy Bomb Deaths

ROME (AP) — Police in Milan and Rome charged nine members of a band of anarchists today with setting the bombs that killed 14 persons and injured more than 100 last weekend. Their motive, the Milan police chief said, was "anarchy itself."

Among those charged was a 36-year-old ballet dancer, Pietro Valpreda, known to other dancers as "the cobra." The eight others implicated in the case are young students or workers, including a 19-year-old German girl. The police said they either helped build the bombs or set them off.

The most devastating blast jarred the Banca Nazionale della Agricoltura in Milan Friday, killing 14 persons and injuring 90. Three smaller explosions went off in Rome at about the same time, injuring 17.

Valpreda, one of more than 150 known extremists rounded up for questioning, was taken into custody in Rome shortly after the bombings. A Milan taxi driver identified him, saying he drove him to the bank shortly before the explosion. The driver said Valpreda told him to wait and came back a few minutes later without the bag.

The investigation of the bombings also turned up several caches of weapons kept by extremist groups. One was at Querceto, in central Italy, where police raided a Maoist group's headquarters and seized a submachine-gun, six Sten guns, six rifles, six pistols, nine shotguns, ammunition and a hand grenade.

Cleaver Demands Passport, But Not For U.S. Travel

BERKELEY (AP) — Eldridge Cleaver, fugitive leader of the Black Panther Party, doesn't intend to return to the United States, his attorney says.

The party's national headquarters released a statement yesterday it said was from Cleaver, who is in Algiers. The statement demanded a U.S. passport so he can travel widely.

The statement said Cleaver had refused a certificate which would permit him to return to the United States and contended he is entitled to a passport.

"I'd like him to come back, but as a free man, not as a slave," attorney Charles Garry said of Cleaver, wanted for parole violation.

"He'd have to spend the rest of his life in prison."

In the statement, Cleaver was quoted as saying, in part:

"They told me that they would give me a piece of paper that I could use to get back into the United States, where I would be arrested as soon as I got there.

"And they even wanted to pay my way back, and get me a ticket. I don't need them to book me no flights. All I want is a proper document of identification like everyone else is entitled to . . .

"We have no intention of being arrested either in Babylon or anywhere else in the world." Babylon is Cleaver's word for the United States.

Cleaver, convicted in Los Angeles for attempted murder, was on parole in April 1968 when he was charged in Oakland with attempted murder during a shootout between Oakland police and Panthers. Panther treasurer Bobby Hutton was killed in the shootout.

Youngsters Hurt

Michael Dominski, 18, and Donna Pederson, both of Inverness were treated for head cuts at Petaluma's Hillcrest Hospital yesterday after their car went off the Petaluma-Point Reyes Road four miles north of Novato Boulevard, the California Highway Patrol reported today. Time of the accident was not reported.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

No More Lightning?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Stricter rules on manned rocket launches during bad weather will be enforced to avoid a scare like the one from two lightning bolts that struck Apollo 12 last month, the testing chief for the Manned Spacecraft Center says.

Don Arabian, here for a conference of the American Geophysical Union, told newsmen Wednesday that the Saturn booster for the moon-bound Apollo 12 generated two lightning bolts as it passed through a cloud layer shortly after liftoff.

If the same conditions exist in the future as on Nov. 14 when the Apollo 12 craft generated two lightning bolts after liftoff, Arabian said, "there would be no launch."

Lords Argue Hanging

LONDON (AP) — The British House of Commons voted nearly 2 to 1 Tuesday night to abolish capital punishment, but the outcome in the House of Lords is in doubt.

The Lords open a two-day debate on the issue today, with many Conservative peers favoring the return of the hangman. Two amendments were proposed in the upper house, one to delay a decision until next summer and another to postpone the decision for at least another year.

Parliament in 1965 suspended the death penalty for a trial period of five years. The House of Commons voted 343-185 last night to make the suspension permanent.

Charge To Nixon?

TORONTO (AP) — Beatle John Lennon says he is going to send the $72,000 bill for a forthcoming Christmas poster peace campaign to President Richard M. Nixon.

Thousands of the posters — bearing the message "War is over, if you want it" — are due to go on display in 11 of the world's major cities during the next week.

"They cost less than the life of one man and I am sending the bill for printing to President Richard Nixon," Lennon said as he arrived at International Airport with his wife, Yoko Ono.

El Al Trial Ends

WINTERTHUR, Switzerland (AP) — The three-week El Al trial ended today with the verdicts on three Arab commandos and an Israeli security agent expected Monday.

Mohamed Abu el Heiga, 24, Tawfik Ibrahim Yousef, 34, and Amena Dahbor, 22, all members of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, are accused of killing Yoram Peres, an Israeli trainee pilot who died of bullet wounds after their machinegun attack on an El Al airliner at Zurich airport Feb. 18.

Hayakawa Speech At Cornell Draws Jeers, Chicken

ITAHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—Ignoring jeers and a live chicken thrown on the stage, S. I. Hayakawa told Cornell University students last night he believed young persons should serve in a national service corps.

Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, president of San Francisco State University, said, "Our young men and women from 14 to 20 are our greatest underused natural resource."

He suggested young persons spend two years in a national service corps as mental hospital assistants, teachers aides or urban conservation workers.

The controversial administrator said the service would give young persons a "sense of meaningful involvement in society," something they now lack.

At one point in the speech, someone threw a live chicken on the stage and yelled, "You're a turkey." The chicken was removed immediately.

Agnew Sparks Mail

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System says a network program devoted to discussion of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's criticism of television drew more than 5,000 letters, a majority approving CBS' handling of the issue.

CBS added however that the over-all mail ran 4- to 5-1 in Agnew's favor in the 37,427 letters received at the network headquarters here since the vice president's Nov. 13 speech in Des Moines.

CBS newsman Mike Wallace, reporting the figures on the "60 Minutes" program last night, said the 37,427 total included 5,152 letters that responded to the Nov. 25 edition of the same program.

Heroin Kills Teens

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 200 teenagers have died this year from involvement with heroin, a city health official says.

Dr. Michael Baden, associate medical examiner, said Tuesday that 210 youngsters from 15 to 19 years old had died from heroin use this year, compared to 72 last year. Another 250 deaths from heroin have been reported in the age 20 to 24 bracket, he said.

Baden predicted more than 900 persons would die by the year's end from heroin. He spoke at a hearing of the New York State Democratic Advisory Committee on Crime and Safety in the Streets.

Death Verdict

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A youth convicted of the gunshot murder of screenwriter Stirling Silliphant's 18-year-old son has been condemned to death by a jury.

Chester A. Johnson, 22, was convicted yesterday of killing Loren E. Silliphant in the latter's Hollywood apartment. The prosecution said Johnson had gone there in the mistaken supposition he could obtain narcotics.

Investigators expressed the belief Johnson had been given a wrong address.

Federation Session Canceled; No Forum

Last night's meeting of North Marin Federation was cancelled because of lack of a quorum, Evelyn Johnson, recording secretary, reported today.

The meeting for the purpose of electing officers has been rescheduled Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Bel Marin Keyes Community Center, south of Novato, according to Mrs. Johnson.

Nine Anarchists Held In Italy Bomb Deaths

ROME (AP) — Police in Milan and Rome charged nine members of a band of anarchists today with setting the bombs that killed 14 persons and injured more than 100 last weekend. Their motive, the Milan police chief said, was "anarchy itself."

Among those charged was a 36-year-old ballet dancer, Pietro Valpreda, known to other dancers as "the cobra." The eight others implicated in the case are young students or workers, including a 19-year-old German girl. The police said they either helped build the bombs or set them off.

The most devastating blast jarred the Banca Nazionale della Agricoltura in Milan Friday, killing 14 persons and injuring 90. Three smaller explosions went off in Rome at about the same time, injuring 17.

Valpreda, one of more than 150 known extremists rounded up for questioning, was taken into custody in Rome shortly after the bombings. A Milan taxi driver identified him, saying he drove him to the bank shortly before the explosion. The driver said Valpreda told him to wait and came back a few minutes later without the bag.

The investigation of the bombings also turned up several caches of weapons kept by extremist groups. One was at Querceto, in central Italy, where police raided a Maoist group's headquarters and seized a submachine-gun, six Sten guns, six rifles, six pistols, nine shotguns, ammunition and a hand grenade.

Burglar Suspect Faces Hearing

A preliminary hearing for Robert Lee Sisler, 20, of 400 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, who is accused of burglarizing the Citadel nightclub last Thursday night, has been set for Jan. 6.

Sisler was arrested along with Daniel John Johnston, 20, of 49 Valencia Street, San Rafael, when they were discovered in the nightclub's office by the owner, Irving B. Litchfield.

Litchfield captured Johnston at gunpoint, and Sisler was later caught by San Rafael police behind the Bourbon Shop at 36 Medway Road.

Friday afternoon when the two men appeared in municipal court for arraignment, Sisler dashed out of the courthouse, hotly pursued by a bailiff, Dwight Johnson. San Rafael police officer Anthony Hoke spotted the chase and caught Sisler at the intersection of Third and B streets.

Johnston, who is out on bail, is to enter a plea to the burglary charge Dec. 29.

Saigon's Increased Death Toll Reflects Bigger Role

SAIGON (AP) —The Saigon government's total of battlefield dead reported for the past seven months is more than double that of American forces, reflecting what President Nguyen Van Thieu calls their "increasing share" of the war effort.

South Vietnamese casualties have been higher than those suffered by American troops for 30 consecutive weeks, from May 10 through Dec. 6, according to official casulaty summaries.

During that period, 11,450 government soldiers and 4,907 Americans were reported killed in action.

During the first 19 weeks of the year, before the withdrawal of some 60,000 U.S. troops began, casualties were nearly equal, with 4,930 South Vietnamese and 4,292 Americans reported killed on the battlefield.

In the northern Mekong Delta, from which American infantrymen were withdrawn last summer in the first troop cutback, a battalion of 500 South Vietnamese was taken by surprise at sunset yesterday shortly after helicopters landed them in an area of palm groves and sugar cane fields to search out a Viet Cong battalion.

The government troops ran into mines, booby traps and a hail of machine gun fire that killed 20 men and wounded 63. Only two Viet Cong were known dead as the enemy pulled back in the dark.

In the past five weeks, South Vietnamese forces have been dealth at least four setbacks in the northern and central delta, with 113 of their men killed in those engagements and more than 100 wounded at a cost of only 16 Viet Cong known dead.

Viet Cong gunners shelled Saigon Tuesday for the first time in four months with a single 100-pound missle that landed in a group of houses adjacent to a hospital. Four civilians were wounded, one house was destroyed and two others were badly damaged.

U.S. Marines from the Fifth Regiment reported killing 27 North Vietnamese and rounding up 28 persons suspected of being miles southwest of Da Nang. Six Marines were wounded, U.S. headquarters said.

Two American helicopters were shot down, one near the Cambodian border 74 miles northeast of Saigon and the other in the Mekong Delta 118 er in the Mekong Delta. Five Americans were wounded.

These losses raised to 6,214 the number of U.S. helicopters and planes reported lost in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

Couple To Plead On Pot Charges

A Mill Valley man and his wife who were arrested Dec. 8 were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of cultivating and possessing marijuana.

Keith Lane Hadley, 29, and Doris Frye Hadley, 32, were told to return to court Jan. 5 to enter pleas to the charges.

They were arrested after police had been called to their house by a neighbor who said someone was trying to enter the residence. When officers arrived, they found prymarks around the door and entered the house to search for the burglar, but found suspected marijuana instead.

The Hadleys were arrested when they arrived home a short time later.

Calley Judge Looking Into Massacre Leak

FORT BENNING, GA. (AP) — The military judge who will preside at the murder trial of First Lt. William L. Calley Jr. has asked for the investigation of two former GIs and five news organizations in connection with published discussions of the alleged My Lai massacre.

Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy directed yesterday that the Justice Department be asked to investigate possible violations of his ban against discussion of the Calley case by potential witnesses and he asked to prosecute where warranted.

Kennedy cited four cases involving Herbert L. Carter and Ronald L. Haeberle, both former soldiers, and the National Broadcasting Co., Life Magazine, Time Magazine, the Houston Chronicle and the Associated Press.

They contended that the Army acted too late in bringing the 26-year-old officer to trial because he was due for discharge last Sept. 6.

Calley is charged with the premediated murder of 109 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai in March 1968 and one civilian six months earlier.

Kennedy withheld a decision on the motion to dismiss. He said he will hear arguments on all motions at a Jan. 20 hearing. No date has been set for the Calley court-martial.

Kennedy ordered Nov. 25 that potential witnesses in the trial refrain from giving interviews to news media. He directed trial counsel to transmit his order to the witnesses.

He declared at yesterday's hearing that "the matter of violating this court's order by civilians or news media will be referred directly to the Justice Department for prosecution or possible prosecution."

Kennedy cited an interview with Carter published in the Houston Chronicle Dec. 10 and picked up by the Associated Press the same day. The story gave Carter's version of the action at My Lai.

Kennedy directed that a clipping of the Chronicle story and a notice of his order to Carter be forwarded to U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell with a request "to investigate and, if warranted, to prosecute the Houston Chronicle" and that the same request be made "with respect to The Associated Press."

The other instances cited by the judge were:

—One in which Kennedy quoted Cpl. Anthony Broussard as saying he was contacted by Life magazine and Time magazine, and that a representative of Time offered $7,000 and a sports car for an interview. "Refer this to the attorney general for investigation or prosecution," Kennedy ordered.

One involving an appearance by Haeberle, a former combat photographer, on the NBC "Today" show. "Same order," said Kennedy.

None of the five news organizations had any comment.

Photographs taken by Haeberle purporting to show civilian victims at My Lai and published in the Cleveland Plain Dealer were not discussed at the hearing. They were published before Kennedy issued his ban.

In another action, Kennedy extended his ban on public statements to Capt. Ernest L. Medina, Calley's company commander at the time of the My Lai operation.

Medina granted news intervies after the judge's ban was issued, but Kennedy said he had not included the captain in his original order.

"I was remiss in that" he said. "It never occured to me that Capt. Medina would grant an interview."

Medina has said at a news conference and in interviews that he gave no order for a massacre and did not see one at My Lai.

HELP TAKE THE PRESSURE-PAIN OUT OF PILES

by easing the itching, burning irritation of elimination...inside and out

Hemorrhoid sufferers, you really know how "flare-ups" can produce burning, irritation and discomfort. Regularity can bring further pressure and pain. Constipation is even worse! Doctors may prescribe an aid, like a stool softener, as part of their treatment, when surgery is not called for.

That's why new COUNTERNOID™ is so important. It's a formula that works as no other hemorrhoid remedy can:

1. COUNTERNOID's effective anti-pain drug eases sore, sensitive tissue for hours.
2. At the same time, COUNTERNOID acts to soothe and protect inflamed areas.
3. COUNTERNOID then actually softens even hard stools for easier passage.

By interrupting the friction-swelling-pain cycle of elimination, in many cases, COUNTERNOID lets swollen, inflamed tissue shrink...naturally.

COUNTERNOID, clinically tested by doctors, is now available from your pharmacist. Available in suppository and white cream form.

Calley Judge Looking Into Massacre Leak

FORT BENNING, GA. (AP) — The military judge who will preside at the murder trial of First Lt. William L. Calley Jr. has asked for the investigation of two former GIs and five news organizations in connection with published discussions of the alleged My Lai massacre.

Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy directed yesterday that the Justice Department be asked to investigate possible violations of his ban against discussion of the Calley case by potential witnesses and he asked to prosecute where warranted.

Kennedy cited four cases involving Herbert L. Carter and Ronald L. Haeberle, both former soldiers, and the National Broadcasting Co., Life Magazine, Time Magazine, the Houston Chronicle and the Associated Press.

They contended that the Army acted too late in bringing the 26-year-old officer to trial because he was due for discharge last Sept. 6.

Calley is charged with the premediated murder of 109 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai in March 1968 and one civilian six months earlier.

Kennedy withheld a decision on the motion to dismiss. He said he will hear arguments on all motions at a Jan. 20 hearing. No date has been set for the Calley court-martial.

Kennedy ordered Nov. 25 that potential witnesses in the trial refrain from giving interviews to news media. He directed trial counsel to transmit his order to the witnesses.

He declared at yesterday's hearing that "the matter of violating this court's order by civilians or news media will be referred directly to the Justice Department for prosecution or possible prosecution."

Kennedy cited an interview with Carter published in the Houston Chronicle Dec. 10 and picked up by the Associated Press the same day. The story gave Carter's version of the action at My Lai.

Kennedy directed that a clipping of the Chronicle story and a notice of his order to Carter be forwarded to U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell with a request "to investigate and, if warranted, to prosecute the Houston Chronicle" and that the same request be made "with respect to The Associated Press."

The other instances cited by the judge were:

—One in which Kennedy quoted Cpl. Anthony Broussard as saying he was contacted by Life magazine and Time magazine, and that a representative of Time offered $7,000 and a sports car for an interview. "Refer this to the attorney general for investigation or prosecution," Kennedy ordered.

One involving an appearance by Haeberle, a former combat photographer, on the NBC "Today" show. "Same order," said Kennedy.

None of the five news organizations had any comment.

Photographs taken by Haeberle purporting to show civilian victims at My Lai and published in the Cleveland Plain Dealer were not discussed at the hearing. They were published before Kennedy issued his ban.

Medina granted news interviews after the judge's ban was issued, but Kennedy said he had not included the captain in his original order.

"I was remiss in that" he said. "It never occured to me that Capt. Medina would grant an interview."

Medina has said at a news conference and in interviews that he gave no order for a massacre and did not see one at My Lai.

HELP TAKE THE PRESSURE-PAIN OUT OF PILES

by easing the itching, burning irritation of elimination...inside and out

Hemorrhoid sufferers, you really know how "flare-ups" can produce burning, irritation and discomfort. Regularity can bring further pressure and pain. Constipation is even worse! Doctors may prescribe an aid, like a stool softener, as part of their treatment, when surgery is not called for.

That's why new COUNTERNOID™ is so important. It's a formula that works as no other hemorrhoid remedy can:

1. COUNTERNOID's effective anti-pain drug eases sore, sensitive tissue for hours.
2. At the same time, COUNTERNOID acts to soothe and protect inflamed areas.
3. COUNTERNOID then actually softens even hard stools for easier passage.

By interrupting the friction-swelling-pain cycle of elimination, in many cases, COUNTERNOID lets swollen, inflamed tissue shrink...naturally.

COUNTERNOID, clinically tested by doctors, is now available from your pharmacist. Available in suppository and white cream form.

Burglar Suspect Faces Hearing

A preliminary hearing for Robert Lee Sisler, 20, of 400 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, who is accused of burglarizing the Citadel nightclub last Thursday night, has been set for Jan. 6.

Sisler was arrested along with Daniel John Johnston, 20, of 49 Valencia Street, San Rafael, when they were discovered in the nightclub's office by the owner, Irving B. Litchfield.

Litchfield captured Johnston at gunpoint, and Sisler was later caught by San Rafael police behind the Bourbon Shop at 36 Medway Road.

Friday afternoon when the two men appeared in municipal court for arraignment, Sisler dashed out of the courthouse, hotly pursued by a bailiff, Dwight Johnson. San Rafael police officer Anthony Hoke spotted the chase and caught Sisler at the intersection of Third and B streets.

Johnston, who is out on bail, is to enter a plea to the burglary charge Dec. 29.

Saigon's Increased Death Toll Reflects Bigger Role

SAIGON (AP) —The Saigon government's total of battlefield dead reported for the past seven months is more than double that of American forces, reflecting what President Nguyen Van Thieu calls their "increasing share" of the war effort.

South Vietnamese casualties have been higher than those suffered by American troops for 30 consecutive weeks, from May 10 through Dec. 6, according to official casulaty summaries.

During that period, 11,450 government soldiers and 4,907 Americans were reported killed in action.

During the first 19 weeks of the year, before the withdrawal of some 60,000 U.S. troops began, casualties were nearly equal, with 4,930 South Vietnamese and 4,292 Americans reported killed on the battlefield.

In the northern Mekong Delta, from which American infantrymen were withdrawn last summer in the first troop cutback, a battalion of 500 South Vietnamese was taken by surprise at sunset yesterday shortly after helicopters landed them in an area of palm groves and sugar cane fields to search out a Viet Cong battalion.

The government troops ran into mines, booby traps and a hail of machine gun fire that killed 20 men and wounded 63. Only two Viet Cong were known dead as the enemy pulled back in the dark.

In the past five weeks, South Vietnamese forces have been dealth at least four setbacks in the northern and central delta, with 113 of their men killed in those engagements and more than 100 wounded at a cost of only 16 Viet Cong known dead.

Viet Cong gunners shelled Saigon Tuesday for the first time in four months with a single 100-pound missle that landed in a group of houses adjacent to a hospital. Four civilians were wounded, one house was destroyed and two others were badly damaged.

U.S. Marines from the Fifth Regiment reported killing 27 North Vietnamese and rounding up 28 persons suspected of being miles southwest of Da Nang. Six Marines were wounded, U.S. headquarters said.

Two American helicopters were shot down, one near the Cambodian border 74 miles northeast of Saigon and the other in the Mekong Delta 118 er in the Mekong Delta. Five Americans were wounded.

These losses raised to 6,214 the number of U.S. helicopters and planes reported lost in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

Couple To Plead On Pot Charges

A Mill Valley man and his wife who were arrested Dec. 8 were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of cultivating and possessing marijuana.

Keith Lane Hadley, 29, and Doris Frye Hadley, 32, were told to return to court Jan. 5 to enter pleas to the charges.

They were arrested after police had been called to their house by a neighbor who said someone was trying to enter the residence. When officers arrived, they found prymarks around the door and entered the house to search for the burglar, but found suspected marijuana instead.

The Hadleys were arrested when they arrived home a short time later.

Dixie Senators Lose Round In School Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate overrode southern protests today and watered down an appropriations bill amendment curbing the government's school desegregation powers.

By a vote of 52-37, the Senate modified the amendment by adding the phrase "except as required by the Constitution," as proposed by Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

Southern senators denounced Scott's wording as destroying the effectiveness of the amendment. They sought to bar use of federal funds to force school shutdowns, the busing of school children, or assignment of pupils to schools against their parents' wishes.

Scott said the qualifying language, offered after a conference with Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch, had the full backing of the Nixon administration.

Finch had said that adoption of the amedment, without modification, could cripple the government's school desegregation efforts and would put his department in "an impossible administrative box."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said, "Our complaint is that the Health, Education and Welfare Department is applying one Constitution in the South and another Constitution outside the South."

This was his answer to a plea by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., for support of a move to qualify the amendment by adding the words, "Except as required by the Constitution."

"It seems to me that anyone who votes against that is saying I'm voting against the Constitution," said Griffin, the assistant GOP leader.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., said that adoption of Scott's wording would "completely scuttle" the purpose of the amendment.

The amendment was first written into the $21 billion appropriation measure for HEW, the Labor Department, and related agencies last summer in the House and was approved without substantial change by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Scott said "it is language which has the full backing of Secretary Finch and of the Nixon administration." But Sens. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., and John Stennis, D-Miss., said it was contrary to the position President Richard M. Nixon took in his election campaign last year.

Holland told the Senate he didn't believe Finch was speaking for the administration and added "I never will unless the President himself says so."

The amendment in the appropriations bill for HEW, the Labor Department, and related agencies was approved by the House last July and is known as the "Whitten amendment" for its author, Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss.

It still took the British 12 years to crush the insurgency. But in the process Thompson gained invaluable experience in guerrilla warfare and knowledge of the Asian revolutionary mind.

In 1961, he was made head of the British advisory mission in South Vietnam and for his three and one-half years of work there he was knighted.

Counter-insurgency absorbed him, his wife believes, because "he must have seen what happened on the ground floor—what happens among the peasants when there is a Communist infiltration. If you see terrorism at the root, you must become involved."

His first book, "Defeating Communist Insurgency", was published in 1966. This year his "No Exit from Vietnam" came out and established his name in the United States. It attributed American embarrassment in Vjetnam to obscurity of aim, failure of strategy and lack of control. He concluded that the President had two options: defeat or continuation of the war by "a new long-haul, low-cost strategy."

Thompson says he is neither a hawk nor a dove—"both extremes are dangerous." Neither would he accept defeat.

He regards the Paris peace talks as a dangerous second front set up by the North Vietnamese.

"The moment you get into negotiations, you automatically erode the resolution of the other side, and this is what they are after . . ."

In another interview he said the balance of the war had changed—"they are weaker tactically and psychologically and we are now stronger.

"The Viet Cong are no longer 10 feet tall. They are more like frightened 16-year-olds. They are on the way out."

However, this "cold war administrator," as he calls himself, cautioned that "it could take three to five years before Hanoi was compelled to give up her purpose and to negotiate a real settlement."

INDICT

Giuliano, Councilman Irvine I. Turner and Councilman Calvin D. West.

Also named were Anthony La Morte, executive director of the Newark Municipal Utilities Authority; Norman N. Schiff, former Newark corporation counsel, and Phillip Gordon, recently resigned corporation counsel and a former city councilman.

Others named were Lee Bernstein, a former councilman, and James Callaghan, an employee of the Newark Municipal Utilities Authority and also a former councilman.

Besides the officials, electrical contractor Ruggiero A. (Tony Boy) Boiardo Jr., and three other persons were indicted in connection with the extortion allegation.

The indictment said Boiardo was affiliated with the Valentine Electric Co.

Joseph Biancone, also a Valentine official; Mario Galo, an official of the Passaic Crushed Stone Co., Inc.; and Ralph Vicaro of Cedar Grove, N.J., were accused in the same indictment.

The income tax indictment also named the two Addonizios, Bernstein, Callaghan, Giuliano, La Morte, West, Turner, Boiardo, Biancone, Vicaro, and Gordon.

All except Turner, Boiardo, Biancone and Vicaro were accused of filing false 1968 tax returns, in which they, the indictment alleged, substantially understated their incomes.

Boiardo, Biancone and Vicaro were charged on three counts each of involving false returns over a three-year period. Turner was indicted on five counts of willful failure to file timely income tax returns from 1964 through 1968.

and control of community noise," it says.

The plan refers to "significant problems" in parking garages and other indoor settings from automobile exhausts of carbon monoxide, lead and other irritants.

A copy of the plan, obtained by UPI, says the auto industry does not have enough "motivation" to come up with its own new power sources.

"Therefore, it seems clear that some government encouragement of non-auto companies and additional stimulation of vehicle manufacturers is necessary," it said.

Industry itself has considered some visionary ideas. In one proposed for testing in Milwaukee, motorists would use conventional power to drive to the city, and would then hook on to automatically controlled guideways.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate overrode southern protests today and watered down an appropriations bill amendment curbing the government's school desegregation powers.

By a vote of 52-37, the Senate modified the amendment by adding the phrase "except as required by the Constitution," as proposed by Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

Southern senators denounced Scott's wording as destroying the effectiveness of the amendment. They sought to bar use of federal funds to force school shutdowns, the busing of school children, or assignment of pupils to schools against their parents' wishes.

Scott said the qualifying language, offered after a conference with Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch, had the full backing of the Nixon administration.

Finch had said that adoption of the amedment, without modification, could cripple the government's school desegregation efforts and would put his department in "an impossible administrative box."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said, "Our complaint is that the Health, Education and Welfare Department is applying one Constitution in the South and another Constitution outside the South."

This was his answer to a plea by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., for support of a move to qualify the amendment by adding the words, "Except as required by the Constitution."

"It seems to me that anyone who votes against that is saying I'm voting against the Constitution," said Griffin, the assistant GOP leader.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., said that adoption of Scott's wording would "completely scuttle" the purpose of the amendment.

The amendment was first written into the $21 billion appropriation measure for HEW, the Labor Department, and related agencies last summer in the House and was approved without substantial change by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Scott said "it is language which has the full backing of Secretary Finch and of the Nixon administration." But Sens. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., and John Stennis, D-Miss., said it was contrary to the position President Richard M. Nixon took in his election campaign last year.

Holland told the Senate he didn't believe Finch was speaking for the administration and added "I never will unless the President himself says so."

The amendment in the appropriations bill for HEW, the Labor Department, and related agencies was approved by the House last July and is known as the "Whitten amendment" for its author, Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss.

FIGHTER

It still took the British 12 years to crush the insurgency. But in the process Thompson gained invaluable experience in guerrilla warfare and knowledge of the Asian revolutionary mind.

In 1961, he was made head of the British advisory mission in South Vietnam and for his three and one-half years of work there he was knighted.

Counter-insurgency absorbed him, his wife believes, because "he must have seen what happened on the ground floor—what happens among the peasants when there is a Communist infiltration. If you see terrorism at the root, you must become involved."

His first book, "Defeating Communist Insurgency", was published in 1966. This year his "No Exit from Vietnam" came out and established his name in the United States. It attributed American embarrassment in Vietnam to obscurity of aim, failure of strategy and lack of control. He concluded that the President had two options: defeat or continuation of the war by "a new long-haul, low-cost strategy."

Thompson says he is neither a hawk nor a dove—"both extremes are dangerous." Neither would he accept defeat.

He regards the Paris peace talks as a dangerous second front set up by the North Vietnamese.

"The moment you get into negotiations, you automatically erode the resolution of the other side, and this is what they are after . . . "

In another interview he said the balance of the war had changed—"they are weaker tactically and psychologically and we are now stronger.

"The Viet Cong are no longer 10 feet tall. They are more like frightened 16-year-olds. They are on the way out."

However, this "cold war administrator," as he calls himself, cautioned that "it could take three to five years before Hanoi was compelled to give up her purpose and to negotiate a real settlement."

Giuliano, Councilman Irvine I. Turner and Councilman Calvin D. West.

Also named were Anthony La Morte, executive director of the Newark Municipal Utilities Authority; Norman N. Schiff, former Newark corporation counsel, and Phillip Gordon, recently resigned corporation counsel and a former city councilman.

Others named were Lee Bernstein, a former councilman, and James Callaghan, an employee of the Newark Municipal Utilities Authority and also a former councilman.

Besides the officials, electrical contractor Ruggiero A. (Tony Boy) Boiardo Jr., and three other persons were indicted in connection with the extortion allegation.

The indictment said Boiardo was affiliated with the Valentine Electric Co.

Joseph Biancone, also a Valentine official; Mario Galo, an official of the Passaic Crushed Stone Co., Inc.; and Ralph Vicaro of Cedar Grove, N.J., were accused in the same indictment.

The income tax indictment also named the two Addonizios, Bernstein, Callaghan, Giuliano, La Morte, West, Turner, Boiardo, Biancone, Vicaro, and Gordon.

All except Turner, Boiardo, Biancone and Vicaro were accused of filing false 1968 tax returns, in which they, the indictment alleged, substantially understated their incomes.

Boiardo, Biancone and Vicaro were charged on three counts each of involving false returns over a three-year period. Turner was indicted on five counts of willful failure to file timely income tax returns from 1964 through 1968.

and control of community noise," it says.

The plan refers to "significant problems" in parking garages and other indoor settings from automobile exhausts of carbon monoxide, lead and other irritants.

A copy of the plan, obtained by UPI, says the auto industry does not have enough "motivation" to come up with its own new power sources.

"Therefore, it seems clear that some government encouragement of non-auto companies and additional stimulation of vehicle manufacturers is necessary," it said.

Industry itself has considered some visionary ideas. In one proposed for testing in Milwaukee, motorists would use conventional power to drive to the city, and would then hook on to automatically controlled guideways.

IN MEMORIAM

McCARTHY, MARIE — In loving memory of our dear mother MARIE McCARTHY who passed away December 17, 1962.

Time has changed the face of things
Since you went away;
There's almost nothing here that you
Would recognize today;
Yet could you look into our hearts
You'd see there still tonight
The love you lighted long ago
Like votive candles, burning bright.

Air Force Calls Off Flying Saucer Probe

Air Force Secretary Robert C. Seamans Jr. said in a memorandum to the Air Force command that the program "now is in the ground of national security or in the interest of science."

It investigated more than 7,000 reports of saucer sightings without finding evidence of danger to national security or any firm proof that flying saucers exist.

One study, conducted by the University of Colorado, cost $539,000. Another, by the National Academy of Sciences, cost $15,000.

The Air Force said the cost of the investigations themselves could not be estimated because they were carried out by Air Force personnel. The Project Bluebook headquarters, which will be closed, employs three people.

Seamans said the investigations had shown these results:

No UFO Unidentified Flying Object) reported, investigated and evaluated by the Air Force has ever shown to have any indication of a threat to national security.

There has been no evidence submitted or discovered by the Air Force that sightings categorized as "unidentified" represented technical developments or principles beyond the range of present day scientific knowledge.

There has been no evidence indicating that sightingsk categorized as "unidentified" are extraterrestrial vehicles,

Panel Urges Surtax Through End Of '70

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prestigious group of businessmen and educators has urged Congress to extend the income surtax six months longer than now planned as the financial cornerstone of an inflation-fighting federal budget surplus.

In one of the most outspoken statements yet, the program committee of the Committee for Economic Development said yesterday inflation, despite some signs of responding to government restraints, is still "disturbingly rapid."

The key to curtailing the inflation, the CED's 18-member program committee said, is balancing federal spending and taxing "to yield a substantial budget surplus under conditions of high employment."

It suggested a surplus of $6 billion to $9 billion, but said the government should not hesitate to let it dwindle "if economic activity is really sagging" and money is needed to stimulate the economy.

In a sweeping economic view through mid-1971, the committee called for curtailment of the space program, sizable cuts in farm subsidies and deferral of new construction including highways.

It recommended any money made available by cuts in military spending if the withdrawal from Vietnam is stepped up, be "devoted to alleviating the problems of the cities, of race and of poverty."

The CED is a 200-member committee of leading businessman and educators, most of them corporation heads and university presidents. In spite of its importance, CED's recommendation may have come too late to have and effect.

. President Richard M. Nixon has asked Congress to extend the surtax — now 10 per cent — at 5 per cent through June, but told a news conference last week, "I do not intend to recommend the continuation of the surtax beyond June 30."

However, as one CED source pointed out, Nixon pledged before his election to let the surtax expire last June but was forced by inflation to request it extention.

The CED committee suggested Congress tell the President to make a special review of federal financial needs in late 1970 and then recommend whether the surtax should be extended.

One committee member, Philip Sporn of New York, suggested a stronger statement, "that the proposed reduction from 10 per cent to 5 per cent was a mistake and that it is an even greater mistake to terminate the 5 per cent on July 1, 1970.

"We need to boldly say that we are in favor of restoring it to the original 10 per cent without any limitation as to date of expiration."

Without being specific, the committee statement said long-term changes in the nation's tax system should not lock in large revenue losses, and found fault with the planned tax reform bill for that reason.

Panel Urges Surtax Through End Of '70

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prestigious group of businessmen and educators has urged Congress to extend the income surtax six months longer than now planned as the financial cornerstone of an inflation-fighting federal budget surplus.

In one of the most outspoken statements yet, the program committee of the Committee for Economic Development said yesterday inflation, despite some signs of responding to government restraints, is still "disturbingly rapid."

The key to curtailing the inflation, the CED's 18-member program committee said, is balancing federal spending and taxing "to yield a substantial budget surplus under conditions of high employment."

It suggested a surplus of $6 billion to $9 billion, but said the government should not hesitate to let it dwindle "if economic activity is really sagging" and money is needed to stimulate the economy.

In a sweeping economic view through mid-1971, the committee called for curtailment of the space program, sizable cuts in farm subsidies and deferral of new construction including highways.

It recommended any money made available by cuts in military spending if the withdrawal from Vietnam is stepped up, be "devoted to alleviating the problems of the cities, of race and of poverty."

The CED is a 200-member committee of leading businessman and educators, most of them corporation heads and university presidents. In spite of its importance, CED's recommendation may have come too late to have and effect.

. President Richard M. Nixon has asked Congress to extend the surtax — now 10 per cent — at 5 per cent through June, but told a news conference last week, "I do not intend to recommend the continuation of the surtax beyond June 30."

However, as one CED source pointed out, Nixon pledged before his election to let the surtax expire last June but was forced by inflation to request it extention.

The CED committee suggested Congress tell the President to make a special review of federal financial needs in late 1970 and then recommend whether the surtax should be extended.

One committee member, Philip Sporn of New York, suggested a stronger statement, "that the proposed reduction from 10 per cent to 5 per cent was a mistake and that it is an even greater mistake to terminate the 5 per cent on July 1, 1970.

"We need to boldly say that we are in favor of restoring it to the original 10 per cent without any limitation as to date of expiration."

Without being specific, the committee statement said long-term changes in the nation's tax system should not lock in large revenue losses, and found fault with the planned tax reform bill for that reason.

Split Vote Reshuffles Public Works

Wade Lackey, foreman in the Novato public works department, will become acting superintendent of maintenance Jan. 1 under a reorganization approved last night by the Novato City Council.

The reorganization was urged by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and Public Works Director Clifford Temps to permit assignment of responsibility for specific maintenance tasks and eliminate half-time maintenance supervision by an assistant city engineer.

NEW POST ASKED

Brown and Temps did not get quite what they asked for, however. Both wanted to create a new position of superintendent of maintenance at $12,000 per year, with advertising for outside applicants and an examination to fill it.

City Councilman Babe Silva, who initally accused Brown of taking the plan to three other councilmen but not to him "because I was against it," declared he would not approve any reorganization which involved hiring new bosses from outside the city's employees.

SILVA OPPOSES

Silva wound up voting against the reorganization because he objected to new classifications which would create three crew bosses designated maintenance man II and maintenance man III, with pay raises of 7.5 to 15 per cent. But the other three councilmen present — Mayor Harley A. McAskill, Joseph D. Gargiulo and J. Wayne Womack — voted for the plan with Lackey as superintendent on a six-month trial basis at $894 per month (a 10 per cent raise from his present salary). One additional maintenance man will be hired.

The Novato City Council also:

CHRISTMAS PRESENT — Accepted from Mrs. William Carpenter a Chrismas present of a framed photograph of the present city council, to be hung on the wall of council chamber.

SALARIES — Received from the Novato City Employeees Association a salary review and request for a 2.5 per cent across-the-board increase. Councilmen made it plain they will adjust salaries only once each year — at start of the new fiscal year. Gary Miner of the engineering department, speaking for the employees, did not object to that but noted Novato salaries are lagging a year behind those in comparable cities. Mayor McAskill appointed Councilmen Gargiulo and Womack as a committee to work with employee represetatives in drawing up new guidelines by next June.

REZONING — Enacted an ordinance rezoning the Harry Locke property on DeLong Avenue between Reichert and Scott streets from duplex to commercial use.

COUNCIL OF MAYORS — Agreed to have the Jan. 28 meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen at the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Club.

BACKHOE — Authorized call for bids on a new backhoe for the maintenance division, estimated to cost $9,700.

DOWNTOWN SURVEY — Agreed to hold a meeting in mid-January with the planning commission to hear a report on progress of the downtown survey by Sedwat-Cooke, planning consultant firm.

$413 From Auction

Novato police collected $413 Saturday from the departments annual auction of found and recovered stolen property. The money will go into the City of Novato's general fund, a police spokesman said yesterday.

Novato Council Fills Planning, Rec Seats

Two new planning commissioners and a new recreation commissioner were appointed last night by the Novato City Council after a half-hour closed session to discuss candidates.

Named to the planning commission were Beverly Aaron of 729 St. Francis Avenue, co-owner of Amber Griffin Books in Novato, and John C. Schoonover of 1160 Rosalia Drive, a procedure designer for United States Steel Co. in San Francisco.

They replace Eugene D. McGillicuddy and Frank Valim, who had asked that they not be reappointed.

Renata (Mrs. Glenn E.) Barton of 6 Denise Court was appointed to the parks and recreation commission, replacing Harry J. Moore.

The council also appointed James D. Fritz to the underground utilities commission to represent the North Marin Water District in place of Jerome B. Gilbert, who is no longer with the district.

Driver Fined $200

S. Lawrence Glazier, 36, 106 Reed Street, Mill Valley, has been placed on six months probation and fined $200 in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Dec. 3 on Highway 101.

Novato Wheels In Motion For New Rec Bond Ballot

Novato City Council took the initial step last night toward putting a bond issue for park purchase before voters next June.

There was no mention of the amount of the issue proposed, but Councilmen Joseph D. Gargiulo and Babe Silva made it plain they were thinking only of purchase of the 67-acre O'Hair property on Novato Creek west of Sutro Avenue. The property has been offered to the city for half a million dollars. Federal open space funds may be available for up to half of the purchase price.

"Let's acquire the property," urged Silva. "Then we can finance its development in stages. I'm sure the people will go for that."

He termed a parks and recreation commission recommendation for a $2 million park bond issue "too much." Gargiulo agreed.

Councilman Wayne Womack urged that no money be spent on detailed plans for the park until after the bond election. A preliminary study will be asked from Ribera and Sue, landscape architects.

The action taken last night submitted the proposal to the planning commission for review at its Jan. 12 meeting, and approved a proposed time schedule prepared by Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

This calls for the council to review the planning commission's recommendation Jan. 13, receive a report from Ribera and Sue on Feb. 10, and appoint a citizen bond committee on Feb. 24. The issue would then go on the June primary election ballot.

Adams presented a further breakdown of results of an opinion survey taken by the parks and recreation department which showed 78.8 per cent of those responding favored some sort of park bond issue. A $2.3 million issue for land purchase and park development was soundly defeated last year.

Hub Trustees Stop Short Of Joining Urban Program

The San Anselmo School District board last night went on record supporting the city's application for an urban planning grant, but stopped short of joining the program.

Planning Commission Chairman John F. West outlined the city's program in urban planning, and planning consultant Sydney H. Williams suggested the part of the plan dealing with schools could be expanded in more detail if the school district helped fund the extra study. Federal funds would provide two-thirds of the extra money needed, reported Supt. Stephen L. Parodi.

The board, with only three members present, postponed a decision on joining the program until the entire board can discuss it.

Parodi reported the board took no action in a closed session at the end of the meeting at which hiring of nonteaching employees and firing of a teacher were discussed.

The board heard two informal bids by landscapers for grounds maintenance, but took no action. Each firm submitted bids for maintenance of school lawns, and for complete maintenance of lawns, playing fields, shrubbery and flowerbeds. A. and J. Shooter bid $740 a month for lawn maintenance and $1,190 a month for complete maintenance, and Forster and Kruger bid $1,100 a month and $2,000 a month. Both bids were for a three-year contract.

The board asked for more information on the proposals before acting.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

Hub Council To Clarify Garbage Fee Increase

Some San Anselmo residents may be surprised to find their garbage rates boosted next year, but the San Anselmo City Council moved last night to minimize the surprise.

At the request of William A. Trewhella, manager of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, the council agreed to write a form letter advising residents that they will be billed $4.50 or $4.75 a month for unlimited garbage pickups after Jan. 1, unless they write the San Anselmo Garbage Disposal company requesting the one-can pickup rate of $2.50 or $2.75 a month. The higher rate applies for hilly areas.

Trewhella said the garbage company has sent out notices, but many people are unable to understand that they will be charged the unlimited pickup rate unless they order the lower one.

The council approved minor amendments in the new garbage ordinance and passed it as an emergency ordinance to beat the Jan. 1 deadline on backyard burning. The new ordinance provides for the unlimited pickups and new rate schedule.

The council stayed its hand last night to save a house at 562 Scenic Avenue which it had ordered razed.

Instead of awarding a bid for demolition, the council yielded to the pleas of a youthful trio to let them bring the property up to building codes. The three were told to confer with City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell on their plans. then bring detailed plans before the council Jan. 13.

John Simontacchi, Mark Johnson and John Rambke said they are buying the property, and plan to convert the house at 562 Scenic into a workshop for the house at 564, which is on the same lot.

The council had ordered 562 razed because of its condition and because it was a second residence on the single-family lot.

The city received one bid to raze the house, but it was not discussed after City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel outlined the trio's proposal.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

REDWOOD — Approved plans and specifications for bids on repaving Redwood Road between Floribel and Oak avenues, and set 8 p.m. next Tuesday to open bids on the project.

BACKHOE — Authorized spending $13,445 previously budgeted for a backhoe. The machine was delivered a month ago, City Administrator Kaeppel said.

HOSE — Authorized buying 700 feet of 3-inch fire hose for $1,365 from American Rubber Manufacturing Co. and 700 feet of 1.5-inch hose for $595 from Western Fire Equipment Co.

BRIDGE — Approved paying $330 to Kunst Brothers to sandblast the bridge railing on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Tunstead Avenue, and paying $425 to Weber Plastering, Inc., to replaster the railing with concrete.

TRAFFIC — Agreed to take part in a county-wide inventory of traffic control devices by contributing approximately 15 man-days of work to list San Anselmo's controls. The plan is to bring all controls up to federal standards through a federally funded program.

YOUTH — Asked Kaeppel to write the Governor's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth for advice on youth councils. Councilmen agreed a city youth council would be desirable, but Councilman James F. Reed warned that it would "have to be treated properly . . . We can't give them lip service." Kaeppel is also to ask the Marin County Youth Commission for its advice.

ASSESSMENT — Agreed to transfer handling of bonds for the Ash Avenue assessment district to the county treasurer, at no cost to the city.

UNDERGROUND — Passed an ordinance establishing an underground utilities district on Greenfield Avenue from Lincoln Avenue to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and on Red Hill Avenue from Lincoln to Spaulding Street.

CHIMNEYS — Introduced an ordinance designating chimneys as architectural features which may extend two feet from buildings, or more if a variance is granted.

ADMINISTRATOR — Approved Kaeppel's attendance Feb. 25-27 at a city managers' conference in Newport Beach, and approved his request for vacation between Christmas and New Year's.

Consumers Bloc Blasts PG&E Hike

A 9.5 per cent increase in electricity rates, asked yesterday by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., drew immediate fire from the Association of California Consumers.

The Sausalito-based association, a federation of about 100 consumer groups throughout the state, said that "at a time when the economy is beginning to cool off, we think that the request for a 25 per cent increase in the rate of return is unconscionable."

The utility has been earning at a rate of return of 6.62 per cent for many months, "far in excess of the authorized 6.25 per cent," said Mrs. Sylvia M. Siegel, executive director of the ACC.

The California Public Utilities should order the company either to refund this exvess to its customers or to apply it to other parts of its operation to forestall rate hikes, she said in a statement to the press.

Mrs. Siegal also urged the PUC to conduct some of its hearings on the application in the evening, "so that the rate-paying public, which works during the day, can attend the hearings."

'Window Trip' Observation

A Mill Valley man in his early 20s was committed today to the Community Mental Health Center at Marin General Hospital after he went on a window breaking rampage in Mill Valley's Alto District.

Police said John Clayton of 23 Janes Street apparently was under the influence of LSD when he started breaking windows at 1:30 a.m.

Windows in about 10 cars and three homes in the 800 block of East Blithedale Avenue and 12 windows at Lou's service station at 5 Ashford Avenue were broken, police said.

When officers arrived, Clayton threw a hatchet at them before he was subdued, police said.

AT LAST, TIMOTHY CAN WALK

Timothy D. Tanner of Inverness, Marin County March of Dimes poster child for 1970, demonstrates his prowess with the tether ball as the corrective braces which made it possible for him to walk lie discarded. Timmy, the 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Tanner was born with extremely crooked feet and wore the braces, provided by March of Dimes funds, until three months ago. The fund drive campaign will be held in Marin during the month of January.

Hub Trustees Stop Short Of Joining Urban Program

The San Anselmo School District board last night went on record supporting the city's application for an urban planning grant, but stopped short of joining the program.

Planning Commission Chairman John F. West outlined the city's program in urban planning, and planning consultant Sydney H. Williams suggested the part of the plan dealing with schools could be expanded in more detail if the school district helped fund the extra study. Federal funds would provide two-thirds of the extra money needed, reported Supt. Stephen L. Parodi.

The board, with only three members present, postponed a decision on joining the program until the entire board can discuss it.

Parodi reported the board took no action in a closed session at the end of the meeting at which hiring of nonteaching employees and firing of a teacher were discussed.

The board heard two informal bids by landscapers for grounds maintenance, but took no action. Each firm submitted bids for maintenance of school lawns, and for complete maintenance of lawns, playing fields, shrubbery and flowerbeds. A. and J. Shooter bid $740 a month for lawn maintenance and $1,190 a month for complete maintenance, and Forster and Kruger bid $1,100 a month and $2,000 a month. Both bids were for a three-year contract.

The board asked for more information on the proposals before acting.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Miguel B. Medeiros, head of maintenance and grounds.

MATERNITY — Granted a maternity leave from Jan. 5 to the end of the school year to speech therapist Caryl Kurtzman.

JOINT MEETING — Heard Parodi announce a meeting of English, language and social studies teachers from San Anselmo, Fairfax, Lagunitas, Nicasio and Sir Francis Drake High School Jan. 28 to exchange ideas and coordinate programs in their fields.

Hub Council To Clarify Garbage Fee Increase

Some San Anselmo residents may be surprised to find their garbage rates boosted next year, but the San Anselmo City Council moved last night to minimize the surprise.

At the request of William A. Trewhella, manager of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, the council agreed to write a form letter advising residents that they will be billed $4.50 or $4.75 a month for unlimited garbage pickups after Jan. 1, unless they write the San Anselmo Garbage Disposal company requesting the one-can pickup rate of $2.50 or $2.75 a month. The higher rate applies for hilly areas.

Trewhella said the garbage company has sent out notices, but many people are unable to understand that they will be charged the unlimited pickup rate unless they order the lower one.

The council approved minor amendments in the new garbage ordinance and passed it as an emergency ordinance to beat the Jan. 1 deadline on backyard burning. The new ordinance provides for the unlimited pickups and new rate schedule.

The council stayed its hand last night to save a house at 562 Scenic Avenue which it had ordered razed.

Instead of awarding a bid for demolition, the council yielded to the pleas of a youthful trio to let them bring the property up to building codes. The three were told to confer with City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell on their plans. then bring detailed plans before the council Jan. 13.

John Simontacchi, Mark Johnson and John Rambke said they are buying the property, and plan to convert the house at 562 Scenic into a workshop for the house at 564, which is on the same lot.

The council had ordered 562 razed because of its condition and because it was a second residence on the single-family lot.

The city received one bid to raze the house, but it was not discussed after City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel outlined the trio's proposal.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

REDWOOD — Approved plans and specifications for bids on repaving Redwood Road between Floribel and Oak avenues, and set 8 p.m. next Tuesday to open bids on the project.

BACKHOE — Authorized spending $13,445 previously budgeted for a backhoe. The machine was delivered a month ago, City Administrator Kaeppel said.

HOSE — Authorized buying 700 feet of 3-inch fire hose for $1,365 from American Rubber Manufacturing Co. and 700 feet of 1.5-inch hose for $595 from Western Fire Equipment Co.

BRIDGE — Approved paying $330 to Kunst Brothers to sandblast the bridge railing on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Tunstead Avenue, and paying $425 to Weber Plastering, Inc., to replaster the railing with concrete.

TRAFFIC — Agreed to take part in a county-wide inventory of traffic control devices by contributing approximately 15 man-days of work to list San Anselmo's controls. The plan is to bring all controls up to federal standards through a federally funded program.

YOUTH — Asked Kaeppel to write the Governor's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth for advice on youth councils. Councilmen agreed a city youth council would be desirable, but Councilman James F. Reed warned that it would "have to be treated properly . . . We can't give them lip service." Kaeppel is also to ask the Marin County Youth Commission for its advice.

ASSESSMENT — Agreed to transfer handling of bonds for the Ash Avenue assessment district to the county treasurer, at no cost to the city.

UNDERGROUND — Passed an ordinance establishing an underground utilities district on Greenfield Avenue from Lincoln Avenue to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and on Red Hill Avenue from Lincoln to Spaulding Street.

CHIMNEYS — Introduced an ordinance designating chimneys as architectural features which may extend two feet from buildings, or more if a variance is granted.

ADMINISTRATOR — Approved Kaeppel's attendance Feb. 25-27 at a city managers' conference in Newport Beach, and approved his request for vacation between Christmas and New Year's.

Consumers Bloc Blasts PG&E Hike

A 9.5 per cent increase in electricity rates, asked yesterday by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., drew immediate fire from the Association of California Consumers.

The Sausalito-based association, a federation of about 100 consumer groups throughout the state, said that "at a time when the economy is beginning to cool off, we think that the request for a 25 per cent increase in the rate of return is unconscionable."

The utility has been earning at a rate of return of 6.62 per cent for many months, "far in excess of the authorized 6.25 per cent," said Mrs. Sylvia M. Siegel, executive director of the ACC.

The California Public Utilities should order the company either to refund this exvess to its customers or to apply it to other parts of its operation to forestall rate hikes, she said in a statement to the press.

Mrs. Siegal also urged the PUC to conduct some of its hearings on the application in the evening, "so that the rate-paying public, which works during the day, can attend the hearings."

'Window Trip' Observation

A Mill Valley man in his early 20s was committed today to the Community Mental Health Center at Marin General Hospital after he went on a window breaking rampage in Mill Valley's Alto District.

Police said John Clayton of 23 Janes Street apparently was under the influence of LSD when he started breaking windows at 1:30 a.m.

Windows in about 10 cars and three homes in the 800 block of East Blithedale Avenue and 12 windows at Lou's service station at 5 Ashford Avenue were broken, police said.

When officers arrived, Clayton threw a hatchet at them before he was subdued, police said.

COMBINED AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — A girl member of Charles Manson's hippie-style clan has pleaded innocent to murdering actress Sharon Tate and six others, and a prosecutor says she may get a separate trial.

Susan Denise Atkins, 21, willowy and impassive, spoke a soft "Not guilty," then flashed a bright grin as she made her plea yesterday before Superior Court Judge William Keene.

Miss Atkins, Manson, 35, Charles D. (Tex) Watson, 24, Linda Kasabian, 20, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, have been charged with five murders in the Tate case.

The county grand jury accused the same five, plus another girl clan member, Leslie Van Houten, 19, of killing Leno LaBianca, 44, and his wife Rosemary, 38, who owned a chain of Hollywood markets, in the LaBianca home the night after the slaughter at the Tate estate.

If prosecutors decide to use statements from Miss Atkins, who has said she was present at the killings, and if her attorneys request a separate trial for her, then under the law she can't be tried with the others, said Deputy Dist. Atty. Aaron Stovitz.

Judge Keene set Miss Atkins' trial for Feb. 9. He will hear pleas Monday from Manson, Mrs. Kasabian and Miss Van Houten.

Miss Krenwinkel and Watson are in the process of being extradited from Alabama and Texas respectively.

In San Jose, police said there was "substantial evidence" Manson and members of his commune were in the San Jose area when the two girls were murdered.

Kathy Snoozy, 15, and Deborah Furlong, 14, were found stabbed to death on a south San Jose hillside last August 3.

San Jose Chief of Detectives Barton L. Collins said several people here came to him after Manson's photo was published and one said he had cashed a check for Manson.

Collins said he had other evidence that the Manson "family" had been in San Jose around the time of the two girls' murders but declined to reveal the nature of the evidence.

Dope Raid Trio Held To Answer

Three persons arrested in a raid on a San Rafael apartment on Oct. 29 yesterday were bound over to Marin Superior Court on heroin charges after a preliminary hearing in municipal court.

Due to be arraigned Jan. 29 are Rosita Dolores Branstetter, 37, of San Rafael; Clarence Dale Taylor, 26, of Fairfax, and Michael Gordon Streib, 24, of San Francisco.

Streib is charged with selling marijuana; Mrs. Branstetter with a sale and possession of heroin for sale, and Taylor with possessing the narcotic.

Mrs. Branstetter, who is accused by narcotics agents of being a heroin dealer, was arrested at her apartment a second time on Nov. 7, when agents seized more suspected heroin, but tests showed that to be milk sugar, as she had claimed.

Petaluma Planners Favor East Side Schools Site

The site of the new junior-senior high school development on the east side of Petaluma was approved last night by the city planning commission.

The board of education is negotiating to buy 80 acres of land on the northwest corner of Casa Grande and Ely roads. The architectural firm of Porter and Jensen of Santa Clara has been hired to plan the new building.

The commission said the site coincides with the city master plan.

The Petaluma Planning Commisision also:

DEVELOPMENT — Said Young America Homes could delay presentation on a proposed development of houses, apartments and townhouses util the Feb. 3 meeting. The plan includes houses on 4,500 square foot lots rather than the required 6,000 square foot lots.

AGRICULTURE — Approved plans of the Sonoma County Planning Commission to forbid commercial uses in agricultural zones.

REZONING — Approved the request of Willow Creek Properties before the county planning commission to rezone 10 acres on Redwood Highway near McDowell Boulevard North from agricultural to commercial. The commission also recommended that meetings be scheduled to discuss annexation of the land.

Rites Too Rough

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — One local school's unofficial initiation for new boys is called "hammer and nail." Ferdi Linde, 13, broke his arm in two places by acting as "nail" recently. The ceremony consisted of two upper class students swinging another boy as "hammer" against the crouching Ferdi.

Spiro Stirs New Flap With Press On Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An aide to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said today that the Baltimore Sun, Time Magazine, the Washington Post and the Christian Science Monitor were among more than 20 applicants who failed to get accreditation for Agnew's Asian trip.

The aide, Herbert L. Thompson, said that it was lack of space rather than disagreement with the Sun's editorial policies that led to the exclusion although he acknowledged that he told a Sun correspondent that Agnew "doesn't like the Sun."

Thompson noted that only 10 newsmen could be taken on the trip with Agnew, beginning Dec. 26.

"We regret we had to pick and choose from among 32 correspondents," he said. "We just don't have the space."

Thompson said he had recommended 10 reporters, chosen on the basis of geographical location and their circulation, and that Agnew made the final decision.

He said Time Magazine was excluded because another magazine, U.S. News and World Report, had been chosen.

Thompson acknowledged that he had mentioned the Sun's editorial policy in discussing the situation with the Baltimore paper's Washington bureau chief, Philip Potter. But he insisted this was not the main factor in the rejection of the paper's request to send a reporter with Agnew.

The Sun said Thompson told Potter "to be quite honest, he (Agnew) doesn't like the Sun.

"He feels he's been banged around quite a bit, especially since April 11," the Sun quoted Thompson as saying. The remark was an apparent reference to comments on the Sunday's editorial page the day after Agnew addressed a group of Negro community leaders after the civil disorders here in April, 1968.

In that editorial, the Sun called the Negro leaders men who had "worked courageously to prevent radicalism's taking over." At the meeting with the then governor of Maryland, the Sun editorial said Agnew "insulted them. He accused them of a failure of leadership, and of letting themselves be intimidated by radicals."

Solving New Careers Woes In The Works

Marin County's New Careers program is getting nowhere since Dr. Arthur Pearl of Oregon University came to Marin to set it up 16 months ago, the county's human rights chief complained to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Austin J. Thompson said he is getting calls from citizens who condemn him for lack of progress in getting new careerists into county employment.

"For the last six months, I've no contact with New Careers," said Thompson. "We feel like spectators at a Forty-Niner game watching the fourth quarter — all fumbles!"

Two months ago, the supervisors hired Michael R. James, 28, as New Careers coordinator. He had joined New Careers while serving a prison term and worked himself up to an executive position in Oakland when hired by Marin.

Last week, James was fired because he was arrested by San Francisco police on a drug possession charge Dec. 8.

Disappointed supervisors asked Administrator Alan Bruce to see what can be done about the sputtering program. Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni suggested that the director of the human rights department might take it over. This too will be considered by Bruce.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also

REED BONDS — Commended Wells Fargo Bank for agreeing to buy $180,000 in Reed School District bonds at 5 per cent interest. Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said the bank's offer "is obviously a public service" because the current interest rate is 6.5 per cent or better.

HOUSING COMMITTEE — Named Mrs. Leo Wagner of Novato to a new Citizens Committee on Low Rent Public Housing. She is the fifth member picked by supervisors to the committee, which will ultimately have 30 members.

TEACHERS INITIATIVE — Decided not to support a "tax-reform" iniative sponsored by the California Teachers Association and the County Supervisors Association of California. The CTA measure, which would increase state appropriation for schools and for welfare, would only increase other taxes such as on sales and income, the supervisors decided.

MILLER AVENUE — Contracted with Corte Madera civil engineers, Bala and Strandgaard, to design the Miller Avenue extension from a point near Tamalpais High School across the marshes to Shoreline Highway at Richardson Bay Bridge. The fee is not to exceed $20,000, which is about two per cent of the estimated cost.

GNOSS FIELD — Authorized the payment of $2,916 for removal of telephone poles and undergrounding of wires at the southerly approach to Gnoss Field north of Novato.

COASTLINE PROTECTION — Authorized William L. Hess, assistant public works director; and Harold E. Gregg, president of the Marin Conservation League, to urge the state to preserve the California coastline for public use. They will testify tomorrow and Friday in Los Angeles before the Assembly Committee on Natural Resources and Conservation.

COLLEGE PARKING — Authorized a $5,000 outlay to hire a meter maid and buy a three-wheeler patrol vehicle to enforce limited parking along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and cross streets surrounding College of Marin. Minimum fine will be raised from $2 to $5. Arrigone said customes in Kenfield cannot find parking because of all-day use by college students and employees.

PROBATION DEPARTMENT — Approved a $33,701 outlay to pay for four new typists and an assistant superintendent of Juvenile Hall for the Marin County Probation Department. The amount will cover salaries of the new positions between now and next June 30.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION — Paid $346 to cover the cost of hosting the California Highway Commission on Nov. 20 and 21.

LIBRARY GIFT — Commended the Schultz Foundation of Greenbrae for a $2,000 cash donation to the Marin County Library for use at a branch library that best serves Greenbrae residents.

FLOOD ZONE — On the recommendation of Arrigoni appointed Fred Graham of Kent Woodlands, a management consultant, to the Ross Valley Flood Control Zone Advisory board. He will succeed Ann McCorry, who resigned.

PAYROLL — Approved recommendations by Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows updating the county's payroll system with greater utilization of computers, but turned down his recommendations that all paychecks drawn monthly and in the first week of the following month, instead of, as at present, the last day of the month.

Initiative Slap Comes From GOP

Criticism of two air pollution control measures, being pushed for the 1970 statewide ballot in an initiative campaign, was attributed incorrectly by the Independent-Journal on Saturday to the legislative counsel's office.

The criticism quoted was from a research paper prepared by the Republican staff in the Assembly. The paper included criticism of the measures by the legislative counsel's office, but the direct quotations appearing in the I-J were from a portion of the paper prepared by the GOP staff.

The staff termed the first measure, a constitutional amendment, "merely a ploicy statement without legal effect." But later it also said "there are no legal problems with the constitutional amendment initiative."

The legislative counsel's opinion of the second measure, however, a statute revision, "raises the spectre that the initiative statute is unconstitutional," the research paper said.

The research paper then quoted the counsel's opinion, which said the statute revision could violate the due process clauses of both the U.S. and California constitutions.

Novatans Held In Burglary Case

Two Novato men accused of burglarizing Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley Nov. 27 were bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday in the charge.

Dennis Leslie Yates and Paul Brent Caldwell, both 23, were told to appear in court Dec. 29 for arraignment.

After evidence at a preliminary hearing, Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court ruled there was sufficient reason also to charge Caldwell with a burglary of Reed School on the same date as the other burglary.

Caldwell and Yates were arrested when police said they found them inside Edna Maguire School about 2 a.m. Thanksgiving morning when they answered a silent burglar alarm.

Israeli Jets Hit Suez Area Again

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets pounded Egyptian positions for nearly three hours today along the northern reaches of the Gulf of Suez and the southern part of the Suez Canal, a Tel Aviv announcement said.

The targets were Egyptian artillery batteries that killed two Israeli soldiers and a civilian tractor driver in a bombardment last night, a spokesman said. He added that the planes returned unscathed.

Tate Killings Suspect Pleads Innocent; May Get Solo Trial

COMBINED AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — A girl member of Charles Manson's hippie-style clan has pleaded innocent to murdering actress Sharon Tate and six others, and a prosecutor says she may get a separate trial.

Susan Denise Atkins, 21, willowy and impassive, spoke a soft "Not guilty," then flashed a bright grin as she made her plea yesterday before Superior Court Judge William Keene.

Miss Atkins, Manson, 35, Charles D. (Tex) Watson, 24, Linda Kasabian, 20, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, have been charged with five murders in the Tate case.

The county grand jury accused the same five, plus another girl clan member, Leslie Van Houten, 19, of killing Leno LaBianca, 44, and his wife Rosemary, 38, who owned a chain of Hollywood markets, in the LaBianca home the night after the slaughter at the Tate estate.

If prosecutors decide to use statements from Miss Atkins, who has said she was present at the killings, and if her attorneys request a separate trial for her, then under the law she can't be tried with the others, said Deputy Dist. Atty. Aaron Stovitz.

Judge Keene set Miss Atkins' trial for Feb. 9. He will hear pleas Monday from Manson, Mrs. Kasabian and Miss Van Houten.

Miss Krenwinkel and Watson are in the process of being extradited from Alabama and Texas respectively.

In San Jose, police said there was "substantial evidence" Manson and members of his commune were in the San Jose area when the two girls were murdered.

Kathy Snoozy, 15, and Deborah Furlong, 14, were found stabbed to death on a south San Jose hillside last August 3.

San Jose Chief of Detectives Barton L. Collins said several people here came to him after Manson's photo was published and one said he had cashed a check for Manson.

Collins said he had other evidence that the Manson "family" had been in San Jose around the time of the two girls' murders but declined to reveal the nature of the evidence.

Dope Raid Trio Held To Answer

Three persons arrested in a raid on a San Rafael apartment on Oct. 29 yesterday were bound over to Marin Superior Court on heroin charges after a preliminary hearing in municipal court.

Due to be arraigned Jan. 29 are Rosita Dolores Branstetter, 37, of San Rafael; Clarence Dale Taylor, 26, of Fairfax, and Michael Gordon Streib, 24, of San Francisco.

Streib is charged with selling marijuana; Mrs. Branstetter with a sale and possession of heroin for sale, and Taylor with possessing the narcotic.

Mrs. Branstetter, who is accused by narcotics agents of being a heroin dealer, was arrested at her apartment a second time on Nov. 7, when agents seized more suspected heroin, but tests showed that to be milk sugar, as she had claimed.

Petaluma Planners Favor East Side Schools Site

The site of the new junior-senior high school development on the east side of Petaluma was approved last night by the city planning commission.

The board of education is negotiating to buy 80 acres of land on the northwest corner of Casa Grande and Ely roads. The architectural firm of Porter and Jensen of Santa Clara has been hired to plan the new building.

The commission said the site coincides with the city master plan.

The Petaluma Planning Commisision also:

DEVELOPMENT — Said Young America Homes could delay presentation on a proposed development of houses, apartments and townhouses uitil the Feb. 3 meeting. The plan includes houses on 4,500 square foot lots rather than the required 6,000 square foot lots.

AGRICULTURE — Approved plans of the Sonoma County Planning Commission to forbid commercial uses in agricultural zones.

REZONING — Approved the request of Willow Creek Properties before the county planning commission to rezone 10 acres on Redwood Highway near McDowell Boulevard North from agricultural to commercial. The commission also recommended that meetings be scheduled to discuss annexation of the land.

Another Fair-Marin Round Set

By WAT TAKESHITA

Harold Stockstad, president of Fair-Marin board of directors, should resign if he is not willing to step up the pace on fund-raising for auditorium completion and preparation for the 1971 county fair, the Marin County Board of Supervisors declared yesterday.

"I will not be a member of a board that's going to be rushed," snapped Stockstad in a heated exchange yesterday at the Civic Center. Stockstad said the Fair-Marin board would need until September of 1970 before launching a campaign for $500,000 to complete the second phase of the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

"If you're not prepared to accelerate, then I think you should submit your resignation," said Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. Both chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Louis H. Baar backed Arrigoni.

The supervisors set another meeting for 2 p.m. next Tuesday. McInnis said he wants Fair-Marin officials and the county administrator to work out some timetable on site development at the auditorium and present suggestions for a theme for the 1971 county fair at the meeting.

The head-on clash between supervisors and Fair-Marin Inc., charged with operating the auditorium and fairgrounds, followed a recommendation from Administrator Alan Bruce.

Bruce suggested that Fair-Marin be stripped of its authority over the Civic Center fairgrounds because it is not complying with county directives.

Supervisors have asked, and Fair-Marin has agreed to raise $500,000 to complete the auditorium so that it can be made usable next year.

Controversy arose over the timing. Stockstad and Fair-Marin executive director Leon G. Kalimos contended that a long-range plan for an ultimate $9 million cultural center must be adopted before the fund-raising can start. County supervisors insisted that the half million should be raised first and the auditorium completed and in operation before further expansion plans are drawn up.

Fair-Marin officials replied that the concept of the annual fair should change from the present five-day event to an all-year cultural and educational activity.

Lotte McWatters, secretary of Fair-Marin, charged that it was the county which stymied every attempt to move ahead.

Mrs. Max Thelan Jr. of San Rafael, member of the Marin Civic Ballet, declared that supervisors and poor publicity shot down every program Fair-Marin tried to push: "Between the I-J and the supervisors, Fair-Marin never had a chance to present its views."

Mary Robinson Summers added that Bruce had even stopped Fair-Marin from contacting supervisors directly. "We were told we couldn't even talk to the architect."

Kalimos asked for more time. He said developing a program and winning public acceptance involves time and effort. "You've been working on this for 17 years," said Kalimos. "I've been here only since July. We need time."

W. P. (Doc) Duhamel was the only member of the Fair-Marin board who agreed with the supervisors. He said the main job of Fair-Marin is to raise the half-million and complete the auditorium before planning other projects.

Baar declared Fair-Marin is floundering. "If the charge is to raise funds, then they've done nothing about it. It seems to me there is no direction."

Supervisor Michael Wornum said operation of the fairgrounds will not be successful if run by the county alone because the project will require funds and community support. However, Wornum also agreed with his colleagues that Fair-Marin should set its sights on completion of the auditorium and development of a county fair at the Civic Center.

Without the half-million dollars to complete the second phase of the auditorium, McInnis warned that the building would lack proper acoustics and adequate seating to put on any major function.

Baar Urging Salary Hike Trim For County Assessor

Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, who is scheduled to get a salary raise from the present $22,000 to $25,200 next month, may have a part of that raise cut back to the level of the county sheriff or the county clerk.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar yesterday urged the cutback, arguing that he cannot see a big salary differential between the assessor's job and those of sheriff, county clerk, and auditor.

Baar asserted that salaries of Marin's elected officials are too high compared with officials in other Bay Area counties.

In reviewing salary raises voted Nov. 18 for six elected officials, supervisors stressed that their comments are aimed at the positions and not at the present office holders.

Supervisors Michale Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. agreed that they see no compelling reason why the assessor should draw higher pay than the auditor and the sheriff.

Chairman John F. McInnis once again defended the pay raise for the assessor. The job of Marin assessor cannot be compared with those in Sonoma, Solano and Napa where property ownership is more stable and the assessors are not faced with the constant changes in ownership and valuation, McInnis argued. He said Marin should be compared with counties like Santa Clara and San Mateo.

The San Mateo assessor's salary is now $24,444 and will go up to $26,568 next year. The Santa Clara assessor gets $29,100.

Baar, however, pointed to assessors in larger counties like Contra Costa and Alameda. In Conta Costa, the assessor's pay will go from $22,572 this year to $23,136; and in Alameda, from $18,372 to $23,604.

"Alameda has over a million people and they don't have salaries like that in the assessor's position," argued Baar.

Baar wanted to reduce the assessor's salary immediately, but other supervisors called for at least another week's time. "I wouldn't want to make the change today without first talking to the assessor," said Wornum.

"I'd like to hold it up a week," said Arrigoni.

McInnis announced that the salaries will be considered again next Tuesday.

Salaries approved on Nov. 18, were:

Assessor — $22,000 now; $25,200 in January 1970; and $27,800 in 1973.

Tax Collector - Treasurer Stanley J. Fontez — $19,500 now; $22,725 in 1970, and $24,600 in 1973.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss — $19,500 now, $22,725 in 1970, and $24,600 in 1973.

County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini — $15,500 now; $19,350 in 1970, and $22,300 in 1973.

Coroner Public Administrator Donovan O. Cooke — $13,000 now; $15,150 in 1970, and $16,400 in 1973.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell's pay is set separately by the state Legislature. Mitchell's pay went from $20,000 to $24,000 last month.

If the supervisors decide to drop the assessor's pay to the level of the sheriff and auditor, the assessor would get $24,000 in 1970 instead of $25,200. If it is dropped to the level of the tax collector and the county clerk, it would be $22,725 in 1970 instead of $25,200.

Purchase Of Tideland Lot Is Approved

Marin County supervisors yesterday voted unanimously to purchase a 7.9 -acre tideland lot on the west side of Bolinas Lagoon for $19,835.

The property, owned by Mary Francisco, had been under option to the Bolinas Harbor District. On Nov. 11, the county took over Bolinas Lagoon from the harbor district.

Purchase of the Francisco property means that the county will own most of the northwest shoreline of the lagoon.

The supervisors also appointed a seven-man ad hoc citizens advisory committee to plan the future development of Bolinas Lagoon.

On a motion by Louis H. Baar, supervisors asked the committee to draw up a plan for the Lagoon in 18 months.

Action To Halt Big Rock Concert

SALINAS (AP) — The Monterey County Board of Supervisors moved yesterday to halt plans for a giganitc rock concert near here.

The board passed a temporary ordinance barring the assembly of more than 5,000 persons in one place anywhere in the county for 90 days, and indicated it will act meanwhile to bar such events permanently.

Richard Schnal of Seaside, attorney for Mediametrics, Inc., which plans the concert, said the group will proceed with plans for the event to be held in March.

Child Loses Severed Arm Second Time

"Well, maybe you can study it and find a way to help some other boy," he told one of the surgeons after the amputation yesterday.

Both of Brent's arms were wrenched off Sunday by the drive belt on a feed grinder as he helped his father, Joe W. Gray, grind hog feed on their farm near Henrietta, Tex.

The youth was flown to Oklahoma City, his severed arms packed in ice, and surgeons reattached both limbs.

But Brent's left arm was removed again after doctors found it had little circulation and threatened to develop a toxic condition.

The right arm continued to look "very good," a hospital spokesman said.

Dr. Gael Frank, one of the surgeons, said Brent is "just amazing. He's perky and talkative and seems to be very optimistic"

Puppy Stolen

A seven-week-old black and silver Maltese-poodle crossbred dog valued at $75, was stolen yesterday from its cage at Fur, Feathers and Fins, 508 Fourth Street, San Rafael police reported.

Tiburon Design Panel Calls For Roof Plans

The Tiburon Board of Design Review last night required that remodeling plans for the Mobil service station at 1600 Tiburon Boulevard include a one-directional, single-hipped, pitched roof inits design, planning director Wayne E. Moody reported.

The board also said the roof- and gas pump canopies must be the same height, Moody said.

Solving New Careers Woes In The Works

Marin County's New Careers program is getting nowhere since Dr. Arthur Pearl of Oregon University came to Marin to set it up 16 months ago, the county's human rights chief complained to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Austin J. Thompson said he is getting calls from citizens who condemn him for lack of progress in getting new careerists into county employment.

"For the last six months, I've no contact with New Careers," said Thompson. "We feel like spectators at a Forty-Niner game watching the fourth quarter — all fumbles!"

Two months ago, the supervisors hired Michael R. James, 28, as New Careers coordinator. He had joined New Careers while serving a prison term and worked himself up to an executive position in Oakland when hired by Marin.

Last week, James was fired because he was arrested by San Francisco police on a drug possession charge Dec. 8.

Disappointed supervisors asked Administrator Alan Bruce to see what can be done about the sputtering program. Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni suggested that the director of the human rights department might take it over. This too will be considered by Bruce.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also

REED BONDS — Commended Wells Fargo Bank for agreeing to buy $180,000 in Reed School District bonds at 5 per cent interest. Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said the bank's offer "is obviously a public service" because the current interest rate is 6.5 per cent or better.

HOUSING COMMITTEE — Named Mrs. Leo Wagner of Novato to a new Citizens Committee on Low Rent Public Housing. She is the fifth member picked by supervisors to the committee, which will ultimately have 30 members.

TEACHERS INITIATIVE — Decided not to support a "tax-reform" iniative sponsored by the California Teachers Association and the County Supervisors Association of California. The CTA measure, which would increase state appropriation for schools and for welfare, would only increase other taxes such as on sales and income, the supervisors decided.

MILLER AVENUE — Contracted with Corte Madera civil engineers, Bala and Strandgaard, to design the Miller Avenue extension from a point near Tamalpais High School across the marshes to Shoreline Highway at Richardson Bay Bridge. The fee is not to exceed $20,000, which is about two per cent of the estimated cost.

GNOSS FIELD — Authorized the payment of $2,916 for removal of telephone poles and undergrounding of wires at the southerly approach to Gnoss Field north of Novato.

COASTLINE PROTECTION — Authorized William L. Hess, assistant public works director; and Harold E. Gregg, president of the Marin Conservation League, to urge the state to preserve the California coastline for public use. They will testify tomorrow and Friday in Los Angeles before the Assembly Committee on Natural Resources and Conservation.

COLLEGE PARKING — Authorized a $5,000 outlay to hire a meter maid and buy a three-wheeler patrol vehicle to enforce limited parking along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and cross streets surrounding College of Marin. Minimum fine will be raised from $2 to $5. Arrigone said customes in Kenfield cannot find parking because of all-day use by college students and employees.

PROBATION DEPARTMENT — Approved a $33,701 outlay to pay for four new typists and an assistant superintendent of Juvenile Hall for the Marin County Probation Department. The amount will cover salaries of the new positions between now and next June 30.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION — Paid $346 to cover the cost of hosting the California Highway Commission on Nov. 20 and 21.

LIBRARY GIFT — Commended the Schultz Foundation of Greenbrae for a $2,000 cash donation to the Marin County Library for use at a branch library that best serves Greenbrae residents.

FLOOD ZONE — On the recommendation of Arrigoni appointed Fred Graham of Kent Woodlands, a management consultant, to the Ross Valley Flood Control Zone Advisory board. He will succeed Ann McCorry, who resigned.

PAYROLL — Approved recommendations by Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows updating the county's payroll system with greater utilization of computers, but turned down his recommendations that all paychecks drawn monthly and in the first week of the following month, instead of, as at present, the last day of the month.

Initiative Slap Comes From GOP

Criticism of two air pollution control measures, being pushed for the 1970 statewide ballot in an initiative campaign, was attributed incorrectly by the Independent-Journal on Saturday to the legislative counsel's office.

The criticism quoted was from a research paper prepared by the Republican staff in the Assembly. The paper included criticism of the measures by the legislative counsel's office, but the direct quotations appearing in the I-J were from a portion of the paper prepared by the GOP staff.

The staff termed the first measure, a constitutional amendment, "merely a ploicy statement without legal effect." But later it also said "there are no legal problems with the constitutional amendment initiative."

The legislative counsel's opinion of the second measure, however, a statute revision, "raises the spectre that the initiative statute is unconstitutional," the research paper said.

The research paper then quoted the counsel's opinion, which said the statute revision could violate the due process clauses of both the U.S. and California constitutions.

Novatans Held In Burglary Case

Two Novato men accused of burglarizing Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley Nov. 27 were bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday in the charge.

Dennis Leslie Yates and Paul Brent Caldwell, both 23, were told to appear in court Dec. 29 for arraignment.

After evidence at a preliminary hearing, Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court ruled there was sufficient reason also to charge Caldwell with a burglary of Reed School on the same date as the other burglary.

Caldwell and Yates were arrested when police said they found them inside Edna Maguire School about 2 a.m. Thanksgiving morning when they answered a silent burglar alarm.

Israeli Jets Hit Suez Area Again

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets pounded Egyptian positions for nearly three hours today along the northern reaches of the Gulf of Suez and the southern part of the Suez Canal, a Tel Aviv announcement said.

The targets were Egyptian artillery batteries that killed two Israeli soldiers and a civilian tractor driver in a bombardment last night, a spokesman said. He added that the planes returned unscathed.

Prison School Too Small, County Told

Bayview School at San Quentin Prison has less than a seventh of the space it should have for the 2,298 inmate-students enrolled, the committees of the Marin County Board of Education were told Monday night.

Bayview has 20,699 square feet of space, and should have 154,200 square feet, according to state standards, reported Edward Brennan, director of special services.

Brennan also reported a long list of equipment and materials needed at Bayview, which offers a high school program for inmates.

Among the things needed, the committees were told, are a student library, a faculty room, a storeroom for curriculum materials, a staff library, a science library, a conference room, and offices for the principal and vice principal.

The educational services committee, administrative services committee and special services committee asked for a detailed report to be presented at the Jan. 5 board meeting.

The committees also recommended that each board meeting in 1970 be held at a different facility in the county schools system. The Jan. 5 meeting will be at Loma Alta School in juvenile hall, reported Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services.

The administrative services committee also recommended the board allow coverage of volunteer workers in the schools under workmen's compensation insurance, as allowed by 1969 legislation, Spain reported.

No Charges In Drug Probe

No charge was filed in Marin Municipal Court Monday against 14 persons arrested Saturday night on suspicion of being in a place where marijuana was being used after police broke up a party in a rural Novato home.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Peter Mitchell said that the case is still being investigated.

Released were the residents of the house, John Alexander Zacahriou, and Robert Willard Hansen, both 18, as well as John Joe Carvajal, 18; John Anthony Harris, 19; Bryan Wesley Colson, 22; Ronald Edward Longhi, 23; Mary Elizabeth Meador, 23; John Honoria Meador, 23; John L. Koehne, 19, all of San Francisco; William Gary Redmon, 20, and Loren James Marshall, 18, both of Novato.

Beer Is Stolen

Petaluma police reported yesterday that burglars took $35 worth of beer from a storage room at Sonoma-Marin Fairgrounds Sunday night. A padlock on the door had been broken to gain entry.

One Hurt In Six-Car Crash

One person was injured Monday in a six-car rush hour pile-up on southbound Highway 101 near the Manuel T. Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda, the California Highway Patrol reported yesterday.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for a slight neck injury was June Gwendolyn Perry, 43, of San Rafael, whose car was the first in the 6:45 a.m. rear-ender.

Her car was hit from behind by one driven by Christine Loretta Beck, 23, of 2 Via Navarro, Greenbrae. Other drivers involved were Allen Rasen, 49, of 830 Penny Royal Lane, San Rafael; Maj. Leon B. Hittner, 35, of 611 Wake Robin Lane, San Rafael; Robert Lewis Lemmelet, 22, of 195 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, and S/Sgt. Tommy Dale Creech, 23, of Santa Rosa.

Stolen Car Found, But Stereo Missing

Stereo equipment and a radio valued at $250 were stolen from a car belonging to a Fairfield woman who was visiting friends in Marin City Monday night, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Deputies said Pam Carter, 23, of Fairfield, reported she arrived at 46 Cole Drive to visit friends about 9 p.m. When she returned to her car at midnight, it had disappeared. The car, with the stereo equipment missing, was found a block away a short time later.

Injuries Minor In Collision

Charlotte Anne Herrick, 36, of Ross sustained minor injuries and was cited for failing to stop for a red light Monday following a three-car collision at Fifth Avenue and C Street at 2:55 p.m., San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Mrs. Herrick's car hit one driven by Martin H. Moder, 61, of 106 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo, and a stopped car driven by Timothy F. Murray, 24 of 404 Oakdale Avenue, Corte Madera, police said.

Mrs. Herrick did not require hospital treatment, according to police.

Defendant Warned Prison In Offing

John Curtis Gipson, 46, of San Francisco, pleaded guilty Monday in Marin Superior Court to one bad check charge and one count of auto theft. Two additional bad check charges were dismissed.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set sentencing for Jan. 5 after telling Gipson that he is going to state prison because he is now on parole from Wisconsin State Prison.

Warrant Issued

A bench warrant with bail set at $3,000 has been issued for Martin Johnson, 37, of San Francisco, who failed to appear Monday in Marin Superior Court to face a charge of burglarizing a Sausalito residence Nov. 19.

Another Fair-Marin Round Set

By WAT TAKESHITA

Harold Stockstad, president of Fair-Marin board of directors, should resign if he is not willing to step up the pace on fund-raising for auditorium completion and preparation for the 1971 county fair, the Marin County Board of Supervisors declared yesterday.

"I will not be a member of a board that's going to be rushed," snapped Stockstad in a heated exchange yesterday at the Civic Center. Stockstad said the Fair-Marin board would need until September of 1970 before launching a campaign for $500,000 to complete the second phase of the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

"If you're not prepared to accelerate, then I think you should submit your resignation," said Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. Both chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Louis H. Baar backed Arrigoni.

The supervisors set another meeting for 2 p.m. next Tuesday. McInnis said he wants Fair-Marin officials and the county administrator to work out some timetable on site development at the auditorium and present suggestions for a theme for the 1971 county fair at the meeting.

The head-on clash between supervisors and Fair-Marin Inc., charged with operating the auditorium and fairgrounds, followed a recommendation from Administrator Alan Bruce.

Bruce suggested that Fair-Marin be stripped of its authority over the Civic Center fairgrounds because it is not complying with county directives.

Supervisors have asked, and Fair-Marin has agreed to raise $500,000 to complete the auditorium so that it can be made usable next year.

Controversy arose over the timing. Stockstad and Fair-Marin executive director Leon G. Kalimos contended that a long-range plan for an ultimate $9 million cultural center must be adopted before the fund-raising can start. County supervisors insisted that the half million should be raised first and the auditorium completed and in operation before further expansion plans are drawn up.

Fair-Marin officials replied that the concept of the annual fair should change from the present five-day event to an all-year cultural and educational activity.

Lotte McWatters, secretary of Fair-Marin, charged that it was the county which stymied every attempt to move ahead.

Mrs. Max Thelan Jr. of San Rafael, member of the Marin Civic Ballet, declared that supervisors and poor publicity shot down every program Fair-Marin tried to push: "Between the I-J and the supervisors, Fair-Marin never had a chance to present its views."

Mary Robinson Summers added that Bruce had even stopped Fair-Marin from contacting supervisors directly. "We were told we couldn't even talk to the architect."

Kalimos asked for more time. He said developing a program and winning public acceptance involves time and effort. "You've been working on this for 17 years," said Kalimos. "I've been here only since July. We need time."

W. P. (Doc) Duhamel was the only member of the Fair-Marin board who agreed with the supervisors. He said the main job of Fair-Marin is to raise the half-million and complete the auditorium before planning other projects.

Baar declared Fair-Marin is floundering. "If the charge is to raise funds, then they've done nothing about it. It seems to me there is no direction."

Supervisor Michael Wornum said operation of the fairgrounds will not be successful if run by the county alone because the project will require funds and community support. However, Wornum also agreed with his colleagues that Fair-Marin should set its sights on completion of the auditorium and development of a county fair at the Civic Center.

Without the half-million dollars to complete the second phase of the auditorium, McInnis warned that the building would lack proper acoustics and adequate seating to put on any major function.

Baar Urging Salary Hike Trim For County Assessor

Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, who is scheduled to get a salary raise from the present $22,000 to $25,200 next month, may have a part of that raise cut back to the level of the county sheriff or the county clerk.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar yesterday urged the cutback, arguing that he cannot see a big salary differential between the assessor's job and those of sheriff, county clerk, and auditor.

Baar asserted that salaries of Marin's elected officials are too high compared with officials in other Bay Area counties.

In reviewing salary raises voted Nov. 18 for six elected officials, supervisors stressed that their comments are aimed at the positions and not at the present office holders.

Supervisors Michale Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. agreed that they see no compelling reason why the assessor should draw higher pay than the auditor and the sheriff.

Chairman John F. McInnis once again defended the pay raise for the assessor. The job of Marin assessor cannot be compared with those in Sonoma, Solano and Napa where property ownership is more stable and the assessors are not faced with the constant changes in ownership and valuation, McInnis argued. He said Marin should be compared with counties like Santa Clara and San Mateo.

The San Mateo assessor's salary is now $24,444 and will go up to $26,568 next year. The Santa Clara assessor gets $29,100.

Baar, however, pointed to assessors in larger counties like Contra Costa and Alameda. In Conta Costa, the assessor's pay will go from $22,572 this year to $23,136; and in Alameda, from $18,372 to $23,604.

"Alameda has over a million people and they don't have salaries like that in the assessor's position," argued Baar.

Baar wanted to reduce the assessor's salary immediately, but other supervisors called for at least another week's time. "I wouldn't want to make the change today without first talking to the assessor," said Wornum.

"I'd like to hold it up a week," said Arrigoni.

McInnis announced that the salaries will be considered again next Tuesday.

Salaries approved on Nov. 18, were:

Assessor — $22,000 now; $25,200 in January 1970; and $27,800 in 1973.

Tax Collector - Treasurer Stanley J. Fontez — $19,500 now; $22,725 in 1970, and $24,600 in 1973.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss — $19,500 now, $22,725 in 1970, and $24,600 in 1973.

County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini — $15,500 now; $19,350 in 1970, and $22,300 in 1973.

Coroner Public Administrator Donovan O. Cooke — $13,000 now; $15,150 in 1970, and $16,400 in 1973.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell's pay is set separately by the state Legislature. Mitchell's pay went from $20,000 to $24,000 last month.

If the supervisors decide to drop the assessor's pay to the level of the sheriff and auditor, the assessor would get $24,000 in 1970 instead of $25,200. If it is dropped to the level of the tax collector and the county clerk, it would be $22,725 in 1970 instead of $25,200.

Purchase Of Tideland Lot Is Approved

Marin County supervisors yesterday voted unanimously to purchase a 7.9 -acre tideland lot on the west side of Bolinas Lagoon for $19,835.

The property, owned by Mary Francisco, had been under option to the Bolinas Harbor District. On Nov. 11, the county took over Bolinas Lagoon from the harbor district.

Purchase of the Francisco property means that the county will own most of the northwest shoreline of the lagoon.

The supervisors also appointed a seven-man ad hoc citizens advisory committee to plan the future development of Bolinas Lagoon.

On a motion by Louis H. Baar, supervisors asked the committee to draw up a plan for the Lagoon in 18 months.

Action To Halt Big Rock Concert

SALINAS (AP) — The Monterey County Board of Supervisors moved yesterday to halt plans for a giganitc rock concert near here.

The board passed a temporary ordinance barring the assembly of more than 5,000 persons in one place anywhere in the county for 90 days, and indicated it will act meanwhile to bar such events permanently.

Richard Schnal of Seaside, attorney for Mediametrics, Inc., which plans the concert, said the group will proceed with plans for the event to be held in March.

Child Loses Severed Arm Second Time

"Well, maybe you can study it and find a way to help some other boy," he told one of the surgeons after the amputation yesterday.

Both of Brent's arms were wrenched off Sunday by the drive belt on a feed grinder as he helped his father, Joe W. Gray, grind hog feed on their farm near Henrietta, Tex.

The youth was flown to Oklahoma City, his severed arms packed in ice, and surgeons reattached both limbs.

But Brent's left arm was removed again after doctors found it had little circulation and threatened to develop a toxic condition.

The right arm continued to look "very good," a hospital spokesman said.

Dr. Gael Frank, one of the surgeons, said Brent is "just amazing. He's perky and talkative and seems to be very optimistic"

Tiburon Design Panel Calls For Roof Plans

The Tiburon Board of Design Review last night required that remodeling plans for the Mobil service station at 1600 Tiburon Boulevard include a one-directional, single-hipped, pitched roof inits design, planning director Wayne E. Moody reported.

The board also said the roof and gas pump canopies must be the same height, Moody said.

THE GRAND OLD MAN OF CHRISTMAS

Lacking snow, sleigh and reindeer, this Santa Claus and his missus are making visits to San Rafael elementary schools in a police car. The unusual Santa carrier doesn't faze these youngsters at Sun Valley School as they swarm around and collect candy canes. Even Santa's driver, Patrolman Kenneth R. Holman, was pressed into service Monday as a candy cane distributor. Santa will visit all of the city's elementary schools through tomorrow, his appearance sponsored by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department and the San Rafael Police Officers Association.

Business, Transit Boss Resigns Post

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gordon C. Luce resigned today as chief of the state Business and Transportation Agency to accept the presidency of a savings and loan association.

Luce, who has held the job since the beginning of Gov. Ronald Reagan's administration, January 1967, is the first of the governor's top agency chiefs to quit.

Reagan, in a statement, said he accepted Luce's resignation "with deep regret."

His departure from the administration had been rumored for weeks—and consistently denied by Luce.

He had been discussed as a possible successor to Caspar Weinberger, the outgoing state finance director, but last week Edwin Meese III, Reagan's executive secretary, said the job would not go to one of the four agency chiefs. Weinberger is leaving Jan. 1 to become chairman of the Federal Trade Commission.

Luce, who receives $35,000 a year, will become chairman of the San Diego Federal Savings and Loan Association. He said he expects to move into the new post in mid-January.

Luce said "I have turned down several possibilities in other private and governmental positions to accept this new assignment." He had reportedly been offered a job with the Nixon administration, but declined it.

Challenger To Glenn In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland attorney Howard M. Metzenbaum announced today as a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate, challenging former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. for the party nomination.

Metzenbaum, 52, pledged a campaign of "promise, not promises" in his bid to succeed 80-year-old Sen. Stephen Young, who is retiring because of age.

The former four-term state legislator managed successful campaigns for Young in 1958 and 1964.

Teen-Ager Hears Marijuana Count

Thomas Keith O'Donnell, 19, of San Rafael, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of possessing marijuana when he was arrested for being drunk at the Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael Friday.

His case was continued until Dec. 29 for entry of plea.

Sausalito Condemns Gate Span Fare Hike

The Sausalito City Council last night accused the Golden Gate Bridge District board of excluding the public from its decision to raise the price of and eventually to eliminate commuter fare books, then called on the district board to rescind the action until a public hearing could be held on it.

The council, expressing unanimous dismay at the swiftness of the bridge board's action, decided to send a letter of protest to the board.

Jan Paul Dyk pushed for the action, saying the bridge board has yet to provide alternate transit to commuters and, to get money, "is taking it out of the skin of the people who have to go to San Francisco." Dyk called the bridge board action "Absolutely outrageous."

He and Mayor Earl F. Dunphy both said the bridge district has a large cash reserve and challenged the need for increased revenues to finance still nonexistent bus and ferry service.

They suggested, and the council agreed, that the bridge board give a detailed accounting of why it needs the extra money and how it will be spent. Furthermore, the council said, public hearings should be held on the question.

The bridge district board last week voted to raise the book of 25 round trips from $6.50 to $10 on Dec. 27 and to eliminate the books completely next July.

Split Votes Launch Plan To Pay Councilmen $150

Splitting 3 to 2 on two separate votes, the Sausalito City Council last night directed its city attorney to draw up an ordinance which would provide a salary of $150 to councilmen beginning after the next council election.

Councilmen Robin Sweeney and Alexander R. Imlay held to their previous opposition to council salaries.

Imlay and Mrs. Sweeney favored putting the question of council salaries on the ballot so voters could decide but were outvoted by Wyman Hicks, Jan Paul Dyk and Mayor Earl F. Dunphy.

The council last spring voted to include funds for salaries in the current budget but final action putting them into effect has never been taken.

If the council salaries of $150 per month, the maximum allowed by state law, go into effect after the April 1970 elections, it would cost the taxpayers $9,000 a year.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

FORTS — Heard Councilman Dyk urge that the council make plans for annexing all or part of the Forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite if and when they become available from the military. Dyk said specific plans should be made during 1970 and the council directed City Mgr. George M. Patterson to come up with recommendations on annexation when possible.

LEASH — Heard Councilman Sweeney call for a leash law for commercial areas of Sausalito.

GARBAGE — Postponed final vote on a resolution increasing garbage rates in the city until City Atty. Leland H. Jordan can draft the final form of the resolution. The increased garbage rates still will go into effect on the first of the year.

BONDS — Approved a 15-year noncallable bond repayment plan for the city's bonds for improvements on the fire and police stations.

ARCHITECT — Selected Sausalito architect Donald Olsen to do the plans for expansion of the city's police station. Olsen also is the architect for the fire station.

The carolers will meet at the Homestead School at 7 o'clock and proceed to Brown's Hall, caroling and carrying candles along the way.

Prison School Too Small, County Told

Bayview School at San Quentin Prison has less than a seventh of the space it should have for the 2,298 inmate-students enrolled, the committees of the Marin County Board of Education were told Monday night.

Bayview has 20,699 square feet of space, and should have 154,200 square feet, according to state standards, reported Edward Brennan, director of special services.

Brennan also reported a long list of equipment and materials needed at Bayview, which offers a high school program for inmates.

Among the things needed, the committees were told, are a student library, a faculty room, a storeroom for curriculum materials, a staff library, a science library, a conference room, and offices for the principal and vice principal.

The educational services committee, administrative services committee and special services committee asked for a detailed report to be presented at the Jan. 5 board meeting.

The committees also recommended that each board meeting in 1970 be held at a different facility in the county schools system. The Jan. 5 meeting will be at Loma Alta School in juvenile hall, reported Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services.

The administrative services committee also recommended the board allow coverage of volunteer workers in the schools under workmen's compensation insurance, as allowed by 1969 legislation, Spain reported.

No Charges In Drug Probe

No charge was filed in Marin Municipal Court Monday against 14 persons arrested Saturday night on suspicion of being in a place where marijuana was being used after police broke up a party in a rural Novato home.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Peter Mitchell said that the case is still being investigated.

Released were the residents of the house, John Alexander Zacahriou, and Robert Willard Hansen, both 18, as well as John Joe Carvajal, 18; John Anthony Harris, 19; Bryan Wesley Colson, 22; Ronald Edward Longhi, 23; Mary Elizabeth Meador, 23; John Honoria Meador, 23; John L. Beer Is Stolen

Petaluma police reported yesterday that burglars took $35 worth of beer from a storage room at Sonoma-Marin Fairgrounds Sunday night. A padlock on the door had been broken to gain entry.

One Hurt In Six-Car Crash

One person was injured Monday in a six-car rush hour pile-up on southbound Highway 101 near the Manuel T. Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda, the California Highway Patrol reported yesterday.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for a slight neck injury was June Gwendolyn Perry, 43, of San Rafael, whose car was the first in the 6:45 a.m. rear-ender.

Her car was hit from behind by one driven by Christine Loretta Beck, 23, of 2 Via Navarro, Greenbrae. Other drivers involved were Allen Rasen, 49, of 830 Penny Royal Lane, San Rafael; Maj. Leon B. Hittner, 35, of 611 Wake Robin Lane, San Rafael; Robert Lewis Lemmelet, 22, of 195 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, and S/Sgt. Tommy Dale Creech, 23, of Santa Rosa.

Stolen Car Found, But Stereo Missing

Stereo equipment and a radio valued at $250 were stolen from a car belonging to a Fairfield woman who was visiting friends in Marin City Monday night, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Deputies said Pam Carter, 23, of Fairfield, reported she arrived at 46 Cole Drive to visit friends about 9 p.m. When she returned to her car at midnight, it had disappeared. The car, with the stereo equipment missing, was found a block away a short time later.

Injuries Minor In Collision

Charlotte Anne Herrick, 36, of Ross sustained minor injuries and was cited for failing to stop for a red light Monday following a three-car collision at Fifth Avenue and C Street at 2:55 p.m., San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Mrs. Herrick's car hit one driven by Martin H. Moder, 61, of 106 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo, and a stopped car driven by Timothy F. Murray, 24 of 404 Oakdale Avenue, Corte Madera, police said.

Mrs. Herrick did not require hospital treatment, according to police.

Defendant Warned Prison In Offing

John Curtis Gipson, 46, of San Francisco, pleaded guilty Monday in Marin Superior Court to one bad check charge and one count of auto theft. Two additional bad check charges were dismissed.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set sentencing for Jan. 5 after telling Gipson that he is going to state prison because he is now on parole from Wisconsin State Prison.

Warrant Issued

A bench warrant with bail set at $3,000 has been issued for Martin Johnson, 37, of San Francisco, who failed to appear Monday in Marin Superior Court to face a charge of burglarizing a Sausalito residence Nov. 19.

THE GRAND OLD MAN OF CHRISTMAS

Lacking snow, sleigh and reindeer, this Santa Claus and his missus are making visits to San Rafael elementary schools in a police car. The unusual Santa carrier doesn't faze these youngsters at Sun Valley School as they swarm around and collect candy canes. Even Santa's driver, Patrolman Kenneth R. Holman, was pressed into service Monday as a candy cane distributor. Santa will visit all of the city's elementary schools through tomorrow, his appearance sponsored by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department and the San Rafael Police Officers Association.

Business, Transit Boss Resigns Post

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gordon C. Luce resigned today as chief of the state Business and Transportation Agency to accept the presidency of a savings and loan association.

Luce, who has held the job since the beginning of Gov. Ronald Reagan's administration, January 1967, is the first of the governor's top agency chiefs to quit.

Reagan, in a statement, said he accepted Luce's resignation "with deep regret."

His departure from the administration had been rumored for weeks—and consistently denied by Luce.

He had been discussed as a possible successor to Caspar Weinberger, the outgoing state finance director, but last week Edwin Meese III, Reagan's executive secretary, said the job would not go to one of the four agency chiefs. Weinberger is leaving Jan. 1 to become chairman of the Federal Trade Commission.

Luce, who receives $35,000 a year, will become chairman of the San Diego Federal Savings and Loan Association. He said he expects to move into the new post in mid-January.

Luce said "I have turned down several possibilities in other private and governmental positions to accept this new assignment." He had reportedly been offered a job with the Nixon administration, but declined it.

Challenger To Glenn In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland attorney Howard M. Metzenbaum announced today as a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate, challenging former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. for the party nomination.

Metzenbaum, 52, pledged a campaign of "promise, not promises" in his bid to succeed 80-year-old Sen. Stephen Young, who is retiring because of age.

The former four-term state legislator managed successful campaigns for Young in 1958 and 1964.

Teen-Ager Hears Marijuana Count

Thomas Keith O'Donnell, 19, of San Rafael, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of possessing marijuana when he was arrested for being drunk at the Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael Friday.

His case was continued until Dec. 29 for entry of plea.

Sausalito Condemns Gate Span Fare Hike

The Sausalito City Council last night accused the Golden Gate Bridge District board of excluding the public from its decision to raise the price of and eventually to eliminate commuter fare books, then called on the district board to rescind the action until a public hearing could be held on it.

The council, expressing unanimous dismay at the swiftness of the bridge board's action, decided to send a letter of protest to the board.

Jan Paul Dyk pushed for the action, saying the bridge board has yet to provide alternate transit to commuters and, to get money, "is taking it out of the skin of the people who have to go to San Francisco." Dyk called the bridge board action "Absolutely outrageous."

He and Mayor Earl F. Dunphy both said the bridge district has a large cash reserve and challenged the need for increased revenues to finance still nonexistent bus and ferry service.

They suggested, and the council agreed, that the bridge board give a detailed accounting of why it needs the extra money and how it will be spent. Furthermore, the council said, public hearings should be held on the question.

The bridge district board last week voted to raise the book of 25 round trips from $6.50 to $10 on Dec. 27 and to eliminate the books completely next July.

Split Votes Launch Plan To Pay Councilmen $150

Splitting 3 to 2 on two separate votes, the Sausalito City Council last night directed its city attorney to draw up an ordinance which would provide a salary of $150 to councilmen beginning after the next council election.

Councilmen Robin Sweeney and Alexander R. Imlay held to their previous opposition to council salaries.

Imlay and Mrs. Sweeney favored putting the question of council salaries on the ballot so voters could decide but were outvoted by Wyman Hicks, Jan Paul Dyk and Mayor Earl F. Dunphy.

The council last spring voted to include funds for salaries in the current budget but final action putting them into effect has never been taken.

If the council salaries of $150 per month, the maximum allowed by state law, go into effect after the April 1970 elections, it would cost the taxpayers $9,000 a year.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

FORTS — Heard Councilman Dyk urge that the council make plans for annexing all or part of the Forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite if and when they become available from the military. Dyk said specific plans should be made during 1970 and the council directed City Mgr. George M. Patterson to come up with recommendations on annexation when possible.

LEASH — Heard Councilman Sweeney call for a leash law for commercial areas of Sausalito.

GARBAGE — Postponed final vote on a resolution increasing garbage rates in the city until City Atty. Leland H. Jordan can draft the final form of the resolution. The increased garbage rates still will go into effect on the first of the year.

BONDS — Approved a 15-year noncallable bond repayment plan for the city's bonds for improvements on the fire and police stations.

ARCHITECT — Selected Sausalito architect Donald Olsen to do the plans for expansion of the city's police station. Olsen also is the architect for the fire station.

Caroling Party Slated Tonight

The annual Christmas caroling party of the Homestead Valley Community Association will be held tonight at Brown's Hall, Christina Oldenburg announced.

The carolers will meet at the Homestead School at 7 o'clock and proceed to Brown's Hall, caroling and carrying candles along the way.

Refreshments will be served at the public party after the carolers arrive at the hall at 8, Mrs. Oldenburg said.

CALIFORNIA'S 1970 OUTLOOK

Giddy Growth To Slow?

By JOHN M. LEIGHTY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—After a decade of giddy growth, California's economy will slow down somewhat in 1970.

Inflation will continue. Interest rates won't go down appreciably. There will be some increase in unemployment but real personal income will make further gains.

Those are the predictions of top businessnen, bankers and economists on the threshold of the 1970s.

"Indications are the economy is slowing down at the moment," said Richard Lazanski, chief economist for the State Department of Finance. "It is reasonable that it will continue, for awhile, at least. California can't go much different from the rest of the country."

There have been several economic forecasts for the state as it enters the new decade. These have been prepared by banks, universities and government agencies. They attempt to answer some serious questions.

—Will there be a recession?

—Will the average family income continue to grow or will increases in salary be eaten up by inflationary trends?

—Will people be put out of work faster than new jobs are created or will government and business strive for full employment?

—Will industry and agriculture be able to keep pace with the needs of a growing

—Will money be available for house and business loans? Will interest on these loans continue to spiral upward?

Here are some of the experts' answers:

INFLATION

"Inflation has been allowed to go on so long that people have future expectations for it," said Bill F. Roberts, associate professor of business administration at the University of California at Berkeley.

Roberts is a director of the California Economic Forecasting project, which is designed to set up a model of California economics in relation to the national economy.

Roberts' report agreed with several top bank economists that there would be no recession but a slower and continued inflationary trend.

Roberts said any attempt to curb inflation will be a long-term battle.

"I don't think choking the economy with stringent monetary policies is going to bring about a decline in inflation rates," he said. He suggested some alternatives.

A temporary set of wage-price controls would probably cool the economy, said Roberts, but he said he was "reluctant to go along" with any permanent system of that sort.

Another alternative would be for the government to issue real value bonds. Roberts said securities that have a real value would be a hedge against inflation. The bonds would carry purchasing power rather than monetary value.

"The government could get into the role of hedging against inflation so private economy could get away from that need," Roberts said. "Then the need for some price and wage increases might be eliminated."

Joe Wahed, a staff economist for Wells Fargo Bank, said flatly there would be no recession in 1970. He described the outlook for 1970 as "a moderately-strong difficult business year."

"Inflation will continue to be a problem not just regionally but nationally," Wahed said. "California will continue to feel the impact of rising prices around 4 per cent, compared to a nearly 6 per cent rise in 1969."

INCOME

Personal income in California will rise about 7 to 7.5 per cent during the coming year. This compares with a 9.8 per cent gain in 1969. With inflation predicted to keep moving at about a 5 per cent pace, actual real earnings would increase 2.5 per cent.

In 1960, actual personal income amounted to $42.5 billion. According to the Economic Forecast Project, the amount will reach $92 billion by the end of 1970.

JOBS

Wahed said employment should increase about 2.5 per cent, or about 200,000 persons in 1970. This compares with about 3.4 per cent average annual rate of increase during the decade.

Bank of America's predictions were a little lower, a 2 per cent increase. The UC economic report predicted this same trend without specific figures.

But unemployment will rise, too, because although there will be large additions to the labor force because of continued inflation, it won't keep up with increases in available workers on the job market.

Roberts said unemployment would probably peak at 5.8 per cent during the second quarter of 1970. He said he didn't see signs of massive unemployment.

"Automation hasn't demonstrated that it puts people out of work," Roberts said. "Computers have simply stimulated activity—changed the jobs."

If there is an abrupt end to the Vietnam War, California industry may not suffer greatly, but unemployment of the minimally trained may increase.

"I gather from preliminary studies that California's aerospace industry isn't as dependent on Vietnam type equipment as one might expect," Roberts said. "California's more involved in big jet liners and missile systems so I suspect the impact won't be as severe as one might guess."

Roberts said the bigger problem would be released servicemen entering the state already trained and to replace the minimally trained. He said the unemployment would likely cause social unrest, depending on the type of programs established to help the less skilled.

HOUSING

Most bankers are predicting that money will continue to be scarce in securing mortgages for homes and construction purposes.

Preston Martin, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, said interest rates on home mortgages will probably continue to climb even if the economy cools.

"Even when mortgage rates top out, they can not be brought down very much and still be competitive with other investments," Martin said.

Wahed said tight money will continue and housing in the state will be affected negatively.

"We are going to have built about 180,000 homes in 1969," he said. "But for 1970, indications are about 150,000 homes will be authorized."

Professor Roberts was a little nore optimistic than the business community in general. He predicted that interest rates would be reduced, but not to any substantial new low.

"People are used to paying higher interests. Young people who buy cars and have charge accounts are used to paying higher rates," Roberts said.

Some other predictions:

—Services and manufacturing will continue rapid expansion.

—State and local government will continue to grow but at a lower pace.

—Construction will dip during the first half of 1970, then expand during the second half.

—Estimated gross state product will increase from $96.3 billion to $103 billion during 1970.

Any state forecasts or future expectations could change or be reversed unexpectedly by world developments or new monetary policies.

But for California entering a new decade the outlook calls for a slackening of economic growth but continued inflation, a higher income per family, an increase in unemployment and a continued squeeze on housing and construction.

Guilty Plea Entered In Motorcycle Theft

Old-Fashioned Eggnog To Serve Group

Hot or cold, for young or old, eggnog fills holiday punch bowls throughout the land.

Eggnog made from fresh milk, cream and eggs holds a definite place in the history of American Christmastides. It is an American drink with English ancestors. Enjoyed by early colonists, eggnog traveled west with the settlers and today remains just as popular.

Known by various names such as egg-pop, flip, sack-posset, and syllabub, eggnog became a social custom early in American history. Serve with a bowl of fluffy whipped cream — and for extra holiday flair sprinkle the whipped cream with chocolate shavings or red and green sugar. This is a versatile recipe as it is delicious hot or cold and with or without liquor.

OLD-FASHIONED EGGNOG
(Serves 25)

- 1½ quarts milk, well chilled for cold nog
- ½ pint whipping cream
- 8 egg yolks
- 1½ cups confectioner's sugar
- teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon vanilla (omit if using liquor)
- 2 to 4 cups Sherry, bourbon, dark rum, brandy or rye (optional)
- 8 egg whites

To serve hot: Heat milk and cream in top of double boiler, with water temperature just under boiling. Beat egg yolks slightly with sugar, nutmeg and vanilla. Stir a little of the hot milk into the egg mixture, return to double boiler and heat gently for about 5 minutes, or until slightly thickened. Slowly stir in liquor. Beat egg whites until stiff, fold into milk-egg mixture. (If eggnog seems to separate when liquor is added, beat with rotary beater until smooth.) Serve with fluffs of whipped cream.

To serve cold: Chill several hours and then add liquor (if desired) and fold in the beaten egg whites. Serve with fluffs of whipped cream, sprinkled with nutmeg if desired.

Steamed Pudding A Tradition

Here are recipes for two holiday puddings, a delicious sauce and directions for flaming. The fig is an excellent one with which to end a holiday dinner and the chocolate, just a terrific dessert for any cold night.

HOLIDAY STEAMED FIG PUDDING
(8 servings)

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup light brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 cup sifted all purpose flour
- ½ cup dry bread crumbs
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon allspice
- ¼ cup milk
- ½ cup molasses
- 1 cup cut-up figs (about 6 ounces)
- ½ cup chipped walnuts

Cream butter with sugar; add egg and beat until fluffy. Sift dry ingredients together. Combine milk and molasses; and to butter mixture alternately with dry ingredients. Blend thoroughly, beat well. Add figs and nuts. Turn into a 1-½ quart buttered mold or bowl or eight 5-ounce cup molds. Cover with foil and steam large pudding two hours and small puddings one hour. Serve hot with Velvet Sauce.

STEAMED CHOCOLATE PUDDING
(8 servings)

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ⅔ cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate melted
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter and sugar; add egg and beat until light. Sift dry ingredients together. Add to butter mixture alternately with milk; beat well. Add chocolate and vanilla. Turn into buttered 1-½ quart mold or bowl or eight 5-ounce molds. Cover with foil and steam large pudding 1-½ hours and small puddings 40 minutes. Serve hot with Velvet Sauce.

How To Steam Puddings: Use any pan large enough to accommodate individual or large pudding molds. Put a wire rack in the bottom of the pan and place puddings on the rack. Pour in boiling water until it comes halfway up the sides of pudding containers. Cover pan and boil gently. Use towel to protect fingers when removing the finished pudding.

Individual puddings may be steamed piecemeal if no pan will hold all of them at once. The unsteamed batter will keep one week in the refrigerator and three months in the freezer. If frozen, thaw before steaming.

How To Freeze: If you don't need the containers for reuse, simply cool and turn out puddings, package in heavy duty foil wrap and freeze.

Pressure Cooker: Follow directions in instruction booklet that came with the cooker. It will reduce the cooking time. Secure foil cover on mold by tying with string.

To Serve Steamed Puddings: When cooking time is finished, turn down heat but keep in steamer until the moment of serving. Turn out of mold and serve with sauce. If puddings have been refrigerated or frozen, reheat in foil covered molds at 300° F. Allow 45 minutes for individual puddings 1-½ hours for a large pudding. Allow 10 minutes additional time for small frozen puddings. Thaw large frozen puddings before reheating.

VELVET SAUCE
(8 servings)

- 2 eggs
- 1 cup confectioners' sugar
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3 tablespoons brandy, rum, or
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ pint heavy cream, whipped

Beat the eggs. Add sugar gradually, then the lemon juice and the flavoring, continuing to beat until mixture is very light and fluffy. Fold in the whipped cream. Refrigerate until ready to serve. This is good on hot steamed puddings and on hot dessert souffles.

How To Flame Pudding: Heat ½-cup of brandy or rum in a small pan until lukewarm. Light with match and pour over large pudding or individual servings arranged on a warm serving plate. Spoon flaming liquor quickly over puddings. Or without liquor, moisten lumps of sugar in lemon or orange extract and arrange around pudding or place one lump on top of each individual pudding. Light lumps with match.

Elegant Pheasant For The Holidays

For a festive holiday dinner there is probably nothing more elegant than pheasants, carefully stuffed with savory ingredients and roasted to crisp perfection.

In many areas of the world, pheasants are abundant during the fall hunting season. Here in this country they are available at supermarkets, usually frozen, and during the holidays, sometimes fresh. They weigh from 2 to 3½ pounds after dressing and each bird will serve two people generously or a skillful carver can make one bird serve 4 people.

Like most game, pheasant has a tendency to be somewhat dry. Roasting in aluminum foil helps to make the meat of these birds more moist. A good stuffing and a delicious sauce, too, will help and add to the enjoyment of the dish.

PHEASANT ROASTED IN FOIL

Thaw pheasant if frozen. If from the hunter's bag, have the birds dressed at the market, making sure the shot is removed. Cut off the neck even with the body and place in pan with giblets and water to cover. Add seasonings and simmer to make broth. Rinse the birds, pat dry and season cavities.

Prepare this stuffing:

Fruit Stuffing
(for 4 pheasants)

- ¼ cup finely minced onion
- ¼ cup finely minced celery
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 4 cups soft stale bread crumbs
- ½ teaspoon salt
- freshly ground pepper
- ¼ teaspoon dried rosemary
- 1 cup soft dark or golden raisins
- 1 cup chopped pecans or walnuts

In a good sized skillet saute the onion in the butter until just tender. Add the crumbs and brown lightly. Add seasonings, raisins and nuts. Toss together and moisten with a little boiling water or broth from giblets.

Fill the birds lightly, then fasten neck skin to back with toothpicks, twist wing tips onto back, tie legs to tail. Place a large piece of heavy duty aluminum foil in a shallow roasting pan. Place a cut-up stalk of celery with leaves, a sliced onion and a sliced carrot on the foil and arrange birds on vegetables. Brush them with melted butter or margarine.

Roast at 425° F. for 40 minutes, basting with melted butter, to which a little white wine or broth from giblets has been added. Slide pan out of oven and cover birds with a second piece of foil, crimping to sides to hold in steam. Continue roasting 40 minutes longer, or until leg joints move easily. Lift foil to test. If pheasant is not tender at end of this time, reduce heat to 300° F. and continue cooking.

Lift pheasants to carving board or serving platter. Pour drippings into saucepan. Add ¼ cup dry white wine or vermouth and broth to make desired amount of sauce. Simmer until slightly reduced. If desired, thicken with 1 teaspoon cornstarch or arrowroot mixed with wine or vermouth, and add additional seasonings to taste.

Serve with a border of glazed onions and buttered steamed rice to which sauteed chopped celery and pimento have been added to give it gay color. Sauerkraut, cooked with wine, apples and juniper berries is a traditional accompaniment.

Glazed Small White Onions: Peel 1½ pounds small white onions. With sharp knife, cut a cross down into stem end. This helps prevent onions from bursting. Place onions in skillet with a small amount of boiling water and salt. Simmer slowly. When partially done, add two tablespoons butter and two tablespoons sugar. Continue cooking slowly, shaking pan until water is evaporated, the onions glazed and tender.

Sauerkraut with Apples and Spices: Cover 1 pound sauerkraut with cold water and bring to a boil, then drain. Add fresh boiling water or white wine to just cover, 1 or 2 sliced tart apples, a sprinkling of crushed juniper berries or caraway seeds. Cover and simmer for 2 hours.

Swedish Glogg

Swedish Glogg — a holiday tradition: Heat 1 (4-5-quart) bottle claret or burgundy, 1 teaspoon whole cloves and 3 sticks cinnamon to boiling. Add 1 cup brandy; summer. Divide ½ cup seedless raisins and ¼ cup slivered almonds among 3 cups; fill with wine. Try it for the tree trimmers.

Dress Up A Party Ham With Della Robbia Top

Here's a suggestion to dress up the entree della Robbia style with candied fruits and slivered lemon and lime peel to create a colorful and tasty effect on the top.

DELLA ROBBIA

- Cured ham
- ½ cup honey
- 3½ oz. jar candied red cherries
- 3½ oz. jar candied green cherries
- Candied pineapple cut in thin wedges
- Blanched whole almonds
- Lemon peel cut in slivers
- Lime peel cut in slivers
- Small bunch parsley

Cooking instructions: Bake ham according to directions on label. Half hour before end of baking time, brush with honey. Bake 30 minutes longer. Place ham on serving platter. Quickly arrange cut fruit, nuts and parsley in a circle on top of the ham. Tuck parsley between fruit to fill out the wreath.

Dark Meat

The dark meat of turkey takes longer to thaw and cook than the light meat. Tests show light meat is done at 165-170 degrees Fahrenheit, while dark meat requires 180-185 degrees. Because of this, some cooks prefer to roast the bird breast down, so that the dark meat is subject to the higher temperatures in the upper part of the oven. A V-shaped roasting rack and a pan no deeper than 2½ inches is needed for this method. Temperature variations of as much as 35 to 45 degrees have been reported by the American Gas Assn. when old-fashioned deep blue enamel roasters were used.

Olive, Beef And Cheese Create Western Casserole

Appetites are hearty in the west and a casserole of California ripe olives, ground beef, and vegetables in western eating one-dish style. Perfect for busy days, thse meaty-textured ripe olives stretch the meatiness of the casserole and an intriguing earthy flavor for real appetite appeal.

CALIFORNIA CASSEROLE

- 1 cup canned pitted ripe olives
- 1½ pounds ground lean beef
- ¼ cup cooking oil
- 1 cup uncooked rice
- ⅓ cup chopped celery
- ⅓ cup green pepper
- ¾ cup chopped onion
- 1 (1-pound 12-ounce) can tomatoes
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- Sliced Monterey Jack Cheese

Preheat oven 350 degrees F. Cut olives into large pieces. Heat 2 tablespoons oil. Add rice and brown. Remove from pan. Add beef and brown. Put beef in a 2-quart casserole. Heat 2 tablespoons oil. Add celery, green pepper, onion and cook until tender. Return browned rice to vegetables. Add undrained tomatoes, salt, chili powder, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and ¾ cup of olives; heat to boiling. Pour over meat; cover casserole. Bake for 45 minutes. Remove cover; sprinkle with remaining ¼ cup olives. Arrange cheese in spokes over top. Return to oven and bake for 15 minutes longer to melt cheese. Makes 6 servings.

A Flaming Fruit Dessert

This unusual dessert will make any holiday gathering a special occasion. Bring out your chafing dish to set a party mood. Follow the recipe and serve over ice cream.

- 1 (10 to 12-ounce) package frozen strawberries or raspberries, thawed
- 1 (10 to 12-ounce) package frozen mixed fruit, thawed
- 2 tablespoons corn starch
- 3 tablespoons brandy or Cointreau

Mix small amount of juice from fruit into corn starch in chafing dish or saucepan. Add remaining fruit and juice. Stirring constantly, bring to boil and boil 1 minute. Keep hot. Heat liquor in small pan or cup. Do not boil. Pour hot liquor over hot fruit and carefully ignite immediately. Serve over ice cream. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

CALIFORNIA'S 1970 OUTLOOK

Giddy Growth To Slow?

By JOHN M. LEIGHTY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—After a decade of giddy growth, California's economy will slow down somewhat in 1970.

Inflation will continue. Interest rates won't go down appreciably. There will be some increase in unemployment but real personal income will make further gains.

Those are the predictions of top businessnen, bankers and economists on the threshold of the 1970s.

"Indications are the economy is slowing down at the moment," said Richard Lazanski, chief economist for the State Department of Finance. "It is reasonable that it will continue, for awhile, at least. California can't go much different from the rest of the country."

There have been several economic forecasts for the state as it enters the new decade. These have been prepared by banks, universities and government agencies. They attempt to answer some serious questions.

—Will there be a recession?

—Will the average family income continue to grow or will increases in salary be eaten up by inflationary trends?

—Will people be put out of work faster than new jobs are created or will government and business strive for full employment?

—Will industry and agriculture be able to keep pace with the needs of a growing

—Will money be available for house and business loans? Will interest on these loans continue to spiral upward?

Here are some of the experts' answers:

INFLATION

"Inflation has been allowed to go on so long that people have future expectations for it," said Bill F. Roberts, associate professor of business administration at the University of California at Berkeley.

Roberts is a director of the California Economic Forecasting project, which is designed to set up a model of California economics in relation to the national economy.

Roberts' report agreed with several top bank economists that there would be no recession but a slower and continued inflationary trend.

Roberts said any attempt to curb inflation will be a long-term battle.

"I don't think choking the economy with stringent monetary policies is going to bring about a decline in inflation rates," he said. He suggested some alternatives.

A temporary set of wage-price controls would probably cool the economy, said Roberts, but he said he was "reluctant to go along" with any permanent system of that sort.

Another alternative would be for the government to issue real value bonds. Roberts said securities that have a real value would be a hedge against inflation. The bonds would carry purchasing power rather than monetary value.

"The government could get into the role of hedging against inflation so private economy could get away from that need," Roberts said. "Then the need for some price and wage increases might be eliminated."

Joe Wahed, a staff economist for Wells Fargo Bank, said flatly there would be no recession in 1970. He described the outlook for 1970 as "a moderately-strong difficult business year."

"Inflation will continue to be a problem not just regionally but nationally," Wahed said. "California will continue to feel the impact of rising prices around 4 per cent, compared to a nearly 6 per cent rise in 1969."

INCOME

Personal income in California will rise about 7 to 7.5 per cent during the coming year. This compares with a 9.8 per cent gain in 1969. With inflation predicted to keep moving at about a 5 per cent pace, actual real earnings would increase 2.5 per cent.

In 1960, actual personal income amounted to $42.5 billion. According to the Economic Forecast Project, the amount will reach $92 billion by the end of 1970.

JOBS

Wahed said employment should increase about 2.5 per cent, or about 200,000 persons in 1970. This compares with about 3.4 per cent average annual rate of increase during the decade.

Bank of America's predictions were a little lower, a 2 per cent increase. The UC economic report predicted this same trend without specific figures.

But unemployment will rise, too, because although there will be large additions to the labor force because of continued inflation, it won't keep up with increases in available workers on the job market.

Roberts said unemployment would probably peak at 5.8 per cent during the second quarter of 1970. He said he didn't see signs of massive unemployment.

"Automation hasn't demonstrated that it puts people out of work," Roberts said. "Computers have simply stimulated activity—changed the jobs."

If there is an abrupt end to the Vietnam War, California industry may not suffer greatly, but unemployment of the minimally trained may increase.

"I gather from preliminary studies that California's aerospace industry isn't as dependent on Vietnam type equipment as one might expect," Roberts said. "California's more involved in big jet liners and missile systems so I suspect the impact won't be as severe as one might guess."

Roberts said the bigger problem would be released servicemen entering the state already trained and to replace the minimally trained. He said the unemployment would likely cause social unrest, depending on the type of programs established to help the less skilled.

HOUSING

Most bankers are predicting that money will continue to be scarce in securing mortgages for homes and construction purposes.

Preston Martin, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, said interest rates on home mortgages will probably continue to climb even if the economy cools.

"Even when mortgage rates top out, they can not be brought down very much and still be competitive with other investments," Martin said.

Wahed said tight money will continue and housing in the state will be affected negatively.

"We are going to have built about 180,000 homes in 1969," he said. "But for 1970, indications are about 150,000 homes will be authorized."

Professor Roberts was a little nore optimistic than the business community in general. He predicted that interest rates would be reduced, but not to any substantial new low.

"People are used to paying higher interests. Young people who buy cars and have charge accounts are used to paying higher rates," Roberts said.

Some other predictions:

—Services and manufacturing will continue rapid expansion.

—State and local government will continue to grow but at a lower pace.

—Construction will dip during the first half of 1970, then expand during the second half.

—Estimated gross state product will increase from $96.3 billion to $103 billion during 1970.

Any state forecasts or future expectations could change or be reversed unexpectedly by world developments or new monetary policies.

But for California entering a new decade the outlook calls for a slackening of economic growth but continued inflation, a higher income per family, an increase in unemployment and a continued squeeze on housing and construction.

Guilty Plea Entered In Motorcycle Theft

Larry English Hamilton, 25, of Mill Valley, pleaded guilty Monday in Marin Superior Court to one count of receiving stolen property and a second such charge was dismissed. He had been accused of receiving stolen motorcycles in 1967 and 1968.

Two Petaluma Schools Slate Yule Programs

Petaluma and Kenilworth Junior High schools will present their Christmas musical programs at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the multiuse rooms at each school.

The Kenilworth program will include the glee club under the direction of Harrill Johnson and the school band and orchestra directed by Elaine Gillespie.

The Petaluma Junior High program will feature Christmas carols from around the world. Directing the program will be Thomas Jacobus, instrumental music teacher, and Mrs. Sandra Fujita, director of the girls' glee club.

Also performing will be the advanced band, intermediate band, brass choir and orchestra.

Judge Orders 45 Weekends In Jail

Allen George Wheeler, 20, of Pinole, has been ordered to spend the next 45 weekends in Marin County Jail for the burglary of a San Anselmo residence Jan. 16.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson on Monday also placed him on two years probation and ordered him to make $478 restitution to an insurance company.

Old-Fashioned Eggnog To Serve Group

Hot or cold, for young or old, eggnog fills holiday punch bowls throughout the land.

Eggnog made from fresh milk, cream and eggs holds a definite place in the history of American Christmastides. It is an American drink with English ancestors. Enjoyed by early colonists, eggnog traveled west with the settlers and today remains just as popular.

Known by various names such as egg-pop, flip, sack-posset, and syllabub, eggnog became a social custom early in American history. Serve with a bowl of fluffy whipped cream — and for extra holiday flair sprinkle the whipped cream with chocolate shavings or red and green sugar. This is a versatile recipe as it is delicious hot or cold and with or without liquor.

OLD-FASHIONED EGGNOG
(Serves 25)

- 1½ quarts milk, well chilled for cold nog
- ½ pint whipping cream
- 8 egg yolks
- 1½ cups confectioner's sugar
- teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon vanilla (omit if using liquor)
- 2 to 4 cups Sherry, bourbon, dark rum, brandy or rye (optional)
- 8 egg whites

To serve hot: Heat milk and cream in top of double boiler, with water temperature just under boiling. Beat egg yolks slightly with sugar, nutmeg and vanilla. Stir a little of the hot milk into the egg mixture, return to double boiler and heat gently for about 5 minutes, or until slightly thickened. Slowly stir in liquor. Beat egg whites until stiff, fold into milk-egg mixture. (If eggnog seems to separate when liquor is added, beat with rotary beater until smooth.) Serve with fluffs of whipped cream.

To serve cold: Chill several hours and then add liquor (if desired) and fold in the beaten egg whites. Serve with fluffs of whipped cream, sprinkled with nutmeg if desired.

Steamed Pudding A Tradition

Here are recipes for two holiday puddings, a delicious sauce and directions for flaming. The fig is an excellent one with which to end a holiday dinner and the chocolate, just a terrific dessert for any cold night.

HOLIDAY STEAMED FIG PUDDING
(8 servings)

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup light brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 cup sifted all purpose flour
- ½ cup dry bread crumbs
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon allspice
- ¼ cup milk
- ½ cup molasses
- 1 cup cut-up figs (about 6 ounces)
- ½ cup chipped walnuts

Cream butter with sugar; add egg and beat until fluffy. Sift dry ingredients together. Combine milk and molasses; and to butter mixture alternately with dry ingredients. Blend thoroughly, beat well. Add figs and nuts. Turn into a 1-½ quart buttered mold or bowl or eight 5-ounce cup molds. Cover with foil and steam large pudding two hours and small puddings one hour. Serve hot with Velvet Sauce.

STEAMED CHOCOLATE PUDDING
(8 servings)

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ⅔ cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate melted
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter and sugar; add egg and beat until light. Sift dry ingredients together. Add to butter mixture alternately with milk; beat well. Add chocolate and vanilla. Turn into buttered 1-½ quart mold or bowl or eight 5-ounce molds. Cover with foil and steam large pudding 1-½ hours and small puddings 40 minutes. Serve hot with Velvet Sauce.

How To Steam Puddings: Use any pan large enough to accommodate individual or large pudding molds. Put a wire rack in the bottom of the pan and place puddings on the rack. Pour in boiling water until it comes halfway up the sides of pudding containers. Cover pan and boil gently. Use towel to protect fingers when removing the finished pudding.

Individual puddings may be steamed piecemeal if no pan will hold all of them at once. The unsteamed batter will keep one week in the refrigerator and three months in the freezer. If frozen, thaw before steaming.

How To Freeze: If you don't need the containers for reuse, simply cool and turn out puddings, package in heavy duty foil wrap and freeze.

Pressure Cooker: Follow directions in instruction booklet that came with the cooker. It will reduce the cooking time. Secure foil cover on mold by tying with string.

To Serve Steamed Puddings: When cooking time is finished, turn down heat but keep in steamer until the moment of serving. Turn out of mold and serve with sauce. If puddings have been refrigerated or frozen, reheat in foil covered molds at 300° F. Allow 45 minutes for individual puddings 1-½ hours for a large pudding. Allow 10 minutes additional time for small frozen puddings. Thaw large frozen puddings before reheating.

VELVET SAUCE
(8 servings)

- 2 eggs
- 1 cup confectioners' sugar
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3 tablespoons brandy, rum, or
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ pint heavy cream, whipped

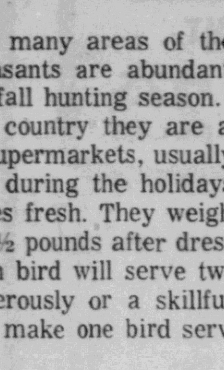
Beat the eggs. Add sugar gradually, then the lemon juice and the flavoring, continuing to beat until mixture is very light and fluffy. Fold in the whipped cream. Refrigerate until ready to serve. This is good on hot steamed puddings and on hot dessert souffles.

How To Flame Pudding: Heat ½-cup of brandy or rum in a small pan until lukewarm. Light with match and pour over large pudding or individual servings arranged on a warm serving plate. Spoon flaming liquor quickly over puddings. Or without liquor, moisten lumps of sugar in lemon or orange extract and arrange around pudding or place one lump on top of each individual pudding. Light lumps with match.

Elegant Pheasant For The Holidays

For a festive holiday dinner there is probably nothing more elegant than pheasants, carefully stuffed with savory ingredients and roasted to crisp perfection.

In many areas of the world, pheasants are abundant during the fall hunting season. Here in this country they are available at supermarkets, usually frozen, and during the holidays, sometimes fresh. They weigh from 2 to 3½ pounds after dressing and each bird will serve two people generously or a skillful carver can make one bird serve 4 people.



Like most game, pheasant has a tendency to be somewhat dry. Roasting in aluminum foil helps to make the meat of these birds more moist. A good stuffing and a delicious sauce, too, will help and add to the enjoyment of the dish.

PHEASANT ROASTED IN FOIL

Thaw pheasant if frozen. If from the hunter's bag, have the birds dressed at the market, making sure the shot is removed. Cut off the neck even with the body and place in pan with giblets and water to cover. Add seasonings and simmer to make broth. Rinse the birds, pat dry and season cavities.

Prepare this stuffing:

Fruit Stuffing
(for 4 pheasants)

- ¼ cup finely minced onion
- ¼ cup finely minced celery
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 4 cups soft stale bread crumbs
- ½ teaspoon salt
- freshly ground pepper
- ¼ teaspoon dried rosemary
- 1 cup soft dark or golden raisins
- 1 cup chopped pecans or walnuts

In a good sized skillet saute the onion in the butter until just tender. Add the crumbs and brown lightly. Add seasonings, raisins and nuts. Toss together and moisten with a little boiling water or broth from giblets.

Fill the birds lightly, then fasten neck skin to back with toothpicks, twist wing tips onto back, tie legs to tail. Place a large piece of heavy duty aluminum foil in a shallow roasting pan. Place a cut-up stalk of celery with leaves, a sliced onion and a sliced carrot on the foil and arrange birds on vegetables. Brush them with melted butter or margarine.

Roast at 425° F. for 40 minutes, basting with melted butter, to which a little white wine or broth from giblets has been added. Slide pan out of oven and cover birds with a second piece of foil, crimping to sides to hold in steam. Continue roasting 40 minutes longer, or until leg joints move easily. Lift foil to test. If pheasant is not tender at end of this time, reduce heat to 300° F. and continue cooking.

Lift pheasants to carving board or serving platter. Pour drippings into saucepan. Add ¼ cup dry white wine or vermouth and broth to make desired amount of sauce. Simmer until slightly reduced. If desired, thicken with 1 teaspoon cornstarch or arrowroot mixed with wine or vermouth, and add additional seasonings to taste.

Serve with a border of glazed onions and buttered steamed rice to which sauteed chopped celery and pimento have been added to give it gay color. Sauerkraut, cooked with wine, apples and juniper berries is a traditional accompaniment.

Glazed Small White Onions: Peel 1½ pounds small white onions. With sharp knife, cut a cross down into stem end. This helps prevent onions from bursting. Place onions in skillet with a small amount of boiling water and salt. Simmer slowly. When partially done, add two tablespoons butter and two tablespoons sugar. Continue cooking slowly, shaking pan until water is evaporated, the onions glazed and tender.

Sauerkraut with Apples and Spices: Cover 1 pound sauerkraut with cold water and bring to a boil, then drain. Add fresh boiling water or white wine to just cover, 1 or 2 sliced tart apples, a sprinkling of crushed juniper berries or caraway seeds. Cover and simmer for 2 hours.

Swedish Glogg

Swedish Glogg — a holiday tradition: Heat 1 (4-5-quart) bottle claret or burgundy, 1 teaspoon whole cloves and 3 sticks cinnamon to boiling. Add 1 cup brandy; summer. Divide ½ cup seedless raisins and ¼ cup slivered almonds among 3 cups; fill with wine. Try it for the tree trimmers.

Dress Up A Party Ham With Della Robbia Top

Here's a suggestion to dress up the entree della Robbia style with candied fruits and slivered lemon and lime peel to create a colorful and tasty effect on the top.

DELLA ROBBIA

- Cured ham
- ½ cup honey
- 3½ oz. jar candied red cherries
- 3½ oz. jar candied green cherries
- Candied pineapple cut in thin wedges
- Blanched whole almonds
- Lemon peel cut in slivers
- Lime peel cut in slivers
- Small bunch parsley

Cooking instructions: Bake ham according to directions on label. Half hour before end of baking time, brush with honey. Bake 30 minutes longer. Place ham on serving platter. Quickly arrange cut fruit, nuts and parsley in a circle on top of the ham. Tuck parsley between fruit to fill out the wreath.

Dark Meat

The dark meat of turkey takes longer to thaw and cook than the light meat. Tests show light meat is done at 165-170 degrees Fahrenheit, while dark meat requires 180-185 degrees. Because of this, some cooks prefer to roast the bird breast down, so that the dark meat is subject to the higher temperatures in the upper part of the oven. A V-shaped roasting rack and a pan no deeper than 2½ inches is needed for this method. Temperature variations of as much as 35 to 45 degrees have been reported by the American Gas Assn. when old-fashioned deep blue enamel roasters were used.

Olive, Beef And Cheese Create Western Casserole

Appetites are hearty in the west and a casserole of California ripe olives, ground beef, and vegetables in western eating one-dish style. Perfect for busy days, thse meaty-textured ripe olives stretch the meatiness of the casserole and an intriguing earthy flavor for real appetite appeal.

CALIFORNIA CASSEROLE

- 1 cup canned pitted ripe olives
- 1½ pounds ground lean beef
- ¼ cup cooking oil
- 1 cup uncooked rice
- ⅓ cup chopped celery
- ⅓ cup green pepper
- ¾ cup chopped onion
- 1 (1-pound 12-ounce) can tomatoes
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- ¼ teaspoon pepper

Marin Women

A Return From Cloistered Silence To Outside World

By BARBARA HOSMER

Portrait photographer Rita Graves, who gave up a life of suburban comfort for one of cloistered silence, is hoping to return to live in Marin.

She found the contrast of life inside the convent and the outside world monumental. And although she has been back from the East and living in San Francisco since mid 1967, Rita says it has taken her a long time to "come back" into the world again.

"I had to learn to talk to people again," she says, and took a job as a market researcher, interviewing door to door, and at night she did babysitting.

Rita had always been very much in the world, having been an account executive in a New York based advertising agency, a successful free-lance writer, and assistant to the director of the Ford Foundation Television Workshop, before taking up photography. And her two and half years of cloistered silence was a life that seemed light years distant from her worldly one. She looks back upon it now as a valuable "spiritual period of my life."

THE PORTRAIT photographer had been living and working in Tiburon for four years when in 1963 she decided to renounce worldly comfort to take up a life of silence and prayer.

She tells the story, amusement often lighting her eyes. A childhood friend who had joined the Sacramentine Order of Nuns celebrated her silver anniversary of entry into the order and Miss Graves flew back to the house near New York to attend. During the visit Rita decided to finish painting a statue of Bernadette and Our Lady of Lourdes that her friend had begun when she entered the order.

"While hanging on, working, I looked up into the statue face and thought, 'Oh, no, not me — you don't get me'," she said. The peace and contentment of the convent had settled upon her, but only for that time and place, she believed. Then on the plane flight to California she began to think, "you belong there, not here."

"I wrote about the feeling during the flight home and when I arrived back here I telephoned the nuns to ask if it was possible that I could have a vocation. 'Yes, we could see it,' they said."

She spoke with the priest at St. Hilary Church in Tiburon, her home parish, and he told her that she was the first in that area to have a vocation.

Thus, Rita Graves began the procedure to enter the convent of the small Belgian order. She filled out the application and had a complete medical and dental checkup.

"I ALSO stayed incommunicado to meditate, pray and see if it was not just a fluke," she said. It was hard to keep her friends away, but she did. Then the application was approved. Rita gave away most of her possessions — her furniture to the Village Salvage Shop.

"I took what might be helpful to them in the convent," she said, packed up a small trailer behind her car and drove away Thanksgiving Day, 1963. From her studio she took along camera, tripod and lights. Tiburon firends gave her her trousseau for entry into the convent.

She found the life rugged at the convent, which is located near Yonkers, N.Y. "We were up at 5 or 6 a.m.. depending upon our duties, and as a novice I spent a hour in the middle of the night for the adoration — watching and praying," — a vigil that was continued by the other novices in turn throughout the night. And there was much just plain

MME. BELLA Resek entertained her vocal students and their parents Sunday afternoon at a Christmas party held at her home in Mill Valley.

Same Spirit With Different Customs

All over the world Christmas pageants and processions play an important role in the Christmas celebration.

AT LES BAUX, a medieval ruin in the South of France, a prologue is performed by the local shepherds outside the old church before the midnight mass is said. Standing under the stars with their sheep around them, listening to the village choir hidden from view, they depict their fear, puzzlement and doubt, which gives way to belief, joy and reverence, just as did the shepherds of Bethlehem on the first Christmas eve when they heard a heavenly host proclaim the birth of the Babe.

Then, following a band of boys playing flutes and drums, the shepherds walk into the church leading a ewe-sheep pulling a gaily-decorated cart on which lies a young snow-lamb. This gift for the Christ Child is placed on the communion altar in the same manner as the ancient shepherds brought their gifts to the child on the first Christmas Eve.

In a little suburb of Zurich, Switzerland, called Wollishafen, the Christmas holiday starts on St. Nicholas Day, Dec. 6, with children of all ages parading in the streets dressed in white robes and wearing towering, elaborately-fashioned headpieces in the shape of a bishop's mitre inside of which gleam lighted candles.

"Bringing In the Boar's Head," an ancient English tradition kept alive at old inns, castles and colleges, has been observed for over five centuries at Oxford's Queen's College. Each Christmas the Master and Fellows of Queen's, resplendent in ceremonial robes, march into the dining hall and take their seats. Then the boar's head, on a bed of ivy, rosemary and bay leaves with an orange in its huge mouth, is ceremoniously carried in by four bearers to the joyful sounding of the hunting horns. The men rise and sing the famous "Boar's Head Carol" and the feasting begins.

IN NORTH HOLLYWOOD each Christmas a neighborhood Lutheran Church builds a 200 foot stage-set of Bethlehem on which is reenacted the Christmas story. Four parishioners dressed as Roman soldiers on horseback announce Caesar's decree, while others play the parts of heralds and angels.

In Finland on Christmas morning, as they leave their homes in darkness to drive to church in open, horse-drawn sleighs, people carry huge, flaming torches to light their way. All along the route, houses are alight with burning torches placed in the snow outside the doors. When they arrive at the church, they toss their lighted torches into a blazing bonfire in the churchyard before entering the church aglow with the light of hundreds of tall, white tapers.

Lighting the Christmas log, or Buche de Noel, is a charming Christmas custom still practiced in rural areas of France. Before leaving for the midnight mass, the Christmas log is placed in the fireplace and ignited. The French believe that it must continue to burn till their return or it will be a bad omen. When it has burned completely, the ashes are carefully gathered and stored all year to keep the family from all harm till the next Christmas. Urban French families have substituted for this custom the baking of a chocolate-covered mock yule log or Buche de Noel, which is the traditional dessert at their Christmas Eve supper, or "Reveillon."

In Sweden on St. Lucia Day, Dec. 13, young maidens dressed in white, and wearing a crown of lighted candles, go through schools and offices singing the Lucia song and distributing coffee and buns. Young girls, similarly dressed and wearing the crown of candles, honor their parents by serving them breakfast in bed on that feast day. This signals the start of the Christmas holiday season.

IN THE UNITED STATES, a relatively recent observance for all the nation is the lighting of the giant Christmas tree on the White House lawn by the President, started by President Warren G. Harding.

The first and most splendid of Christmas gift bearers were Melchior, Balthazar and Gaspar, known as the Three Kings or the Wise Men, who brought gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh to the new-born babe.

HAPPY CHRISTMAS TO ALL
ed

Today, the Three Kings come each year on Epiphany, Jan. 6 and bring gifts to the good children of Spain.

In Holland, Sinterklaas, or St. Nicholas, the patron saint of children, sailors and marriageable maids, arrives on Dec. 6th. Dressed in a bishop's robes and mitre, astride a white horse, he rides down the streets of Holland to the delight of young and old. Laden with gifts for good children, he leaves them that night in the little wooden shoes which were carefully set outside the door for just such a happy eventuality.

In Italy, La Befana, or the good witch, traditionally rides out on her broom at Epiphany, Jan. 6, to bring gifts to deserving small children Today, she is receiving some competition from a newcomer, Babbo Natale, a red-suited gentleman introduced to Italy by American G.I.'s during the war, when they dressed up like Santa and gave Christmas parties and distributed gifts to the local children.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Daughter Is Making Up For Past Mistakes–Made By Strict Father

DEAR HELEN:

My husband always kept a tight reign on the children. Too tight. He wouldn't let Nora, our daughter, date or even talk to boys. She seemed not to mind, and so I didn't stand up against him on this subject. I was having a hard enough time trying to hold my marriage together.

I finally realized that hanging on to a bad bargain was making everyone miserable, and so we were divorced, Reno style.

Nora, at 17, is dating for the first time and the sudden freedom, combined with all she has read, has given her bigger ideas than she can handle. She has fallen madly in love. She wants to go and live with this fellow, though he doesn't seem too enthused. She says she never wants to get married because if you can only hold a man with a legal document, you're holding him against his will and "the relationship will be hollow." She confesses she's still a virgin but "isn't proud of it."

I'm sure she'll frighten this young man away, but how about the others? There is bound to be one (or more) who sees her as an easy make, and by the time she wakes up, her reputation will be gone.

Please don't tell me I should have raised her differently. I know that. Is there any way to make up for past mistakes? — TOO LATE

DEAR T.L.:

Your daughter is making up for past mistakes with big talk, but so far, not much action. When she discovers that much of her "modernness" is rooted in evening the score with someone who is no longer an adversary, she may change course.

What Nora needs right now is much discussion but no lectures or hand-wringing. Given the proper listener, I'm quite sure she'll talk herself down to a sensible landing. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Please — some words of advice and consolation to golf widows. I am married to a man who loves his golf clubs better than me.

He takes golf vacations, goes to every tournament within 500 miles and watches the others on television, gets up at 5 a.m. to play, and naturally spends every weekend chasing that dumb ball.

With all this, he isn't even a good golfer. So now he has signed up for lessons twice a week.

What's a wife to do? — THE GAME'S THE SHAME

DEAR TGTS:

Why not beat your husband at his own game? Sneak in golf lessons until you're good at it. Then join him — and take him!

You'll either end up as big a golf nut as your man, or he'll decide golf isn't his game. Whichever, you'll be spending more weekends as a twosome. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We have been married six months and I'm afraid that I can't have a baby. You see, I didn't get pregnant for three years, while we were going together and there was every opportunity as I took no precautions.

I want to go to a doctor and get examined, but he'd think I was crazy for worrying after "only six months." I don't dare confess that it is actually three years. — EMBARRASSED AND WORRIED

DEAR E and W:

Why not? Your doctor won't even blink an eye. He isn't there to condemn but help. — H.

Concern About Fertility Drugs

By JAMES WILKINSON
London Express Feature

LONDON — The man in charge of giving fertility drugs to 23-year-old Mrs. Rosemary Letts, the mother of the five surviving sextuplets, said Monday he felt a great deal of concern about the multiple pregnancies fertility drugs can cause.

But he turned down the idea that the work should pause until doctors know more about how to give the correct dose which results in only one or two babies instead of five, six and seven.

THE DOCTOR — The consultant endocrinologist at London's University College Hospital said: "Multiple pregnancies occur in about a quarter of the cases treated. It is a most unfortunate side effect, but let's face it, by and large the women are delighted. They would much prefer to have too many babies rather than too few."

And while he spoke, Mrs. Letts' five babies were all progressing well in the incubators in the hospital's premature baby unit.

A bulletin issued by the hospital said they were having no difficulty with their breathing, and they were continuing to accept their milk feeds.

They are being fed through a tube which delivers half a millilitre of human milk to them every 15 minutes. Half a millilitre is a 10th of the standard 5 millilitre medicine spoon.

NONE OF THE doctors concerned with the birth of the babies wanted to be named, but they talked freely about the serious problems associated with the use of fertility drugs.

Said the fertility drug expert, "I don't think we should halt in our work or we will never know the answers."

At present, between 30 and 40 women are undergoing treatment with fertility drugs at the hospital clinic and probably over 200 women are having this treatment in other similar clinics in Britain.

Multiple pregnancies occur because of the difficulty in measuring certain hormone levels in the body.

"This is a major technical problem," he said, and he held out little hope that it would be solved in the near future.

But he also pointed out that if women did have a multiple pregnancy in this way they would probably be entitled to a therapeutic abortion should they want one.

AND HE ALSO revealed that he has purposely withheld fertility treatment from women whom he does not believe would become suitable mothers.

"We don't tell her why she cannot be treated or that we don't think she would be a suitable mother," he said.

There have also been women who have decided against the treatment once the risks had been explained and others who started the treatment and then changed their minds.

"I feel that our success in this case is only qualified. We aim to produce a single or perhaps a twin birth. More than this and we are disappointed," said the endocrinologist.

So far, out of 30 to 40 women who have been treated at the clinic there have been 12 pregnancies, including one set of twins, one set of aborted triplets, one set of quads and one set of sextuplets — the Letts.

THE FIVE LETTS' babies have a better than 50 per cent chance of survival, one of the team of doctors looking after them said.

The most serious risk that the babies face is that they may suddenly stop breathing because their central nervous system is not yet fully mature, but there is no sign of this at the moment.

The babies are all being carefully monitored so that if any of them do stop breathing an alarm will ring and nurses can take immediate action.

The consultant pediatrician in charge of the babies said, "They are progressing very well, but we had hoped the pregnancy would go on a bit longer."

One of the senior obstetricians said, "We were anticipating seven babies. But to be finally sure we were due to take a further X-ray one day this week."

SHORTLY AFTER Mrs. Letts became pregnant, the doctors realized that she was expecting more than one baby, because her hormone levels were particularly high.

Then, at about 13 weeks, doctors beamed sound waves into her abdomen and from the reflections which they traced on a piece of paper the multiple pregnancy was confirmed.

After 24 weeks, an X-ray showed that at least quints were expected — "But because of the size of her abdomen we could not be certain there would be seven" said the obstetrician.

The operation took 27 minutes. The third baby, a girl was the one which was still born. The cause of this is not evident at the moment.

Marin Women

A Return From Cloistered Silence To Outside World

By BARBARA HOSMER

Portrait photographer Rita Graves, who gave up a life of suburban comfort for one of cloistered silence, is hoping to return to live in Marin.

She found the contrast of life inside the convent and the outside world monumental. And although she has been back from the East and living in San Francisco since mid 1967, Rita says it has taken her a long time to "come back" into the world again.

"I had to learn to talk to people again," she says, and took a job as a market researcher, interviewing door to door, and at night she did babysitting.

Rita had always been very much in the world, having been an account executive in a New York based advertising agency, a successful free-lance writer, and assistant to the director of the Ford Foundation Television Workshop, before taking up photography. And her two and half years of cloistered silence was a life that seemed light years distant from her worldly one. She looks back upon it now as a valuable "spiritual period of my life."

THE PORTRAIT photographer had been living and working in Tiburon for four years when in 1963 she decided to renounce worldly comfort to take up a life of silence and prayer.

She tells the story, amusement often lighting her eyes. A childhood friend who had joined the Sacramentine Order of Nuns celebrated her silver anniversary of entry into the order and Miss Graves flew back to the house near New York to attend. During the visit Rita decided to finish painting a statue of Bernadette and Our Lady of Lourdes that her friend had begun when she entered the order.

"While hanging on, working, I looked up into the statue face and thought, 'Oh, no, not me — you don't get me'," she said. The peace and contentment of the convent had settled upon her, but only for that time and place, she believed. Then on the plane flight to California she began to think, "you belong there, not here."

"I wrote about the feeling during the flight home and when I arrived back here I telephoned the nuns to ask if it was possible that I could have a vocation. 'Yes, we could see it,' they said."

She spoke with the priest at St. Hilary Church in Tiburon, her home parish, and he told her that she was the first in that area to have a vocation.

Thus, Rita Graves began the procedure to enter the convent of the small Belgian order. She filled out the application and had a complete medical and dental checkup.

"I ALSO stayed incommunicado to meditate, pray and see if it was not just a fluke," she said. It was hard to keep her friends away, but she did. Then the application was approved. Rita gave away most of her possessions — her furniture to the Village Salvage Shop.

"I took what might be helpful to them in the convent," she said, packed up a small trailer behind her car and drove away Thanksgiving Day, 1963. From her studio she took along camera, tripod and lights. Tiburon firends gave her her trousseau for entry into the convent.

She found the life rugged at the convent, which is located near Yonkers, N.Y. "We were up at 5 or 6 a.m., depending upon our duties, and as a novice I spent a hour in the middle of the night for the adoration — watching and praying," — a vigil that was continued by the other novices in turn throughout the night. And there was much just plain

Same Spirit With Different Customs

All over the world Christmas pageants and processions play an important role in the Christmas celebration.

AT LES BAUX, a medieval ruin in the South of France, a prologue is performed by the local shepherds outside the old church before the midnight mass is said. Standing under the stars with their sheep around them, listening to the village choir hidden from view, they depict their fear, puzzlement and doubt, which gives way to belief, joy and reverence, just as did the shepherds of Bethlehem on the first Christmas eve when they heard a heavenly host proclaim the birth of the Babe.

Then, following a band of boys playing flutes and drums, the shepherds walk into the church leading a ewe-sheep pulling a gaily-decorated cart on which lies a young snow-lamb. This gift for the Christ Child is placed on the communion altar in the same manner as the ancient shepherds brought their gifts to the child on the first Christmas Eve.

In a little suburb of Zurich, Switzerland, called Wollishafen, the Christmas holiday starts on St. Nicholas Day, Dec. 6, with children of all ages parading in the streets dressed in white robes and wearing towering, elaborately-fashioned headpieces in the shape of a bishop's mitre inside of which gleam lighted candles.

"Bringing In the Boar's Head," an ancient English tradition kept alive at old inns, castles and colleges, has been observed for over five centuries at Oxford's Queen's College. Each Christmas the Master and Fellows of Queen's, resplendent in ceremonial robes, march into the dining hall and take their seats. Then the boar's head, on a bed of ivy, rosemary and bay leaves with an orange in its huge mouth, is ceremoniously carried in by four bearers to the joyful sounding of the hunting horns. The men rise and sing the famous "Boar's Head Carol" and the feasting begins.

IN NORTH HOLLYWOOD each Christmas a neighborhood Lutheran Church builds a 200 foot stage-set of Bethlehem on which is reenacted the Christmas story. Four parishioners dressed as Roman soldiers on horseback announce Caesar's decree, while others play the parts of heralds and angels.

In Finland on Christmas morning, as they leave their homes in darkness to drive to church in open, horse-drawn sleighs, people carry huge, flaming torches to light their way. All along the route, houses are alight with burning torches placed in the snow outside the doors. When they arrive at the church, they toss their lighted torches into a blazing bonfire in the churchyard before entering the church aglow with the light of hundreds of tall, white tapers.

Lighting the Christmas log, or Buche de Noel, is a charming Christmas custom still practiced in rural areas of France. Before leaving for the midnight mass, the Christmas log is placed in the fireplace and ignited. The French believe that it must continue to burn till their return or it will be a bad omen. When it has burned completely, the ashes are carefully gathered and stored all year to keep the family from all harm till the next Christmas. Urban French families have substituted for this custom the baking of a chocolate-covered mock yule log or Buche de Noel, which is the traditional dessert at their Christmas Eve supper, or "Reveillon."

In Sweden on St. Lucia Day, Dec. 13, young maidens dressed in white, and wearing a crown of lighted candles, go through schools and offices singing the Lucia song and distributing coffee and buns. Young girls, similarly dressed and wearing the crown of candles, honor their parents by serving them breakfast in bed on that feast day. This signals the start of the Christmas holiday season.

IN THE UNITED STATES, a relatively recent observance for all the nation is the lighting of the giant Christmas tree on the White House lawn by the President, started by President Warren G. Harding.

The first and most splendid of Christmas gift bearers were Melchior, Balthazar and Gaspar, known as the Three Kings or the Wise Men, who brought gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh to the new-born babe.

Today, the Three Kings come each year on Epiphany, Jan. 6 and bring gifts to the good children of Spain.

In Holland, Sinterklaas, or St. Nicholas, the patron saint of children, sailors and marriageable maids, arrives on Dec. 6th. Dressed in a bishop's robes and mitre, astride a white horse, he rides down the streets of Holland to the delight of young and old. Laden with gifts for good children, he leaves them that night in the little wooden shoes which were carefully set outside the door for just such a happy eventuality.

In Italy, La Befana, or the good witch, traditionally rides out on her broom at Epiphany, Jan. 6, to bring gifts to deserving small children Today, she is receiving some competition from a newcomer, Babbo Natale, a red-suited gentleman introduced to Italy by American G.I.'s during the war, when they dressed up like Santa and gave Christmas parties and distributed gifts to the local children.

NUN'S LIFE

Dinner was served at midday and later an hour and a half recreation period meant that conversation about religious subjects could be held, in contrast to the remainder of the hours in silence, but the work continued anyway, she said.

"I TOLD the nuns about frozen foods, but they replied 'but that would not be holy poverty' and preferred to spend much of the day preparing foods. After suppper we could go to the novitiate to read books about religious people or listen to religious records."

One of Rita's more enjoyable duties was helping to scrub and dust the chapel.

But having spent six months as a postulant and two years as a novice, she decided to give up her attempt at life of prayer within cloistered walls. When she emerged, "It was another world," she said, "the length of skirts, the boys' hair, the variety of foods in the supermarkets — I was like Alice."

RITA SPENT a month in Yonkers getting used to things again, and then came to San Francisco with little but the clothes she wore and her camera.

"I had to learn to talk again and to find out what went on in the world." Thus her job in market research, knocking on doors and being face to face with strangers, whom she interviewed.

It took her a long time to become comfortable with the daily rush, and gradually she is returning to her portrait photography career. She is eager now for studio space, "not much" as a little showcase for her work and to regain residence in Marin.

Diamonds

A new simulated diamond costs $50 per carat, compared with a price of more than $1,000 per carat for a natural diamond of similar color and quality. At a luncheon during which the stone was introduced by Litton Industries and Saks Fifth Avenue, Cordon Franklin, head of Saks, said, "Never before have we seen a simulated gem which compares so closely to the natural diamond in fiery, blue white brilliance."

Toothaches Aren't Always Caused By Teeth Troubles

NEW YORK (WMNS) — You can have a terrible toothache without there being a thing wrong with your teeth.

At a recent convention of the American Dental Association, Dr. Edward Beveridge of Pasadena listed these possible causes of inexplicable toothaches: referred pain from sinus or heart diseases, an emotional problem or insufficient sleep.

On the other hand, Dr. William Branstad of St. Paul, Minn., suggested that poorly-aligned jaws could cause such far-fetched complaints as "psychic tension, arthritis of the jaw hinge joint and pain in the facial muscles.

Such misleading symptoms and confusing possibilities help account for Dr. Beveridge's estimate that 1,000,000 Americans suffer from undiagnosed or improperly diagnosed toothaches and other dental pain problems.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Daughter Is Making Up For Past Mistakes–Made By Strict Father

DEAR HELEN:

My husband always kept a tight reign on the children. Too tight. He wouldn't let Nora, our daughter, date or even talk to boys. She seemed not to mind, and so I didn't stand up against him on this subject. I was having a hard enough time trying to hold my marriage together.

I finally realized that hanging on to a bad bargain was making everyone miserable, and so we were divorced, Reno style.

Nora, at 17, is dating for the first time and the sudden freedom, combined with all she has read, has given her bigger ideas than she can handle. She has fallen madly in love. She wants to go and live with this fellow, though he doesn't seem too enthused. She says she never wants to get married because if you can only hold a man with a legal document, you're holding him against his will and "the relationship will be hollow." She confesses she's still a virgin but "isn't proud of it."

I'm sure she'll frighten this young man away, but how about the others? There is bound to be one (or more) who sees her as an easy make, and by the time she wakes up, her reputation will be gone.

Please don't tell me I should have raised her differently. I know that. Is there any way to make up for past mistakes? — TOO LATE

DEAR T.L.:

Your daughter is making up for past mistakes with big talk, but so far, not much action. When she discovers that much of her "modernness" is rooted in evening the score with someone who is no longer an adversary, she may change course.

What Nora needs right now is much discussion but no lectures or hand-wringing. Given the proper listener, I'm quite sure she'll talk herself down to a sensible landing. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Please — some words of advice and consolation to golf widows. I am married to a man who loves his golf clubs better than me.

He takes golf vacations, goes to every tournament within 500 miles and watches the others on television, gets up at 5 a.m. to play, and naturally spends every weekend chasing that dumb ball.

With all this, he isn't even a good golfer. So now he has signed up for lessons twice a week.

What's a wife to do? — THE GAME'S THE SHAME

DEAR TGTS:

Why not beat your husband at his own game? Sneak in golf lessons until you're good at it. Then join him — and take him!

You'll either end up as big a golf nut as your man, or he'll decide golf isn't his game. Whichever, you'll be spending more weekends as a twosome. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We have been married six months and I'm afraid that I can't have a baby. You see, I didn't get pregnant for three years, while we were going together and there was every opportunity as I took no precautions.

I want to go to a doctor and get examined, but he'd think I was crazy for worrying after "only six months." I don't dare confess that it is actually three years. — EMBARRASSED AND WORRIED

DEAR E and W:

Why not? Your doctor won't even blink an eye. He isn't there to condemn but help. — H.

RONALD GENE Griffin claimed Robyn Jean Jenkins as his bride in a ceremony at the First Methodist Church in San Rafael. She is the daughter of Mrs. Jean Terry Jenkins of Fairfax and Robert G. Jenkins of Foster City. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Shirley Washington of Terra Linda and Dempsey Griffin of Illinois.

Koetz-Lorenzen Rite To Be Held March 21 In Petaluma

Mr. and Mrs. John Lorenzen announced the engagement of their daughter Margaret to Rodney E. Koetz at a buffet dinner party given in their Petaluma home.

The sister of Paul Lorenzen of Petaluma and Carl Lorenzen of New York, the bride-elect was graduated from Petaluma High School, attended Santa Rosa Junior College and is employed by Wells Fargo Bank in Santa Rosa.

The future bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Claar of Los Angeles and the brother of Wayne Corey of Van Nuys, was graduated from Los Angeles High School and Pierce Junior College. He is employed as a wholesale meat distributor.

The couple will be married on March 21 in Petaluma.

Concern About Fertility Drugs

By JAMES WILKINSON
London Express Feature

LONDON — The man in charge of giving fertility drugs to 23-year-old Mrs. Rosemary Letts, the mother of the five surviving sextuplets, said Monday he felt a great deal of concern about the multiple pregnancies fertility drugs can cause.

But he turned down the idea that the work should pause until doctors know more about how to give the correct dose which results in only one or two babies instead of five, six and seven.

THE DOCTOR — The consultant endocrinologist at London's University College Hospital said: "Multiple pregnancies occur in about a quarter of the cases treated. It is a most unfortunate side effect, but let's face it, by and large the women are delighted. They would much prefer to have too many babies rather than too few."

And while he spoke, Mrs. Letts' five babies were all progressing well in the incubators in the hospital's premature baby unit.

A bulletin issued by the hospital said they were having no difficulty with their breathing, and they were continuing to accept their milk feeds.

They are being fed through a tube which delivers half a millilitre of human milk to them every 15 minutes. Half a millilitre is a 10th of the standard 5 millilitre medicine spoon.

NONE OF THE doctors concerned with the birth of the babies wanted to be named, but they talked freely about the serious problems associated with the use of fertility drugs.

Said the fertility drug expert, "I don't think we should halt in our work or we will never know the answers."

At present, between 30 and 40 women are undergoing treatment with fertility drugs at the hospital clinic and probably over 200 women are having this treatment in other similar clinics in Britain.

Multiple pregnancies occur because of the difficulty in measuring certain hormone levels in the body.

"This is a major technical problem," he said, and he held out little hope that it would be solved in the near future.

But he also pointed out that if women did have a multiple pregnancy in this way they would probably be entitled to a therapeutic abortion should they want one.

AND HE ALSO revealed that he has purposely withheld fertility treatment from women whom he does not believe would become suitable mothers.

"We don't tell her why she cannot be treated or that we don't think she would be a suitable mother," he said.

There have also been women who have decided against the treatment once the risks had been explained and others who started the treatment and then changed their minds.

"I feel that our success in this case is only qualified. We aim to produce a single or perhaps a twin birth. More than this and we are disappointed," said the endocrinologist.

So far, out of 30 to 40 women who have been treated at the clinic there have been 12 pregnancies, including one set of twins, one set of aborted triplets, one set of quads and one set of sextuplets — the Letts.

THE FIVE LETTS' babies have a better than 50 per cent chance of survival, one of the team of doctors looking after them said.

The most serious risk that the babies face is that they may suddenly stop breathing because their central nervous system is not yet fully mature, but there is no sign of this at the moment.

The babies are all being carefully monitored so that if any of them do stop breathing an alarm will ring and nurses can take immediate action.

The consultant pediatrician in charge of the babies said, "They are progressing very well, but we had hoped the pregnancy would go on a bit longer."

One of the senior obstetricians said, "We were anticipating seven babies. But to be finally sure we were due to take a further X-ray one day this week."

SHORTLY AFTER Mrs. Letts became pregnant, the doctors realized that she was expecting more than one baby, because her hormone levels were particularly high.

Then, at about 13 weeks, doctors beamed sound waves into her abdomen and from the reflections which they traced on a piece of paper the multiple pregnancy was confirmed.

After 24 weeks, an X-ray showed that at least quints were expected — "But because of the size of her abdomen we could not be certain there would be seven" said the obstetrician.

The operation took 27 minutes. The third baby, a girl was the one which was still born. The cause of this is not evident at the moment.

NUN'S LIFE

Dinner was served at midday and later an hour and a half recreation period meant that conversation about religious subjects could be held, in contrast to the remainder of the hours in silence, but the work continued anyway, she said.

"I TOLD the nuns about frozen foods, but they replied 'but that would not be holy poverty' and preferred to spend much of the day preparing foods. After suppper we could go to the novitiate to read books about religious people or listen to religious records."

One of Rita's more enjoyable duties was helping to scrub and dust the chapel.

But having spent six months as a postulant and two years as a novice, she decided to give up her attempt at life of prayer within cloistered walls. When she emerged, "It was another world," she said, "the length of skirts, the boys' hair, the variety of foods in the supermarkets — I was like Alice."

RITA SPENT a month in Yonkers getting used to things again, and then came to San Francisco with little but the clothes she wore and her camera.

"I had to learn to talk again and to find out what went on in the world." Thus her job in market research, knocking on doors and being face to face with strangers, whom she interviewed.

It took her a long time to become comfortable with the daily rush, and gradually she is returning to her portrait photography career. She is eager now for studio space, "not much" as a little showcase for her work and to regain residence in Marin.

Diamonds

A new simulated diamond costs $50 per carat, compared with a price of more than $1,000 per carat for a natural diamond of similar color and quality. At a luncheon during which the stone was introduced by Litton Industries and Saks Fifth Avenue, Cordon Franklin, head of Saks, said, "Never before have we seen a simulated gem which compares so closely to the natural diamond in fiery, blue white brilliance."

Toothaches Aren't Always Caused By Teeth Troubles

NEW YORK (WMNS) — You can have a terrible toothache without there being a thing wrong with your teeth.

At a recent convention of the American Dental Association, Dr. Edward Beveridge of Pasadena listed these possible causes of inexplicable toothaches: referred pain from sinus or heart diseases, an emotional problem or insufficient sleep.

On the other hand, Dr. William Branstad of St. Paul, Minn., suggested that poorly-aligned jaws could cause such far-fetched complaints as "psychic tension, arthritis of the jaw hinge joint and pain in the facial muscles.

Such misleading symptoms and confusing possibilities help account for Dr. Beveridge's estimate that 1,000,000 Americans suffer from undiagnosed or improperly diagnosed toothaches and other dental pain problems.

Charges Follow Shooting Scrape

A 19-year-old Tamalpais Valley man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder after he allegedly shot at a friend who had been visiting him and his wife.

Michael James Locatelli of 4 Central Drive was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Sheriff's deputies said Locatelli, his wife and a man identified only as John Gresser had been drinking at the Locatelli residence when a disagreement arose.

Gresser then left the house, deputies said, and Locatelli shot a carbine at his car. Locatelli, according to deputies, said he was only shooting at Gresser's taillight.

The incident occurred at 12:55 a.m.

DRAMA REVIEW

Playwright Is Unable To Link Theory And Success

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Semour Simckes is a teacher of college courses in experimental writing whose own first venture into dramatic expression, "Seven Days of Mourning," painfully emphasizes the distance between theory and success.

The play that opened last night at off-Broadway's noted Circle in the Square Theater is an obscure, unfocused, dubiously idiomatic and otherwise self-indulgent exercise about a Jewish family trapped in a moment of peculiar bereavement.

Since the piece is labled a fable and there are fitful, labored thrusts at both avant-garde absurdism and Judaic mysticism, a spectator can guess the intent was a mocking commentary on domestic hypocrisy and the emptiness of religious ritual. But it all comes out bosh.

The story involves a ferocious mother, an inept bumbler of spouse, their crippled, embittered son, a daughter returned after seven prodigal years and a gamey group of neighbors and unattractive kin.

Another daughter has killed herself and the controversial tangle centers upon how best to adhere to Talmudic code. Comedy contrast, such as it is, centers upon the anal aspects of existence.

There are probably a lot of symbols in there, perceptible only to Simckes initiates at Stanford, Vassar and, now, Harvard.

Shimen Ruskin, as a clownish rabbi, brings off a few moments of theatrical vitality, and Tony Schwab's portrayal of cynical youth shows determination.

Among the other performers, Paula Laurence is the loudly incredible mother while Carol Teitel handles embarrassing lines with professional detachment.

Ted Mann, the Circle's artistic director through 20 years, uses the arena stage with meticulous regard for the audience, a concern that doesn't help the play's eccentric structure at all.

Fans Mob Streisand At Opening Of 'Hello, Dolly'

NEW YORK (AP) — A screaming, shoving crowd of almost 1,000 movie fans mobbed Barbra Streisand last night when she arrived at a Broadway theater for the premiere of her film "Hello, Dolly!"

The crowd broke through police barriers outside the Rivoli Theater, between 49th and 50th streets, and surrounded her royal blue limousine, rocking it and preventing her from leaving.

Police waded into the throng, shoving hundreds of persons away from the red-carpeted entrance but it still took nearly 15 minutes for the star to make her way into the theater.

Miss Streisand barely managed to bolt through the doorway before the pressure of the crowd collapsed the sagging police lines that formed a lane to the door.

Once she was inside the crowd slowly dispersed and there were no reports of arrests or injuries.

Miss Streisand wore a white leather midicoat embroidered in red and edged with white fox and a white Turkestani hat.

The premiere of the movie had been held up for eight months because the stage version of the show is still running in its sixth year.

Marin GOP Asks Rock Concert Bonds

A $1 million bond or cash deposit should be required from sponsors of any mass "rock" concerts in Marin, the Marin County Republican Central Committee declared last night.

The money would protect the county and local government from costs and damage from such an event, the resolution said.

The resolution, adopted unanimously at the committee's monthly meeting in GOP headquarters in San Rafael, urged the Marin County Board of Supervisors to adopt legislation "sufficient on the one hand to protect the rights of freedom of speech and assembly, and on the other hand, to protect the county and other local governments from the adverse effects of such events."

Such legislation was needed, it said, "in view of the damage to private and public property, disruption of vehicular traffic, crime, violation of narcotic laws, menace to public health and morals, and general inconvenience and economic loss resulting from the recent 'rock' concert at the Altamont Speedway in Alameda County."

The legislation also should include a requirement that any permit for an event for 50,000 or more persons be granted only after public hearing with at least 30 days notice.

The GOP resolution said the legislation should require "adequate safeguards," including provision of private police, fire, medical, sanitary and cleanup arrangements.

Also, the committee declared, a special narcotics or drug abuse detail should be assigned to cover such events, with the cost of both apprehension and prosecution to be deducted from the $1 million deposit.

Four deaths, hundreds of "bad trips" on drugs, beatings by motorcycle toughs and tons of debris marred the Dec. 6 concert at Altamont.

Alameda County supervisors have vowed such an event never again will be held in that county, and Monterey County supervisors are considering legislation to ward off reported plans for a similar concert in the Salinas area.

Nixon Fires Southern New York Prosecutor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon announced to day he is firing Robert M. Morgenthau as U.S. attorney for the southern district of New York.

To succeed Democrat Morgenthau, who was his party's candidate for governor of New York in 1962, Nixon will nominate Republican Whitney North Seymour.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler acknowledged that Morgenthau had not resigned from the position. His term normally would have expired June 11, 1971.

Seymour, 46, has been a member of the Manhattan law firm of Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett since 1961. He was an assistant U.S. attorney for the southern district during three years of the Eisenhower administration and, between 1966 and 1968, was a state senator.

A World War II Army veteran, he was graduated with honors from Princeton University and received his law degree from Yale Law School.

Morgenthau, son of Henry Morgenthau Jr. who was secretary of the Treasury in the administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt, has served as U.S attorney since 1961, except for a brief period when he resigned to run for governor.

Morgenthau's ouster comes four days after his successful prosecution of former Manhattan Democratic leader Carmine G. De Sapio on bribery conspiracy charges stemming from a scheme to bribe a former city official and extort contracts from Consolidated Edison.

The firing also comes five days after a federal jury found attorney-financier Roy M. Cohn, former aide to the late Republican Sen. Joseph B. McCarthy, innocent of bribery-conspiracy charges.

Tax Exempt Status Given Brown's Hall

Mill Valley's Brown's Hall has received tax exempt status from the state Board of Equalization, according to Bertram Davis, president of the Homestead Valley Community Association.

Davis said the change in tax status was the result of two years of negotiations with the state which included incorporation of the association and revisions in its bylaws.

Charges Follow Shooting Scrape

A 19-year-old Tamalpais Valley man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder after he allegedly shot at a friend who had been visiting him and his wife.

Michael James Locatelli of 4 Central Drive was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Sheriff's deputies said Locatelli, his wife and a man identified only as John Gresser had been drinking at the Locatelli residence when a disagreement arose.

Gresser then left the house, deputies said, and Locatelli shot a carbine at his car. Locatelli, according to deputies, said he was only shooting at Gresser's taillight.

The incident occurred at 12:55 a.m.

DRAMA REVIEW

Playwright Is Unable To Link Theory And Success

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Semour Simckes is a teacher of college courses in experimental writing whose own first venture into dramatic expression, "Seven Days of Mourning," painfully emphasizes the distance between theory and success.

The play that opened last night at off-Broadway's noted Circle in the Square Theater is an obscure, unfocused, dubiously idiomatic and otherwise self-indulgent exercise about a Jewish family trapped in a moment of peculiar bereavement.

Since the piece is labled a fable and there are fitful, labored thrusts at both avant-garde absurdism and Judaic mysticism, a spectator can guess the intent was a mocking commentary on domestic hypocrisy and the emptiness of religious ritual. But it all comes out bosh.

The story involves a ferocious mother, an inept bumbler of spouse, their crippled, embittered son, a daughter returned after seven prodigal years and a gamey group of neighbors and unattractive kin.

Another daughter has killed herself and the controversial tangle centers upon how best to adhere to Talmudic code. Comedy contrast, such as it is, centers upon the anal aspects of existence.

There are probably a lot of symbols in there, perceptible only to Simckes initiates at Stanford, Vassar and, now, Harvard.

Shimen Ruskin, as a clownish rabbi, brings off a few moments of theatrical vitality, and Tony Schwab's portrayal of cynical youth shows determination.

Among the other performers, Paula Laurence is the loudly incredible mother while Carol Teitel handles embarrassing lines with professional detachment.

Ted Mann, the Circle's artistic director through 20 years, uses the arena stage with meticulous regard for the audience, a concern that doesn't help the play's eccentric structure at all.

Fans Mob Streisand At Opening Of 'Hello, Dolly'

NEW YORK (AP) — A screaming, shoving crowd of almost 1,000 movie fans mobbed Barbra Streisand last night when she arrived at a Broadway theater for the premiere of her film "Hello, Dolly!"

The crowd broke through police barriers outside the Rivoli Theater, between 49th and 50th streets, and surrounded her royal blue limousine, rocking it and preventing her from leaving.

Police waded into the throng, shoving hundreds of persons away from the red-carpeted entrance but it still took nearly 15 minutes for the star to make her way into the theater.

Miss Streisand barely managed to bolt through the doorway before the pressure of the crowd collapsed the sagging police lines that formed a lane to the door.

Once she was inside the crowd slowly dispersed and there were no reports of arrests or injuries.

Miss Streisand wore a white leather midicoat embroidered in red and edged with white fox and a white Turkestani hat.

The premiere of the movie had been held up for eight months because the stage version of the show is still running in its sixth year.

THE VIET VETERANS

Staffs Lacking For Mental Casualities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mental casualties of the Vietnam War are being "chemically lobotomized" by substitution of tranquillizing drugs for proper psychiatric care at Veterans Administratration hospitals, Congress has been told.

"You can see such men at any mental hospital," Dr. Louis Jolyon West, medical director of the University of California at Los Angeles Neuropsychiatric Institute, said Monday.

But his testimony before a Senate veterans affairs subcommittee concentrated on V.A. institutions:

"We have abandoned the practice of lobotomy," West said, "but we are chemically lobotomizing thousands and thousands of patients, and we can keep it up for years."

Lobotomy, a form of brain surgery, has been used in the past to make mental patients docile.

"They are easy to identify because the drugs used make them move slowly and stiffly. They walk around in a chemical cocoon, men with an invisible barrier between them and the rest of the world."

He said the hospital is operating "at a level that is mostly at, or even below, the level of 20 to 25 years ago."

Veterans Administration neuropsychiatric hospitals provide only one phychiatrist for every 535 patients—due mainly to low salaries and poor working conditions, West said.

Because there simply are too few psychiatrists to provide mentally ill veterans with proper care, the patients are given heavier and heavier doses of transquillizers to keep them quiet, he said.

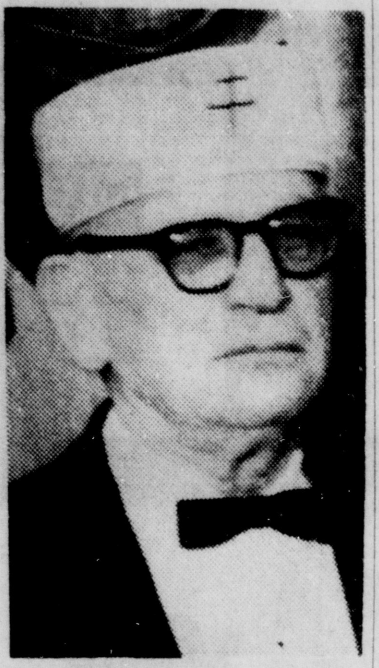
"A man can go on for years that way," he said, "That is not high quality care but only a substitute for it."

West is psychiatric consultant to Brentwood. Describing conditions there, which he contended are typical of institutions throughout the country, he said:

"The physical plant and facilities have not been properly improved. Air conditioning, standard in all modern hospitals in the area, has not been provided.

"While the previous overcrowding has diminished, certain patient areas are still too crowded, and sanitary facilities are inadequate by current standards. Treatment and testing facilities are inadequate.

"Staffing levels, especially for physicians, are low. A number of positions lie vacant. V.A. salaries are simply not competitive," he said.



HONORED — Harry Du Val Ballard of San Anselmo has been accorded the 33rd Degree, highest honor of Scottish Rite, is a retired sales executive and lives at 90 Spring Grove Avenue.

Girl's Death Sparks Suit Vs. County

The parents of a 16-year-old girl inmate of Marin Juvenile Hall who died March 14 have filed a $400,000 suit in Marin Superior Court against the County of Marin charging that the girl did not receive proper medical attention.

Robert and Beverly Hopps of 120 San Rafael Avenue, Belvedere, said that the staff at the pre-placement center where the girl was confined did not summon medical aid for her when she needed it the morning of her death.

A coroner's jury on April 25 found that the youngster probably died because her nervous system was so damaged by the use of such drugs as LSD that her normal responses were gone.

The jurors found that death was due to asphyxiation on vomit brought on by a neurological disorder.

Other teen-agers from the pre-placement center testified at the inquest that Cynthia had taken a "peace pill" (said to be a combination of LSD and other drugs) during an outing to the beach chaperoned by juvenile hall counselors.

Equipment Theft

Ninety-six yellow warning lights and cases valued at $1,344 owned by West Coast Dredging Co. of Martinez were stolen last month from a pipeline in the San Rafael Canal, police reported yesterday.

Marin GOP Asks Rock Concert Bonds

A $1 million bond or cash deposit should be required from sponsors of any mass "rock" concerts in Marin, the Marin County Republican Central Committee declared last night.

The money would protect the county and local government from costs and damage from such an event, the resolution said.

The resolution, adopted unanimously at the committee's monthly meeting in GOP headquarters in San Rafael, urged the Marin County Board of Supervisors to adopt legislation "sufficient on the one hand to protect the rights of freedom of speech and assembly, and on the other hand, to protect the county and other local governments from the adverse effects of such events."

Such legislation was needed, it said, "in view of the damage to private and public property, disruption of vehicular traffic, crime, violation of narcotic laws, menace to public health and morals, and general inconvenience and economic loss resulting from the recent 'rock' concert at the Altamont Speedway in Alameda County."

The legislation also should include a requirement that any permit for an event for 50,000 or more persons be granted only after public hearing with at least 30 days notice.

The GOP resolution said the legislation should require "adequate safeguards," including provision of private police, fire, medical, sanitary and cleanup arrangements.

Also, the committee declared, a special narcotics or drug abuse detail should be assigned to cover such events, with the cost of both apprehension and prosecution to be deducted from the $1 million deposit.

Four deaths, hundreds of "bad trips" on drugs, beatings by motorcycle toughs and tons of debris marred the Dec. 6 concert at Altamont.

Alameda County supervisors have vowed such an event never again will be held in that county, and Monterey County supervisors are considering legislation to ward off reported plans for a similar concert in the Salinas area.

Nixon Fires Southern New York Prosecutor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon announced to day he is firing Robert M. Morgenthau as U.S. attorney for the southern district of New York.

To succeed Democrat Morgenthau, who was his party's candidate for governor of New York in 1962, Nixon will nominate Republican Whitney North Seymour.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler acknowledged that Morgenthau had not resigned from the position. His term normally would have expired June 11, 1971.

Seymour, 46, has been a member of the Manhattan law firm of Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett since 1961. He was an assistant U.S. attorney for the southern district during three years of the Eisenhower administration and, between 1966 and 1968, was a state senator.

A World War II Army veteran, he was graduated with honors from Princeton University and received his law degree from Yale Law School.

Morgenthau, son of Henry Morgenthau Jr. who was secretary of the Treasury in the administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt, has served as U.S. attorney since 1961, except for a brief period when he resigned to run for governor.

Morgenthau's ouster comes four days after his successful prosecution of former Manhattan Democratic leader Carmine G. De Sapio on bribery conspiracy charges stemming from a scheme to bribe a former city official and extort contracts from Consolidated Edison.

The firing also comes five days after a federal jury found attorney-financier Roy M. Cohn, former aide to the late Republican Sen. Joseph B. McCarthy, innocent of bribery-conspiracy charges.

Tax Exempt Status Given Brown's Hall

Mill Valley's Brown's Hall has received tax exempt status from the state Board of Equalization, according to Bertram Davis, president of the Homestead Valley Community Association.

Davis said the change in tax status was the result of two years of negotiations with the state which included incorporation of the association and revisions in its bylaws.

HOMELESS BUT OPTIMISTIC

Misfortune Befalls Family

By ANNE BARDWELL

A year ago. Joy and William Huskey were busily preparing for their first Christmas in their new home in Novato, wrapping Christmas presents for their five children and decorating the house for the holiday season.

This year, the seven-member Huskey family is sitting out the Christmas season in a leaky tent in Samuel P. Taylor Park waiting desperately for a change in the streak of misfortune which has left them homeless, jobless and sick.

To a large extent they are the victims of two pecularities of Marin County, a shortage of moderately priced housing and a lack of public transportation.

Until March, Huskey, 32, had been employed for 10 years as a baker in San Francisco. The family had owned its own home for seven years in Tamalpais Valley, moving last year to Novato. "We were happy and really had no problems; we'd never really had to struggle at all," says 30-year-old Joy Huskey.

But now the family is camping in the park because its four-week search for a house to rent has ended in failure.

"The houses we can afford won't take children and the landlords who will take children charge too much rent," explains Huskey, a red-haired man with worried blue eyes which contradict his smiling face.

The Huskey family's streak of bad luck began in March when Joy Huskey learned she had cancer and was ordered into the hospital for immediate surgery.

Huskey decided to take a leave-of-absence from his job to care for the children, ranging in age from 2 to 12, after he was unable to find a baby-sitter for them.

The family savings were wiped out when complications extended Mrs. Huskey's expected one-month hospital stay into a two-and-one-half-month ordeal. "She nearly died several times," Huskey says. Though out of the hospital her future is uncertain.

The first day Huskey returned to work, his car broke down and there was no public transportation within walking distance of his home. It cost him $40 a week to travel to South San Francisco and back, mainly because he had to take a cab from his home to the Greyhound bus on Highway 101.

"That's when we started getting behind," he explains. "I didn't have enough money to buy a good car but I couldn't afford other transportation."

However, by July the family scraped together $200 to buy another car which broke down in three weeks.

By this time, the Huskeys had started to get behind in their rent.

"The landlord came to see us and we explained the situation. He said he'd give us time to catch up but three days later he served us with an eviction notice," Huskey said bitterly.

The landlord also threatened to attach half of Huskey's $150 a week salary. "There was no way I could support my family under those circumstances," he said.

They put their furniture in storage in November and moved into a Novato motel, "thinking it would take us only a couple of days to find another house," says Mrs. Huskey. Her husband, meantime, had left his job to help with the hunt or a home.

After living in a motel for a week "we searched all over the Bay Area for someplace decent to live," they said. The Huskeys then moved out of the motel because their funds were running low and because Huskey had learned his mother was hospitalized with a stroke and his father with a heart attack.

"We moved to South San Francisco to take care of the folks but couldn't stay long because the kids were too much for Bill's parents," Mrs. Husky explains.

Broke and homeless, the family moved into Samuel P. Taylor Park where they spent Thanksgiving Day. They had applied to the county for aid and were granted a $416 monthly allotment from the Aid to Families With Dependent Children Fund. Of that allotment, they are permitted by law to spend no more than $100 on rent.

"It was freezing in the park and all the children had ear infections, so as soon as the county's check came we moved back into the motel," Mrs. Huskey says.

But money soon started running out again so last week the Huskeys moved back into the park.

According to the Marin County Social Services Department, the Huskey story is not unusual. There are many families in Marin County without housing, says Sandy Northrup, the Huskeys family social worker. "People are living in cars, motels and sometines they have to parcel their children out until they can find a place to live. This is just the first time someone is living in a tent."

Miss Northrup says of the Huskeys: "Their optimism is remarkable. They never stop looking for a house, never stop trying."

"It's not so cold now — as long as it keeps raining, but the tent leaks and the children have been out of school for a month," Mrs. Huskey says.

Appeals to the Marin County Housing Authority placed them on the bottom of a list of 300 families waiting for county supported housing. The social services department also offered to enroll Huskey in a vocational training program so he can get a job which will pay more. "But I can't start that program until I get my family settled," Huskey says. "That's my first concern."

Despite all its misfortunes, the family is optimistic and surprisingly happy. The children laugh and play in the park, watching Paper Mill Creek for spawning salmon. Joy and Bill Huskey speak always of the optimistic picture, never losing faith the family will find a home, somewhere.

"But we know things can be better, because they have been better," Joy says. "Even with that, it's a temptation to give up to despair. For the first time, I can understand how families from the ghettos might not fight to get out. It's surprising how hard the system is to beat."

Mrs. Huskey admits she does get discouraged at times but says, "It's hardest on the children . . . They feel it's their fault we can't find a home."

She also worries about Christmas but says, "We have to stay here because if we move into a motel, we won't be able to have any Christmas at all. We'll stay unless it becomes a health hazard."

Both Joy and Bill Huskey work hard to keep a cheerful attitude, particularly in front of the children, and the children try to stay cheerful for their parents.

But sometimes it all breaks down.

"Last time we moved back to the park, Liz (the 8-year-old) began to cry 'I don't want to go to Camp Taylor again, it's cold'," reported Joy.

"And one time, while out looking for a house, one of the children began to cry, 'I want to go home.' and one of the others said, 'Shut up, we don't have a home'."

Rohnert Park Chamber Backs Hospital Push

The plan to bring a private, general hospital to Rohnert Park won support today from the directors of the Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce.

President John Henman said the directors passed a resolution urging that all steps be taken to bring a hospital to the city, saying a medical facility is badly needed.

Paul Golis, secretary of the Rohnert Park Hospital Foundation, told the directors that two private firms were interested in locating in the city. The developer had unsuccessfully asked the Rohnert Park City Council to donate half of the 12-acre civic center site for the hospital.

While chamber directors stopped short of supporting the land donation plan, they said all avenues should be explored in obtaining a hospital.

Christmas Light Winners Chosen

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sullivan, of 260 Country Club Drive, Novato have been awarded first place in the outdoor Christmas lighting contest at Marin Country Club Estates, Novato.

The Sullivans received a $50 prize in last night's competition, sponsored by the Marin Country Club Garden Club.

Second prize of $25 went to Mr. and Mrs. Alton E. Cox of 20 Prestwick Court and Mr. and Mrs. Edson W. Berlin, 29 Olympia Way, received a $15 third prize.

Judges were: Mr. and Mrs. William E. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dinsmore and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Lindauer, all winners in last year's contest.

Churches Frown On State Policy

The Presbytery of San Francisco, representing 78 Presbyterian churches in the Bay Area, including Marin, has criticized the state Board of Education's decision to include the Genesis account of creation in California schools curriculum.

The presbytery said the inclusion of Genesis as an alternative to the findings of scientific investigation "completely misunderstands the significance of the Genesis account."

"As Christians we find no conflict between the emphasis in Genesis that God is creator and the objective findings of science that creation has occurred by means of an unimaginably long and complex evolutionary process," the presbytery's statement said.

The group also asked the board to consider teaching all of the Bible as literature.

Juvenile Court Refuses Cases

The cases of Robert Lewis Johnson, 19, and Michael Lindell Brady, 19, both of Corte Madera, were refused by the Marin Juvenile Court, it was reported yesterday in municipal court.

A preliminary hearing for the youths, who are accused of felony counts of possessing marijuana as well as misdemeanor charges of having devices for smoking it, has been set for Dec. 23.

T third youth arrested with them, Mark Rocha, 18, of Greenbrae, has been accepted by juvenile court. He is accused only of having a device.

The three were arrested by an off-duty drug agent who followed them from Kentfield to Fairfax after seeing them smoking what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette. He found suspected pot in the glove compartment of their car.

Wells Fargo Buys Reed School Bonds

The Reed School District's $180,000 in school construction bonds were purchased yesterday by the Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors authorized the bonds' sale after receiving the bank's bid specifying 5 per cent interest payment. Wells Fargo's bid was the only one received on the bonds.

The school district has been searching for several months to find a purchaser for the bonds after escalating interest rates made the low interest bonds a poor investment for most banks and other regular school bond purchasers.

For a while, trustees asked other public agencies, including cities of Tiburon and Belvedere and local sanitary districts, to purchase the bonds.

However, trustees also privately approached investment firms and banks seeking aid and when they were assured in October of a bidder, the board authorized the bidding.

Petaluman Accused Of Marijuana Sale

A Petaluma man was arrested in a bar at 11 p.m. yesterday on suspicion of selling marijuana and possession of marijuana.

Eddie Ray Monroe, 32, of the Petaluma Hotel, was booked into the Petaluma City Jail and scheduled for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Police said a fellow patron of Sam's tavern, 171 Petaluma Boulevard South, called to say that a man had tried to sell him marijuana cigarettes. When police arrived the complainant pointed out Monroe as the salesman.

Collegians, Public Discuss Rapport

Faculty members and administrators from the College of Marin met last night with a small group from the community and decided more communication was needed between the two groups to solve conflicts which have divided them.

They discussed a meeting last week which was attended by 150 members of the community and faculty, students and administrators and noted the dialogue had helped to clear the air. That meeting had split into discussion groups.

Howard Blair, an English instructor at the college, said later he felt the first meeting "helped to change some negative attitudes on both sides."

"I saw it happen in my group," Blair said. "The students were surprised that any members of the establishment could exhibit so much tolerance and understanding of student problems and concerns."

Lothar Salin, a San Rafael businessman, said college education has become a necessity in this society and charged that taxpayers were balking at paying for the education of students who were not committed to "middle class goals and ideas."

He added that many members of the communiy were not interested in college programs, but only in tax savings, even if a number of young people could not get an education because of the tax cuts.

James Reed of San Anselmo said he was also concerned about the problem of student financial aid and suggested a meeting at which students could talk with members of the community about their financial needs.

The group agreed more meetings were needed to discuss financial aid, the college budget, student discipline, the function of a community college and some of the positive things happening at the school.

They set Jan. 13 at 8 p.m. at a place to be announced for the next meeting and decided those attending should break into small groups to discuss each issue.

Joe Stewart Sr., a real estate broker, suggested the group work to "make the College of Marin a good place for students and the rest of the problems will take care of themselves."

New Death Sentence For Inmate

A new trial for two San Quentin inmates on charges of kidnaping two Los Angeles policemen and killing one of them execution-style in 1963 has ended in a new death sentence for one prisoner and a life sentence for the other.

Resentenced to Death Row after trial in Los Angeles County Superior Court was Gregory Ulas Powell, 36. His crime partner, Jimmie Lee Smith, 39, who had originally been sentenced to death, received a life sentence.

The new trial had been ordered by the state Supreme Court in 1967 on the grounds the prisoners had not been advised of their rights to counsel or to remain silent.

James W. L. Park, associate warden at San Quentin, said that Powell had attempted to escape from Los Angeles County Jail during his new trial, but a friend carrying guns into the jail in a typewriter case was nabbed by authorities.

'Call Santa' Is Off To Busy Start

The "Call Santa" project sponsored by the Independent-Journal and three junior chambers of commerce in Marin got off to a busy start last night.

Carl Lehman, I-J classified advertising manager, said 1,928 telephone calls to Santa were received at the I-J, Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley and at a Novato number which appears in an advertisement in today's newspaper.

One child told Santa last night, "You should take a vacation because your clothes get dirty." Said another, "My father is a doctor and he's made a cast in case you break your foot when you are coming down the chimney."

Santa will be available for calls again tonight.

Membership Appeal Made

An appeal to sponsor boys membership in the Marin City Boys' Club has gone out to Marin residents.

The president, Henry A. Rosso, has suggested sponsoring a membership as a Christmas gift to a family member or friend.

A gift of $97.50 will sponsor a boy for a year; $44.50 for six months, and $25 for three months. Such sponsorship will make all activities of the club available to boys aged 7 to 17.

The club will send a Christmas card to the person designated, stating that a gift has been made in his name, Rosso said.

THE VIET VETERANS

Staffs Lacking For Mental Casualities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mental casualties of the Vietnam War are being "chemically lobotomized" by substitution of tranquillizing drugs for proper psychiatric care at Veterans Administratration hospitals, Congress has been told.

"You can see such men at any mental hospital," Dr. Louis Jolyon West, medical director of the University of California at Los Angeles Neuropsychiatric Institute, said Monday.

But his testimony before a Senate veterans affairs subcommittee concentrated on V.A. institutions:

"We have abandoned the practice of lobotomy," West said, "but we are chemically lobotomizing thousands and thousands of patients, and we can keep it up for years."

Lobotomy, a form of brain surgery, has been used in the past to make mental patients docile.

"They are easy to identify because the drugs used make them move slowly and stiffly. They walk around in a chemical cocoon, men with an invisible barrier between them and the rest of the world."

He said the hospital is operating "at a level that is mostly at, or even below, the level of 20 to 25 years ago."

Veterans Administration neuropsychiatric hospitals provide only one phychiatrist for every 535 patients—due mainly to low salaries and poor working conditions, West said.

Because there simply are too few psychiatrists to provide mentally ill veterans with proper care, the patients are given heavier and heavier doses of transquillizers to keep them quiet, he said.

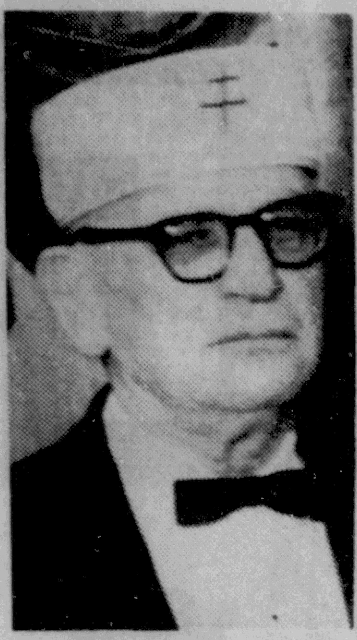
"A man can go on for years that way," he said, "That is not high quality care but only a substitute for it."

West is psychiatric consultant to Brentwood. Describing conditions there, which he contended are typical of institutions throughout the country, he said:

"The physical plant and facilities have not been properly improved. Air conditioning, standard in all modern hospitals in the area, has not been provided.

"While the previous overcrowding has diminished, certain patient areas are still too crowded, and sanitary facilities are inadequate by current standards. Treatment and testing facilities are inadequate.

"Staffing levels, especially for physicians, are low. A number of positions lie vacant. V.A. salaries are simply not competitive," he said.



HONORED — Harry Du Val Ballard of San Anselmo has been accorded the 33rd Degree, highest honor of Scottish Rite, is a retired sales executive and lives at 90 Spring Grove Avenue.

Girl's Death Sparks Suit Vs. County

The parents of a 16-year-old girl inmate of Marin Juvenile Hall who died March 14 have filed a $400,000 suit in Marin Superior Court against the County of Marin charging that the girl did not receive proper medical attention.

Robert and Beverly Hopps of 120 San Rafael Avenue, Belvedere, said that the staff at the pre-placement center where the girl was confined did not summon medical aid for her when she needed it the morning of her death.

A coroner's jury on April 25 found that the youngster probably died because her nervous system was so damaged by the use of such drugs as LSD that her normal responses were gone.

The jurors found that death was due to asphyxiation on vomit brought on by a neurological disorder.

Other teen-agers from the pre-placement center testified at the inquest that Cynthia had taken a "peace pill" (said to be a combination of LSD and other drugs) during an outing to the beach chaperoned by juvenile hall counselors.

Equipment Theft

Ninety-six yellow warning lights and cases valued at $1,344 owned by West Coast Dredging Co. of Martinez were stolen last month from a pipeline in the San Rafael Canal, police reported yesterday.

A. W. CLAUSEN
Bank of America president

From Vault Attendant To Bank's Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A. W. Clausen, a young-looking 46-year-old attorney whose first bank job was as a part-time vault attendant, is the new president of the world's largest commercial bank—Bank of America.

Since Peterson became president in 1963 the bank's assets have almost doubled, from $14.7 billion to $25 billion.

During those six years the number of its California branches grew from 850 to 954 and of its foreign branches from 22 to 96.

TO REMAIN ACTIVE

Peterson, who has been with the bank 27 years, will remain as chairman of the executive committee.

Clausen, born in Hamilton, Ill., came to California in 1949 after graduation from the University of Minnesota Law School.

He said he took the vault attendant's job 20 years ago because "I had to eat" while waiting to take the California bar examination.

He passed the exam but stayed with the bank in the executive training program.

Seven months ago Clausen was named vice chairman of the board. During the previous six years he headed the bank's national division as vice president, led Northern California loan activities as senior vice president, and served as chairman of the general finance committee, as executive vice president and a member of the bank's managing committee.

RETIRED PUBLISHER

His father, Morton Clausen of Hamilton, is the retired former owner, editor and publisher of the weekly Hamilton Press.

During World War II Clausen was a first lieutenant in weather reconnaissance with the Army Air Corps in Europe.

He asd his wife, the former Mary Margaret Crassweller of Duluth, Minn., have two sons, Eric and Mark. They live in suburban Hillsborough.

'Terror Terrace' Attack Is Fatal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Kristine Peterson, 17, latest victim in the Haight-Ashbury district's continuing rash of violence, died yesterday in San Francisco General Hospital.

Horace Mixon, 27, an escapee from Napa State Hospital arrested shortly after the girl's savage slashing, beating and rape eight days ago, was rebooked for investigation of murder. He had been implicated by the trail of blood Miss Peterson left on the 1400 block of Waller Street, police said.

The neighborhood, scene of four murders this year, plus dozens of other violent crimes and narcotics raids, has become known as "Terror Terrace."

The girl's face was so battered she was unidentified for nearly 24 hours in the hospital.

Coin Machine Looted

An amount estimated at between $50 and $55 was reported stolen yesterday from a coin-operated washing machine in the laundry room of an apartment building at 90 Hoag Avenue, according to San Rafael police.

U.C. Faculty Hits Rule On Communists

BERKELEY (UPI) — The Academic Senate of the University of California, which represents teachers at all nine U.C. campuses, has voted in favor of rescinding a resolution passed 19 years ago that said communists were not "acceptable" as faculty members.

In disavowing the 1950 resolution, the current senate members voted 2,487 to 1,139 in a recent secret mail ballot, Dr. Francis A. Sooy, a professor at the U.C. Medical Center in San Francisco, announced yesterday.

The senate at the same time, approved a resolution which said "free inquiry and free expression are essential attributes of the community of scholars..."

Sooy said the U.C. Board of Regents has been advised of the vote.

He said the resolutions should be considered "as a guide in the establishment of principles governing the appointment, a promotion and dismissal of faculty and officers of instruction."

The St. Lawrence Seaway is observing its 10th anniversary.

Motorcycle Stolen From Hub Residence

A brown 1940 Triumph motorcycle with California license 106609 was stolen yesterday from Thomas A. Atnip, 112 Humboldt Avenue, San Anselmo police reported today.

A neighbor told police she saw a bearded young man pushing the machine down the street at 7:15 p.m. Atnip said he had left it in his carport.

Special Session On New Store

The Novato Plan Review Committee has called a special meeting Friday to consider revised plans by Hoytt Enterprises for a department store in the Downtown Shopping Center.

The metting is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. in the city parks and recreation meeting room at 917 Sherman Avenue.

The committee also will review plans for the proposed historical museum in the Novato Creek park on Novato Boulevard, according to Brian Mattson, city planning director.

Dominican Coffee Concert Is Saturday

Young instrumentalists from Dominican College and the music department's preparatory division will present the final program in a fall series of coffee concerts Saturday at 8 p.m. in Studio 310 of Angelico Hall on the campus.

Musicians will be Jed Barahal, cellist; Lue Ann Fisher, Mark Jordan and Sue McClees, violinists; Lynn Gratonik and Brian Grant, pianists. The program will include a string trio by John Antes, Concerto in G Minor for Violin by Vivaldi, "Kol Nidrei" for Cello by Bruch and solos by Bach, Beethoven, Kreisler and Debussy.

Proceeds from the concerts benefit the Dominican College enrichment program, which began last September with weekly classes in piano for six 8-year-olds. Participants are selected on the basis of need and interest. Some also received scholarships for private lessons.

These students will continue to study piano in the spring, according to music department chairman Sister Antoinette, and a violin class will be added. This will be partially financed by $600 recently presented to the enrichment program from the proceeds of two performances of the ballet "The Adventures of Christopher." The ballet will be repeated on Jan. 16 in a special program for Marin public school children.

Parents of gifted children who are interested in the enrichment program may write or telephone Sister Antoinette at the college.

Misfortune Befalls Family

By ANNE BARDWELL

A year ago. Joy and William Huskey were busily preparing for their first Christmas in their new home in Novato, wrapping Christmas presents for their five children and decorating the house for the holiday season.

This year, the seven-member Huskey family is sitting out the Christmas season in a leaky tent in Samuel P. Taylor Park waiting desperately for a change in the streak of misfortune which has left them homeless, jobless and sick.

To a large extent they are the victims of two peculiarities of Marin County, a shortage of moderately priced housing and a lack of public transportation.

Until March, Huskey, 32, had been employed for 10 years as a baker in San Francisco. The family had owned its own home for seven years in Tamalpais Valley, moving last year to Novato. "We were happy and really had no problems; we'd never really had to struggle at all," says 30-year-old Joy Huskey .

But now the family is camping in the park because its four-week search for a house to rent has ended in failure.

"The houses we can afford won't take children and the landlords who will take children charge too much rent," explains Huskey, a red-haired man with worried blue eyes which contradict his smiling face.

The Huskey family's streak of bad luck began in March when Joy Huskey learned she had cancer and was ordered into the hospital for immediate surgery.

Huskey decided to take a leave-of-absence from his job to care for the children, ranging in age from 2 to 12, after he was unable to find a baby-sitter for them.

The family savings were wiped out when complications extended Mrs. Huskey's expected one-month hospital stay into a two-and-one-half-month ordeal. "She nearly died several times," Huskey says. Though out of the hospital her future is uncertain.

The first day Huskey returned to work, his car broke down and there was no public transportation within walking distance of his home. It cost him $40 a week to travel to South San Francisco and back, mainly because he had to take a cab from his home to the Greyhound bus on Highway 101.

"That's when we started getting behind," he explains. "I didn't have enough money to buy a good car but I couldn't afford other transportation."

However, by July the family scraped together $200 to buy another car which broke down in three weeks.

By this time, the Huskeys had started to get behind in their rent.

"The landlord came to see us and we explained the situation. He said he'd give us time to catch up but three days later he served us with an eviction notice," Huskey said bitterly.

The landlord also threatened to attach half of Huskey's $150 a week salary. "There was no way I could support my family under those circumstances," he said.

They put their furniture in storage in November and moved into a Novato motel, "thinking it would take us only a couple of days to find another house," says Mrs. Huskey. Her husband, meantime, had left his job to help with the hunt or a home.

After living in a motel for a week "we searched all over the Bay Area for someplace decent to live," they said. The Huskeys then moved out of the motel because their funds were running low and because Huskey had learned his mother was hospitalized with a stroke and his father with a heart attack.

"We moved to South San Francisco to take care of the folks but couldn't stay long because the kids were too much for Bill's parents," Mrs. Husky explains.

Broke and homeless, the family moved into Samuel P. Taylor Park where they spent Thanksgiving Day. They had applied to the county for aid and were granted a $416 monthly allotment from the Aid to Families With Dependent Children Fund. Of that allotment, they are permitted by law to spend no more than $100 on rent.

"It was freezing in the park and all the children had ear infections, so as soon as the county's check came we moved back into the motel," Mrs. Huskey says.

But money soon started running out again so last week the Huskeys moved back into the park.

According to the Marin County Social Services Department, the Huskey story is not unusual. There are many families in Marin County without housing, says Sandy Northrup, the Huskeys family social worker. "People are living in cars, motels and sometimes they have to parcel their children out until they can find a place to live. This is just the first time someone is living in a tent."

Miss Northrup says of the Huskeys: "Their optimism is remarkable. They never stop looking for a house, never stop trying."

"It's not so cold now — as long as it keeps raining, but the tent leaks and the children have been out of school for a month," Mrs. Huskey says.

Appeals to the Marin County Housing Authority placed them on the bottom of a list of 300 families waiting for county supported housing. The social services department also offered to enroll Huskey in a vocational training program so he can get a job which will pay more. "But I can't start that program until I get my family settled," Huskey says. "That's my first concern."

Despite all its misfortunes, the family is optimistic and surprisingly happy. The children laugh and play in the park, watching Paper Mill Creek for spawning salmon. Joy and Bill Huskey speak always of the optimistic picture, never losing faith the family will find a home, somewhere.

"But we know things can be better, because they have been better," Joy says. "Even with that, it's a temptation to give up to despair. For the first time, I can understand how families from the ghettos might not fight to get out. It's surprising how hard the system is to beat."

Mrs. Huskey admits she does get discouraged at times but says, "It's hardest on the children . . . They feel it's their fault we can't find a home."

She also worries about Christmas but says, "We have to stay here because if we move into a motel, we won't be able to have any Christmas at all. We'll stay unless it becomes a health hazard."

Both Joy and Bill Huskey work hard to keep a cheerful attitude, particularly in front of the children, and the children try to stay cheerful for their parents.

But sometimes it all breaks down.

"Last time we moved back to the park, Liz (the 8-year-old) began to cry 'I don't want to go to Camp Taylor again, it's cold'," reported Joy.

"And one time, while out looking for a house, one of the children began to cry, 'I want to go home.' and one of the others said, 'Shut up, we don't have a home'."

Rohnert Park Chamber Backs Hospital Push

The plan to bring a private, general hospital to Rohnert Park won support today from the directors of the Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce.

President John Henman said the directors passed a resolution urging that all steps be taken to bring a hospital to the city, saying a medical facility is badly needed.

Paul Golis, secretary of the Rohnert Park Hospital Foundation, told the directors that two private firms were interested in locating in the city. The developer had unsuccessfully asked the Rohnert Park City Council to donate half of the 12-acre civic center site for the hospital.

While chamber directors stopped short of supporting the land donation plan, they said all avenues should be explored in obtaining a hospital.

Churches Frown On State Policy

The Presbytery of San Francisco, representing 78 Presbyterian churches in the Bay Area, including Marin, has criticized the state Board of Education's decision to include the Genesis account of creation in California schools curriculum.

The presbytery said the inclusion of Genesis as an alternative to the findings of scientific investigation "completely misunderstands the significance of the Genesis account."

"As Christians we find no conflict between the emphasis in Genesis that God is creator and the objective findings of science that creation has occurred by means of an unimaginably long and complex evolutionary process," the presbytery's statement said.

The group also asked the board to consider teaching all of the Bible as literature.

Christmas Light Winners Chosen

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sullivan, of 260 Country Club Drive, Novato have been awarded first place in the outdoor Christmas lighting contest at Marin Country Club Estates, Novato.

The Sullivans received a $50 prize in last night's competition, sponsored by the Marin Country Club Garden Club.

Second prize of $25 went to Mr. and Mrs. Alton E. Cox of 20 Prestwick Court and Mr. and Mrs. Edson W. Berlin, 29 Olympia Way, received a $15 third prize.

Judges were: Mr. and Mrs. William E. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dinsmore and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Lindauer, all winners in last year's contest.

Juvenile Court Refuses Cases

The cases of Robert Lewis Johnson, 19, and Michael Lindell Brady, 19, both of Corte Madera, were refused by the Marin Juvenile Court, it was reported yesterday in municipal court.

A preliminary hearing for the youths, who are accused of felony counts of possessing marijuana as well as misdemeanor charges of having devices for smoking it, has been set for Dec. 23.

T third youth arrested with them, Mark Rocha, 18, of Greenbrae, has been accepted by juvenile court. He is accused only of having a device.

The three were arrested by an off-duty drug agent who followed them from Kentfield to Fairfax after seeing them smoking what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette. He found suspected pot in the glove compartment of their car.

Wells Fargo Buys Reed School Bonds

The Reed School District's $180,000 in school construction bonds were purchased yesterday by the Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors authorized the bonds' sale after receiving the bank's bid specifying 5 per cent interest payment. Wells Fargo's bid was the only one received on the bonds.

The school district has been searching for several months to find a purchaser for the bonds after escalating interest rates made the low interest bonds a poor investment for most banks and other regular school bond purchasers.

For a while, trustees asked other public agencies, including cities of Tiburon and Belvedere and local sanitary districts, to purchase the bonds.

However, trustees also privately approached investment firms and banks seeking aid and when they were assured in October of a bidder, the board authorized the bidding.

Petaluman Accused Of Marijuana Sale

A Petaluma man was arrested in a bar at 11 p.m. yesterday on suspicion of selling marijuana and possession of marijuana.

Eddie Ray Monroe, 32, of the Petaluma Hotel, was booked into the Petaluma City Jail and scheduled for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Police said a fellow patron of Sam's tavern, 171 Petaluma Boulevard South, called to say that a man had tried to sell him marijuana cigarettes. When police arrived the complainant pointed out Monroe as the salesman.

Collegians, Public Discuss Rapport

Faculty members and administrators from the College of Marin met last night with a small group from the community and decided more communication was needed between the two groups to solve conflicts which have divided them.

They discussed a meeting last week which was attended by 150 members of the community and faculty, students and administrators and noted the dialogue had helped to clear the air. That meeting had split into discussion groups.

Howard Blair, an English instructor at the college, said later he felt the first meeting "helped to change some negative attitudes on both sides."

"I saw it happen in my group," Blair said. "The students were surprised that any members of the establishment could exhibit so much tolerance and understanding of student problems and concerns."

Lothar Salin, a San Rafael businessman, said college education has become a necessity in this society and charged that taxpayers were balking at paying for the education of students who were not committed to "middle class goals and ideas."

He added that many members of the communiy were not interested in college programs, but only in tax savings, even if a number of young people could not get an education because of the tax cuts.

James Reed of San Anselmo said he was also concerned about the problem of student financial aid and suggested a meeting at which students could talk with members of the community about their financial needs.

The group agreed more meetings were needed to discuss financial aid, the college budget, student discipline, the function of a community college and some of the positive things happening at the school.

They set Jan. 13 at 8 p.m. at a place to be announced for the next meeting and decided those attending should break into small groups to discuss each issue.

Joe Stewart Sr., a real estate broker, suggested the group work to "make the College of Marin a good place for students and the rest of the problems will take care of themselves."

New Death Sentence For Inmate

A new trial for two San Quentin inmates on charges of kidnaping two Los Angeles policemen and killing one of them execution-style in 1963 has ended in a new death sentence for one prisoner and a life sentence for the other.

Resentenced to Death Row after trial in Los Angeles County Superior Court was Gregory Ulas Powell, 36. His crime partner, Jimmie Lee Smith, 39, who had originally been sentenced to death, received a life sentence.

The new trial had been ordered by the state Supreme Court in 1967 on the grounds the prisoners had not been advised of their rights to counsel or to remain silent.

James W. L. Park, associate warden at San Quentin, said that Powell had attempted to escape from Los Angeles County Jail during his new trial, but a friend carrying guns into the jail in a typewriter case was nabbed by authorities.

'Call Santa' Is Off To Busy Start

The "Call Santa" project sponsored by the Independent-Journal and three junior chambers of commerce in Marin got off to a busy start last night.

Carl Lehman, I-J classified advertising manager, said 1,928 telephone calls to Santa were received at the I-J, Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley and at a Novato number which appears in an advertisement in today's newspaper.

One child told Santa last night, "You should take a vacation because your clothes get dirty." Said another, "My father is a doctor and he's made a cast in case you break your foot when you are coming down the chimney."

Santa will be available for calls again tonight.

Membership Appeal Made

An appeal to sponsor boys membership in the Marin City Boys' Club has gone out to Marin residents.

The president, Henry A. Rosso, has suggested sponsoring a membership as a Christmas gift to a family member or friend.

A gift of $97.50 will sponsor a boy for a year; $44.50 for six months, and $25 for three months. Such sponsorship will make all activities of the club available to boys aged 7 to 17.

The club will send a Christmas card to the person designated, stating that a gift has been made in his name, Rosso said.

School Walkway Set By Fairfax Board

The Fairfax School District board last night agreed to pay up to $1,750 to build a six-foot wide walkway between Oak Manor and White Hill School along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The city had proposed the walkway as a solution to the most serious safety problem police found in a daily check last month.

An existing walkway, about two feet wide, will be turned into a buffer zone with white breaker bars to separate vehicular traffic from pedestrian traffic, Supt. H. Reginald Hammond reported.

The district's share will be for materials and the city will pay the labor costs.

The board also scheduled a meeting with trustees from elementary schools in the Sir Francis Drake High School attendance area for 8 p.m. Jan. 5 at White Hill, and a meeting with the city to discuss annexation of Deer Park for 8 p.m. Jan. 14 at the district office.

Teachers and administrators from the Drake attendance area and from Drake will meet at 12:30 p.m. Jan. 28 at the Pepperwood restaurant in San Anselmo to discuss common problems and development of coordinated programs in English, social studies and foreign language.

Mobile Homes To Be Eyed For Low Income Solution

Members of the Family and Children's Services Advisory Committee will visit mobile home parks in Sonoma County next month to see if mobile homes can meet short-range low income housing.

Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas, a member of the housing subcommittee, reported last night that a field trip is set for Jan. 9. Mrs. Jocelyn Bell, chairman of the advisory committee, will be among those taking the tour of mobile home parks.

The Family and Children's Services Advisory Committee also:

HOUSING — Decided to set up a legislative subcommittee to urge the state Legislature to pass a bill providing state loans for purchase of low and moderate-priced homes. Mrs. Frederick suggested a loan program similar to Cal-Vet.

LOST CHECKS — Recommednded to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that, in case of lost welfare checks, the waiting period for new payment be shortened from 20 days to seven days, provided that the bank has been able to put a stop on the lost check.

SCHOLARSHIPS — Decided to start work on a scholarship fund to help some worthy youth.

PUBLIC RELATIONS — Heard from Marion Barbier of the public subcommittee that a speakers bureau is planned, and a program might be set up to have members of the public accompany social workers who visit families reveiving aid.

NEW MEMBERS — Welcomed as new memberrs Dr. Malcolm Finley, a psychiatrist representing Marin Property owners Association, and Florence Gardner, a San Anselmo housewife.

Injured Youngster Released By Hospital

Richard B. Blaskower, 10, of 38 Southwood Avenue, Ross, was released yesterday from Marin General Hospital where he had been treated for scalp cuts and multiple scrapes and bruises after his bicycle collided with an auto on Monday.

Police said Blaskower was struck on Bolinas Avenue by a car driven by Herman C. Waetjen, 40, of 85 Jordan Avenue, San Anselmo, as the boy rode between cars stopped for a traffic signal and into Waetjen's path.

72-YEAR-OLD NO BELIEVER IN RETIRING

DETROIT (AP) — At 72, Morris Loren believes "everyone should work until they die. Not for money, but to improve the community."

Loren proved his point this week when he was awarded a master's degree in business administration from Wayne State University in Detroit.

Loren, who moved from the Ukraine after the Russian Revolution of 1917 and now lives in the Detroit suburb of Royal Oak, has started working on a doctorate in education and next month begins teaching college-level accounting.

Loren received his bachelor's degree in 1930 and returned to his laundry business for 36 years.

Novato Tot's Pill Found To Be LSD

A pill eaten by a 2-year-old Novato boy from his family's refrigerator has proved to be LSD, Marin Juvenile Officer Jeannette Prandi said today.

The child, Robert C. Baldi Jr., was treated at Marin General Hospital after he ate the pill on Oct. 26. The child recovered within a few days and is being cared for in a receiving home, Mrs. Prandi said. She added it is not known yet whether he suffered any brain damage from the LSD.

The boy's father, Robert C. Baldi of 5935 Redwood Highway, told officers that the child apparently opened the refrigerator and found two pills which were wrapped in foil.

Baldi said the pills had been placed in the refrigerator by a friend whom he met in Marin County Jail while serving time for a burglary conviction and traffic offenses.

The friend, whom Baldi knew only as "Tree," had arrived at the Baldi home the night before and asked to spend the night. He had placed the pills in the refrigerator to keep them cool, Baldi told police.

'Nutcracker' Tickets Not At College Office

College of Marin officials reported today that the college office is being swamped with misdirected calls for reservations for the "Nutcracker" performance by the Marin Civic Ballet at 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the college Fine Arts Building.

Tickets are not available through the college but either at the door or from Mrs. William L. Stewart III, 29 Lochness Lane, San Rafael.

A. W. CLAUSEN
Bank of America president

From Vault Attendant To Bank's Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A. W. Clausen, a young-looking 46-year-old attorney whose first bank job was as a part-time vault attendant, is the new president of the world's largest commercial bank—Bank of America.

Since Peterson became president in 1963 the bank's assets have almost doubled, from $14.7 billion to $25 billion.

During those six years the number of its California branches grew from 850 to 954 and of its foreign branches from 22 to 96.

TO REMAIN ACTIVE

Peterson, who has been with the bank 27 years, will remain as chairman of the executive committee.

Clausen, born in Hamilton, Ill., came to California in 1949 after graduation from the University of Minnesota Law School.

He said he took the vault attendant's job 20 years ago because "I had to eat" while waiting to take the California bar examination.

He passed the exam but stayed with the bank in the executive training program.

Seven months ago Clausen was named vice chairman of the board. During the previous six years he headed the bank's national division as vice president, led Northern California loan activities as senior vice president, and served as chairman of the general finance committee, as executive vice president and a member of the bank's managing committee.

RETIRED PUBLISHER

His father, Morton Clausen of Hamilton, is the retired former owner, editor and publisher of the weekly Hamilton Press.

During World War II Clausen was a first lieutenant in weather reconnaissance with the Army Air Corps in Europe.

He asd his wife, the former Mary Margaret Crassweller of Duluth, Minn., have two sons, Eric and Mark. They live in suburban Hillsborough.

'Terror Terrace' Attack Is Fatal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Kristine Peterson, 17, latest victim in the Haight-Ashbury district's continuing rash of violence, died yesterday in San Francisco General Hospital.

Horace Mixon, 27, an escapee from Napa State Hospital arrested shortly after the girl's savage slashing, beating and rape eight days ago, was rebooked for investigation of murder. He had been implicated by the trail of blood Miss Peterson left on the 1400 block of Waller Street, police said.

The neighborhood, scene of four murders this year, plus dozens of other violent crimes and narcotics raids, has become known as "Terror Terrace."

The girl's face was so battered she was unidentified for nearly 24 hours in the hospital.

Coin Machine Looted

An amount estimated at between $50 and $55 was reported stolen yesterday from a coin-operated washing machine in the laundry room of an apartment building at 90 Hoag Avenue, according to San Rafael police.

U.C. Faculty Hits Rule On Communists

BERKELEY (UPI) — The Academic Senate of the University of California, which represents teachers at all nine U.C. campuses, has voted in favor of rescinding a resolution passed 19 years ago that said communists were not "acceptable" as faculty members.

In disavowing the 1950 resolution, the current senate members voted 2,487 to 1,139 in a recent secret mail ballot, Dr. Francis A. Sooy, a professor at the U.C. Medical Center in San Francisco, announced yesterday.

The senate at the same time, approved a resolution which said "free inquiry and free expression are essential attributes of the community of scholars..."

Sooy said the U.C. Board of Regents has been advised of the vote.

He said the resolutions should be considered "as a guide in the establishment of principles governing the appointment, a promotion and dismissal of faculty and officers of instruction."

The St. Lawrence Seaway is observing its 10th anniversary.

Motorcycle Stolen From Hub Residence

A brown 1940 Triumph motorcycle with California license 106609 was stolen yesterday from Thomas A. Atnip, 112 Humboldt Avenue, San Anselmo police reported today.

A neighbor told police she saw a bearded young man pushing the machine down the street at 7:15 p.m. Atnip said he had left it in his carport.

Special Session On New Store

The Novato Plan Review Committee has called a special meeting Friday to consider revised plans by Hoytt Enterprises for a department store in the Downtown Shopping Center.

The metting is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. in the city parks and recreation meeting room at 917 Sherman Avenue.

The committee also will review plans for the proposed historical museum in the Novato Creek park on Novato Boulevard, according to Brian Mattson, city planning director.

Dominican Coffee Concert Is Saturday

Young instrumentalists from Dominican College and the music department's preparatory division will present the final program in a fall series of coffee concerts Saturday at 8 p.m. in Studio 310 of Angelico Hall on the campus.

Musicians will be Jed Barahal, cellist; Lue Ann Fisher, Mark Jordan and Sue McClees, violinists; Lynn Gratonik and Brian Grant, pianists. The program will include a string trio by John Antes, Concerto in G Minor for Violin by Vivaldi, "Kol Nidrei" for Cello by Bruch and solos by Bach, Beethoven, Kreisler and Debussy.

Proceeds from the concerts benefit the Dominican College enrichment program, which began last September with weekly classes in piano for six 8-year-olds. Participants are selected on the basis of need and interest. Some also received scholarships for private lessons.

These students will continue to study piano in the spring, according to music department chairman Sister Antoinette, and a violin class will be added. This will be partially financed by $600 recently presented to the enrichment program from the proceeds of two performances of the ballet "The Adventures of Christopher." The ballet will be repeated on Jan. 16 in a special program for Marin public school children.

Parents of gifted children who are interested in the enrichment program may write or telephone Sister Antoinette at the college.

THE STARS ABOVE

Sun Nears Farthest Southerly Travels

We are leaving Mars farther and farther behind on our long swing around the sun, and soon the planet will be on the other side of the sun and we cannot see it for a while. After that, it will be a morning star and we can see it only in the eastern sky before sunrise.

On Dec. 21 we will be at the winter solstice (literally sun stand) when the sun appears to stop on its apparent trip to the South and to stand still a short time before starting its journey North.

The moon is full on Dec. 23 and is at apogee, its greatest distance from the earth, on Dec. 26.

Mercury is at its greatest apparent distance from the sun on Dec. 27, but this is not a good time to try to see the tiny planet because the distance from the sun is only 20 degrees.

The moon passes 3 degrees south of Uranus on Dec. 31. The moon reaches its last-quarter phase on the same date, and its brightness will overwhelm the dim planet.

Break-In Try

A thief attempted to break into the student store at Terra Linda High School yesterday by smashing a window and prying a lock handle, San Rafael police reported. Nothing was reported missing.

Museum To Close

The Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael will be closed Dec. 24 to 28 for the Christmas holiday.

55 Strep Cases

Fifty-five cases of streptococcus infection, 40 of gonorrhea, two of infectious hepatitis and one of salmonella were reported in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health director.

Health Planning Council Nominates 17 To Board

Seventeen persons have been nominated for election to the board of the Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council at the council's annual meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 24 at the Marin Civic Center.

The present council of 36 members is scheduled to be cut, the board has recommended that it be reduced to 27.

If the membership agrees, nine of the nominees would be elected to terms expiring in January 1973.

Nominees, named by a council committee, are: Joseph Berruezo, assistant dean for vocational-technical education, College of Marin; C. Paul Bettini, mayor of San Rafael; Neil R. Brixon, mayor of Larkspur;

Robert Lomax, director Marin Economic Opportunity Council, San Rafael; Ernest Marris, conservationist, Kentfield; James Osbon, student, Novato; James Reed, San Anselmo councilman; Lawrence Shattuck, probation officer, San Anselmo;

Chester Villalba, executive director, Family Service Agency, San Rafael; Vera Watson, school nurse, Fairfax; Phyllis Widdershoven, director, Easter Seal Society, Larkspur, and Lester Young, machinists union, San Rafael.

Incumbents Harrold R. Cochran, engineer, San Rafael; Anne Ellinwood, Tiburon councilman; Edward Parnell, Tiburon fireman; Edward Ryken, director, Marin Senior Coordinating Council, and Elenor Rogers, physical therapist, San Rafael.

Council members in September adopted bylaws that the board should not have less than 20 nor more than 33 members, with one-third of board membership elected at each annual meeting.

Last month the directors recommended that the membership be 27, with nine elected each year.

Robert Brook, assistant regional director for comprehensive health planning, U. S. Public Health Service, will speak about "Better Health Through Comprehensive Health Planning."

School Walkway Set By Fairfax Board

The Fairfax School District board last night agreed to pay up to $1,750 to build a six-foot wide walkway between Oak Manor and White Hill School along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The city had proposed the walkway as a solution to the most serious safety problem police found in a daily check last month.

An existing walkway, about two feet wide, will be turned into a buffer zone with white breaker bars to separate vehicular traffic from pedestrian traffic, Supt. H. Reginald Hammond reported.

The district's share will be for materials and the city will pay the labor costs.

The board also scheduled a meeting with trustees from elementary schools in the Sir Francis Drake High School attendance area for 8 p.m. Jan. 5 at White Hill, and a meeting with the city to discuss annexation of Deer Park for 8 p.m. Jan. 14 at the district office.

Teachers and administrators from the Drake attendance area and from Drake will meet at 12:30 p.m. Jan. 28 at the Pepperwood restaurant in San Anselmo to discuss common problems and development of coordinated programs in English, social studies and foreign language.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Rural Kentuckians have greater access to community health centers than rural residents of any other state, the National Institute of Mental Health reports.

Mobile Homes To Be Eyed For Low Income Solution

Members of the Family and Children's Services Advisory Committee will visit mobile home parks in Sonoma County next month to see if mobile homes can meet short-range low income housing.

Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas, a member of the housing subcommittee, reported last night that a field trip is set for Jan. 9. Mrs. Jocelyn Bell, chairman of the advisory committee, will be among those taking the tour of mobile home parks.

The Family and Children's Services Advisory Committee also:

HOUSING — Decided to set up a legislative subcommittee to urge the state Legislature to pass a bill providing state loans for purchase of low and moderate-priced homes. Mrs. Frederick suggested a loan program similar to Cal-Vet.

LOST CHECKS — Recommednded to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that, in case of lost welfare checks, the waiting period for new payment be shortened from 20 days to seven days, provided that the bank has been able to put a stop on the lost check.

SCHOLARSHIPS — Decided to start work on a scholarship fund to help some worthy youth.

PUBLIC RELATIONS — Heard from Marion Barbier of the public subcommittee that a speakers bureau is planned, and a program might be set up to have members of the public accompany social workers who visit families reveiving aid.

NEW MEMBERS — Welcomed as new memberrs Dr. Malcolm Finley, a psychiatrist representing Marin Property owners Association, and Florence Gardner, a San Anselmo housewife.

Injured Youngster Released By Hospital

Richard B. Blaskower, 10, of 38 Southwood Avenue, Ross, was released yesterday from Marin General Hospital where he had been treated for scalp cuts and multiple scrapes and bruises after his bicycle collided with an auto on Monday.

Police said Blaskower was struck on Bolinas Avenue by a car driven by Herman C. Waetjen, 40, of 85 Jordan Avenue, San Anselmo, as the boy rode between cars stopped for a traffic signal and into Waetjen's path.

72-YEAR-OLD NO BELIEVER IN RETIRING

DETROIT (AP) — At 72, Morris Loren believes "everyone should work until they die. Not for money, but to improve the community."

Loren proved his point this week when he was awarded a master's degree in business administration from Wayne State University in Detroit.

Loren, who moved from the Ukraine after the Russian Revolution of 1917 and now lives in the Detroit suburb of Royal Oak, has started working on a doctorate in education and next month begins teaching college-level accounting.

Loren received his bachelor's degree in 1930 and returned to his laundry business for 36 years.

Novato Tot's Pill Found To Be LSD

A pill eaten by a 2-year-old Novato boy from his family's refrigerator has proved to be LSD, Marin Juvenile Officer Jeannette Prandi said today.

The child, Robert C. Baldi Jr., was treated at Marin General Hospital after he ate the pill on Oct. 26. The child recovered within a few days and is being cared for in a receiving home, Mrs. Prandi said. She added it is not known yet whether he suffered any brain damage from the LSD.

The boy's father, Robert C. Baldi of 5935 Redwood Highway, told officers that the child apparently opened the refrigerator and found two pills which were wrapped in foil.

Baldi said the pills had been placed in the refrigerator by a friend whom he met in Marin County Jail while serving time for a burglary conviction and traffic offenses.

The friend, whom Baldi knew only as "Tree," had arrived at the Baldi home the night before and asked to spend the night. He had placed the pills in the refrigerator to keep them cool, Baldi told police.

'Nutcracker' Tickets Not At College Office

College of Marin officials reported today that the college office is being swamped with misdirected calls for reservations for the "Nutcracker" performance by the Marin Civic Ballet at 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the college Fine Arts Building.

Tickets are not available through the college but either at the door or from Mrs. William L. Stewart III, 29 Lochness Lane, San Rafael.

THE STARS ABOVE

Sun Nears Farthest Southerly Travels

We are leaving Mars farther and farther behind on our long swing around the sun, and soon the planet will be on the other side of the sun and we cannot see it for a while. After that, it will be a morning star and we can see it only in the eastern sky before sunrise.

On Dec. 21 we will be at the winter solstice (literally sun stand) when the sun appears to stop on its apparent trip to the South and to stand still a short time before starting its journey North.

The moon is full on Dec. 23 and is at apogee, its greatest distance from the earth, on Dec. 26.

Mercury is at its greatest apparent distance from the sun on Dec. 27, but this is not a good time to try to see the tiny planet because the distance from the sun is only 20 degrees.

The moon passes 3 degrees south of Uranus on Dec. 31. The moon reaches its last-quarter phase on the same date, and its brightness will overwhelm the dim planet.

Break-In Try

A thief attempted to break into the student store at Terra Linda High School yesterday by smashing a window and prying a lock handle, San Rafael police reported. Nothing was reported missing.

Museum To Close

The Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael will be closed Dec. 24 to 28 for the Christmas holiday.

55 Strep Cases

Fifty-five cases of streptococcus infection, 40 of gonorrhea, two of infectious hepatitis and one of salmonella were reported in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health director.

Health Planning Council Nominates 17 To Board

Seventeen persons have been nominated for election to the board of the Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council at the council's annual meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 24 at the Marin Civic Center.

The present council of 36 members is scheduled to be cut, the board has recommended that it be reduced to 27.

If the membership agrees, nine of the nominees would be elected to terms expiring in January 1973.

Nominees, named by a council committee, are: Joseph Berruezo, assistant dean for vocational-technical education, College of Marin; C. Paul Bettini, mayor of San Rafael; Neil R. Brixon, mayor of Larkspur;

Robert Lomax, director Marin Economic Opportunity Council, San Rafael; Ernest Marris, conservationist, Kentfield; James Osbon, student, Novato; James Reed, San Anselmo councilman; Lawrence Shattuck, probation officer, San Anselmo;

Chester Villalba, executive director, Family Service Agency, San Rafael; Vera Watson, school nurse, Fairfax; Phyllis Widdershoven, director, Easter Seal Society, Larkspur, and Lester Young, machinists union, San Rafael.

Incumbents Harrold R. Cochran, engineer, San Rafael; Anne Ellinwood, Tiburon councilman; Edward Parnell, Tiburon fireman; Edward Ryken, director, Marin Senior Coordinating Council, and Elenor Rogers, physical therapist, San Rafael.

Council members in September adopted bylaws that the board should not have less than 20 nor more than 33 members, with one-third of board membership elected at each annual meeting.

Last month the directors recommended that the membership be 27, with nine elected each year.

Robert Brook, assistant regional director for comprehensive health planning, U. S. Public Health Service, will speak about "Better Health Through Comprehensive Health Planning."

'CORNER DRUG STORE' FIGHTS DRUG HABITS

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — University of Florida students have come up with a program they hope will help students who want to kick the drug habit — a "corner drug store" that will dispense friendship instead of pills.

Dr. Stephen O'Connell, president of the university, said he was so confident of the program's success that he has donated $500 of his own money.

The students plan to open a center where young people with drug problems can talk to other young people who have beaten the habit.

Friendship and understanding will be the ingredients of the drug store's prescriptions.

U.S. Funds For Police Draw Fire

A proposal for federal crime-fighting funds is "an eloquent attempt to bribe Americans into selling their right to local self-government," the chairman of the Larkspur Support Your Local Police Committee has charged.

Raymond C. Kesner said the report of the National Commission on Crime and Violence was part of a movement "toward a federal police state."

Statements by such bodies as the commission "condition local officials and politicians to accept federal aid," Kesner said.

"The real issue . . . is not law and order itself but who is going to enforce the law and maintain order. Will it be a local autonomous police agency . . . or will it be a federally subsidized and controlled police, totally accountable to the federal government?" Kersner asked in a statement for the committee, which is sponsored by the John Birch Society.

The commission's proposal to spend $20 billion more in federal support of police "means double the federal control of the local police process." He said the commission never recommends rigid enforcement of law, but only "more restraints on local police to justify more federal intervention and control in people's lives. The $20 billion now recommended by the commission is the worst example yet of this kind of blackmailing of Americans."

Kesner said federal aid to police in Marin would be administered by the Association of Bay Area Governments and the Marin County Human Rights Commission, which he said are both subsidized by the federal government.

Guilty Plea To Reduced Count

Lance L. Brown, 22, of Lagunitas, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced charge of petty theft stemming from the theft of 18 sheets of plywood from a building site in Malley Nov. 17. He had originally been charged with grand theft.

The same charge against James R. Watkins, 22, of El Sobrante, was dismissed yesterday for lack of evidence.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. set sentencing for Brown for Jan. 16.

Spanish Duchess Killed In Crash

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Spain's Duchess of Alburquerque was killed today when her car collided with one driven by Rafael (Ramfis) Leonidas Trujillo Jr., son of late Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo.

Trujillo was reported to be in grave condition after the crash and an 11-year-old son of the duchess was also seriously injured.

The duchess, 44-year-old Dona Beltran de Lis, died instantly in the accident near Madrid, traffic police said. The two cars collided head-on.

Pink Slip Taken

A burglar who removed louvres from a window at Blessed Sacrament School in Santa Venetia either Sunday or Monday stole a small pocket knife, a portable radio, about $40 in change and a pink slip to a car belonging to the school, sheriff's deputies said today.

Cooperation Clearing Way For Settlement In Oil Float Claims

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In what U.S. District Court Judge Albert Lee Stephens Jr. calls "the result of unprecedented efforts at cooperation," a plan is under way to settle promptly virtually all damage claims arising from massive oil seepage in the Santa Barbara Channel last January.

The unusual procedure, which call for three "masters of the court" to weigh claims in a class action, was disclosed in a statement released yesterday by Judge Stephens and attorneys involved. The statement said:

"The importance of what has been accomplished in this action by the court with the cooperation of all concerned lies in the fact that it will not be necessary to establish the cause of the blowout or who was responsible before claims can be paid.

"The oil companies, although denying any legal liability, agree to pay all legally compensable damages arising from a legally cognizable injury caused by the oil spill."

The statement, noting that an investigation into the cause of the spill would likely "be time-consuming and costly," termed the arrangement "in the urgent public interest."

The action is the result of two suits filed with Stephens against four oil companies — Union, Mobil, Texaco and Gulf —after a huge seepage of long duration from a Union Oil Co. offshore drilling rig.

Named by Stephens as masters were a trio of retired Superior Court judges, who are expected to function mainly in Santa Barbara and Ventura counties. They are Walter Odemar, Clarence Kincaid and Lewis Drucker.

All claims paid will be supervised by the federal court.

Meantime, Stephens said, an estimated 17,000 notices are to be mailed within the next few days to potential claimants.

The deadline for filing claims is April 6, 1970.

Individual persons in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties, as well as public entities and corporation, will be included in the plan if they fall within one or more of the following classes:

Owners of boats, ships and vessels assertedly damaged.

Fishermen operating in coastal waters of the two affected counties who can establish they sustained damage.

Merchants selling nautical goods and services in the two counties who claim damage.

Owners of certain beachfront hotels, motels or apartments who maintain they suffered damage.

The statement said: "The amount of each payment will be the amount for which they would have been legally responsible had the oil spill been caused by the negligence of the oil companies or their contractors."

Stephens said the agreement also contains a provision for formal trial of any claims which cannot be settled by the masters of the court.

Pounds Dropped

MBABANE, Swaziland (AP) — The cabinet has decided to switch this African monarchy's weights and measures from the British imperial to the metric system. The change will take place over a period of four to five years. Britain and South Africa, Swaziland's main markets, will be using the metric system in a few years' time.

Onassis Helps Nuns' Journey

NEW YOR (AP) — Aristotle Onassis is giving two American nuns a Christmas present—an expenses-paid holiday trip to Bethlehem.

Sister Margaret O'Neill of Englewood, N.J., and Sister Alodia Carney of Dyersville, Iowa, said they had tried in vain for the past six years to earn their way on a Holy Land visit.

Finally they asked Onassis if he could help. They said an Onassis aide advised them the Greek shipping tycoon would foot the bill for the trip. The nuns left for Israel Tuesday on a plane of Olympic Airways, which Onassis owns.

Fighter Of Pot Laws Enters Plea

Jeffery Neil Stallard, 28-year-old Lagunitas man who is attempting to test the constitutionality of state laws prohibiting use of marijuana, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing pot.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson on Monday set a jury trial for the week of April 27.

Last Wednesday Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court ruled after a preliminary hearing that marijuana does not have a recognized use as a sacrament in any church or religion and that furthermore, there is no such religion as "marijuanaism."

He said that Stallard had not been deprived of his religious freedom by laws which make it a crime to possess marijuana.

Stallard got himself arrested April 1 by handing a marijuana cigarette which he had taken out of his boot to a sheriff's deputy at the county jail.

Stallard's attorney, Richard Cohen of Sausalito, has said that he plans to use the religious defense when the case is tried in superior court.

At the northern tip of Idaho, the state is only 35 miles wide.

Firehouse Visit Is Scheduled By Santa

Santa Claus, Smokey the Bear and Sparkey will be at the San Rafael Firehouse at Fifth Avenue and C Street Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. to pass out badges, hats and candy canes to visiting youngsters.

All children are welcome, according to Fireman Robert E. Romer, and will be allowed to slide down the fire pole, climb the ladders and engines.

Motorcycle Stolen

Guilty Plea To Heroin Charge

David Roger Harris, 22, former Marinite who now lives in Santa Rosa, has pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to a charge of selling heroin May 23 and a reduced charge of possessing marijuana in 1967. Two charges of selling weed in 1967 were dismissed.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson on Monday set sentencing for Feb. 2.

Harris was among persons indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury in February 1968, for narcotics violations after a countywide drug roundup. He was not arrested for over a year after the indictment, however, and said he did not know there was a warrant out for his arrest.

While out on bail after his arrest, he was accused of making the heroin sale.

Rec Center Sets Holiday Schedule

The Rohnert Park Community and Recreation Center will be open for children's activities during the school holiday vacation, according to Thomas West, recreation director.

West said the center will be open from noon to 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and Benecia pool will be open Saturdays and Sundays from 12:30 to 4 p.m.

Smog Signatures

The number of valid signatures collected in Marin to qualify a constitutional amendment for next year's statewide ballot to toughen air pollution controls was 3,171, a figure dropped in an Independent-Journal report Monday because of a composing room error. A total of 5,046 signatures was turned in to the county elections office, but about one-third were disqualified for failure to match voter records.

Park Vandalism

Vandals smashed a window and 16 floodlights, causing $107 damaged at Albert Park Friday night, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

College Signups Deadline Passes

Yesterday was the last day of registration for first priority students — continuing students enrolled fulltime — at College of Marin for spring semester, the college reported.

Second priority students, new students enrolling full time, will start registration tomorrow through Jan. 6. Part-time students will enroll after that.

The college expected 2,800 full time continuing students to enroll, but the actual number will not be known until late this week.

Ex-Probation Aide's Jail Stay Is Cut

A former Marin County probation officer who admitted that he had sexual relations with a 17-year-old ward of the court and furnished her with marijuana, has been let out of jail after serving half of his one-year term.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court, who had sentenced Richard Jay Paris, 28, last June, made his decision Monday to shorten the term after learning of Paris's good behavior while a prisoner at the honor farm in Sonoma County.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas argued against the early release, noting that his office had asked a state prison term for Paris.

The judge said, however, he had not sent Paris to prison because he did not want to destroy a young man with talent and that he did not expect him to repeat his misdeeds. "He still has a suspended prison sentence hanging over his head if he gets in trouble again," the judge said.

Paris had pleaded guilty to two counts of statutory rape, one of furnishing marijuana to a minor and one charge of sexual perversion with the San Rafael girl whom he met when she was a resident at Marin Juvenile Hall.

Paris had been a probation officer for four years. He has been forbidden by the court to seek employment which brings him into contact with minors.

Nixon To Beef Lunch Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration plans to put an extra $100 million into school lunch programs. The intention, officials say, is a free or modestly priced meal for every needy youngster by the end of this school year.

A chief concern of many delegates to the recent White House hunger conference was free lunch and breakfast school programs. To dramatize their concern more than 500 delegates turned in their $18 a day conference meal tickets.

The Agriculture Department figures there are 6.6 million needy youngsters when it comes to school meals. To enroll all of these in the school lunch program is now the department goal, says school lunch director Herbert D. Rorex. Last year 3.1 million took part.

Weekend Jail Time Ordered

Adam Nicholas Mikolon, 38, of San Anselmo, ordered to spend 20 weekends in Marin County Jail for the second degree burglary of a Bolinas home in November, 1968.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court on Monday also placed Mikolon on two years probation.

Teen-Ager Arrested On Draft Charges

A 19-year old Indiana youth, arrested Friday in San Rafael, was being held today in San Francisco County Jail on suspicion of failing to report to his local induction center last October.

William Edward Pickard also faces possible drug charges after the Federal Bureau of Investigation agent who arrested him said he found two kilos of marujuana in the youth's possession during a preliminary search. Pickard was to be turned over to the federal authorities.

'CORNER DRUG STORE' FIGHTS DRUG HABITS

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — University of Florida students have come up with a program they hope will help students who want to kick the drug habit — a "corner drug store" that will dispense friendship instead of pills.

Dr. Stephen O'Connell, president of the university, said he was so confident of the program's success that he has donated $500 of his own money.

The students plan to open a center where young people with drug problems can talk to other young people who have beaten the habit.

Friendship and understanding will be the ingredients of the drug store's prescriptions.

U.S. Funds For Police Draw Fire

A proposal for federal crime-fighting funds is "an eloquent attempt to bribe Americans into selling their right to local self-government," the chairman of the Larkspur Support Your Local Police Committee has charged.

Raymond C. Kesner said the report of the National Commission on Crime and Violence was part of a movement "toward a federal police state."

Statements by such bodies as the commission "condition local officials and politicians to accept federal aid," Kesner said.

"The real issue . . . is not law and order itself but who is going to enforce the law and maintain order. Will it be a local autonomous police agency . . . or will it be a federally subsidized and controlled police, totally accountable to the federal government?" Kersner asked in a statement for the committee, which is sponsored by the John Birch Society.

The commission's proposal to spend $20 billion more in federal support of police "means double the federal control of the local police process." He said the commission never recommends rigid enforcement of law, but only "more restraints on local police to justify more federal intervention and control in people's lives. The $20 billion now recommended by the commission is the worst example yet of this kind of blackmailing of Americans."

Kesner said federal aid to police in Marin would be administered by the Association of Bay Area Governments and the Marin County Human Rights Commission, which he said are both subsidized by the federal government.

Guilty Plea To Reduced Count

Lance L. Brown, 22, of Lagunitas, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced charge of petty theft stemming from the theft of 18 sheets of plywood from a building site in Malley Nov. 17. He had originally been charged with grand theft.

The same charge against James R. Watkins, 22, of El Sobrante, was dismissed yesterday for lack of evidence.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. set sentencing for Brown for Jan. 16.

Spanish Duchess Killed In Crash

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Spain's Duchess of Alburquerque was killed today when her car collided with one driven by Rafael (Ramfis) Leonidas Trujillo Jr., son of late Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo.

Trujillo was reported to be in grave condition after the crash and an 11-year-old son of the duchess was also seriously injured.

The duchess, 44-year-old Dona Beltran de Lis, died instantly in the accident near Madrid, traffic police said. The two cars collided head-on.

Pink Slip Taken

A burglar who removed louvres from a window at Blessed Sacrament School in Santa Venetia either Sunday or Monday stole a small pocket knife, a portable radio, about $40 in change and a pink slip to a car belonging to the school, sheriff's deputies said today.

Cooperation Clearing Way For Settlement In Oil Float Claims

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In what U.S. District Court Judge Albert Lee Stephens Jr. calls "the result of unprecedented efforts at cooperation," a plan is under way to settle promptly virtually all damage claims arising from massive oil seepage in the Santa Barbara Channel last January.

The unusual procedure, which call for three "masters of the court" to weigh claims in a class action, was disclosed in a statement released yesterday by Judge Stephens and attorneys involved. The statement said:

"The importance of what has been accomplished in this action by the court with the cooperation of all concerned lies in the fact that it will not be necessary to establish the cause of the blowout or who was responsible before claims can be paid.

"The oil companies, although denying any legal liability, agree to pay all legally compensable damages arising from a legally cognizable injury caused by the oil spill."

The statement, noting that an investigation into the cause of the spill would likely "be time-consuming and costly," termed the arrangement "in the urgent public interest."

The action is the result of two suits filed with Stephens against four oil companies — Union, Mobil, Texaco and Gulf —after a huge seepage of long duration from a Union Oil Co. offshore drilling rig.

Named by Stephens as masters were a trio of retired Superior Court judges, who are expected to function mainly in Santa Barbara and Ventura counties. They are Walter Odemar, Clarence Kincaid and Lewis Drucker.

All claims paid will be supervised by the federal court.

Meantime, Stephens said, an estimated 17,000 notices are to be mailed within the next few days to potential claimants.

The deadline for filing claims is April 6, 1970.

Individual persons in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties, as well as public entities and corporation, will be included in the plan if they fall within one or more of the following classes:

Owners of boats, ships and vessels assertedly damaged.

Fishermen operating in coastal waters of the two affected counties who can establish they sustained damage.

Merchants selling nautical goods and services in the two counties who claim damage.

Owners of certain beachfront hotels, motels or apartments who maintain they suffered damage.

The statement said: "The amount of each payment will be the amount for which they would have been legally responsible had the oil spill been caused by the negligence of the oil companies or their contractors."

Stephens said the agreement also contains a provision for formal trial of any claims which cannot be settled by the masters of the court.

Pounds Dropped

MBABANE, Swaziland (AP) — The cabinet has decided to switch this African monarchy's weights and measures from the British imperial to the metric system. The change will take place over a period of four to five years. Britain and South Africa, Swaziland's main markets, will be using the metric system in a few years' time.

Onassis Helps Nuns' Journey

NEW YOR (AP) — Aristotle Onassis is giving two American nuns a Christmas present—an expenses-paid holiday trip to Bethlehem.

Sister Margaret O'Neill of Englewood, N.J., and Sister Alodia Carney of Dyersville, Iowa, said they had tried in vain for the past six years to earn their way on a Holy Land visit.

Finally they asked Onassis if he could help. They said an Onassis aide advised them the Greek shipping tycoon would foot the bill for the trip. The nuns left for Israel Tuesday on a plane of Olympic Airways, which Onassis owns.

Fighter Of Pot Laws Enters Plea

Jeffery Neil Stallard, 28-year-old Lagunitas man who is attempting to test the constitutionality of state laws prohibiting use of marijuana, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing pot.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson on Monday set a jury trial for the week of April 27.

Last Wednesday Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court ruled after a preliminary hearing that marijuana does not have a recognized use as a sacrament in any church or religion and that furthermore, there is no such religion as "marijuanaism."

He said that Stallard had not been deprived of his religious freedom by laws which make it a crime to possess marijuana.

Stallard got himself arrested April 1 by handing a marijuana cigarette which he had taken out of his boot to a sheriff's deputy at the county jail.

Stallard's attorney, Richard Cohen of Sausalito, has said that he plans to use the religious defense when the case is tried in superior court.

At the northern tip of Idaho, the state is only 35 miles wide.

Ex-Probation Aide's Jail Stay Is Cut

A former Marin County probation officer who admitted that he had sexual relations with a 17-year-old ward of the court and furnished her with marijuana, has been let out of jail after serving half of his one-year term.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court, who had sentenced Richard Jay Paris, 28, last June, made his decision Monday to shorten the term after learning of Paris's good behavior while a prisoner at the honor farm in Sonoma County.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas argued against the early release, noting that his office had asked a state prison term for Paris.

The judge said, however, he had not sent Paris to prison because he did not want to destroy a young man with talent and that he did not expect him to repeat his misdeeds. "He still has a suspended prison sentence hanging over his head if he gets in trouble again," the judge said.

Paris had pleaded guilty to two counts of statutory rape, one of furnishing marijuana to a minor and one charge of sexual perversion with the San Rafael girl whom he met when she was a resident at Marin Juvenile Hall.

Paris had been a probation officer for four years. He has been forbidden by the court to seek employment which brings him into contact with minors.

Nixon To Beef Lunch Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration plans to put an extra $100 million into school lunch programs. The intention, officials say, is a free or modestly priced meal for every needy youngster by the end of this school year.

A chief concern of many delegates to the recent White House hunger conference was free lunch and breakfast school programs. To dramatize their concern more than 500 delegates turned in their $18 a day conference meal tickets.

The Agriculture Department figures there are 6.6 million needy youngsters when it comes to school meals. To enroll all of these in the school lunch program is now the department goal, says school lunch director Herbert D. Rorex. Last year 3.1 million took part.

Weekend Jail Time Ordered

Adam Nicholas Mikolon, 38, of San Anselmo, ordered to spend 20 weekends in Marin County Jail for the second degree burglary of a Bolinas home in November, 1968.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court on Monday also placed Mikolon on two years probation.

Teen-Ager Arrested On Draft Charges

A 19-year old Indiana youth, arrested Friday in San Rafael, was being held today in San Francisco County Jail on suspicion of failing to report to his local induction center last October.

William Edward Pickard also faces possible drug charges after the Federal Bureau of Investigation agent who arrested him said he found two kilos of marujuana in the youth's possession during a preliminary search. Pickard was to be turned over to the federal authorities.

If you're fussy and particular and looking for the best and cleanest older station wagon for the money—see this wagon before you buy any.

Local, one-owner wagon that defies the fact that it's 6 years old. There isn't a speck of wear anywhere inside or out, and if you've looked at any wagons, this is a rare trait.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Tired Muscles Fail Seriously In Myasthenia Gravis Cases

VAN DELLEN

In myasthenia gravis there is temporary loss of strength in certain voluntary muscles following exercise. Most frequently involved are the eyelid muscles; they function on awakening in the morning but shortly thereafter the lids droop because the muscles are tired, leading to a sleepy appearance.

TIME IS NEEDED for these muscles to recharge their batteries, and as function returns, the eyes open, but in time, the cycle repeats itself.

Weakness of the jaw leads to difficulty in talking and chewing. Involvement of the facial muscles interferes with the ability to smile and whistle and alters the facial expression.

The search for the cause of the disorder has narrowed down to the site where the nerve ending is attached to the muscle fiber.

There is an alteration in the chemical transfer of energy at this connection.

ONE HOUSEWIFE was unable to continue to raise her arms over her head to brush her hair or remove or replace objects from a high shelf. Others have difficulty when chewing, swallowing, talking, and keeping the mouth closed.

An elderly worker was unable to finish his usual noonday salami sandwich. Each succeeding bite became more feeble. Finally he had to close his mouth with his hand. He could not hold his pipe between his teeth or hold his head erect. The disease takes on a more serious aspect when the muscles concerned with coughing, swallowing, or breathing are involved.

Prostigmin, Mytelase, and Mestinon are the remedies most commonly used to pep up tired muscles. Their action is so specific, they are used also as tests for the presence of this disease.

IN SOME INSTANCES, cure in younger women follows removal of the thymus gland.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

STONES—HOARD OR SAVE?

M. P. writes: Is it better to pass kidney stones or hoard them?

REPLY

You have no choice because smaller stones will pass regardless of your feelings along this line. Larger stones are removed when they are provoking pain or there is evidence that they are causing renal damage. Some individuals harbor many stones in the kidney without the slightest discomfort.

HER JAWS ACHE

Mrs. B. T. writes: My jaws ache constantly and I don't know why. Don't say it's because of coffee klatches or telephonitis because I'm not addicted to either.

REPLY

O. K. — I won't say it but I can think it. Other causes include dental disease, arthritis of the jaw, and neuritis of the large nerves that innervate the jaws.

VEINS IN NOSE

E. D. writes: Can you tell me if there is any medical way of removing veins in the nostrils?

REPLY

I understand that some dermatologists have been successful in destroying these veins with an electric current. On the other hand, it may be easier to camouflage them with a suitable cosmetic.

LIVER AFFLICTIONS

L. B. writes: Aside from cirrhosis, what other disorders affect the liver?

REPLY

This organ may become infected (hepatitis) or damaged by chemicals. Malignancy and abscess formation are other possibilities.

ELASTIC HOSIERY

C. M. writes: I do a lot of walking. Just as a precautionary measure, would wearing elastic hose be harmful? In other words, will these stockings prevent future foot or leg trouble?

REPLY

If the circulation is normal there is nothing to be gained by wearing these hose.

CALCIUM AND IRRITABILITY

A reader writes: Is it true that a calcium deficiency will make a person nervous and grouchy?

REPLY

Possibly, but muscle irritability and cramps (tetany) are the most common aftermath of too little calcium in the blood.

During the length of the contract, the Contractor shall be prepared to accept assignments of work as directed by the District.

All pipeline materials and appurtenances, with the exceptions noted in the specifications, will be furnished by the Marin Municipal Water District. The Contractor shall furnish all necessary and required labor and equipment and other materials not furnished by the District.

The general prevailing rate of wages in the locality in which the work is to be performed has been ascertained by the Board of the District, under the provisions of Section 1773 of the California Labor Code, and is published and on file at the Marin County Public Works Departmen.t

Sundays and holidays shall not be less than one and one-half (1½) times the published rates. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification or type of workman employed on the project.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Proposals will be considered for the complete job only. The proposal must be submitted on the form provided and must be accompanied by a Certified Check, Cash, Post Office Money Order or Bid Bond as a guarantee that the bidder will, if successful, promptly execute a satisfactory contract and furnish bonds as required by these specifications. CREAMPUFF '63 CHEV STA. WAGON

If you're fussy and particular and looking for the best and cleanest older station wagon for the money—see this wagon before you buy any.

Local, one-owner wagon that defies the fact that it's 6 years old. There isn't a speck of wear anywhere inside or out, and if you've looked at any wagons, this is a rare trait.

Fully equipped including power steering, automatic, radio and heater. DNV 679.

Pool System For Housing Presented

By FRANK FARRARA

A proposal to put all applications for housing — senior citizen, low cost and leased in a central pool — was presented last night to Marin City Housing Authority directors.

Under the present system, there are separate application lists, one for public housing in Marin City, another for leased housing and a third for senior citizen centers.

Under the proposed system, all housing applicants would be listed in order and when a vacancy occurred it would be offered to the top name on the list, no matter where the housing was.

Thus, an applicant from the Novato area might be offered a low-cost apartment in Marin City and an applicant from Marin City offered leased housing elsewhere in Marin.

Idealistically, it has the potential for increasing integregation in Marin, but applicants would have the right to turn down the offer at the penalty of being moved to the bottom of the list.

The proposal got a cautious reception from directors, who foresaw complications and stumbling blocks, particularly city residency requirements for leased housing.

The central pool idea reportedly developed from a feeling of low cost housing tenants in Marin City that they weren't being chosen for leased housing.

Wallace K. Shepherd, administrative assistant, reporting on a list of tenant proposals, said central pooling would provide applicants with more opportunity for mobility in housing.

Chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. felt there should be a strong mandate before any changes were made, and he pointed out that any changes within cities would require approval of city councils.

Cities have residency requirements for tenants under leased housing programs, which exclude Marin City residents from moving in.

Directors were prepared for a full-blown public hearing on a series of tenant proposals, including revisions in the rent including revisions in the rent schedule, but only a handful of residents showed up.

With an audience that varied from four to five, and with two directors, Arthur Miller and James O. Quiett absent, the board postponed action on major proposals until after another hearing at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 6 at the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Directors then zeroed in on the central pooling proposal which would have widespread implications for applicants.

Shepherd explained that if an applicant from San Rafael for housing were at the top of the list and a vacancy occurred in Marin City, he would be offered that unit. "If he turned it down he would go to the bottom of the list for leased housing."

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director, said central pooling would give an applicant a chance to occupy "any unit wherever," but there would be objection "to people being forced to move someplace they didn't want to move."

Melvin Randolph, Marin City housing manager, opposed the central pooling idea saying his smaller list of applicants for Marin City housing would get lost in the shuffle with the larger list of applicants for leased housing.

"I got 50 waiting and this is the only place they can get in, and if you put them in a shuffle, it lessens their chances of getting into a project," Randolph said.

He suggested that the authority work toward seeing that "all applicants are given equal opportunity to live in any of our projects and leave it there."

Senior citizens in Marin City have been told of the opportunity to move to senior citizen housing, "but some are not too anxious," he reported. "At least they know they have the opportunity to move."

Ehrlich questioned whether it would be "sound public policy" to force the central pooling plan, and directors referred it back to Shepherd for further study and a report back to the board Jan. 6.

In response to a comment from a resident that Marin City residents were getting a "runaround" in the leased housing program, Stutsman said there were few leased housing units available, a long waiting list and dim prospects for more leased housing.

On rent revision, Shepherd reported the proposed new schedule is:

One bedroom, $56 a month; two bedroom, $62 a month, and three, four and five-bedroom apartments, $68 a month.

There also is a provision for a minimum rent of $50 a month for those on fixed income, (older people on social security and pensions) whose income is less than $2,412 a year). If their income increased beyond $2,412, the rent would be raised to the flat schedule.

The special provision for the senior residents was drawn up after the initial hearing last month when there were protests that proposed rent increases would hit those on fixed income the hardest.

The present rent schedule is based on a proportion of income, averaging $57 and carrying a $40 minimum. There also is a welfare rent schedule in the present plan.

Under the proposed plan the rents are set by apartment size.

Directors, following staff recommendation, gave conditional approval to seven proposals regarding regulations governing applications and eligibility for low-cost housing and rejected eight.

They gave conditional approval by a 2-0 vote with Norman Campbell abstaining, and noted that since there wasn't wide public attendance they would withhold final approval until after the Jan. 6 hearing.

Gallinas Canal Silting Eyed

A survey to determine how much silt has collected in the Gallinas Canal since it was dredged three years ago was requested last night by the Santa Venetia County Service Area Advisory Board.

The board will ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors to contract for the study to show if more dredging is needed .

The problem of abandoned and sunken boats on the canal was also discussed at the meeting. The board agreed to notify owners first and, if no action is taken, request that county supervisors abate the nuisance.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Tired Muscles Fail Seriously In Myasthenia Gravis Cases

VAN DELLEN

In myasthenia gravis there is temporary loss of strength in certain voluntary muscles following exercise. Most frequently involved are the eyelid muscles; they function on awakening in the morning but shortly thereafter the lids droop because the muscles are tired, leading to a sleepy appearance.

TIME IS NEEDED for these muscles to recharge their batteries, and as function returns, the eyes open, but in time, the cycle repeats itself.

Weakness of the jaw leads to difficulty in talking and chewing. Involvement of the facial muscles interferes with the ability to smile and whistle and alters the facial expression.

The search for the cause of the disorder has narrowed down to the site where the nerve ending is attached to the muscle fiber.

There is an alteration in the chemical transfer of energy at this connection.

ONE HOUSEWIFE was unable to continue to raise her arms over her head to brush her hair or remove or replace objects from a high shelf. Others have difficulty when chewing, swallowing, talking, and keeping the mouth closed.

An elderly worker was unable to finish his usual noonday salami sandwich. Each succeeding bite became more feeble. Finally he had to close his mouth with his hand. He could not hold his pipe between his teeth or hold his head erect. The disease takes on a more serious aspect when the muscles concerned with coughing, swallowing, or breathing are involved.

Prostigmin, Mytelase, and Mestinon are the remedies most commonly used to pep up tired muscles. Their action is so specific, they are used also as tests for the presence of this disease.

IN SOME INSTANCES, cure in younger women follows removal of the thymus gland.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

STONES—HOARD OR SAVE?

M. P. writes: Is it better to pass kidney stones or hoard them?

REPLY

You have no choice because smaller stones will pass regardless of your feelings along this line. Larger stones are removed when they are provoking pain or there is evidence that they are causing renal damage. Some individuals harbor many stones in the kidney without the slightest discomfort.

HER JAWS ACHE

Mrs. B. T. writes: My jaws ache constantly and I don't know why. Don't say it's because of coffee klatches or telephonitis because I'm not addicted to either.

REPLY

O. K. — I won't say it but I can think it. Other causes include dental disease, arthritis of the jaw, and neuritis of the large nerves that innervate the jaws.

VEINS IN NOSE

E. D. writes: Can you tell me if there is any medical way of removing veins in the nostrils?

REPLY

I understand that some dermatologists have been successful in destroying these veins with an electric current. On the other hand, it may be easier to camouflage them with a suitable cosmetic.

LIVER AFFLICTIONS

L. B. writes: Aside from cirrhosis, what other disorders affect the liver?

REPLY

This organ may become infected (hepatitis) or damaged by chemicals. Malignancy and abscess formation are other possibilities.

ELASTIC HOSIERY

C. M. writes: I do a lot of walking. Just as a precautionary measure, would wearing elastic hose be harmful? In other words, will these stockings prevent future foot or leg trouble?

REPLY

If the circulation is normal there is nothing to be gained by wearing these hose.

CALCIUM AND IRRITABILITY

A reader writes: Is it true that a calcium deficiency will make a person nervous and grouchy?

REPLY

Possibly, but muscle irritability and cramps (tetany) are the most common aftermath of too little calcium in the blood.

INVITATION FOR PROPOSAL

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the Marin Municipal Water District, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera, California, until January 14, 1970, and will be opened at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the District for the installation of approximately 8,090 feet of various sized pipe, fittings, valves and appurtenances, fire hydrants and service connections. The work to be done lies in various City Streets and County Roads, all located within the boundaries of the Marin Municipal Water District in the County of Marin, California.

The 8,090 feet of pipe set forth above does not constitute a single job, but is distributed over twelve jobs that are located in various areas of Marin County. It is the intention of the Marin Municipal Water District to enter into a contract for performing work for the District throughout the next six month period. During the length of the contract, the Contractor shall be prepared to accept assignments of work as directed by the District.

All pipeline materials and appurtenances, with the exceptions noted in the specifications, will be furnished by the Marin Municipal Water District. The Contractor shall furnish all necessary and required labor and equipment and other materials not furnished by the District.

The general prevailing rate of wages in the locality in which the work is to be performed has been ascertained by the Board of the District, under the provisions of Section 1773 of the California Labor Code, and is published and on file at the Marin County Public Works Department.

Sundays and holidays shall not be less than one and one-half (1½) times the published rates. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification or type of workman employed on the project.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Proposals will be considered for the complete job only. The proposal must be submitted on the form provided and must be accompanied by a Certified Check, Cash, Post Office Money Order or Bid Bond as a guarantee that the bidder will, if successful, promptly execute a satisfactory contract and furnish bonds as required by these specifications. The Certified Check, Cash, Post Office Money Order or Bid Bond shall be not less than ten (10) percent of the total amount of the bid and shall be made payable to the Treasurer of the Marin Municipal Water District.

The $25.00 deposit required for each set of specifications will be refunded when specifications are returned to the District. It is requested that those Contractors wishing a Water District representative to accompany them on their first visit to the sites of the work, notify the District sufficiently in advance so that necessary arrangements may be made.

Progress Payments will be made.

Conductor Karl Kritz Of Syracuse Symphony Dies

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Karl Kritz, one-time conductor for the Metropolitan Opera Co. in New York City and also conductor of several other musical groups, died today. He was 63.

Kritz suffered a heart seizure last Thursday night while conducting this city's symphony orchestra, his most recent post. He rested during intermission, resumed conducting for the rest of the program, then was taken to Crouse Irving Memorial Hospital.

He had led the Syracuse orchestra since its inception in 1961.

In New York, he was on the conducting staff of the Metropolitan Opera Co. for five years.

Kritz subsequently was chosen head of the Fort Worth, (Tex.) Civic Opera Association. While in Texas, he also became associated with the San Francisco Opera Co., an association that lasted 20 years.

Reagan Studies Return Of Seal To Connecticut

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan plans to decide by Christmas whether Bobby Seale will be returned to Connecticut to face charges of kidnapping and murder in the grudge slaying of another Black Panther.

Seale's attorney admitted he is "not very hopeful" the Republican governor will side with the militant Negro. So he intends to ask the courts to block Seale's extradition to Connecticut.

The attorney, Charles Garry of San Francisco, contended at a hearing in Reagan's office yesterday that Connecticut's extradition attempt is "spurious" and "false" because Seale was not in the state when the crime was committed.

South Dakota has 742 postoffices.

Pool System For Housing Presented

By FRANK FARRARA

A proposal to put all applications for housing — senior citizen, low cost and leased in a central pool — was presented last night to Marin City Housing Authority directors.

Under the present system, there are separate application lists, one for public housing in Marin City, another for leased housing and a third for senior citizen centers.

Under the proposed system, all housing applicants would be listed in order and when a vacancy occurred it would be offered to the top name on the list, no matter where the housing was.

Thus, an applicant from the Novato area might be offered a low-cost apartment in Marin City and an applicant from Marin City offered leased housing elsewhere in Marin.

Idealistically, it has the potential for increasing integregation in Marin, but applicants would have the right to turn down the offer at the penalty of being moved to the bottom of the list.

The proposal got a cautious reception from directors, who foresaw complications and stumbling blocks, particularly city residency requirements for leased housing.

The central pool idea reportedly developed from a feeling of low cost housing tenants in Marin City that they weren't being chosen for leased housing.

Wallace K. Shepherd, administrative assistant, reporting on a list of tenant proposals, said central pooling would provide applicants with more opportunity for mobility in housing.

Chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. felt there should be a strong mandate before any changes were made, and he pointed out that any changes within cities would require approval of city councils.

Cities have residency requirements for tenants under leased housing programs, which exclude Marin City residents from moving in.

Directors were prepared for a full-blown public hearing on a series of tenant proposals, including revisions in the rent including revisions in the rent schedule, but only a handful of residents showed up.

With an audience that varied from four to five, and with two directors, Arthur Miller and James O. Quiett absent, the board postponed action on major proposals until after another hearing at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 6 at the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Directors then zeroed in on the central pooling proposal which would have widespread implications for applicants.

Shepherd explained that if an applicant from San Rafael for housing were at the top of the list and a vacancy occurred in Marin City, he would be offered that unit. "If he turned it down he would go to the bottom of the list for leased housing."

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director, said central pooling would give an applicant a chance to occupy "any unit wherever," but there would be objection "to people being forced to move someplace they didn't want to move."

Melvin Randolph, Marin City housing manager, opposed the central pooling idea saying his smaller list of applicants for Marin City housing would get lost in the shuffle with the larger list of applicants for leased housing.

"I got 50 waiting and this is the only place they can get in, and if you put them in a shuffle, it lessens their chances of getting into a project," Randolph said.

He suggested that the authority work toward seeing that "all applicants are given equal opportunity to live in any of our projects and leave it there."

Senior citizens in Marin City have been told of the opportunty to move to senior citizen housing, "but some are not too anxious," he reported. "At least they know they have the opportunity to move."

Ehrlich questioned whether it would be "sound public policy" to force the central pooling plan, and directors referred it back to Shepherd for further study and a report back to the board Jan. 6.

In response to a comment from a resident that Marin City residents were getting a "runaround" in the leased housing program, Stutsman said there were few leased housing units available, a long waiting list and dim prospects for more leased housing.

On rent revision, Shepherd reported the proposed new schedule is:

One bedroom, $56 a month; two bedroom, $62 a month, and three, four and five-bedroom apartments, $68 a month.

There also is a provision for a minimum rent of $50 a month for those on fixed income, (older people on social security and pensions) whose income is less than $2,412 a year). If their income increased beyond $2,412, the rent would be raised to the flat schedule.

The special provision for the senior residents was drawn up after the initial hearing last month when there were protests that proposed rent increases would hit those on fixed income the hardest.

The present rent schedule is based on a proportion of income, averaging $57 and carrying a $40 minimum. There also is a welfare rent schedule in the present plan.

Under the proposed plan the rents are set by apartment size.

Directors, following staff recommendation, gave conditional approval to seven proposals regarding regulations governing applications and eligibility for low-cost housing and rejected eight.

They gave conditional approval by a 2-0 vote with Norman Campbell abstaining, and noted that since there wasn't wide public attendance they would withhold final approval until after the Jan. 6 hearing.

Gallinas Canal Silting Eyed

A survey to determine how much silt has collected in the Gallinas Canal since it was dredged three years ago was requested last night by the Santa Venetia County Service Area Advisory Board.

The board will ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors to contract for the study to show if more dredging is needed .

The problem of abandoned and sunken boats on the canal was also discussed at the meeting. The board agreed to notify owners first and, if no action is taken, request that county supervisors abate the nuisance.

Panama's Boss Faces A Problem

PANAMA (AP) — Brig. Gen. Omar Torrijos, firmly in control of Panama again after crushing a 24-hour palace revolt, may be faced with diplomatic repercussions if he ousts the two-man government junta which went along with the rebels.

Torrijos announced last night that Col. Ramiro Silvera and Col. Amada Sanjur, the two subordinates who tried Monday to remove him from command of the Panama National Guard, would be tried for subversion.

But the junta, although only a figurehead, officially heads Panama's government. If Torrijos changes the lineup, some foreign countries might find this grounds for withdrawing diplomatic recognition.

The two members of the junta, Col. Jose Pinilla and Col. Bolivar Urrutia, were under house arrest at the presidential palace.

TV REVIEW

Bridges Is A Busy Man: Two Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — There was an inadvertant Lloyd Bridges festival on network television last night.

Bridges, a busy free lance actor, starred in ABC's "Movie of the Week," playing an unshaven, white-haired gunfighter. A half hour after that 90-minute show started, he appeared as a solitary, anxious contemporary man in NBC's "World Premiere" feature, "Silent Night, Lonely Night."

Bridges was in better company and certainly possessed of a better script in the second show, which has to count as adult drama. It had some explicit situations and some explicit talk of a kind rarely seen in made-for-TV programs.

He played a husband summoned to a small New England town just before Christmas because there was a change in the condition of his wife, a patient for five years in a mental institution. There he meets an attractive young matron—Shirley Jones—also alone and unhappy over the holiday. Her son, attending a boys' school nearby, is in the infirmary and she has just received a letter from her husband in London, confessing an infidelity.

The relationship of the two developed against a winter background—exteriors were shot in Amherst—that sometimes looked like mobile Christmas cards. At first it was a most restrained acquaintance, and then as they revealed more and more of their inner selves they inevitably came together briefly.

Generally, however, it was an intelligent script with a point of view with which one might or might not agree. Bridges was excellent and Shirley Jones handled her role of a hurt, rejected woman effectively.

Raymond Burr and Betty White will team up for the second year in a row to narrate NBC's coverage of the New Year's Day Rose Parade. CBS, in the absence of Bess Myerson from show business, will turn the commenting over to June Lockart—who also took Bess' place in the "Miss America" finals—and Bob Barker.

Sweden Grants 10 More Asylum

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Sweden granted asylum today to 10 American soldiers and draft dodgers.

The Swedish Immigration Board said they could stay in Sweden as long as they want but will not be considered political refugees. The board did not list ranks or say which were servicemen and which were draft dodgers.

So far 337 American have been granted asylum in Sweden since early 1968.

Conductor Karl Kritz Of Syracuse Symphony Dies

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Karl Kritz, one-time conductor for the Metropolitan Opera Co. in New York City and also conductor of several other musical groups, died today. He was 63.

Kritz suffered a heart seizure last Thursday night while conducting this city's symphony orchestra, his most recent post. He rested during intermission, resumed conducting for the rest of the program, then was taken to Crouse Irving Memorial Hospital.

He had led the Syracuse orchestra since its inception in 1961.

In New York, he was on the conducting staff of the Metropolitan Opera Co. for five years.

Kritz subsequently was chosen head of the Fort Worth, (Tex.) Civic Opera Association. While in Texas, he also became associated with the San Francisco Opera Co., an association that lasted 20 years.

Reagan Studies Return Of Seal To Connecticut

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan plans to decide by Christmas whether Bobby Seale will be returned to Connecticut to face charges of kidnapping and murder in the grudge slaying of another Black Panther.

Seale's attorney admitted he is "not very hopeful" the Republican governor will side with the militant Negro. So he intends to ask the courts to block Seale's extradition to Connecticut.

The attorney, Charles Garry of San Francisco, contended at a hearing in Reagan's office yesterday that Connecticut's extradition attempt is "spurious" and "false" because Seale was not in the state when the crime was committed.

South Dakota has 742 postoffices.

Two Welfare Families Toil To Help Others' Christmas

EL CAJON (AP)—Two housewives who aren't exactly affluent themselves have teamed up with the Marine Corps to make Christmas brighter for about 500 underprivileged girls.

They restore dolls that otherwise would go to the dump.

Mrs. Kenneth Stephanus and her sister Mrs. Earl Brown Jr., who lives across the street, read last month about the Marine Corps Reserve's annual "Toys for Tots" campaign, a national effort to collect Christmas toys for less-fortunate children. They called M. Sgt. Don Gibbons at the 4th Tank Battalion.

"Every year," Gibbons said, "we receive thousands of dolls, some in real bad shape, Most of them have to be thrown away. So when these women called, we had nothing to lose.

"We sent them about 150 dolls, real raggedy, mostly without clothes. A couple of days later they called again, asking for more dolls. We put about 500 on a truck and took them out to El Cajon."

That's when Gibbons discovered what was going on in the Stephanus' garage. "We found a doll factory," he said.

Soiled dolls are scrubbed clean in the kitchen sink and clothes are sewed for the dolls. Earl Brown Sr., who is retired, rewires the heads, arms and legs of dolls that arrive in pieces.

Mrs. Stephanus touches up the dolls with paint and styles the hair. She said Monday that at least 500 will be spruced up in time for Christmas and picked up by the Marine Reserves for distribution to needy families.

Mrs. Stephanus knows what it's like for children to have a toyless Christmas.

"Two years ago," she said, "we had only $10. We had no Christmas presents, but we did go out and have a beautiful Christmas dinner."

She and her husband have two teen-age children. He has had open heart surgery and may need another operation.

"He can't work," she said. "I'll be blunt because we're not ashamed. We're on welfare."

Mrs. Brown has five children and lives across the street. Her husband has a disabling back injury and cannot work. They are on welfare, too.

The women's doll factory won't be shutting down after Christmas.

"We'll continue fixing dolls for orphanages and poor children who have birthdays during the year," Mrs. Stephanus said. "And we'll get a good start for next year's 'Toys for Tots' drive."

Marinite Named To New Maritime Agency Post

A San Rafael man will become Western Region director for the Maritime Administration next month as part of the administration's reorganization from coast districts to a regional area arrangement, the United States Department of Commerce announced yesterday.

Thomas J. Patterson Jr. of 8 Fairwood Court, San Rafael, assistant director for operations in the Pacific Coast District, will assume the Western Region directorship Jan. 1, a department spokesman said.

An Eastern and Central district will also be established at the same date.

Included in Patterson's district will be North and South Dakota and all states west of the central region including Alaska and Hawaii.

Clyde L. Miller of 180 Bayview Drive, San Rafael, Pacific Coast Director since 1968 declined accepting the regional directorship, according to the department spokesman, because of plans to retire within a few years.

Theft Suspect In Bound Over

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

SANTA ROSA — Bruce D. Allen, 23, of Petaluma, was bound over to Sonoma County Superior Court Monday after pleading innocent to grand theft in Central Sonoma Municipal Court.

Allen waived a preliminary hearing and was set to appear in superior court on Dec. 29 at 9 a.m.

Allen was arrested Nov. 28 on a complaint filed by the J. C. Penney Co. at the Coddingtown Shopping Center charging that he had taken $300 from a cash register. Allen was employed by the store at the time of the alleged theft.

Taxpayers Ask State Role In Welfare, Junior College

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California Taxpayers Association has proposed that the state take over all local costs of welfare and junior colleges as a means of reducing property taxes.

The plan was recommended to the legislature's tax writing committees at a hearing called to hear suggestions on putting together a consensus tax reform package at the 1970 session of the legislature.

Robert C. Brown, executive vice president of the association, said the state should assume "fu dw8v,ILITY" FOR assume "full responsibility" for financing welfare at the local level.

He said it offered "far greater potential for generating long overdue reforms in welfare programs than the proposal to retain the present chaotic structure of 58 welfare departments at 90 per cent state financing."

Such a plan is proposed in initiative form for the ballot by the California Teachers Association and the County Supervisors Association.

Brown in prepared testimony told the committee that removal of the junior colleges from the local property tax rolls "would provide immediate and permanent" tax reduction.

The association, representing mostly California businessmen, previously has called for state financing of the junior college system.

Brown said the proposal would "encourage economy as policies could force students to enroll where the best education could be provided for the least taxpayer investment."

Attempts Fail To Revive Infant

A seven-week-old San Anselmo boy was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital yesterday, despite efforts to revive him by San Anselmo firemen and ambulance attendants.

Conor Patrick McManus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence J. McManus of 1328 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, was rushed to the hospital after he stopped breathing this morning while in his crib.

An autopsy will be performed.

TV REVIEW

Bridges Is A Busy Man: Two Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — There was an inadvertant Lloyd Bridges festival on network television last night.

Bridges, a busy free lance actor, starred in ABC's "Movie of the Week," playing an unshaven, white-haired gunfighter. A half hour after that 90-minute show started, he appeared as a solitary, anxious contemporary man in NBC's "World Premiere" feature, "Silent Night, Lonely Night."

Bridges was in better company and certainly possessed of a better script in the second show, which has to count as adult drama. It had some explicit situations and some explicit talk of a kind rarely seen in made-for-TV programs.

He played a husband summoned to a small New England town just before Christmas because there was a change in the condition of his wife, a patient for five years in a mental institution. There he meets an attractive young matron—Shirley Jones—also alone and unhappy over the holiday. Her son, attending a boys' school nearby, is in the infirmary and she has just received a letter from her husband in London, confessing an infidelity.

The relationship of the two developed against a winter background—exteriors were shot in Amherst—that sometimes looked like mobile Christmas cards. At first it was a most restrained acquaintance, and then as they revealed more and more of their inner selves they inevitably came together briefly.

Generally, however, it was an intelligent script with a point of view with which one might or might not agree. Bridges was excellent and Shirley Jones handled her role of a hurt, rejected woman effectively.

Raymond Burr and Betty White will team up for the second year in a row to narrate NBC's coverage of the New Year's Day Rose Parade. CBS, in the absence of Bess Myerson from show business, will turn the commenting over to June Lockart—who also took Bess' place in the "Miss America" finals—and Bob Barker.

Sweden Grants 10 More Asylum

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Sweden granted asylum today to 10 American soldiers and draft dodgers.

The Swedish Immigration Board said they could stay in Sweden as long as they want but will not be considered political refugees. The board did not list ranks or say which were servicemen and which were draft dodgers.

So far 337 American have been granted asylum in Sweden since early 1968.

Panama's Boss Faces A Problem

PANAMA (AP) — Brig. Gen. Omar Torrijos, firmly in control of Panama again after crushing a 24-hour palace revolt, may be faced with diplomatic repercussions if he ousts the two-man government junta which went along with the rebels.

Torrijos announced last night that Col. Ramiro Silvera and Col. Amada Sanjur, the two subordinates who tried Monday to remove him from command of the Panama National Guard, would be tried for subversion.

But the junta, although only a figurehead, officially heads Panama's government. If Torrijos changes the lineup, some foreign countries might find this grounds for withdrawing diplomatic recognition.

The two members of the junta, Col. Jose Pinilla and Col. Bolivar Urrutia, were under house arrest at the presidential palace.

Two Welfare Families Toil To Help Others' Christmas

EL CAJON (AP)—Two housewives who aren't exactly affluent themselves have teamed up with the Marine Corps to make Christmas brighter for about 500 underprivileged girls.

They restore dolls that otherwise would go to the dump.

Mrs. Kenneth Stephanus and her sister Mrs. Earl Brown Jr., who lives across the street, read last month about the Marine Corps Reserve's annual "Toys for Tots" campaign, a national effort to collect Christmas toys for less-fortunate children. They called M. Sgt. Don Gibbons at the 4th Tank Battalion.

"Every year," Gibbons said, "we receive thousands of dolls, some in real bad shape. Most of them have to be thrown away. So when these women called, we had nothing to lose.

"We sent them about 150 dolls, real raggedy, mostly without clothes. A couple of days later they called again, asking for more dolls. We put about 500 on a truck and took them out to El Cajon."

That's when Gibbons discovered what was going on in the Stephanus' garage. "We found a doll factory," he said.

Soiled dolls are scrubbed clean in the kitchen sink and clothes are sewed for the dolls. Earl Brown Sr., who is retired, rewires the heads, arms and legs of dolls that arrive in pieces.

Mrs. Stephanus touches up the dolls with paint and styles the hair. She said Monday that at least 500 will be spruced up in time for Christmas and picked up by the Marine Reserves for distribution to needy families.

Mrs. Stephanus knows what it's like for children to have a toyless Christmas.

"Two years ago," she said, "we had only $10. We had no Christmas presents, but we did go out and have a beautiful Christmas dinner."

She and her husband have two teen-age children. He has had open heart surgery and may need another operation.

"He can't work," she said. "I'll be blunt because we're not ashamed. We're on welfare."

Mrs. Brown has five children and lives across the street. Her husband has a disabling back injury and cannot work. They are on welfare, too.

The women's doll factory won't be shutting down after Christmas.

"We'll continue fixing dolls for orphanages and poor children who have birthdays during the year," Mrs. Stephanus said. "And we'll get a good start for next year's 'Toys for Tots' drive."

Marinite Named To New Maritime Agency Post

A San Rafael man will become Western Region director for the Maritime Administration next month as part of the administration's reorganization from coast districts to a regional area arrangement, the United States Department of Commerce announced yesterday.

Thomas J. Patterson Jr. of 8 Fairwood Court, San Rafael, assistant director for operations in the Pacific Coast District, will assume the Western Region directorship Jan. 1, a department spokesman said.

An Eastern and Central district will also be established at the same date.

Included in Patterson's district will be North and South Dakota and all states west of the central region including Alaska and Hawaii.

Clyde L. Miller of 180 Bayview Drive, San Rafael, Pacific Coast Director since 1968 declined accepting the regional directorship, according to the department spokesman, because of plans to retire within a few years.

Taxpayers Ask State Role In Welfare, Junior College

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California Taxpayers Association has proposed that the state take over all local costs of welfare and junior colleges as a means of reducing property taxes.

The plan was recommended to the legislature's tax writing committees at a hearing called to hear suggestions on putting together a consensus tax reform package at the 1970 session of the legislature.

Robert C. Brown, executive vice president of the association, said the state should assume "fu dw8v.ILITY" FOR assume "full responsibility" for financing welfare at the local level.

He said it offered "far greater potential for generating long overdue reforms in welfare programs than the proposal to retain the present chaotic structure of 58 welfare departments at 90 per cent state financing."

Such a plan is proposed in initiative form for the ballot by the California Teachers Association and the County Supervisors Association.

Brown in prepared testimony told the committee that removal of the junior colleges from the local property tax rolls "would provide immediate and permanent" tax reduction.

The association, representing mostly California businessmen, previously has called for state financing of the junior college system.

Brown said the proposal would "encourage economy as policies could force students to enroll where the best education could be provided for the least taxpayer investment."

Attempts Fail To Revive Infant

A seven-week-old San Anselmo boy was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital yesterday, despite efforts to revive him by San Anselmo firemen and ambulance attendants.

Conor Patrick McManus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence J. McManus of 1328 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, was rushed to the hospital after he stopped breathing this morning while in his crib.

An autopsy will be performed.

JIM GILMARTIN

It's A Bird-Brained Assignment, I Say

One of those dirtybird editors from the news department ruffled my feathers the other day by suggesting I publish a pigeon racing story in the sports department.

He's always trying to palm off things of that nature on me. Cat shows, chess tournaments, domino contests, bridge. Anything that has a winner and loser is a sport, according to him.

But, we steadfastly stick to our department motto: "If It Doesn't Sweat, It Ain't Sports." Compliments of Right Guard.

I somehow find it quite difficult to associate pigeon racing with the jocks of the sports pages — like John Brodie-bird, Willie Covey, Chirp Feeney and Vince Lombirdie. Parnelli wanna quacker?

"Hi, Bird Brain, I'm Jimmypoo Gullmockingbird of the San Rafael Eagle. How's the varsity shaping up?"

Game Against Vultures

"Pretty good. Getting ready for our race against the Vultures next Sunday. That's the big game."

"Uh. Tell us a little about your pigeon development program."

"Well, we start training 'em when they're 28 days old and really work their tails off. You know, a lot of exercises in the loft. Things like the deep knee bend, pushups, weight lifting, duck walk. But the most important phase of our training camp is teaching them to return to the loft after we liberate them. Hell, I've lost whole teams trying to take shortcuts through the Pacific Flyway. Got an epidemic of lead poisoning. Then we've had skyjackers who've defected to Capistrano and, of course, there are always a few dumb birds who somehow manage to get caught in holding patterns. Those holding penalties will kill you."

"Where do you get your material?"

"Well, most of our squad comes from Belgium where pigeon racing originated in 1818. Also, we pick up a few eggheads from the Ivy League and last week we recruited a hot prospect from Japan. He's majoring in pigeon English."

No Pit Stops, Either

"How far can these birds fly?"

"Well, they've been known to travel thousands of miles as combat messengers in wartime, but our races usually are 500 or 600 miles. That's non-stop. No pit stops."

"How does a pigeon feel after such an ordeal?"

"Pigeon pooped. That's FLIGHT, Lon."

"What makes a good racing pigeon?"

"Well, our bird dogs look for long wings and powerful flight muscles. We recruited our leading scorer from the Signal Corps because he had experience in the messenger service. He's our only letterman."

"What are your training rules?"

"We're pretty strict. I mean, after all, we can't let these birds run around at nights and have a wing-ding with some young pigeons and expect to maintain our image — pride and poise. We're a dynamic organization, not a bunch of fly-by-nighters."

"Any injury problems?"

Out With A Busted Beak

"Oh, a few things like pellet and hail bruises. And, in our last game we lost our most valuable pigeon with a busted beak. Our trainer was busy changing papers in the loft and forgot to open the window. Boy, was that a pane killer, son."

"Do you make any inter-league trades?"

"Sure, last season we gave St. Louis a pair of real fliers for one Cardinal. Figured a bird in hand is worth two in Busch. Ha-ha, get it, son?"

"Got any hot prospects in the farm system for next season?"

"Well, we don't look too far ahead. We lay 'em one at a time."

"I see that you're undefeated this season. Can anyone beat you?"

"Nope. We got a bunch of pigeons on our schedule."

"Would you care to devulge your game plans for the big game?"

"Well, we're going to stick to the air. Our ground game is awful. Most of our guys are pigeon-toed, you know."

Key Man In Our Plans

"Our pigeon-shooer. You know, he's the guy who takes 'em to the starting line and says, 'Pigeon shoo! Go home! Vamoose. Scat!"

"Do you only have a varsity squad?"

"No, we compete in two divisions — classified as young and old. Boy, is THAT a problem. I mean, trying to keep those old birds from chasing the young pigeons."

"How are you going to bet on the big game?"

"Never bet, son. What do you think I am, some kind of a pigeon?"

"How do you determine the winners in your races?"

"Well, we band the birds with rubber countermarks at the start of each race. Then, when they arrive home, the bands are placed in a pigeon timer that indicates the time of arrival. The distance is divided by the time consumed to determine the winner. Time flies, you know.

"Which reminds me, I've got to run along now. Don't wanna be late for the opening tickoff.

"Oh, show me the way to go home,
"I'm tired and I doo-be-doo-be-doo . . ."

Marin Cagers Win Fourth Straight

DANCE WITH ME, JOE — Seattle's Tom Meschery, a former San Francisco Warrior, hooks up with the Warriors' Joe Ellis in what looks like a dreamy two-step as they grapple for the ball while Jeff Mullins (23) of the Warriors and Seattle's Bob Boozer look on. (UPI Telephoto)

Tars To Host Napa Tonight In Kentfield

The Tars, now 5-3 on the season, play their fifth game in seven days when they host Napa tonight at 8 o' clock. The College of Marin frosh squad will meet the San Francisco City College frosh in a preliminary at 6 p.m.

Last night's win turned out to be something of a waiting game as the Tars spent much of the first half playing catch in a slow-down tactic designed to bring Ohlone out of its zone defense.

With the slow tempo of the game, the Tars didn't shoot much, but they shot well, finishing with a 58 per cent showing.

Lee Strong Man As Warriors Win

The 6-10 Lee, playing his most aggressive game of the season, collared 22 rebounds and added 16 points to help his mates square their record at 15-15 in a 125-119 win over the Seattle Supersonics at Civic Auditorium.

COOL SHOOTING

Thurmond, currently the leading rebounder in the NBA, plucked 19 off the boards but had a cool shooting night with 12 points.

However, Jeff Mullins, Joe Ellis and Lee picked up the slack to boost the Warriors past Chicago into second place in the Western Division, 4 1-2 games behind leader Atlanta. Mullins, one of the top scorers in the league, notched 31 points, including 13 in the final quarter, to pace the winners.

Ellis and guard Fritz Williams each tallied 24 points and Ellis snared 16 rebounds to help give San Francisco a 68-46 edge off the boards.

9-0 SPURT

It was a close game until late in the third period when San Francisco broke away with a 9-0 spurt for an 88-77 lead. The Warriors also scored the first seven points of the fourth quarter to boost their advantage to 95-79 before the Sonics began to close fast behind the outside shooting of center Bob Rule.

Rule scored 14 of his 33 points in the last quarter. Playing against Thurmond, Rule stayed outside the key and hit jump shots. He also led the Sonics with 11 rebounds.

The Warriors play Friday at San Diego before coming home to the Civic Auditorium for a Saturday night date with the Philadelphia 76ers.

Novato Wrestlers Fall To Kennedy

Novato High School's wrestling team was handed only its second loss in 52 dual meets yesterday, suffering its worst defeat, 36-16, to John F. Kennedy High School in Fremont.

The Hornet winners were Allan Brazell at 103 pounds, veteran Paul Roberts with a fall at 138 pounds, Dave Hutton at 95 pounds and Ron Buddy at 191 pounds.

Redwood, San Rafael Quints Get Scare Before Winning

Redwood and San Rafael high schools, the two teams most likely to succeed in the Marin County Athletic League, both took non-league victories yesterday, but not without some harrowing moments.

Redwood just did nick Salesian of Richmond, 69-68, after piling up as much as a 12-point lead early in the fourth quarter, and San Rafael, trailing most of the way, pulled out a 59-53 win over Petaluma High.

In other games, Drake dropped a 55-48 verdict to Balboa of San Francisco and Terra Linda nipped Piner, of Santa Rosa 45-44.

Jerry Piro's 23 points helped the Giants ease past Salesian while Bill Challender helped out with 14 points as Redwood hit on 44 per cent of its shots from the floor.

The big boy — 6-foot-7 Don Duryee — did the job for San Rafael, pumping in 23 points and grabbing 18 rebounds while Bruce Nave whipped in 10 points and top sub Russ Colombo got 11. Ross Goree and Joe Rodola with 15 points each topped Petaluma.

Drake, trailing Balboa by 20 points in the fourth quarter, saw the subs cut the margin to three points before losing. Glenn Pfaff was high with 13 points for the Pirates, who dropped their fourth straight.

Gary Wall pushed in 13 points for Terra Linda, which led by 26-15 at the half and hung on to win.

Shula To Stay In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—The owner of the Baltimore Colts says as far as he is concerned, Don Shula will continue as head coach of the National Football League club.

"When we hired Don Shula back in 1963, we told him we hoped it would be the last job he ever had to take," owner Carroll Rosenbloom told reporters yesterday. "As far as I'm concerned, the situation remains the same."

Shula, whose charges are 7-5-1 this NFL season, is under a perpetual five-year contract to the Colts. Talk has been circulating in Green Bay that Shula might replace Phil Bengtson as coach of the Packers, who have a 7-6 mark.

Raiders' Ace Punter Eischeid Wins Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Eischeid made his last point for the Oakland Raiders three years ago, but his contributions to the Raiders' 1969 titie drive have been anything but pointless.

Eischeid, whose booming punts helped the Raiders stymie Kansas City 10-6 in last Saturday's showdown for the regular season Western Division crown, was selected by The Associated Press today as the American Football League's Defensive Player of the Week.

'BIG FACTOR'

"In a game when two great teams are playing, kicking usually has something to do with it," said Chiefs' Coach Hank Stram in trying to explain the low-scoring summit struggle. "Eischeid was a big factor keeping up backed up in the third quarter."

George Blanda, who replaced Eischeid as the Oakland place-kicking specialist in 1967, provided three big points with his 20th field goal of the season. But it was Eischeid, averaging just under 50 yards on five punts, who gave the Raiders advantageous field position from the start and who set up the one, deciding touchdown.

51-YARDER

With the Raiders leading 3-0 late in the third quarter, the fourth-year pro from little Upper Iowa College got off a 51-yard boot that was downed on the Kansas City four-yard line. The Oakland defense held and the Chiefs' Jerrel Wilson punted from the end zone and Rod Sherman returned the kick to the Kansas City 34. Daryle Lamonica then took the Raiders in to score, flipping to Charlie Smith for the last eight yards.

Eischeid, who joined the Raiders as a free agent in 1966 and led the club in scoring as a rookie, gave way to the ageless Blanda the following year and has concentrated on punting ever since. His kicks of 42, 56, 49, 50 and 51 yards against Kansas City brought his season average to 42.7, fifth best in the league.

Six Marin Skaters In Finals

Juli, who got first place awardings from all five judges, qualified for the Pacific Coast figure skating finals Jan. 8-9-10 in Berkeley.

The regional competition ended yesterday.

Craig won in novice men and teamed with 11-year-old sister Lisa to place third in novice pairs. Pam McMurry, 13, of Ross, was third in novice ladies, and brother-sister Suzanne and J. R. LaNoue were third in bronze dance.

Alan Schram won first place in pre-juvenile boys, but the 10-year-old Greenbrae boy's division doesn't advance to the finals.

Raiders Again Lead In Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Oakland's Western Division champions paced the American Football League in offensive yardage for the second year in succession and Kansas City again captured defensive honors, according to final statistics released yesterday by the AFL office.

The Raiders, whose 12-1-1 record was the best in the league averaged 360 yards per game of offense, including a league-leading 234 via passing. Kansas City retained the rushing title with a per-game average of 159 yards while San Diego was second over-all with 330 air-ground yards per-start.

Kansas City, which finished in the West, yielded the fewest rushing yards, 78, and passing yards, 148, per-game and allowed a league low of 177 points — seven more than its 1968 AFL mark.

Chargers' Dick Post Wins Rushing Honors

Alworth repeated as the top pass-catcher by grabbing seven against the Bills to beat out Oakland's Fred Biletnikoff 6'-54 for the season. The San Diego flash went over the 1,000-yard mark for the seventh successive season and set a pro record of one or more receptions in 96 straight games.

Turner registered 129 points on 32 field goals and 33 extra point kicks for a 10-point edge over Jan Stenerud of Kansas City. The Jet kicker won with 145 points a year ago.

Cook, first rookie passer to lead the league, nipped New York's Joe Namath and Oakland's Daryle Lamonica in the aerial ratings, based on average gain per pass play, percentage of completions, touchdown passes and interception percentage.

Umpires Score Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has served notice it will be calling the balls and strikes on labor-management disputes between 24 baseball umpires and the American League.

The NLRB, by a 4-1 vote, yesterday ordered a representation election among the umpires to be held within 30 days, thus opening up professional baseball to its jurisdiction for the first time.

"This is the first baseball case taken by the board," it said in an announcement.

The decision clears the way for board jurisdiction in other processes, including unfair labor practice charges filed in behalf of two umpires who said they were fired for support of union organizing.

The election, to be supervised by the board's Boston regional office, was requested by the National Association of Baseball Umpires. The association has filed unfair labor practice charges in behalf of umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine.

The board rejected the league's argument that umpires are supervisors and thus not eligible for union organization under the National Labor Relations act.

Mel Renfro Becomes Best Thief In NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Mel Renfro, key man in a shift in Dallas' defensive secondary, picked off two passes in the Cowboys' victory over Baltimore and vaulted into the National Football League's lead in interceptions.

Coach Tom Landry, concerned that the Cowboys had allowed 22 touchdown passes in their first 12 games, decided to work Renfro for one half at corner back and one half at his regular free safety spot against Baltimore, last Saturday with rookie Otto Brown also working a half at each position.

It paid off as the Cowboys scored their first regular season victory over the Colts. Renfro's two interceptions gave him a total of nine, according to league statistics released yesterday, and matched the club record.

JIM GILMARTIN

It's A Bird-Brained Assignment, I Say

One of those dirtybird editors from the news department ruffled my feathers the other day by suggesting I publish a pigeon racing story in the sports department.

He's always trying to palm off things of that nature on me. Cat shows, chess tournaments, domino contests, bridge. Anything that has a winner and loser is a sport, according to him.

But, we steadfastly stick to our department motto: "If It Doesn't Sweat, It Ain't Sports." Compliments of Right Guard.

I somehow find it quite difficult to associate pigeon racing with the jocks of the sports pages — like John Brodie-bird, Willie Covey, Chirp Feeney and Vince Lombirdie. Parnelli wanna quacker?

"Hi, Bird Brain, I'm Jimmypoo Gullmockingbird of the San Rafael Eagle. How's the varsity shaping up?"

Game Against Vultures

"Uh. Tell us a little about your pigeon development program."

"Well, we start training 'em when they're 28 days old and really work their tails off. You know, a lot of exercises in the loft. Things like the deep knee bend, pushups, weight lifting, duck walk. But the most important phase of our training camp is teaching them to return to the loft after we liberate them. Hell, I've lost whole teams trying to take shortcuts through the Pacific Flyway. Got an epidemic of lead poisoning. Then we've had skyjackers who've defected to Capistrano and, of course, there are always a few dumb birds who somehow manage to get caught in holding patterns. Those holding penalties will kill you."

"Where do you get your material?"

"Well, most of our squad comes from Belgium where pigeon racing originated in 1818. Also, we pick up a few eggheads from the Ivy League and last week we recruited a hot prospect from Japan. He's majoring in pigeon English."

No Pit Stops, Either

"How far can these birds fly?"

"Well, they've been known to travel thousands of miles as combat messengers in wartime, but our races usually are 500 or 600 miles. That's non-stop. No pit stops."

"How does a pigeon feel after such an ordeal?"

"Pigeon pooped. That's FLIGHT, Lon."

"What makes a good racing pigeon?"

"Well, our bird dogs look for long wings and powerful flight muscles. We recruited our leading scorer from the Signal Corps because he had experience in the messenger service. He's our only letterman."

"What are your training rules?"

"We're pretty strict. I mean, after all, we can't let these birds run around at nights and have a wing-ding with some young pigeons and expect to maintain our image — pride and poise. We're a dynamic organization, not a bunch of fly-by-nighters."

"Any injury problems?"

Out With A Busted Beak

"Oh, a few things like pellet and hail bruises. And, in our last game we lost our most valuable pigeon with a busted beak. Our trainer was busy changing papers in the loft and forgot to open the window. Boy, was that a pane killer, son."

"Do you make any inter-league trades?"

"Sure, last season we gave St. Louis a pair of real fliers for one Cardinal. Figured a bird in hand is worth two in Busch. Ha-ha, get it, son?"

"Got any hot prospects in the farm system for next season?"

"Well, we don't look too far ahead. We lay 'em one at a time."

"I see that you're undefeated this season. Can anyone beat you?"

"Nope. We got a bunch of pigeons on our schedule."

"Would you care to devulge your game plans for the big game?"

"Well, we're going to stick to the air. Our ground game is awful. Most of our guys are pigeon-toed, you know."

Key Man In Our Plans

"Our pigeon-shooer. You know, he's the guy who takes 'em to the starting line and says, 'Pigeon shoo! Go home! Vamoose. Scat!"

"Do you only have a varsity squad?"

"No, we compete in two divisions — classified as young and old. Boy, is THAT a problem. I mean, trying to keep those old birds from chasing the young pigeons."

"How are you going to bet on the big game?"

"Never bet, son. What do you think I am, some kind of a pigeon?"

"How do you determine the winners in your races?"

"Well, we band the birds with rubber countermarks at the start of each race. Then, when they arrive home, the bands are placed in a pigeon timer that indicates the time of arrival. The distance is divided by the time consumed to determine the winner. Time flies, you know.

"Which reminds me, I've got to run along now. Don't wanna be late for the opening tickoff.

"Oh, show me the way to go home,

"I'm tired and I doo-be-doo-be-doo . . ."

Marin Cagers Win Fourth Straight

Tars To Host Napa Tonight In Kentfield

College of Marin's streaking basketball team knocked off a good Ohlone Junior College team, 62-50, last night in Fremont, for its fourth straight win.

The Tars, now 5-3 on the season, play their fifth game in seven days when they host Napa tonight at 8 o' clock. The College of Marin frosh squad will meet the San Francisco City College frosh in a preliminary at 6 p.m.

Last night's win turned out to be something of a waiting game as the Tars spent much of the first half playing catch in a slow-down tactic designed to bring Ohlone out of its zone defense.

With the slow tempo of the game, the Tars didn't shoot much, but they shot well, finishing with a 58 per cent showing.

Lee Strong Man As Warriors Win

The 6-10 Lee, playing his most aggressive game of the season, collared 22 rebounds and added 16 points to help his mates square their record at 15-15 in a 125-119 win over the Seattle Supersonics at Civic Auditorium.

COOL SHOOTING

Thurmond, currently the leading rebounder in the NBA, plucked 19 off the boards but had a cool shooting night with 12 points.

However, Jeff Mullins, Joe Ellis and Lee picked up the slack to boost the Warriors past Chicago into second place in the Western Division, 4 1-2 games behind leader Atlanta. Mullins, one of the top scorers in the league, notched 31 points, including 13 in the final quarter, to pace the winners.

Ellis and guard Fritz Williams each tallied 24 points and Ellis snared 16 rebounds to help give San Francisco a 68-46 edge off the boards.

9-0 SPURT

It was a close game until late in the third period when San Francisco broke away with a 9-0 spurt for an 88-77 lead. The Warriors also scored the first seven points of the fourth quarter to boost their advantage to 95-79 before the Sonics began to close fast behind the outside shooting of center Bob Rule.

Rule scored 14 of his 33 points in the last quarter. Playing against Thurmond, Rule stayed outside the key and hit jump shots. He also led the Sonics with 11 rebounds.

The Warriors play Friday at San Diego before coming home to the Civic Auditorium for a Saturday night date with the Philadelphia 76ers.

Redwood, San Rafael Quints Get Scare Before Winning

Redwood and San Rafael high schools, the two teams most likely to succeed in the Marin County Athletic League, both took non-league victories yesterday, but not without some harrowing moments.

Redwood just did nick Salesian of Richmond, 69-68, after piling up as much as a 12-point lead early in the fourth quarter, and San Rafael, trailing most of the way, pulled out a 59-53 win over Petaluma High.

In other games, Drake dropped a 55-48 verdict to Balboa of San Francisco and Terra Linda nipped Piner, of Santa Rosa 45-44.

Jerry Piro's 23 points helped the Giants ease past Salesian while Bill Challender helped out with 14 points as Redwood hit on 44 per cent of its shots from the floor.

The big boy — 6-foot-7 Don Duryee — did the job for San Rafael, pumping in 23 points and grabbing 18 rebounds while Bruce Nave whipped in 10 points and top sub Russ Colombo got 11. Ross Goree and Joe Rodola with 15 points each topped Petaluma.

Drake, trailing Balboa by 20 points in the fourth quarter, saw the subs cut the margin to three points before losing. Glenn Pfaff was high with 13 points for the Pirates, who dropped their fourth straight.

Gary Wall pushed in 13 points for Terra Linda, which led by 26-15 at the half and hung on to win.

Shula To Stay In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—The owner of the Baltimore Colts says as far as he is concerned, Don Shula will continue as head coach of the National Football League club.

"When we hired Don Shula back in 1963, we told him we hoped it would be the last job he ever had to take," owner Carroll Rosenbloom told reporters yesterday. "As far as I'm concerned, the situation remains the same."

Shula, whose charges are 7-5-1 this NFL season, is under a perpetual five-year contract to the Colts. Talk has been circulating in Green Bay that Shula might replace Phil Bengtson as coach of the Packers, who have a 7-6 mark.

Raiders' Ace Punter Eischeid Wins Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Eischeid made his last point for the Oakland Raiders three years ago, but his contributions to the Raiders' 1969 titie drive have been anything but pointless.

Eischeid, whose booming punts helped the Raiders stymie Kansas City 10-6 in last Saturday's showdown for the regular season Western Division crown, was selected by The Associated Press today as the American Football League's Defensive Player of the Week.

'BIG FACTOR'

"In a game when two great teams are playing, kicking usually has something to do with it," said Chiefs' Coach Hank Stram in trying to explain the low-scoring summit struggle. "Eischeid was a big factor keeping up backed up in the third quarter."

George Blanda, who replaced Eischeid as the Oakland placekicking specialist in 1967, provided three big points with his 20th field goal of the season. But it was Eischeid, averaging just under 50 yards on five punts, who gave the Raiders advantageous field position from the start and who set up the one, deciding touchdown.

51-YARDER

With the Raiders leading 3-0 late in the third quarter, the fourth-year pro from little Upper Iowa College got off a 51-yard boot that was downed on the Kansas City four-yard line. The Oakland defense held and the Chiefs' Jerrel Wilson punted from the end zone and Rod Sherman returned the kick to the Kansas City 34. Daryle Lamonica then took the Raiders in to score, flipping to Charlie Smith for the last eight yards.

Eischeid, who joined the Raiders as a free agent in 1966 and led the club in scoring as a rookie, gave way to the ageless Blanda the following year and has concentrated on punting ever since. His kicks of 42, 56, 49, 50 and 51 yards against Kansas City brought his season average to 42.7, fifth best in the league.

Six Marin Skaters In Finals

Juli, who got first place awardings from all five judges, qualified for the Pacific Coast figure skating finals Jan. 8-9-10 in Berkeley.

The regional competition ended yesterday.

Craig won in novice men and teamed with 11-year-old sister Lisa to place third in novice pairs. Pam McMurry, 13, of Ross, was third in novice ladies, and brother-sister Suzanne and J. R. LaNoue were third in bronze dance.

Alan Schram won first place in pre-juvenile boys, but the 10-year-old Greenbrae boy's division doesn't advance to the finals.

Viking Pair Lead UPI All-Star Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—Carl Eller and Alan Page, the charging Minnesota defensive linemen who have led the Vikings to 12 straight victories, were selected today to the United Press International 1969 National Football League All-Star team.

Eller, the 6-foot-6, 250-pound end chosen for the second straight year, was a near unanimous slection. He received 47 votes from a panel of 48 NFL experts around the nation —three from each league city.

Page, a 6-foot-4, 250-pound tackle, was named to the select unit for the first time. He ousted Dallas veteran Bob Lilly. Lilly ran third in the balloting behind Merlin Olsen of Los Angeles and Page had to settle for a second-team berth.

FIVE STRAIGHT

Minnesota center Mike Tingelhoff and Lilly both had been named for five straight years and Tingelhoff extended his streak to six straight.

Los Angeles led with six players on the team, three each on offense and defense, while Dallas had four players on the first team.

Quarterback Roman Gabriel, winning All-NFL recognition for the first time, led the Ram delegation. Gale Sayers won a running back spot for the fifth straight season while Dallas rookie Calvin Hill, the only rookie named, won the other spot.

Gary Collins of Cleveland and Roy Jefferson of Pittsburgh were named the wide receivers. It was the first time in the career of both that they've won the honor. Jerry Smith of Washington was also named tight end for the first time.

Gene Hickerson of Cleveland was named to a guard spot for the third straight year. Los Angeles' Tom Mack was selected to the other guard spot for the first time. The tackles are Dallas' Ralph Neeley, for the third straight year, and Los Angeles' Bob Brown, back on the team after a two-year absence.

Deacon Jones, selected for the fifth straight year although he was second to Eller in the voting, is the other end. Page, and Olsen, named for the fourth straight year are the tackles.

Dick Butkus of Chicago is the middle linebacker for the third straight year and Dave Robinson of Green Bay is a linebacker for the third straight season. Chuck Howley of Dallas won the other linebacker spot after a two-year absence.

Detroit's Lem Barney, named for the second straight year, and Dallas' Cornell Green, named after a year's absence, are the cornerbacks.

Larry Wilson of St. Louis, chosen for the fourth time since 1963, and Los Angeles' Ed Meador, selected for the second time in the last three years, are the safeties.

SECOND TEAM

The second team offense has Sonny Jurgensen of Washington at quarterback with Leroy Kelly of Cleveland and Tom Woodeshick of Philadelphia at running backs. Gene Washington of Minnesota and Dan Abramowicz of New Orleans are the wide receivers.

Grady Alderman of Minnesota and Bob Vogel of Baltimore are the tackles with John Niland of Dallas and Gale Gillingham of Green Bay at the guards and Bill Curry of Baltimore at center.

The defensive line has Jim Marshall of Minnesota and George Andrie of Dallas at ends with Lilly and Alex Karras of Detroit at the tackles. Mike Lucci of Detroit is the middle linebacker with Chris Hanburger of Washington and Dave Wilcox of San Francisco at the linebackers.

NBA HIGHLIGHTS

Things Finally Looking Up For Celtics

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things are beginning to look up for the Boston Celtics again, and things are beginning to look down for the New York Knicks.

The once powerful Celtics, who ruled the National Basketball Association for so many years, have had their troubles this season in the absence of retired Bill Russell, but last night offered some hope—they moved out of the Eastern Division cellar with a 117-98 victory over Detroit.

On the other hand, the once lowly Knicks, who spent so much time at the bottom of the divison during Boston's hayday years, have become the scrouge of the league, until the last week. The Knicks lost their third straight and fourth game in five outings, dropping a 125-124 overtime decision to Atlanta.

OTHER GAMES

In other games, San Diego overcame a nine-point fourth quarter deficit and beat Chicago 110-101, Philadelphia crushed Phoenix 141-119, and San Francisco turned back Seattle 125-119.

In the American Basketball Association, Los Angeles edged Kentucky 102-101, Washington blasted Carolina 135-114 and Indiana nudged Dallas 108-104.

The Celtics moved a half game ahead of Detroit by rattling off 11 straight points in the last 1½ minutes of the third quarter for a decisive 18-point lead. Boston's Larry Siegfried and Detroit's Terry Dischinger exchanged punches with 2:25 left, but Siegfried finished with 27 points while Jimmy Walker had 28 for the Pistons.

BLEW CHANCES

Walt Hazzard's free throw with 44 seconds left gave Atlanta a decisive 125-122 lead that offset Dick Barnett's final two free throws for the Knicks. New York blew several chances to win, first in regulation time when Dave DeBusschere, who had 27 points, made only one of three free throws for a 113-113 tie with 13 seconds to go, and again when DeBusschere missed a jump shot with four seconds left in overtime and Willis Reed fielded the rebound in the last second.

New York, which had rolled to a 26-2 record and a record 18 straight victories earlier, now stands at 27-6 after Joe Caldwell's 28 points, Hazzard's 27 and Bill Bridges' 26 for the Hawks beat them.

Marin Junior Grid League Makes Room For Pee-Wees

Marin County's Pop Warner football program is expanding to make room for the little fellow, thanks largely to a man who's never even put on a set of pads.

Casalnuovo, under the auspices of his Marin Boy's Club poisition, is pretty much responsible for the planned expansion of Pop Warner which will include a full slate of junior varsity teams by next season, allowing the youngster who isn't big enough to play regularly on the big squad a chance to play.

The San Francisco lawyer started the ball rolling after becoming interested in Pop Warner football when his son, Damian, who played varsity guard for Drake High School this year, played for the Drake Junior Pirates four years ago.

What Casalnuovo saw was the younger and smaller boys standing around, not playing until the "fifth quarter" and then for a limited time only.

SMALLER BOYS

As president of the MBC, Casalnuovo started a campaign which would allow the league to accommodate the smaller boys. It was agreed to have a full schedule of complete games for boys 10-12 years old, under 105 pounds, by next year.

Casalnuovo got it going by doing things himself, taking over as Drake Junior Pirate junior varsity coach, even though he never played contact football in his life. He had directed a touch football program in his college days at St. Mary's, in Moraga, in addition to being a playground director for the summers in San Francisco.

Right now, the Marin County Pop Warner league is looking for more coaches for next year's season, which will be additionally bolstered by the addition of San Marin in Novato and the added jayvee teams.

Casalnuovo reports that the programs runs in cost to about $40 per boy playing, with most of the money going to up-dating equipment, insurance and referees. Boys Club volunteers help cover the cost with fund drives and other money-making activities, including, right now, the selling of Christmas trees at Sabacca's Service Station in Terra Linda and Purity Food Market in Mill Valley.

Menard To Make Debut With Seals

OAKLAND (UPI)—Newly acquired left winger Howie Menard makes his debut for the Oakland Seals tonight against the invading Minnesota North Stars, 8 o'clock in Oakland Arena.

This marks the second meeting this season between the North Stars and Seals. Oakland whipped the North Stars 4-2 on Minnesota's home ice Nov. 19. However, Minnesota is in second place in the NHL's Western Division, eight points ahead of the fifth-place Seals.

Good And Sad News At Mill Valley Club

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Hughes, secretary for the club the past six years, died unexpectedly last Saturday in his Corte Madera home, and the shock is still being felt by his family and golfing friends. He was 56.

Rees, now living in Ohio, has been flown back to Marin County by his golfing buddies and will be feted at a testimonial tomorrow night at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael. About 50 friends are expected.

STAN FOGLER of Novato won the most improved golfer award at the Indian Valley Golf Club's annual Christmas dinner last Saturday at the clubhouse. Stan dropped his handicap from 13 to 9 strokes.

GEORGE STEINERT of the Meadow Club shot a recent eagle at the Fairfax course. He used a driver and three-wood to hole out the 421-yard second hole. A nine-handicapper, Steinert ended the round with a 77.

THERE ARE still openings in the Rohnert Park Women's Golf Club. In the club's last activity, Mrs. Robert Quinn won a ladder tourney with a score of 329 points, and Mrs. Bruce Barteaux, wife of the course's assistant professional, won the putting contest, 40 strokes.

MEMBERS OF Peacock Gap Golf Club in San Rafael will be engaged in the last tournament of the year Saturday. It will be the annual Christmas Tournament, a best-ball foursome event starting at 9 a.m., following an 8 a.m. breakfast. Some 95 members are expected for the finale.

ALL GOLFERS will be winners in the Turkey Shoot tournament at the Sonoma National course Sunday. The two winning scores of each foursome will be good for turkeys, the two losers will get Cornish game hens. It starts at 7 a.m., with 130 players expected.

Raiders Again Lead In Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Oakland's Western Division champions paced the American Football League in offensive yardage for the second year in succession and Kansas City again captured defensive honors, according to final statistics released yesterday by the AFL office.

The Raiders, whose 12-1-1 record was the best in the league averaged 360 yards per game of offense, including a league-leading 234 via passing. Kansas City retained the rushing title with a per-game average of 159 yards while San Diego was second over-all with 330 air-ground yards per-start.

Kansas City, which finished in the West, yielded the fewest rushing yards, 78, and passing yards, 148, per-game and allowed a league low of 177 points — seven more than its 1968 AFL mark.

Chargers' Dick Post Wins Rushing Honors

Alworth repeated as the top pass-catcher by grabbing seven against the Bills to beat out Oakland's Fred Biletnikoff 6'-54 for the season. The San Diego flash went over the 1,000-yard mark for the seventh successive season and set a pro record of one or more receptions in 96 straight games.

Turner registered 129 points on 32 field goals and 33 extra point kicks for a 10-point edge over Jan Stenerud of Kansas City. The Jet kicker won with 145 points a year ago.

Cook, first rookie passer to lead the league, nipped New York's Joe Namath and Oakland's Daryle Lamonica in the aerial ratings, based on average gain per pass play, percentage of completions, touchdown passes and interception percentage.

Umpires Score Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has served notice it will be calling the balls and strikes on labor-management disputes between 24 baseball umpires and the American League.

The NLRB, by a 4-1 vote, yesterday ordered a representation election among the umpires to be held within 30 days, thus opening up professional baseball to its jurisdiction for the first time.

"This is the first baseball case taken by the board," it said in an announcement.

The decision clears the way for board jurisdiction in other processes, including unfair labor practice charges filed in behalf of two umpires who said they were fired for support of union organizing.

The election, to be supervised by the board's Boston regional office, was requested by the National Association of Baseball Umpires. The association has filed unfair labor practice charges in behalf of umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine.

The board rejected the league's argument that umpires are supervisors and thus not eligible for union organization under the National Labor Relations act.

Mel Renfro Becomes Best Thief In NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Mel Renfro, key man in a shift in Dallas' defensive secondary, picked off two passes in the Cowboys' victory over Baltimore and vaulted into the National Football League's lead in interceptions.

Coach Tom Landry, concerned that the Cowboys had allowed 22 touchdown passes in their first 12 games, decided to work Renfro for one half at corner back and one half at his regular free safety spot against Baltimore, last Saturday with rookie Otto Brown also working a half at each position.

It paid off as the Cowboys scored their first regular season victory over the Colts. Renfro's two interceptions gave him a total of nine, according to league statistics released yesterday, and matched the club record.

HOW TO PLAY BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Dangerous Foe Must Be Kept From Gaining Defeat Lead

The prupose of the holdup play is to run one opponent out of cards in his partner's suit. If you later give the lead to the short opponent, he will be unable to return his partner's suit, and you thereby gain time to make your contract. You may have to use a magnifying glass to see how this principle applies in today's hand.

LEADS SPADES

West leads the queen of spades, and South is tempted to win the trick at once. There doesn't seem to be any point in running East out of spades, because East is never going to gain the lead. If you use that magnifying glass, however, you will see that East is going to win an important trick and that the holdup play is therefore absolutely necessary.

South refuses the first trick, allowing West to win it with the queen of spades. West continues spades, and South wins with the king. By this time East is out of spades, and South has accomplished the purpose of his holdup.

DEVELOPS DIAMONDS

South must develop the diamonds to make his contract. If he allows West to win two diamond tricks, West will use his first entry to knock out the ace of spades and the other entry to run the spades.

South solves his problem by allowing East to win one of the diamond tricks that must be given up to the defense. South begins the diamonds by leading a low card from his hand. West plays low, and declarer takes a deep finesse with dummy's nine.

NO RETURN

East wins this trick with the ten of diamonds and cannot return a spade. If East returns a heart (best defense), South steps up with the ace of hearts and leads another diamond. West can take the ace of diamonds and can cash the king of hearts, but then the defense is through. South is sure to win three diamonds, three clubs, two spades and one heart.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠—7 3
♥—8 7 6 3
♦—10 8
♣—J 10 6 5 2

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

You have excellent club support, but your hand is far too weak for any response. You have only 1 point for the jack, two points for the doubletons and perhaps one extra point for length in clubs. You might raise to two clubs if one of your doubletons were a singleton or if you had another queen or so.

A holiday concert featuring the Davidson Junior High School orchestra, chorus and eighth grade band will be held at 7:45 p.m. today in the school gym at 280 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 17, the 351st day of 1969 with 14 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1903, Orville and Wilbur Wright made the first successful airplane flight at Kitty Hawk, N.C. It lasted 12 seconds.

In 1925, Gen. William Mitchell was found guilty of criticizing the Army and Navy and was suspended from the Army for five years. In 1945, the Senate voted to award Mitchell the Medal of Honor posthumously and promoted his rank to Major General.

In 1939, the Nazi vessel "Graf Spee," being chased by British warships, was scuttled off the coast of Uruguay.

In 1941, Adm. Chester Nimitz replaced Adm. Husband Kimmel as commander of the United States fleet in the Pacific.

A thought for the day: British poet Latitia Elizabeth Landon wrote, "Were it not better to forget than but remember and regret?"

Chorale's Concert Put Off To Jan. 25

A concert by the Winifred Baker Chorale scheduled at Dominican College Sunday has been postponed to 8 p.m. Jan. 25 in Caleruega Hall on the campus.

The January program will include Vivaldi's "Gloria" and Kirke Mechem's "Seven Joys of Christmas."

FIRST DOWN, GOAL TO GO

Viking Pair Lead UPI All-Star Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—Carl Eller and Alan Page, the charging Minnesota defensive linemen who have led the Vikings to 12 straight victories, were selected today to the United Press International 1969 National Football League All-Star team.

Eller, the 6-foot-6, 250-pound end chosen for the second straight year, was a near unanimous slection. He received 47 votes from a panel of 48 NFL experts around the nation —three from each league city.

Page, a 6-foot-4, 250-pound tackle, was named to the select unit for the first time. He ousted Dallas veteran Bob Lilly. Lilly ran third in the balloting behind Merlin Olsen of Los Angeles and Page had to settle for a second-team berth.

FIVE STRAIGHT

Minnesota center Mike Tingelhoff and Lilly both had been named for five straight years and Tingelhoff extended his streak to six straight.

Los Angeles led with six players on the team, three each on offense and defense, while Dallas had four players on the first team.

Quarterback Roman Gabriel, winning All-NFL recognition for the first time, led the Ram delegation. Gale Sayers won a running back spot for the fifth straight season while Dallas rookie Calvin Hill, the only rookie named, won the other spot.

Gary Collins of Cleveland and Roy Jefferson of Pittsburgh were named the wide receivers. It was the first time in the career of both that they've won the honor. Jerry Smith of Washington was also named tight end for the first time.

Gene Hickerson of Cleveland was named to a guard spot for the third straight year. Los Angeles' Tom Mack was selected to the other guard spot for the first time. The tackles are Dallas' Ralph Neeley, for the third straight year, and Los Angeles' Bob Brown, back on the team after a two-year absence.

Deacon Jones, selected for the fifth straight year although he was second to Eller in the voting, is the other end. Page, and Olsen, named for the fourth straight year are the tackles.

Dick Butkus of Chicago is the middle linebacker for the third straight year and Dave Robinson of Green Bay is a linebacker for the third straight season. Chuck Howley of Dallas won the other linebacker spot after a two-year absence.

Detroit's Lem Barney, named for the second straight year, and Dallas' Cornell Green, named after a year's absence, are the cornerbacks.

Larry Wilson of St. Louis, chosen for the fourth time since 1963, and Los Angeles' Ed Meador, selected for the second time in the last three years, are the safeties.

SECOND TEAM

The second team offense has Sonny Jurgensen of Washington at quarterback with Leroy Kelly of Cleveland and Tom Woodeshick of Philadelphia at running backs. Gene Washington of Minnesota and Dan Abramowicz of New Orleans are the wide receivers.

Grady Alderman of Minnesota and Bob Vogel of Baltimore are the tackles with John Niland of Dallas and Gale Gillingham of Green Bay at the guards and Bill Curry of Baltimore at center.

NBA HIGHLIGHTS

Things Finally Looking Up For Celtics

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things are beginning to look up for the Boston Celtics again, and things are beginning to look down for the New York Knicks.

The once powerful Celtics, who ruled the National Basketball Association for so many years, have had their troubles this season in the absence of retired Bill Russell, but last night offered some hope—they moved out of the Eastern Division cellar with a 117-98 victory over Detroit.

On the other hand, the once lowly Knicks, who spent so much time at the bottom of the divison during Boston's hayday years, have become the scrouge of the league, until the last week. The Knicks lost their third straight and fourth game in five outings, dropping a 125-124 overtime decision to Atlanta.

OTHER GAMES

In other games, San Diego overcame a nine-point fourth quarter deficit and beat Chicago 110-101, Philadelphia crushed Phoenix 141-119, and San Francisco turned back Seattle 125-119.

In the American Basketball Association, Los Angeles edged Kentucky 102-101, Washington blasted Carolina 135-114 and Indiana nudged Dallas 108-104.

The Celtics moved a half game ahead of Detroit by rattling off 11 straight points in the last 1½ minutes of the third quarter for a decisive 18-point lead. Boston's Larry Siegfried and Detroit's Terry Dischinger exchanged punches with 2:25 left, but Siegfried finished with 27 points while Jimmy Walker had 28 for the Pistons.

BLEW CHANCES

Walt Hazzard's free throw with 44 seconds left gave Atlanta a decisive 125-122 lead that offset Dick Barnett's final two free throws for the Knicks. New York blew several chances to win, first in regulation time when Dave DeBusschere, who had 27 points, made only one of three free throws for a 113-113 tie with 13 seconds to go, and again when DeBusschere missed a jump shot with four seconds left in overtime and Willis Reed fielded the rebound in the last second.

New York, which had rolled to a 26-2 record and a record 18 straight victories earlier, now stands at 27-6 after Joe Caldwell's 28 points, Hazzard's 27 and Bill Bridges' 26 for the Hawks beat them.

Menard To Make Debut With Seals

OAKLAND (UPI)—Newly acquired left winger Howie Menard makes his debut for the Oakland Seals tonight against the invading Minnesota North Stars, 8 o'clock in Oakland Arena.

This marks the second meeting this season between the North Stars and Seals. Oakland whipped the North Stars 4-2 on Minnesota's home ice Nov. 19. However, Minnesota is in second place in the NHL's Western Division, eight points ahead of the fifth-place Seals.

Marin Junior Grid League Makes Room For Pee-Wees

Marin County's Pop Warner football program is expanding to make room for the little fellow, thanks largely to a man who's never even put on a set of pads.

Casalnuovo, under the auspices of his Marin Boy's Club poisition, is pretty much responsible for the planned expansion of Pop Warner which will include a full slate of junior varsity teams by next season, allowing the youngster who isn't big enough to play regularly on the big squad a chance to play.

The San Francisco lawyer started the ball rolling after becoming interested in Pop Warner football when his son, Damian, who played varsity guard for Drake High School this year, played for the Drake Junior Pirates four years ago.

What Casalnuovo saw was the younger and smaller boys standing around, not playing until the "fifth quarter" and then for a limited time only.

SMALLER BOYS

As president of the MBC, Casalnuovo started a campaign which would allow the league to accommodate the smaller boys. It was agreed to have a full schedule of complete games for boys 10-12 years old, under 105 pounds, by next year.

Casalnuovo got it going by doing things himself, taking over as Drake Junior Pirate junior varsity coach, even though he never played contact football in his life. He had directed a touch football program in his college days at St. Mary's, in Moraga, in addition to being a playground director for the summers in San Francisco.

Right now, the Marin County Pop Warner league is looking for more coaches for next year's season, which will be additionally bolstered by the addition of San Marin in Novato and the added jayvee teams.

Casalnuovo reports that the programs runs in cost to about $40 per boy playing, with most of the money going to up-dating equipment, insurance and referees. Boys Club volunteers help cover the cost with fund drives and other money-making activities, including, right now, the selling of Christmas trees at Sabacca's Service Station in Terra Linda and Purity Food Market in Mill Valley.

Good And Sad News At Mill Valley Club

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Hughes, secretary for the club the past six years, died unexpectedly last Saturday in his Corte Madera home, and the shock is still being felt by his family and golfing friends. He was 56.

Rees, now living in Ohio, has been flown back to Marin County by his golfing buddies and will be feted at a testimonial tomorrow night at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael. About 50 friends are expected.

STAN FOGLER of Novato won the most improved golfer award at the Indian Valley Golf Club's annual Christmas dinner last Saturday at the clubhouse. Stan dropped his handicap from 13 to 9 strokes.

GEORGE STEINERT of the Meadow Club shot a recent eagle at the Fairfax course. He used a driver and three-wood to hole out the 421-yard second hole. A nine-handicapper, Steinert ended the round with a 77.

THERE ARE still openings in the Rohnert Park Women's Golf Club. In the club's last activity, Mrs. Robert Quinn won a ladder tourney with a score of 329 points, and Mrs. Bruce Barteaux, wife of the course's assistant professional, won the putting contest, 40 strokes.

MEMBERS OF Peacock Gap Golf Club in San Rafael will be engaged in the last tournament of the year Saturday. It will be the annual Christmas Tournament, a best-ball foursome event starting at 9 a.m., following an 8 a.m. breakfast. Some 95 members are expected for the finale.

ALL GOLFERS will be winners in the Turkey Shoot tournament at the Sonoma National course Sunday. The two winning scores of each foursome will be good for turkeys, the two losers will get Cornish game hens. It starts at 7 a.m., with 130 players expected.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Market For Muni Bonds Demoralized

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am a member of an investment club and am investigating municipal bonds. What amount of capital is required for this form of investment? How long must it be invested for tax exemption? — F. C.

A. Municipal bonds are issued in $1,000 and $5,000 denominations. At this time any interest received on these bonds is exempt from federal income tax. Capital gains are, however, taxable. As a general rule these bonds are exempt from state and local tax in the state where issued. It would appear that the final tax reform bill will not change this tax feature noticeably. A House proposal to make tax-exempt income of $10,000 or more annually partially taxable will probably pass. While this will have little effect on most individual holders of municipals the market remains demoralized.

Overhanging this market is a sizable forward supply of expected new issues — estimated at close to $1 billion in the next 30 days. Dealer inventories of unsold new and older bonds according to the Blue List totaled around $610 million.

Banks, as a result of their various pressures, have reversed their customary role as buyers and have been unloading municipals from their holdings. A recent $75 million New Jersey bond issue, held back by its 6 per cent interest ceiling, was withdrawn by that state's treasurer.

But response to tax-exempts carrying 7 per cent rates has been better with acceptance running about 75 per cent. With rumors of further boosts in the prime rate circulating and no foreseeable relaxation of the Administration's tight money policy, the municipal market will continue to be distressed.

Tax Selling Hurts Board

NEW YORK (UPI)—Year-end tax selling and concern over inflation and the squeeze on corporate profits extended the stock market's slide today to three consecutive session in moderately active trading.

The U P I marketwide indicator showed a low of 0.79 per cent.

Adding further to the dismal atmosphere on Wall Street was a forecast for a general "tempering" of business activity during the first half of next year due to Washington's anti-inflation campaign.

The prediction was made by a panel of executives at the First National Bank of Chicago's annual business outlook meeting.

Most point-sized movers in the electronics pointed lower, while oils swung in both directions.

Aluminum shares traded narrowly. Alcoa President John D Harper said aluminum industry profits should set a new record this year.

Also moving narrowly were steels, motors, chemicals, rails, airlines, aircrafts and most conglomerates.

New, Larger Pet Arcade In Northgate Shopping Center

A new and larger Pet Arcade has opened at 194 Northgate Shopping Center.

Owners David and Fred Plowman, who took over this business a little more than a year ago, have acquired the space formerly occupied by Bud's Northgate Sporting Goods Store, just four doors away from their previous location at 178. They completely remodeled it and say they now have the largest pet store north of the Golden Gate Bridge. At least, they have a full 3,500 square feet, compared to the previous 1,600.

One entire room in the back is devoted to fish, with a 350-gallon tank in the center and other tanks along the walls. A new feature is salt water fish, and the Plowmans may get into tank leasing for professional offices later.

Special glassed rooms are built for the animals to protect the rest of the establishment from odors, but customers may go inside these rooms.

THE NUMBER of retail establishments in Marin County increased 22.9 per cent from 1963 to 1967, according to a Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau fact sheet reporting figures from the U. S. Bureau of Census.

During that four-year period, payrolls went up 36.6 per cent, number of employees 16.6 per cent and volume of business 36.2 per cent.

Biggest annual dollar volume jump was by grocery stores which went from $68 million in 1963 to $87.3 million in 1967. But this represented only a 28.4 per cent increase and the number of grocery stores actually declined 30.7 per cent in that time.

There were only a few straight-line department stores reported, but their number doubled in the four-year period, their combined payrolls jumped 133 per cent, employees increased 71 per cent and annual dollar volume gained 121.3 per cent, reaching $27.1 million.

Other business which declined in number were motor vehicle dealers, down 30.2 per cent; men's and boys' clothing stores, down 23.8 per cent; and shoe stores, down 3.3 per cent.

Biggest payroll increase was by women's ready-to-wear stores. This went up 281.7 per cent in the four years, with the number of employees increasing 217 per cent. Family clothing stores were not far behind with a 217.2 per cent payroll increase and a 200 per cent gain in number of employees.

WILLIAM M. FORREST, formerly co-founder and vice president of marketing for Golden Pacific Airlines, has taken over as district sales manager of Envoy International Town Clubs, Inc., San Francisco, which provides traveling executives with professional business services.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 17, the 351st day of 1969 with 14 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1903, Orville and Wilbur Wright made the first successful airplane flight at Kitty Hawk, N.C. It lasted 12 seconds.

In 1925, Gen. William Mitchell was found guilty of criticizing the Army and Navy and was suspended from the Army for five years. In 1945, the Senate voted to award Mitchell the Medal of Honor posthumously and promoted his rank to Major General.

In 1939, the Nazi vessel "Graf Spee," being chased by British warships, was scuttled off the coast of Uruguay.

In 1941, Adm. Chester Nimitz replaced Adm. Husband Kimmel as commander of the United States fleet in the Pacific.

A thought for the day: British poet Latitia Elizabeth Landon wrote, "Were it not better to forget than but remember and regret?"

Chorale's Concert Put Off To Jan. 25

A concert by the Winifred Baker Chorale scheduled at Dominican College Sunday has been postponed to 8 p.m. Jan. 25 in Caleruega Hall on the campus.

The January program will include Vivaldi's "Gloria" and Kirke Mechem's "Seven Joys of Christmas."

HOW TO PLAY BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Dangerous Foe Must Be Kept From Gaining Defeat Lead

The prupose of the holdup play is to run one opponent out of cards in his partner's suit. If you later give the lead to the short opponent, he will be unable to return his partner's suit, and you thereby gain time to make your contract. You may have to use a magnifying glass to see how this principle applies in today's hand.

LEADS SPADES

West leads the queen of spades, and South is tempted to win the trick at once. There doesn't seem to be any point in running East out of spades, because East is never going to gain the lead. If you use that magnifying glass, however, you will see that East is going to win an important trick and that the holdup play is therefore absolutely necessary.

South refuses the first trick, allowing West to win it with the queen of spades. West continues spades, and South wins with the king. By this time East is out of spades, and South has accomplished the purpose of his holdup.

DEVELOPS DIAMONDS

South must develop the diamonds to make his contract. If he allows West to win two diamond tricks, West will use his first entry to knock out the ace of spades and the other entry to run the spades.

South solves his problem by allowing East to win one of the diamond tricks that must be given up to the defense. South begins the diamonds by leading a low card from his hand. West plays low, and declarer takes a deep finesse with dummy's nine.

NO RETURN

East wins this trick with the ten of diamonds and cannot return a spade. If East returns a heart (best defense), South steps up with the ace of hearts and leads another diamond. West can take the ace of diamonds and can cash the king of hearts, but then the defense is through. South is sure to win three diamonds, three clubs, two spades and one heart.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠—7 3
♥—8 7 6 3
♦—10 8
♣—J 10 6 5 2

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

You have excellent club support, but your hand is far too weak for any response. You have only 1 point for the jack, two points for the doubletons and perhaps one extra point for length in clubs. You might raise to two clubs if one of your doubletons were a singleton or if you had another queen or so.

Market For Muni Bonds Demoralized

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am a member of an investment club and am investigating municipal bonds. What amount of capital is required for this form of investment? How long must it be invested for tax exemption? — F. C.

A. Municipal bonds are issued in $1,000 and $5,000 denominations. At this time any interest received on these bonds is exempt from federal income tax. Capital gains are, however, taxable. As a general rule these bonds are exempt from state and local tax in the state where issued. It would appear that the final tax reform bill will not change this tax feature noticeably. A House proposal to make tax-exempt income of $10,000 or more annually partially taxable will probably pass. While this will have little effect on most individual holders of municipals the market remains demoralized.

Overhanging this market is a sizable forward supply of expected new issues — estimated at close to $1 billion in the next 30 days. Dealer inventories of unsold new and older bonds according to the Blue List totaled around $610 million.

Banks, as a result of their various pressures, have reversed their customary role as buyers and have been unloading municipals from their holdings. A recent $75 million New Jersey bond issue, held back by its 6 per cent interest ceiling, was withdrawn by that state's treasurer.

But response to tax-exempts carrying 7 per cent rates has been better with acceptance running about 75 per cent. With rumors of further boosts in the prime rate circulating and no foreseeable relaxation of the Administration's tight money policy, the municipal market will continue to be distressed.

Tax Selling Hurts Board

NEW YORK (UPI)—Year-end tax selling and concern over inflation and the squeeze on corporate profits extended the stock market's slide today to three consecutive session in moderately active trading.

The U P I marketwide indicator showed a low of 0.79 per cent.

Adding further to the dismal atmosphere on Wall Street was a forecast for a general "tempering" of business activity during the first half of next year due to Washington's anti-inflation campaign.

The prediction was made by a panel of executives at the First National Bank of Chicago's annual business outlook meeting.

Most point-sized movers in the electronics pointed lower, while oils swung in both directions.

Aluminum shares traded narrowly. Alcoa President John D Harper said aluminum industry profits should set a new record this year.

Also moving narrowly were steels, motors, chemicals, rails, airlines, aircrafts and most conglomerates.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New, Larger Pet Arcade In Northgate Shopping Center

A new and larger Pet Arcade has opened at 194 Northgate Shopping Center.

Owners David and Fred Plowman, who took over this business a little more than a year ago, have acquired the space formerly occupied by Bud's Northgate Sporting Goods Store, just four doors away from their previous location at 178. They completely remodeled it and say they now have the largest pet store north of the Golden Gate Bridge. At least, they have a full 3,500 square feet, compared to the previous 1,600.

One entire room in the back is devoted to fish, with a 350-gallon tank in the center and other tanks along the walls. A new feature is salt water fish, and the Plowmans may get into tank leasing for professional offices later.

Special glassed rooms are built for the animals to protect the rest of the establishment from odors, but customers may go inside these rooms.

THE NUMBER of retail establishments in Marin County increased 22.9 per cent from 1963 to 1967, according to a Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau fact sheet reporting figures from the U. S. Bureau of Census.

During that four-year period, payrolls went up 36.6 per cent, number of employees 16.6 per cent and volume of business 36.2 per cent.

Biggest annual dollar volume jump was by grocery stores which went from $68 million in 1963 to $87.3 million in 1967. But this represented only a 28.4 per cent increase and the number of grocery stores actually declined 30.7 per cent in that time.

There were only a few straight-line department stores reported, but their number doubled in the four-year period, their combined payrolls jumped 133 per cent, employees increased 71 per cent and annual dollar volume gained 121.3 per cent, reaching $27.1 million.

Other business which declined in number were motor vehicle dealers, down 30.2 per cent; men's and boys' clothing stores, down 23.8 per cent; and shoe stores, down 3.3 per cent.

Biggest payroll increase was by women's ready-to-wear stores. This went up 281.7 per cent in the four years, with the number of employees increasing 217 per cent. Family clothing stores were not far behind with a 217.2 per cent payroll increase and a 200 per cent gain in number of employees.

WILLIAM M. FORREST, formerly co-founder and vice president of marketing for Golden Pacific Airlines, has taken over as district sales manager of Envoy International Town Clubs, Inc., San Francisco, which provides traveling executives with professional business services.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Reason For Not Planning Now Reason For Planning

"The West Marin Master Plan was adopted by Marin County Board of Supervisors on July 10, 1967, and subsequently amended on March 4, 1969.

"The West Marin Master Plan omitted area intended to be included within the Point Reyes National Seashore because of impending acquisition thereof by the federal government."

Thus begins the preamble of an urgency ordinance adopted Dec. 2 by the county supervisors, by unanimous vote except for the absence of Supervisor William H. Gnoss.

What the ordinance does is freeze for 90 days any subdivision or any kind of building on privately owned lands within the limits of the proposed national seashore. Violation is a misdemeanor or punishable by $500 fine and/or six months in jail.

THE OSTENSIBLE PURPOSE of the 90-day freeze is to allow the county planning department time to draw up a master plan for the privately owned lands within the seashore — something purposely left out of the long-debated West Marin Master Plan which was adopted in 1967.

There is a strange anomaly here.

When the West Marin Master Plan was drawn up, it was quite evident that some years might elapse before the federal government completed purchase of lands for Point Reyes National Seashore. In fact, there was considerable doubt by 1967 whether the seashore would ever be expanded to the full acreage proposed for it.

The situation is quite different now.

A bill freeing $35 million to complete the land purchase is on the floor of the House of Representatives, approved by its committee on interior and insular affairs. The bill has the backing of the White House. President Nixon has pledged that the Point Reyes land purchases will get top priority if the bill passes. Opposition to it appears minimal.

THE REASON that prevailed for leaving the park lands out of the master plan when it was started in 1961, and when it was completed and adopted six years later, is much more cogent now. "Impending acquisition thereof by the federal government" is much more a reality now than it was then.

So now, the reason that was used for not master planning the area eight years ago, and four years ago, and two years ago, suddenly becomes a reason for doing a hurry-up master planning job for it.

This does not make much sense to the Marin Property Owners Association, who objected strongly to the quickie adoption of the urgency ordinance. It does not make much sense to us either.

IF THE PURPOSE is merely to prevent anything that would increase land values while Congress has time to complete action on the money bill, we would go along. But why the sudden desire for a master plan?

The Marin Property Owners Association is fearful the 90-day "freeze" is but a prelude to a much longer "freeze," whether the $35 million appropriation clears Congress or not.

The association has reason for its fear. No master plan has ever emerged from the county planning department in 90 days yet. Nor in six months. Nor, with perhaps one or two exceptions, in a year.

The board of supervisors appears to be playing some kind of a game here with people's private property. We don't like the look of it.

State Senate Power Struggle Finds Republicans Disunited

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The power struggle in the state Senate is on full force as the 1970 session approaches, with a move to revise the membership of the important and powerful rules committee as it was set up by President Pro Tem Howard Way, R-Tulare.

Sen. H. L. Richardson, R-Arcadia, belonging to the more conservative group of Republicans in the Senate, has announced he will seek membership on the committee, when the membership is up for vote during organization of the Senate.

Richardson has had a remarkable record of getting what he wants from that body. At present, he is chairman of the Republican caucus, having succeeded veteran Donald Grunsky, R-Watsonville, in that position.

The Arcadia senator's reason for disturbing the makeup of the Senate is to displace Sen. Robert S. Stevens, R-Los Angeles, as a member. Stevens was appointed by Senator Way when the Tulare senator engineered the removal of Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, during the last session.

Richardson feels that the best interests of the Senate will be served if the conservatives have more authority in the operation of the upper house. Stevens has been, since his election, identified with the more liberal group of Republican senators.

One of the most important committee chairmanships, that of fish and game, is held by Richardson, and will have to be given up if he is elected to the rules committee. However, he expects to retain his membership on fish and game.

Meanwhile, Senator Way is not having all the smooth sailing that could be expected if the Republicans in the Senate were acting as a unit.

Sen. Jack Schrade, R-San Diego, a Way opponent from the beginning, is exploring the possibility of displacing the newly elected president pro tem.

However, Schrade's efforts are pretty well discounted. Generally, it is conceded that Way is safe in his post for the time being, and will remain safe if he keeps reasonably in line and doesn't ruffle too many feathers (not more than 19 at the most).

While the in-fighting goes on in the Republican ranks, the Democrats for the most part are sitting back chortling. They are aware that the Way faction in the Senate can do little if anything of importance without the cooperation of the Democratic group which put him in office in the first place.

Thus, it readily can be seen that the Republicans have a fairly long way to go before they are in complete control of the upper house.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Moon Flights: More Mixed Priorities

The letter from Dr. Carolyn B. Allbrecht recently published in the I-J should arouse mixed thoughts about our government spending. These moon flights are ill-timed with so much poverty and unrest on our own earth. America should rest on her laurels of being "first man to the moon" and turn her billions to earthly needs such as medical research and alleviating poverty.

Let man's lust for power take a temporary back-seat until the earth is once more at peace. No more trips to the moon. Remember, we, as taxpayers are paying dearly for those manned flights.

Nature Conservancy Likes Coverage

On behalf of the Nature Conservancy, I would like to thank the Independent-Journal for its recent coverage of our San Francisco Bay Project. As noted in our releases, we regard the bay coastline of Marin County to be the most beautiful on the whole bay and we are dedicating a great deal of energy to saving it in its natural state.

The coverage provided by your paper has helped tremendously in spreading the word about our project, and we have already noticed that nearly everyone we now talk to in Marin County has heard of the Nature Conservancy's work on San Francisco Bay. We very much appreciate your paper's contribution to our welcome in Marin County.

Student Disagrees With Carl Brown

I would like to air a few of my personal responses to San Rafael school board member Carl J. Brown's remarks concerning high schools printed in the Dec. 10 Independent-Journal.

As a high school student, I recognize the fact that I have biases, just as Mr. Brown has as a teacher. At the risk of being called a nit-picker, I must, in fairness to myself and my generation, respond to parts of his statement.

Mr. Brown states "there are too many bad apples", referring to disruptive high school students. I submit that this has always been the case; the difference is that the troublemakers of the present are far more vocal than those of the past, thus commanding more attention.

As far as these individuals making school "an impossible situation for those who really want to learn", I must again disagree. Anyone who has the ability and desire to excel, can do so. Learning is not hampered, at least not in my school. . .

Mr. Brown goes on to state, "Parents inform me of the odor of marijuana in the halls, and from parked cars at noon." . . . Perhaps Mr. Brown should do his own sniffing at all the schools, rather than rely on parents — a group which I honestly do not find as regular students in my classes. . .

I feel Mr. Brown has leveled an unfortunate indictment against the local high schools, which he has poorly supported in the above mentioned areas. . . .

I am writing this to let you know what a wonderful police department, fire department and ambulance service we have in San Anselmo.

Marty Kent Jones Alleges Bias

How grossly sad it is that your paper doesn't know the difference between reporting and passing judgement. If you had the time to reread every single article in your library written by the I-J, regarding the Corte Madera flood project, as I have recently done, you would evidence a classic collection of bias.

Your attitude and obvious contempt for the cause of saving Marin's natural assets is blatant. We who must push uphill against biased publicity find it a heartbreaking disgrace to our democratic way of life. A good, clean and open discussion of all sides of a question (no facts withheld and no fabrications made) is a wonderful thing to behold! Good reporting should be just that: the facts presented and the reader given the dignity of making up his own mind.

The "I-J Reporter's Notebook," Dec. 4 by Alan Jones, pointed an accusing finger at the (San Francisco) Chronicle's article of Nov. 30. He said the article was full of barnacles of untruth. I demand a retraction and also a statement of the facts as they were so professionally given by Carolyn Drewes in the Sunday Chronicle. She spent hours on research; your man Jones didn't even ask anyone whether I was behind bars or not; he just said it was a lie to say that I had been. What's his gripe? Why fuss over such small points anyway? The cause is the real point. Our county is disappearing under bulldozer and concrete, in cases where alternatives are possible; and we intend to enlist more and more wise and thoughtful and strong people to the cause of survival, Nature's and ours! Don't be so frightened; investigate; come talk to me; do research into all sides; "tell it like it is!"

THE DRUMMONDS

Senate Vote Adds To Doubt That Democracy Really Can Work

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Maybe the U.S. Senate just doesn't know what is going on in this country. It's acting that way.

It's making things worse.

It is abetting a mounting and perilous doubt that democratic government can work — work well and respond to the pressing needs of the nation.

Cynicism about the integrity of elected officials is growing. Many Americans with just grievances feel our institutions fail to do their job, unwilling or unable to come to grips with what most needs to be done. The Senate is adding to this spreading doubt.

HOW IS IT doing this? By passage of its who-cares-about-inflation tax bill on an overwhelming vote of 69 to 22.

Why should so many senators vote for this amendment-laden mess and simultaneously hope — almost pray — that the House-Senate conference will rescue them from the monstrosity they created?

Because one senator after another had piled it so high with what each thought would be an election-appeal goodie that in the end few had the courage to stand up and say no.

It is bad for the country, bad for the economy, bad for the government.

It is opportunist, please-the-voter, wreck-the-country politics carried out with sly confidence that the Senate could vote for the worst and be saved by the more responsible House of Representatives.

And that isn't the most grievous offense of what has just gone on in the Senate.

THE WORST is that so many senators should still be so buried in crass, buy-votes politics and so far removed from the realities of today's America that they can be so heedless, so unaware of what they are abetting.

When the Senate of the United States votes to deprive the federal government of some $12 billion critically needed for welfare, for antipollution, for aid to the ghettos, for revenue-sharing with the states, it fuels cynicism and destroys faith in the democratic process. It plays into the hands of the violent who want democracy to falter and fail.

When every Democratic liberal in the Senate — the big spenders — votes to provide the government with less money, they are showing that they are either politically insincere or fiscally reckless. And the end result is to spread cynicism, skepticism and voter alienation still further.

WHEN 69 SENATORS vote to reduce federal revenue at a time when the economy is still overheated and inflation still unchecked, they are showing that either they do not grasp or do not have the courage to apply the New Economics except when it is politically easy.

The New Economics says that when the economy needs stimulus, taxes should be reduced and when the economy needs restraint, taxes should be increased. But if the Senate is going to apply half of the New Economics — cutting taxes because it is pleasant and refusing to maintain or raise taxes because it is politically painful — then the nation is going to get the worst of both worlds. No wonder liberal Republican Sen. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts called what the Senate did last week "catastrophic" and voted against it.

THE GRIMMEST political truth today is that nationwide cynicism about the responsible, responsive functioning of our institutions of government is mounting and is eroding faith in democracy itself.

The House will probably remove the worst features of the tax bill, but it should not be overlooked that the Senate's irresponsible action tends to prove that the cynics are right and tears down confidence in democratic government when it most needs to be strengthened.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Post-Christmas Session On Money Bills Looms

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Congressional leaders are driving hard to complete action on appropriations bills before Christmas, but there are plenty of pitfalls ahead.

There is a very real possibility that President Nixon will have to make good on his recent threat to call the lawmakers back into session right after the holiday.

By tradition (and not by constitutional edict, as is sometimes claimed) the House originates all the money bills. They have been syrup-slow in reaching the Senate this year.

Now, with the holiday deadline ahead, there is an added hazard in the Senate's permissive rule book which lets any senator or group of senators offer just about any amendment and talk on it at length.

The annual appropriation bills tend themselves to replay major controversies, recent and long-gone. So there are many temptations for senators who have failed to get their way on authorizations previously rejected (or approved).

Before this year's appropriation bills are all sent to the President's desk, the Senate may even have to fight another skirmish in the battle over defense spending and renew the struggle over civil rights.

DEFENSE — In July, August and September the Senate spent six weeks on the military authorization bill. About a month of that period was devoted to President Nixon's controversial plan for deploying the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system.

Two very close votes, 51-49 and 51-50 (with Vice President Agnew casting a vote) approved the ABM deployment. Now two pro-ABM senators — Karl Mundt, R-S.D., and Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M. — are ill and not available for roll call votes.

The House has approved funds for the deployment. All Senate opponents could achieve now in the eventual Senate-House compromise would be a reduction in the deployment funds. That may not be worth the pre-holiday effort, since a similar opportunity will be offered early next year.

There is sure to be some talk, however, on the ABM and on other weapons projects which figured in the long procurement controversy. That talk will be time-consuming as the Christmas carols echo elsewhere.

CIVIL RIGHTS — Also pending in the Senate is the annual money bill for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In recent weeks Senate southerners, led by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., have been making speeches highlighting school segregation in northern states.

If they seek to restrict availability of funds for the office of education, they could tie the Senate in knots and dim hopes for pre-Christmas approval of all the money bills.

There is another civil rights controversy which could cause delay. It involves the so-called "Philadelphia Plan," devised by the Labor Department, which requires contractors on government construction projects in the Philadelphia area to meet goals for employment of Negroes and other racial minorities.

Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats has told a judiciary subcommittee that the Philadelphia Plan is a quota system — discrimination in reverse — and is therefore barred under civil rights laws. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell is supporting the Labor Department and the plan.

The "Philadelphia Plan" could cause delay if opponents seek to void it through one of the still-pending money bills.

If you make people think they're thinking, they'll love you; but if you really make them think, they'll hate you. — Don Marquis.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Powerful Tropic Marijuana Really Blows Soldiers' Minds

What makes some marijuana stronger than others?

According to reports in recent medical journals, the mind-bending chemicals are found in the plant's resins. In hot climates the plant develops more resins to protect itself from the sun, and thus marijuana from the tropics is much more powerful than that grown in milder climates.

Several cases of "freaked-out" soldiers treated in Vietnam after smoking marijuana have been reported by doctors there, who were surprised to find that the plant can have such hallucinogenic properties.

One case described in a medical journal tells of a soldier who shot a fellow guard, thinking that he had killed Ho Chi Minh. For two days he insisted that he had done away with the Communist leader and couldn't understand until the marijuana wore off why he wasn't being treated like a hero.

Dr. William Lamers Jr., a Marin psychiatrist who has been speaking to various groups lately about his own experiences with the strong, tropical marijuana, even has wondered aloud if the Song My tragedy could have had some connection with the abundance of potent marijuana in Vietnam.

SPEAKING OF DOPE, a story that I had heard some weeks ago reguarding problems at San Quentin Prison with heroin has been confirmed by Warden Louis S. Nelson in the San Quentin News.

He recently wrote of a call from an inmate who was out on a 72-hour furlough who was afraid to return to the prison. It seems the convict had been instructed before he left on furlough to return with narcotics "or else."

"He was faced with a serious problem," the warden wrote. " . . . If he carried out the plan he would be committing a felony; if he didn't, he would be committing suicide, and if he failed to return, he would be wanted for escape."

Fortunately, this particular inmate took the only course by calling the warden and, according to Nelson, the problem was satisfactorily handled.

THERE'S PRETTY MUCH agreement among those who follow the scene that the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau has cleaned up the county so that it no longer is a haven for big drug pushers. The biggest fish caught in the narks' nets are mostly in prison or long gone from the county.

"However," someone commented to me sadly recently, "anyone who wants drugs can just drive over to San Francisco."

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Bagley In New Approach To School Tax Control

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A different approach to school taxes is contained in a bill that may be hotly debated in the 1970 session of the California Legislature.

The measure would replace the limit on school tax rates by a limit on the amount per pupil that a school district could spend without voter authorization.

These ceilings would be on the spending for what the Education Code calls "current expenses of education." These include most of the schools' operating expenses except for various miscellaneous costs. Whenever the California Department of Education reports expenditures per pupil, it bases these solely on the "current expenses of education."

THE PROPOSED measure would not reduce this outlay per pupil in any district below what it is in the current school year.

The ceiling for next year would be whichever of these is higher:

1. The amount per pupil in average daily attendance expended for "current expenses of education" this fiscal year, or,

2. In an elementary district $574 per pupil; in a high school district, $706 per pupil; in a unified school district, $683 per pupil; in a junior college district, $873 per pupil.

To allow for inflation, it would permit these figures to rise by not more than 4 per cent per year.

The district board could then levy whatever tax rate was necessary to provide this amount per pupil. If it wanted to spend more per pupil, it would have to go to the voters.

THIS NEW approach did not come out of the education committeee in either house of the legislature. It originated in the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, headed by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley points out that it would get rid of the outmoded statutory limits on the "general purpose operating tax rates" of school districts — which are the rates that, plus state funds, provide the money for "current expenses of education." But it would not leave the school districts free to hike tax rates as they pleased.

IT WOULD, in addition, impose a new kind of tax rate ceiling that is not included in existing law. It would put a limit on the levies for things outside of "current expenses of education," other than retirement of bond issues and repayment of state school building loans.

These are the levies known as "overides." There are more than 30 of them — not all applying to all kinds of school districts. Some of them have statutory limits but some have none. In some districts these overrides increase the school tax rate by $1 or more per $100 assessed valuation.

The proposed bill would limit the "override" levy to 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation in unified districts, 7 cents in elementary districts, and 8 cents in high school and junior college districts. This in itself would mean a tax reduction in most school districts.

THE BILL actually came into being in the Revenue and Taxation Committee during the 1969 legislature. The committee simply took Bagley's AB 1430, dealing with property tax assessment appeals, and substituted the wording of the school tax measure, leaving only the number intact.

In the fight over repeal of the Unruh Education Act section which would have given school districts carte blanche taxing power in 1971, Bagley's AB 1430 never reached a vote. But — with a new number and probably a little revision — it is likely to get a good deal more attention next session.

'Loaded' Candy Arraignment

Robert Reamer Jackson, 18, of 99 Magnolia Avenue, San Anselmo, was arraigned Monday in Marin Municipal Court on a felony charge of possessing LSD after police said that he had jelly beans which were spiked with the drug.

Jackson was stopped Saturday by police who wanted to serve a traffic warrant on him. They said they were suspicious of the candy because a 16-year-old girl treated a few days earlier for a "bad trip" reported eating a jelly bean laced with LSD.

Lt. James Schwedhelm of the Marin Country Drug Abuse Bureau said that a test showed that Jackson's candy was loaded.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. yesterday ordered that Jackson be held at Marin Juvenile Hall instead of the county jail.

Christmas Party

Magician's tricks, a play and songs by Edna Maguire School students and a visit from Santa Claus will highlight the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department's children's Christmas party at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Mill Valley Golf Clubhouse.

The Republic of Panama is about the size of Maine.

Nixon In Peace Call At Lighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon has dedicated the nation's Christmas tree as a symbol of America's hope for peace in a ceremony in which a small group of anti-war demonstrators chanted peace slogans in the background.

The chanting came as Nixon spoke at the Pageant of Peace last night, then pressed a button that lit up 5,000 red and white lights on the 65-foot high spruce.

"May this moment be one when America looked forward to a decade in which America could enjoy Christmas at peace with all the countries of the world," the President said.

Stolen Engine Leads To Teen's Guilty Plea

Carl Leon Curry, 19, of San Rafael, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of receiving stolen property. A second charge of auto theft was dismissed.

Curry was arrested Nov. 15 after sheriff's deputies, acting on a tip, found a stolen engine in his car.

Frisbee Playing In Nude Is Hit

BERKELEY (AP) — Playing frisbee in the nude on Faculty Glade at the University of California is unlawful, a municipal court jury decided last night.

After three hours of deliberation, jurors convicted non-students Reginald Gulick, 21, and Della Striker, 19, of nude exposure, a misdemeanor punishable by not more than six months in prison and $500 fine.

During the trial, campus policeman Ralph Gano said that on Sept. 25, "I observed this couple playing frisbee in the nude."

DAILY Independent Journal Est. 1861
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Reason For Not Planning Now Reason For Planning

"The West Marin Master Plan was adopted by Marin County Board of Supervisors on July 10, 1967, and subsequently amended on March 4, 1969.

"The West Marin Master Plan omitted area intended to be included within the Point Reyes National Seashore because of impending acquisition thereof by the federal government."

Thus begins the preamble of an urgency ordinance adopted Dec. 2 by the county supervisors, by unanimous vote except for the absence of Supervisor William H. Gnoss.

What the ordinance does is freeze for 90 days any subdivision or any kind of building on privately owned lands within the limits of the proposed national seashore. Violation is a misdemeanor or punishable by $500 fine and/or six months in jail.

THE OSTENSIBLE PURPOSE of the 90-day freeze is to allow the county planning department time to draw up a master plan for the privately owned lands within the seashore — something purposely left out of the long-debated West Marin Master Plan which was adopted in 1967.

There is a strange anomaly here.

When the West Marin Master Plan was drawn up, it was quite evident that some years might elapse before the federal government completed purchase of lands for Point Reyes National Seashore. In fact, there was considerable doubt by 1967 whether the seashore would ever be expanded to the full acreage proposed for it.

The situation is quite different now.

A bill freeing $35 million to complete the land purchase is on the floor of the House of Representatives, approved by its committee on interior and insular affairs. The bill has the backing of the White House. President Nixon has pledged that the Point Reyes land purchases will get top priority if the bill passes. Opposition to it appears minimal.

THE REASON that prevailed for leaving the park lands out of the master plan when it was started in 1961, and when it was completed and adopted six years later, is much more cogent now. "Impending acquisition thereof by the federal government" is much more a reality now than it was then.

So now, the reason that was used for not master planning the area eight years ago, and four years ago, and two years ago, suddenly becomes a reason for doing a hurry-up master planning job for it.

This does not make much sense to the Marin Property Owners Association, who objected strongly to the quickie adoption of the urgency ordinance. It does not make much sense to us either.

IF THE PURPOSE is merely to prevent anything that would increase land values while Congress has time to complete action on the money bill, we would go along. But why the sudden desire for a master plan?

The Marin Property Owners Association is fearful the 90-day "freeze" is but a prelude to a much longer "freeze," whether the $35 million appropriation clears Congress or not.

The association has reason for its fear. No master plan has ever emerged from the county planning department in 90 days yet. Nor in six months. Nor, with perhaps one or two exceptions, in a year.

The board of supervisors appears to be playing some kind of a game here with people's private property. We don't like the look of it.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

State Senate Power Struggle Finds Republicans Disunited

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The power struggle in the state Senate is on full force as the 1970 session approaches, with a move to revise the membership of the important and powerful rules committee as it was set up by President Pro Tem Howard Way, R-Tulare.

Sen. H. L. Richardson, R-Arcadia, belonging to the more conservative group of Republicans in the Senate, has announced he will seek membership on the committee, when the membership is up for vote during organization of the Senate.

Richardson has had a remarkable record of getting what he wants from that body. At present, he is chairman of the Republican caucus, having succeeded veteran Donald Grunsky, R-Watsonville, in that position.

The Arcadia senator's reason for disturbing the makeup of the Senate is to displace Sen. Robert S. Stevens, R-Los Angeles, as a member. Stevens was appointed by Senator Way when the Tulare senator engineered the removal of Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, during the last session.

Richardson feels that the best interests of the Senate will be served if the conservatives have more authority in the operation of the upper house. Stevens has been, since his election, identified with the more liberal group of Republican senators.

One of the most important committee chairmanships, that of fish and game, is held by Richardson, and will have to be given up if he is elected to the rules committee. However, he expects to retain his membership on fish and game.

Meanwhile, Senator Way is not having all the smooth sailing that could be expected if the Republicans in the Senate were acting as a unit.

Sen. Jack Schrade, R-San Diego, a Way opponent from the beginning, is exploring the possibility of displacing the newly elected president pro tem.

However, Schrade's efforts are pretty well discounted. Generally, it is conceded that Way is safe in his post for the time being, and will remain safe if he keeps reasonably in line and doesn't ruffle too many feathers (not more than 19 at the most).

While the in-fighting goes on in the Republican ranks, the Democrats for the most part are sitting back chortling. They are aware that the Way faction in the Senate can do little if anything of importance without the cooperation of the Democratic group which put him in office in the first place.

Thus, it readily can be seen that the Republicans have a fairly long way to go before they are in complete control of the upper house.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Moon Flights: More Mixed Priorities

The letter from Dr. Carolyn B. Allbrecht recently published in the I-J should arouse mixed thoughts about our government spending. These moon flights are ill-timed with so much poverty and unrest on our own earth. America should rest on her laurels of being "first man to the moon" and turn her billions to earthly needs such as medical research and alleviating poverty.

Let man's lust for power take a temporary back-seat until the earth is once more at peace. No more trips to the moon. Remember, we, as taxpayers are paying dearly for those manned flights.

Nature Conservancy Likes Coverage

On behalf of the Nature Conservancy, I would like to thank the Independent-Journal for its recent coverage of our San Francisco Bay Project. As noted in our releases, we regard the bay coastline of Marin County to be the most beautiful on the whole bay and we are dedicating a great deal of energy to saving it in its natural state.

The coverage provided by your paper has helped tremendously in spreading the word about our project, and we have already noticed that nearly everyone we now talk to in Marin County has heard of the Nature Conservancy's work on San Francisco Bay. We very much appreciate your paper's contribution to our welcome in Marin County.

Student Disagrees With Carl Brown

I would like to air a few of my personal responses to San Rafael school board member Carl J. Brown's remarks concerning high schools printed in the Dec. 10 Independent-Journal.

As a high school student, I recognize the fact that I have biases, just as Mr. Brown has as a teacher. At the risk of being called a nit-picker, I must, in fairness to myself and my generation, respond to parts of his statement.

Mr. Brown states "there are too many bad apples", referring to disruptive high school students. I submit that this has always been the case; the difference is that the troublemakers of the present are far more vocal than those of the past, thus commanding more attention.

As far as these individuals making school "an impossible situation for those who really want to learn", I must again disagree. Anyone who has the ability and desire to excel, can do so. Learning is not hampered, at least not in my school. . .

Mr. Brown goes on to state, "Parents inform me of the odor of marijuana in the halls, and from parked cars at noon." . . . Perhaps Mr. Brown should do his own sniffing at all the schools, rather than rely on parents — a group which I honestly do not find as regular students in my classes. . .

I feel Mr. Brown has leveled an unfortunate indictment against the local high schools, which he has poorly supported in the above mentioned areas. . . .

Public Servants Deserve Praise

I am writing this to let you know what a wonderful police department, fire department and ambulance service we have in San Anselmo.

A lady fainted in front of a store and before I hung up the receiver the Policeman Del Santo was there and the wonderful cooperation, the team worked together, it was very touching to see such wonderful people so nice and kind and gentle.

Marty Kent Jones Alleges Bias

How grossly sad it is that your paper doesn't know the difference between reporting and passing judgement. If you had the time to reread every single article in your library written by the I-J, regarding the Corte Madera flood project, as I have recently done, you would evidence a classic collection of bias.

Your attitude and obvious contempt for the cause of saving Marin's natural assets is blatant. We who must push uphill against biased publicity find it a heartbreaking disgrace to our democratic way of life. A good, clean and open discussion of all sides of a question (no facts withheld and no fabrications made) is a wonderful thing to behold! Good reporting should be just that: the facts presented and the reader given the dignity of making up his own mind.

The "I-J Reporter's Notebook," Dec. 4 by Alan Jones, pointed an accusing finger at the (San Francisco) Chronicle's article of Nov. 30. He said the article was full of barnacles of untruth. I demand a retraction and also a statement of the facts as they were so professionally given by Carolyn Drewes in the Sunday Chronicle. She spent hours on research; your man Jones didn't even ask anyone whether I was behind bars or not; he just said it was a lie to say that I had been. What's his gripe? Why fuss over such small points anyway? The cause is the real point. Our county is disappearing under bulldozer and concrete, in cases where alternatives are possible; and we intend to enlist more and more wise and thoughtful and strong people to the cause of survival, Nature's and ours! Don't be so frightened; investigate; come talk to me; do research into all sides; "tell it like it is!"

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Salvador Dali is not only a great artist, but a tough man to upstage. A hoity-hoity Italian countess tried it on him at a recent soiree, sniffing, "I'm afraid I don't understand what you're trying to do. I'm only familiar with such masters as Van Dyck, Rubens, and Michelangelo." Dali nodded, twirled his famous mustachio, and remarked, "Your contemporaries, no doubt."

Senate Vote Adds To Doubt That Democracy Really Can Work

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Maybe the U.S. Senate just doesn't know what is going on in this country. It's acting that way.

It's making things worse.

It is abetting a mounting and perilous doubt that democratic government can work — work well and respond to the pressing needs of the nation.

Cynicism about the integrity of elected officials is growing. Many Americans with just grievances feel our institutions fail to do their job, unwilling or unable to come to grips with what most needs to be done. The Senate is adding to this spreading doubt.

HOW IS IT doing this? By passage of its who-cares-about-inflation tax bill on an overwhelming vote of 69 to 22.

Why should so many senators vote for this amendment-laden mess and simultaneously hope — almost pray — that the House-Senate conference will rescue them from the monstrosity they created?

Because one senator after another had piled it so high with what each thought would be an election-appeal goodie that in the end few had the courage to stand up and say no.

It is bad for the country, bad for the economy, bad for the government.

It is opportunist, please-the-voter, wreck-the-country politics carried out with sly confidence that the Senate could vote for the worst and be saved by the more responsible House of Representatives.

And that isn't the most grievous offense of what has just gone on in the Senate.

THE WORST is that so many senators should still be so buried in crass, buy-votes politics and so far removed from the realities of today's America that they can be so heedless, so unaware of what they are abetting.

When the Senate of the United States votes to deprive the federal government of some $12 billion critically needed for welfare, for antipollution, for aid to the ghettos, for revenue-sharing with the states, it fuels cynicism and destroys faith in the democratic process. It plays into the hands of the violent who want democracy to falter and fail.

When every Democratic liberal in the Senate — the big spenders — votes to provide the government with less money, they are showing that they are either politically insincere or fiscally reckless. And the end result is to spread cynicism, skepticism and voter alienation still further.

WHEN 69 SENATORS vote to reduce federal revenue at a time when the economy is still overheated and inflation still unchecked, they are showing that either they do not grasp or do not have the courage to apply the New Economics except when it is politically easy.

The New Economics says that when the economy needs stimulus, taxes should be reduced and when the economy needs restraint, taxes should be increased. But if the Senate is going to apply half of the New Economics — cutting taxes because it is pleasant and refusing to maintain or raise taxes because it is politically painful — then the nation is going to get the worst of both worlds. No wonder liberal Republican Sen. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts called what the Senate did last week "catastrophic" and voted against it.

THE GRIMMEST political truth today is that nationwide cynicism about the responsible, responsive functioning of our institutions of government is mounting and is eroding faith in democracy itself.

The House will probably remove the worst features of the tax bill, but it should not be overlooked that the Senate's irresponsible action tends to prove that the cynics are right and tears down confidence in democratic government when it most needs to be strengthened.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Post-Christmas Session On Money Bills Looms

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Congressional leaders are driving hard to complete action on appropriations bills before Christmas, but there are plenty of pitfalls ahead.

There is a very real possibility that President Nixon will have to make good on his recent threat to call the lawmakers back into session right after the holiday.

By tradition (and not by constitutional edict, as is sometimes claimed) the House originates all the money bills. They have been syrup-slow in reaching the Senate this year.

Now, with the holiday deadline ahead, there is an added hazard in the Senate's permissive rule book which lets any senator or group of senators offer just about any amendment and talk on it at length.

The annual appropriation bills tend themselves to replay major controversies, recent and long-gone. So there are many temptations for senators who have failed to get their way on authorizations previously rejected (or approved).

Before this year's appropriation bills are all sent to the President's desk, the Senate may even have to fight another skirmish in the battle over defense spending and renew the struggle over civil rights.

DEFENSE — In July, August and September the Senate spent six weeks on the military authorization bill. About a month of that period was devoted to President Nixon's controversial plan for deploying the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system.

Two very close votes, 51-49 and 51-50 (with Vice President Agnew casting a vote) approved the ABM deployment. Now two pro-ABM senators — Karl Mundt, R-S.D., and Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M. — are ill and not available for roll call votes.

The House has approved funds for the deployment. All Senate opponents could achieve now in the eventual Senate-House compromise would be a reduction in the deployment funds. That may not be worth the pre-holiday effort, since a similar opportunity will be offered early next year.

There is sure to be some talk, however, on the ABM and on other weapons projects which figured in the long procurement controversy. That talk will be time-consuming as the Christmas carols echo elsewhere.

CIVIL RIGHTS — Also pending in the Senate is the annual money bill for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In recent weeks Senate southerners, led by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., have been making speeches highlighting school segregation in northern states.

If they seek to restrict availability of funds for the office of education, they could tie the Senate in knots and dim hopes for pre-Christmas approval of all the money bills.

There is another civil rights controversy which could cause delay. It involves the so-called "Philadelphia Plan," devised by the Labor Department, which requires contractors on government construction projects in the Philadelphia area to meet goals for employment of Negroes and other racial minorities.

Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats has told a judiciary subcommittee that the Philadelphia Plan is a quota system — discrimination in reverse — and is therefore barred under civil rights laws. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell is supporting the Labor Department and the plan.

The "Philadelphia Plan" could cause delay if opponents seek to void it through one of the still-pending money bills.

If you make people think they're thinking, they'll love you; but if you really make them think, they'll hate you. — Don Marquis.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By MARY LEYDECKER

Powerful Tropic Marijuana Really Blows Soldiers' Minds

What makes some marijuana stronger than others?

According to reports in recent medical journals, the mind-bending chemicals are found in the plant's resins. In hot climates the plant develops more resins to protect itself from the sun, and thus marijuana from the tropics is much more powerful than that grown in milder climates.

Several cases of "freaked-out" soldiers treated in Vietnam after smoking marijuana have been reported by doctors there, who were surprised to find that the plant can have such hallucinogenic properties.

One case described in a medical journal tells of a soldier who shot a fellow guard, thinking that he had killed Ho Chi Minh. For two days he insisted that he had done away with the Communist leader and couldn't understand until the marijuana wore off why he wasn't being treated like a hero.

Dr. William Lamers Jr., a Marin psychiatrist who has been speaking to various groups lately about his own experiences with the strong, tropical marijuana, even has wondered aloud if the Song My tragedy could have had some connection with the abundance of potent marijuana in Vietnam.

SPEAKING OF DOPE, a story that I had heard some weeks ago reguarding problems at San Quentin Prison with heroin has been confirmed by Warden Louis S. Nelson in the San Quentin News.

He recently wrote of a call from an inmate who was out on a 72-hour furlough who was afraid to return to the prison. It seems the convict had been instructed before he left on furlough to return with narcotics "or else."

"He was faced with a serious problem," the warden wrote. " . . . If he carried out the plan he would be committing a felony; if he didn't, he would be committing suicide, and if he failed to return, he would be wanted for escape."

Fortunately, this particular inmate took the only course by calling the warden and, according to Nelson, the problem was satisfactorily handled.

THERE'S PRETTY MUCH agreement among those who follow the scene that the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau has cleaned up the county so that it no longer is a haven for big drug pushers. The biggest fish caught in the narks' nets are mostly in prison or long gone from the county.

"However," someone commented to me sadly recently, "anyone who wants drugs can just drive over to San Francisco."

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Bagley In New Approach To School Tax Control

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A different approach to school taxes is contained in a bill that may be hotly debated in the 1970 session of the California Legislature.

The measure would replace the limit on school tax rates by a limit on the amount per pupil that a school district could spend without voter authorization.

These ceilings would be on the spending for what the Education Code calls "current expenses of education." These include most of the schools' operating expenses except for various miscellaneous costs. Whenever the California Department of Education reports expenditures per pupil, it bases these solely on the "current expenses of education."

THE PROPOSED measure would not reduce this outlay per pupil in any district below what it is in the current school year.

The ceiling for next year would be whichever of these is higher:

1. The amount per pupil in average daily attendance expended for "current expenses of education" this fiscal year, or,

2. In an elementary district $574 per pupil; in a high school district, $706 per pupil; in a unified school district, $683 per pupil; in a junior college district, $873 per pupil.

To allow for inflation, it would permit these figures to rise by not more than 4 per cent per year.

The district board could then levy whatever tax rate was necessary to provide this amount per pupil. If it wanted to spend more per pupil, it would have to go to the voters.

THIS NEW approach did not come out of the education committeee in either house of the legislature. It originated in the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, headed by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley points out that it would get rid of the outmoded statutory limits on the "general purpose operating tax rates" of school districts — which are the rates that, plus state funds, provide the money for "current expenses of education." But it would not leave the school districts free to hike tax rates as they pleased.

IT WOULD, in addition, impose a new kind of tax rate ceiling that is not included in existing law. It would put a limit on the levies for things outside of "current expenses of education," other than retirement of bond issues and repayment of state school building loans.

These are the levies known as "overides." There are more than 30 of them — not all applying to all kinds of school districts. Some of them have statutory limits but some have none. In some districts these overrides increase the school tax rate by $1 or more per $100 assessed valuation.

The proposed bill would limit the "override" levy to 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation in unified districts, 7 cents in elementary districts, and 8 cents in high school and junior college districts. This in itself would mean a tax reduction in most school districts.

THE BILL actually came into being in the Revenue and Taxation Committee during the 1969 legislature. The committee simply took Bagley's AB 1430, dealing with property tax assessment appeals, and substituted the wording of the school tax measure, leaving only the number intact.

In the fight over repeal of the Unruh Education Act section which would have given school districts carte blanche taxing power in 1971, Bagley's AB 1430 never reached a vote. But — with a new number and probably a little revision — it is likely to get a good deal more attention next session.

'Loaded' Candy Arraignment

Robert Reamer Jackson, 18, of 99 Magnolia Avenue, San Anselmo, was arraigned Monday in Marin Municipal Court on a felony charge of possessing LSD after police said that he had jelly beans which were spiked with the drug.

Jackson was stopped Saturday by police who wanted to serve a traffic warrant on him. They said they were suspicious of the candy because a 16-year-old girl treated a few days earlier for a "bad trip" reported eating a jelly bean laced with LSD.

Lt. James Schwedhelm of the Marin Country Drug Abuse Bureau said that a test showed that Jackson's candy was loaded.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. yesterday ordered that Jackson be held at Marin Juvenile Hall instead of the county jail.

Nixon In Peace Call At Lighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon has dedicated the nation's Christmas tree as a symbol of America's hope for peace in a ceremony in which a small group of antiwar demonstrators chanted peace slogans in the background.

The chanting came as Nixon spoke at the Pageant of Peace last night, then pressed a button that lit up 5,000 red and white lights on the 65-foot high spruce.

"May this moment be one when America looked forward to a decade in which America could enjoy Christmas at peace with all the countries of the world," the President said.

Stolen Engine Leads To Teen's Guilty Plea

Carl Leon Curry, 19, of San Rafael, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of receiving stolen property. A second charge of auto theft was dismissed.

Curry was arrested Nov. 15 after sheriff's deputies, acting on a tip, found a stolen engine in his car.

Frisbee Playing In Nude Is Hit

BERKELEY (AP) — Playing frisbee in the nude on Faculty Glade at the University of California is unlawful, a municipal court jury decided last night.

After three hours of deliberation, jurors convicted non-students Reginald Gulick, 21, and Della Striker, 19, of nude exposure, a misdemeanor punishable by not more than six months in prison and $500 fine.

During the trial, campus policeman Ralph Gano said that on Sept. 25, "I observed this couple playing frisbee in the nude."

INDUCTEES FOR A NEW MARIN UNIT

Sixty-five recruits from Marin and the Bay Area were sworn into the 904th Military Airlift Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base today. The unit, transferred from Stewart Air Force Base near Newburgh, N.Y., is being strengthened because many of its 950 men, all reservists, chose not to come to California. Standing in the front row to the left of Capt. Harold L. Davis, personnel officer for the 904th, are five Marinites (from left) —William Casassa, 18; Wayne Magliulo, 18; Clyde Faus, 18, and Don Graham, 22, all of San Rafael, and Ed Dietrich, 18, of Novato. DOMINO THEORY BELIEVER

Reds' Foe Backs Nixon Asia Policy

LONDON (AP) — Sir Robert Grainger Ker Thompson, the British guerrilla fighter President Richard M. Nixon consulted in Vietnam War policy, is a domino man.

He subscribes heavily to the theory that if America lets South Vietnam fall to the Communists, the rest of South Asia will follow like a stack of dominoes.

"Anyone can produce arguments, which the ignorant will be happy to devour, against it," he said in a television interview Sunday. "But you go and ask the dominoes.

"I visited Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman in Kuala Lumpur and (Prime Minister) Lee Kuan Yew in Singapore and they are both perfectly clear on this—that if the United States fails in Vietnam then Asia will go Communist. And that will spread . . .

"So many people seem to be proposing that President Nixon should come out on the steps of the White House, with a piece of paper in his hand saying 'Peace in Our Time.' And we all know where that led last time."

In October, the veteran of the successful anti-Communist campaign in Malaya went to Vietnam to assess the war for Nixon.

On Monday, the President announced the withdrawal of another 50,000 troops from the war and made clear that Thompson had influenced his decision. Nixon said the Briton's report was "candid and impressive."

Thompson said of Nixon: "He is taking risks for peace and I think they are justifiable. We did not agree in everything, but we saw eye-to-eye on most things."

Thompson, 53, went to Malaya in 1938 as a cadet in the colonial service.

Thompson's career was forged as the Communist threat in Malaya advanced after World War II. He was made staff officer to the director of operations in 1950, when the guerrilla insurgency was at its height.

The problem in Malaya differed from that confronting the United States in several major respects: The Communist guerrillas were a small minority with no widespread support even among the Malayan Chinese. There was no Ho Chi Minh Trail to bring them supplies from outside. And the British after World War II fostered Malayan nationalism, while the French tried to crush the Vietnamese variety, developing a

Newark Mayor, Others Indicted On Extortion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio and eight other present or former Newark, N.J., officials were indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges involving extortion and income tax violations.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said the charges are contained in two indictments, one naming Addonizio, the officials and three other persons on income tax charges and a second 66-count action accusing Addonizio and 14 other Newark area men, some alleged Cosa Nostra leaders, of extorting $253,500 from an engineering firm.

It was the second major federal indictment announced in two days. Yesterday Simone (Sam the Plumber) DeCavalcante and 54 others were indicted in an alleged $20 million gambling ring.

The 15 were charged in one count of conspiring to affect interstate commerce by extortion. Anther charged them with thwarting construction in Newark, and 65 counts alleged they actually committed extortion against a firm identified as Constrad, Inc.

Each of the 65 extortion charges alleged that the 15 obtained 65 separate payments from Constrad. The engineering firm serves as a consultant, prime contractor and subcontractor for various city projects, such as sewer construction and urban renewal.

The payments ranged from $500 to $37,000, the indictment said. It added that officials of the firm were "induced both by the wrongful use of fear of financial injury and under color of official right" to make the payments.

Indicted were Addonizio, Director of Public Works Benjamin Krusch, Councilman Frank Addonizio, City Judge Anthony

Agents Nab Four, Hashish Hoard

LINDA REINBOLD

DAVID S. KING

GEORGE S. GARR

JEFFREY D. WYARD

Hashish valued at $134,000 on today's market as well as more than $24,000 in cash were seized yesterday by drug agents in a raid on a Tamalpais Valley motel in which four persons were arrested.

Booked into Marin County's new jail in the Civic Center were George Steven Garr, 23, and Linda Ann Reinbold, 19, who gave their address as the Fountain Motel; David Stuart King, 25, of Billings, Mont., and Jeffrey David Wyard, 25 of Missoula, Mont.

Agent Alfred Teixeira of the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau said that the Fountain Motel had been watched for several days before yesterday's raid after an unusual amount of traffic was seen going to rooms there. He added that the drug abuse bureau also received anonymous calls reporting that narcotics sales were being made at the motel.

Yesterday afternoon, Teixeira knocked on the door of Room 20 and when he was greeted with a heavy odor of stale hashish smoke, he arrested King and Wyard, who said they are students who came to Marin from Montana about two weeks ago.

In their room agents found most of the approximately 30 pounds of hashish which was seized as well as $24,400 in a paper bag on the bed. Also found were three kilos of suspected marijuana and several hundred tablets agents thought were LSD.

In another room in the motel, agents found the remainder of the drugs plus Garr and Miss Reinbold.

Teixeira said that the raid, joined by state agents, was made after he received information that the group was leaving the motel today.

Garr and Miss Reinbold were booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale, possessing restricted drugs for sale and possession of narcotics. Their bail was set at $6,250.

King was booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale with his bail set at $12,500. Wyard was arrested on suspicion of possessing marijuana, restricted drugs and narcotics for sale and his bail was $12,500. All were held in lieu of bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

$1 Commute Raise Asked By Bus Line

Greyhound Acts On Gate Span Toll Increase Vote

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A flat $1 hike in the cost of all 20-ride coupon books sold to Marin commuters was asked today by Greyhound Lines West.

The bus company has said on Monday that it would ask for a 4.5 to 5 per cent fare hike, but today told the Independent-Journal that further study of its need for more revenue found the $1 hike on all coupon books would be the "fairest" way to raise the money.

The hike, which would be the fifth in less than five years, was needed to cover the cost of a sharp jump in tolls on the Golden Gate Bridge, said Greyhound's general counsel, William L. McCracken.

BUS TOLL RAISED

McCracken said Greyhound's $1 increase would be asked in an application this afternoon to the California Public Utilities Commission. The application asks that the fare hike coincide with the Jan. 1 effective date of the toll hike, he said.

Bus tolls on the bridge were $1 until March 1965, when bridge directors cut it to 13 cents to encourage Greyhound to hold down fares. At that time, McCracken said, a Greyhound application for a fare hike was amended to pass the entire benefit of this toll cut on to the commuter.

COMMUTER PAYS?

For this reason, he said, the entire cost of the toll raise should also be passed on to the commuter. He figured the annual cost to Greyhound of the toll raise at $109,000 an upward revision from his estimate of $90,000 on Monday.

The net effect of the Greyhound application, if approved by the PUC, will be to cost most bus commuters $2 more a month, since most buy two coupon books a month, McCracken said.

Examples of the higher prices for the coupon books are in Sausalito, where the book cost will go from $9.10 to $10.10; in San Rafael, where the cost will go from $13.60 to $14.60; and in Novato, ehere it will go from $15.90 to $16.90, McCracken said.

Greyhound's most recent fare hike, for 8.75 per cent, was approved by the PUC on Nov. 18, bringing the total hike since 1965 to 45 per cent, according to the PUC.

Opposition to the higher bridge toll for busses has been voted by the Marin County Transit District Board of directors and last night by the Sausalito City Council. The bridge board should rescind the hike until it operates its own transit system, both bodies said.

Plan Afoot To Revamp The Auto

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Nixon administration has drafted a five-year plan for an alternative to the dirty, noisy standard car motor. The possibilities include steam engines, gas turbines, electric cars —and even "exotic energy conversion techniques."

The plans calls for making "unconventional" new cars commercially available by the mid-1970s if everything works right —or at least by the 1980s.

"Although progress is being made in control of pollutant emissions from the internal combustion engine, it is becoming increasingly attractive and imperative that alternative control concepts be developed," the plan said.

The plan was developed by the Health, Education and Welfare Department and was recommended to President Richard M. Nixon last week by his air quality advisory board.

The standard automobile engine is too dirty and too noisy, says the HEW plan.

"The availability of alternatives to the internal combustion engine will influence environmental control in at least three areas: Air pollution control, indoor and occupational health

Nixons Planning California Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon are expected to fly to their Southern California home the day after Christmas — barring a special session of Congress.

The Nixons would spend about 10 days at their home in San Clemente, if present plans hold.

Nixon, however, last week told Congress he will call them into special session on Dec. 26 if they do not act before then on pending appropriation bills. At the same time, Nixon said that if Congress members had to stay in Washington during the holidays, he would be here with them.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

No More Lightning?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Stricter rules on manned rocket launches during bad weather will be enforced to avoid a scare like the one from two lightning bolts that struck Apollo 12 last month, the testing chief for the Manned Spacecraft Center says.

Don Arabian, here for a conference of the American Geophysical Union, told newsmen Wednesday that the Saturn booster for the moon-bound Apollo 12 generated two lightning bolts as it passed through a cloud layer shortly after liftoff.

If the same conditions exist in the future as on Nov. 14 when the Apollo 12 craft generated two lightning bolts after liftoff, Arabian said, "there would be no launch."

Lords Argue Hanging

LONDON (AP) — The British House of Commons voted nearly 2 to 1 Tuesday night to abolish capital punishment, but the outcome in the House of Lords is in doubt.

The Lords open a two-day debate on the issue today, with many Conservative peers favoring the return of the hangman. Two amendments were proposed in the upper house, one to delay a decision until next summer and another to postpone the decision for at least another year.

Parliament in 1965 suspended the death penalty for a trial period of five years. The House of Commons voted 343-185 last night to make the suspension permanent.

Charge To Nixon?

TORONTO (AP) — Beatle John Lennon says he is going to send the $72,000 bill for a forthcoming Christmas poster peace campaign to President Richard M. Nixon.

Thousands of the posters — bearing the message "War is over, if you want it" — are due to go on display in 11 of the world's major cities during the next week.

"They cost less than the life of one man and I am sending the bill for printing to President Richard Nixon," Lennon said as he arrived at International Airport with his wife, Yoko Ono.

El Al Trial Ends

WINTERTHUR, Switzerland (AP) — The three-week El Al trial ended today with the verdicts on three Arab commandos and an Israeli security agent expected Monday.

Mohamed Abu el Heiga, 24, Tawfik Ibrahim Yousef, 34, and Amena Dahbor, 22, all members of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, are accused of killing Yoram Peres, an Israeli trainee pilot who died of bullet wounds after their machinegun attack on an El Al airliner at Zurich airport Feb. 18.

The Israeli agent, Mordechai Rachamim, 23, is accused of killing a fourth Arab, Abdel Mehsen, under extenuating circumstances.

Hayakawa Speech At Cornell Draws Jeers, Chicken

ITAHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—Ignoring jeers and a live chicken thrown on the stage, S. I. Hayakawa told Cornell University students last night he believed young persons should serve in a national service corps.

Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, president of San Francisco State University, said, "Our young men and women from 14 to 20 are our greatest underused natural resource."

He suggested young persons spend two years in a national service corps as mental hospital assistants, teachers aides or urban conservation workers.

The controversial administrator said the service would give young persons a "sense of meaningful involvement in society," something they now lack.

At one point in the speech, someone threw a live chicken on the stage and yelled, "You're a turkey." The chicken was removed immediately.

Agnew Sparks Mail

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System says a network program devoted to discussion of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's criticism of television drew more than 5,000 letters, a majority approving CBS' handling of the issue.

CBS added however that the over-all mail ran 4- to 5-1 in Agnew's favor in the 37,427 letters received at the network headquarters here since the vice president's Nov. 13 speech in Des Moines.

CBS newsman Mike Wallace, reporting the figures on the "60 Minutes" program last night, said the 37,427 total included 5,152 letters that responded to the Nov. 25 edition of the same program.

Heroin Kills Teens

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 200 teenagers have died this year from involvement with heroin, a city health official says.

Dr. Michael Baden, associate medical examiner, said Tuesday that 210 youngsters from 15 to 19 years old had died from heroin use this year, compared to 72 last year. Another 250 deaths from heroin have been reported in the age 20 to 24 bracket, he said.

Baden predicted more than 900 persons would die by the year's end from heroin. He spoke at a hearing of the New York State Democratic Advisory Committee on Crime and Safety in the Streets.

Death Verdict

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A youth convicted of the gunshot murder of screenwriter Stirling Silliphant's 18-year-old son has been condemned to death by a jury.

Chester A. Johnson, 22, was convicted yesterday of killing Loren E. Silliphant in the latter's Hollywood apartment. The prosecution said Johnson had gone there in the mistaken supposition he could obtain narcotics.

Investigators expressed the belief Johnson had been given a wrong address.

Federation Session Canceled; No Forum

Last night's meeting of North Marin Federation was cancelled because of lack of a quorum, Evelyn Johnson, recording secretary, reported today.

The meeting for the purpose of electing officers has been rescheduled Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Bel Marin Keyes Community Center, south of Novato, according to Mrs. Johnson.

Nine Anarchists Held In Italy Bomb Deaths

ROME (AP) — Police in Milan and Rome charged nine members of a band of anarchists today with setting the bombs that killed 14 persons and injured more than 100 last weekend. Their motive, the Milan police chief said, was "anarchy itself."

A 10th member of the band, 41-year-old railroad worker Giuseppe Pinelli, leaped to his death from the fourth floor of the Milan police headquarters during questioning. early yesterday.

Among those charged was a 36-year-old ballet dancer, Pietro Valpreda, known to other dancers as "the cobra." The eight others implicated in the case are young students or workers, including a 19-year-old German girl. The police said they either helped build the bombs or set them off.

The most devastating blast jarred the Banca Nazionale della Agricoltura in Milan Friday, killing 14 persons and injuring 90. Three smaller explosions went off in Rome at about the same time, injuring 17.

Valpreda, one of more than 150 known extremists rounded up for questioning, was taken into custody in Rome shortly after the bombings. A Milan taxi driver identified him, saying he drove him to the bank shortly before the explosion. The driver said Valpreda told him to wait and came back a few minutes later without the bag.

The investigation of the bombings also turned up several caches of weapons kept by extremist groups. One was at Querceto, in central Italy, where police raided a Maoist group's headquarters and seized a submachine-gun, six Sten guns, six rifles, six pistols, nine shotguns, ammunition and a hand grenade.

Cleaver Demands Passport, But Not For U.S. Travel

BERKELEY (AP) — Eldridge Cleaver, fugitive leader of the Black Panther Party, doesn't intend to return to the United States, his attorney says.

The party's national headquarters released a statement yesterday it said was from Cleaver, who is in Algiers. The statement demanded a U.S. passport so he can travel widely.

The statement said Cleaver had refused a certificate which would permit him to return to the United States and contended he is entitled to a passport.

"I'd like him to come back, but as a free man, not as a slave," attorney Charles Garry said of Cleaver, wanted for parole violation.

"He'd have to spend the rest of his life in prison."

In the statement, Cleaver was quoted as saying, in part:

"They told me that they would give me a piece of paper that I could use to get back into the United States, where I would be arrested as soon as I got there.

"And they even wanted to pay my way back, and get me a ticket. I don't need them to book me no flights. All I want is a proper document of identification like everyone else is entitled to . . .

"We have no intention of being arrested either in Babylon or anywhere else in the world." Babylon is Cleaver's word for the United States.

Cleaver, convicted in Los Angeles for attempted murder, was on parole in April 1968 when he was charged in Oakland with attempted murder during a shootout between Oakland police and Panthers. Panther treasurer Bobby Hutton was killed in the shootout.

Youngsters Hurt

Time of the accident was not reported.

Calley Judge Looking Into Massacre Leak

FORT BENNING, GA. (AP) — The military judge who will preside at the murder trial of First Lt. William L. Calley Jr. has asked for the investigation of two former GIs and five news organizations in connection with published discussions of the alleged My Lai massacre.

Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy directed yesterday that the Justice Department be asked to investigate possible violations of his ban against discussion of the Calley case by potential witnesses and he asked to prosecute where warranted.

Kennedy cited four cases involving Herbert L. Carter and Ronald L. Haeberle, both former soldiers, and the National Broadcasting Co., Life Magazine, Time Magazine, the Houston Chronicle and the Associated Press.

The judge's order to prosecutors in the case came during a pretrial hearing at which defense counsel asked that charges against Calley be dropped. He appeared at the hearing with his counsel.

They contended that the Army acted too late in bringing the 26-year-old officer to trial because he was due for discharge last Sept. 6.

Calley is charged with the premediated murder of 109 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai in March 1968 and one civilian six months earlier.

Kennedy withheld a decision on the motion to dismiss. He said he will hear arguments on all motions at a Jan. 20 hearing. No date has been set for the Calley court-martial.

Kennedy ordered Nov. 25 that potential witnesses in the trial refrain from giving interviews to news media. He directed trial counsel to transmit his order to the witnesses.

He declared at yesterday's hearing that "the matter of violating this court's order by civilians or news media will be referred directly to the Justice Department for prosecution or possible prosecution."

Kennedy cited an interview with Carter published in the Houston Chronicle Dec. 10 and picked up by the Associated Press the same day. The story gave Carter's version of the action at My Lai.

Kennedy directed that a clipping of the Chronicle story and a notice of his order to Carter be forwarded to U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell with a request "to investigate and, if warranted, to prosecute the Houston Chronicle" and that the same request be made "with respect to The Associated Press."

The other instances cited by the judge were:

—One in which Kennedy quoted Cpl. Anthony Broussard as saying he was contacted by Life magazine and Time magazine, and that a representative of Time offered $7,000 and a sports car for an interview. "Refer this to the attorney general for investigation or prosecution," Kennedy ordered.

One involving an appearance by Haeberle, a former combat photographer, on the NBC "Today" show. "Same order," said Kennedy.

None of the five news organizations had any comment.

Photographs taken by Haeberle purporting to show civilian victims at My Lai and published in the Cleveland Plain Dealer were not discussed at the hearing. They were published before Kennedy issued his ban.

In another action, Kennedy extended his ban on public statements to Capt. Ernest L. Medina, Calley's company commander at the time of the My Lai operation.

Medina granted news interviews after the judge's ban was issued, but Kennedy said he had not included the captain in his original order.

"I was remiss in that" he said. "It never occured to me that Capt. Medina would grant an interview."

Medina has said at a news conference and in interviews that he gave no order for a massacre and did not see one at My Lai.

HELP TAKE THE PRESSURE-PAIN OUT OF PILES
by easing the itching, burning irritation of elimination...inside and out

Hemorrhoid sufferers, you really know how "flare-ups" can produce burning, irritation and discomfort. Regularity can bring further pressure and pain. Constipation is even worse! Doctors may prescribe an aid, like a stool softener, as part of their treatment, when surgery is not called for.

That's why new COUNTERNOID™ is so important. It's a formula that works as no other hemorrhoid remedy can:

1. COUNTERNOID's effective anti-pain drug eases sore, sensitive tissue for hours.
2. At the same time, COUNTERNOID acts to soothe and protect inflamed areas.
3. COUNTERNOID then actually softens even hard stools for easier passage.

By interrupting the friction-swelling-pain cycle of elimination, in many cases, COUNTERNOID lets swollen, inflamed tissue shrink...naturally.

COUNTERNOID, clinically tested by doctors, is now available from your pharmacist. Available in suppository and white cream form.

Burglar Suspect Faces Hearing

A preliminary hearing for Robert Lee Sisler, 20, of 400 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, who is accused of burglarizing the Citadel nightclub last Thursday night, has been set for Jan. 6.

Sisler was arrested along with Daniel John Johnston, 20, of 49 Valencia Street, San Rafael, when they were discovered in the nightclub's office by the owner, Irving B. Litchfield.

Litchfield captured Johnston at gunpoint, and Sisler was later caught by San Rafael police behind the Bourbon Shop at 36 Medway Road.

Friday afternoon when the two men appeared in municipal court for arraignment, Sisler dashed out of the courthouse, hotly pursued by a bailiff, Dwight Johnson. San Rafael police officer Anthony Hoke spotted the chase and caught Sisler at the intersection of Third and B streets.

Johnston, who is out on bail, is to enter a plea to the burglary charge Dec. 29.

Saigon's Increased Death Toll Reflects Bigger Role

SAIGON (AP) —The Saigon government's total of battlefield dead reported for the past seven months is more than double that of American forces, reflecting what President Nguyen Van Thieu calls their "increasing share" of the war effort.

South Vietnamese casualties have been higher than those suffered by American troops for 30 consecutive weeks, from May 10 through Dec. 6, according to official casulaty summaries.

During that period, 11,450 government soldiers and 4,907 Americans were reported killed in action.

During the first 19 weeks of the year, before the withdrawal of some 60,000 U.S. troops began, casualties were nearly equal, with 4,930 South Vietnamese and 4,292 Americans reported killed on the battlefield.

In the northern Mekong Delta, from which American infantrymen were withdrawn last summer in the first troop cutback, a battalion of 500 South Vietnamese was taken by surprise at sunset yesterday shortly after helicopters landed them in an area of palm groves and sugar cane fields to search out a Viet Cong battalion.

The government troops ran into mines, booby traps and a hail of machine gun fire that killed 20 men and wounded 63. Only two Viet Cong were known dead as the enemy pulled back in the dark.

In the past five weeks, South Vietnamese forces have been dealth at least four setbacks in the northern and central delta, with 113 of their men killed in those engagements and more than 100 wounded at a cost of only 16 Viet Cong known dead.

Viet Cong gunners shelled Saigon Tuesday for the first time in four months with a single 100-pound missle that landed in a group of houses adjacent to a hospital. Four civilians were wounded, one house was destroyed and two others were badly damaged.

U.S. Marines from the Fifth Regiment reported killing 27 North Vietnamese and rounding up 28 persons suspected of being miles southwest of Da Nang. Six Marines were wounded, U.S. headquarters said.

Two American helicopters were shot down, one near the Cambodian border 74 miles northeast of Saigon and the other in the Mekong Delta 118 er in the Mekong Delta. Five Americans were wounded.

These losses raised to 6,214 the number of U.S. helicopters and planes reported lost in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

Couple To Plead On Pot Charges

A Mill Valley man and his wife who were arrested Dec. 8 were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of cultivating and possessing marijuana.

Keith Lane Hadley, 29, and Doris Frye Hadley, 32, were told to return to court Jan. 5 to enter pleas to the charges.

They were arrested after police had been called to their house by a neighbor who said someone was trying to enter the residence. When officers arrived, they found prymarks around the door and entered the house to search for the burglar, but found suspected marijuana instead.

The Hadleys were arrested when they arrived home a short time later.

Dixie Senators Lose Round In School Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate overrode southern protests today and watered down an appropriations bill amendment curbing the government's school desegregation powers.

By a vote of 52-37, the Senate modified the amendment by adding the phrase "except as required by the Constitution," as proposed by Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

Southern senators denounced Scott's wording as destroying the effectiveness of the amendment. They sought to bar use of federal funds to force school shutdowns, the busing of school children, or assignment of pupils to schools against their parents' wishes.

Scott said the qualifying language, offered after a conference with Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch, had the full backing of the Nixon administration.

Finch had said that adoption of the amedment, without modification, could cripple the government's school desegregation efforts and would put his department in "an impossible administrative box."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said, "Our complaint is that the Health, Education and Welfare Department is applying one Constitution in the South and another Constitution outside the South."

This was his answer to a plea by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., for support of a move to qualify the amendment by adding the words, "Except as required by the Constitution."

"It seems to me that anyone who votes against that is saying I'm voting against the Constitution," said Griffin, the assistant GOP leader.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., said that adoption of Scott's wording would "completely scuttle" the purpose of the amendment.

The amendment was first written into the $21 billion appropriation measure for HEW, the Labor Department, and related agencies last summer in the House and was approved without substantial change by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Southern Democrats denounced Scott's proposal during yesterday's heated debate as "weasel words" that would destroy the effect of the original amendment.

Scott said "it is language which has the full backing of Secretary Finch and of the Nixon administration." But Sens. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., and John Stennis, D-Miss., said it was contrary to the position President Richard M. Nixon took in his election campaign last year.

Holland told the Senate he didn't believe Finch was speaking for the administration and added "I never will unless the President himself says so."

The amendment in the appropriations bill for HEW, the Labor Department, and related agencies was approved by the House last July and is known as the "Whitten amendment" for its author, Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss.

FIGHTER

countrywide hatred of the European as a result.

It still took the British 12 years to crush the insurgency. But in the process Thompson gained invaluable experience in guerrilla warfare and knowledge of the Asian revolutionary mind.

In 1961, he was made head of the British advisory mission in South Vietnam and for his three and one-half years of work there he was knighted.

Counter-insurgency absorbed him, his wife believes, because "he must have seen what happened on the ground floor—what happens among the peasants when there is a Communist infiltration. If you see terrorism at the root, you must become involved."

His first book, "Defeating Communist Insurgency", was published in 1966. This year his "No Exit from Vietnam" came out and established his name in the United States. It attributed American embarrassment in Vietnam to obscurity of aim, failure of strategy and lack of control. He concluded that the President had two options: defeat or continuation of the war by "a new long-haul, low-cost strategy."

Thompson says he is neither a hawk nor a dove—"both extremes are dangerous." Neither would he accept defeat.

He regards the Paris peace talks as a dangerous second front set up by the North Vietnamese.

"The moment you get into negotiations, you automatically erode the resolution of the other side, and this is what they are after . . ."

In another interview he said the balance of the war had changed—"they are weaker tactically and psychologically and we are now stronger.

"The Viet Cong are no longer 10 feet tall. They are more like frightened 16-year-olds. They are on the way out."

The 1968 Tet offensive "was the turning point," he continued.

However, this "cold war administrator," as he calls himself, cautioned that "it could take three to five years before Hanoi was compelled to give up her purpose and to negotiate a real settlement."

INDICT

Giuliano, Councilman Irvine I. Turner and Councilman Calvin D. West.

Also named were Anthony La Morte, executive director of the Newark Municipal Utilities Authority; Norman N. Schiff, former Newark corporation counsel, and Phillip Gordon, recently resigned corporation counsel and a former city councilman.

Others named were Lee Bernstein, a former councilman, and James Callaghan, an employee of the Newark Municipal Utilities Authority and also a former councilman.

Besides the officials, electrical contractor Ruggiero A. (Tony Boy) Boiardo Jr., and three other persons were indicted in connection with the extortion allegation.

The indictment said Boiardo was affiliated with the Valentine Electric Co.

Joseph Biancone, also a Valentine official; Mario Galo, an official of the Passaic Crushed Stone Co., Inc.; and Ralph Vicaro of Cedar Grove, N.J., were accused in the same indictment.

The income tax indictment also named the two Addonizios, Bernstein, Callaghan, Giuliano, La Morte, West, Turner, Boiardo, Biancone, Vicaro, and Gordon.

All except Turner, Boiardo, Biancone and Vicaro were accused of filing false 1968 tax returns, in which they, the indictment alleged, substantially understated their incomes.

Boiardo, Biancone and Vicaro were charged on three counts each of involving false returns over a three-year period. Turner was indicted on five counts of willful failure to file timely income tax returns from 1964 through 1968.

and control of community noise," it says.

The plan refers to "significant problems" in parking garages and other indoor settings from automobile exhausts of carbon monoxide, lead and other irritants.

A copy of the plan, obtained by UPI, says the auto industry does not have enough "motivation" to come up with its own new power sources.

"Therefore, it seems clear that some government encouragement of non-auto companies and additional stimulation of vehicle manufacturers is necessary," it said.

Industry itself has considered some visionary ideas. In one proposed for testing in Milwaukee, motorists would use conventional power to drive to the city, and would then hook on to automatically controlled guideways.

IN MEMORIAM

McCARTHY, MARIE — In loving memory of our dear mother MARIE McCARTHY who passed away December 17, 1962.

Time has changed the face of things
Since you went away;
There's almost nothing here that you
Would recognize today;
Yet could you look into our hearts
You'd see there still tonight
The love you lighted long ago
Like votive candles, burning bright.

HOVERCRAFT FOR SPORTSMEN

Jack L. Gorman, president of Air Cushion Vehicle Ltd., of Canada, tests a Spectra I, first hovercraft designed for sportsmen, at San Francisco's Aquatic Park. The test yesterday was in preparation for the annual sports and boat show at the Cow Palace. The craft, capable of 40 miles per hour over water and 50 on the beach, flies two and a half hours on five gallons of gasoline. (UPI Telephoto)

Air Force Calls Off Flying Saucer Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Air Force today called off its 21-year-old investigation of flying saucers.

Air Force Secretary Robert C. Seamans Jr. said in a memorandum to the Air Force command that the program "now is in the ground of national security or in the interest of science."

Known as "Project Bluebook," the program was begun in 1948.

It investigated more than 7,000 reports of saucer sightings without finding evidence of danger to national security or any firm proof that flying saucers exist.

One study, conducted by the University of Colorado, cost $539,000. Another, by the National Academy of Sciences, cost $15,000.

The Air Force said the cost of the investigations themselves could not be estimated because they were carried out by Air Force personnel. The Project Bluebook headquarters, which will be closed, employs three people.

Seamans said the investigations had shown these results:

No UFO Unidentified Flying Object) reported, investigated and evaluated by the Air Force has ever shown to have any indication of a threat to national security.

There has been no evidence submitted or discovered by the Air Force that sightings categorized as "unidentified" represented technical developments or principles beyond the range of present day scientific knowledge.

There has been no evidence indicating that sightingsk categorized as "unidentified" are extraterrestrial vehicles,

Panel Urges Surtax Through End Of '70

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prestigious group of businessmen and educators has urged Congress to extend the income surtax six months longer than now planned as the financial cornerstone of an inflation-fighting federal budget surplus.

In one of the most outspoken statements yet, the program committee of the Committee for Economic Development said yesterday inflation, despite some signs of responding to government restraints, is still "disturbingly rapid."

The key to curtailing the inflation, the CED's 18-member program committee said, is balancing federal spending and taxing "to yield a substantial budget surplus under conditions of high employment."

It suggested a surplus of $6 billion to $9 billion, but said the government should not hesitate to let it dwindle "if economic activity is really sagging" and money is needed to stimulate the economy.

In a sweeping economic view through mid-1971, the committee called for curtailment of the space program, sizable cuts in farm subsidies and deferral of new construction including highways.

It recommended any money made available by cuts in military spending if the withdrawal from Vietnam is stepped up, be "devoted to alleviating the problems of the cities, of race and of poverty."

The CED is a 200-member committee of leading businessman and educators, most of them corporation heads and university presidents. In spite of its importance, CED's recommendation may have come too late to have and effect.

. President Richard M. Nixon has asked Congress to extend the surtax — now 10 per cent — at 5 per cent through June, but told a news conference last week, "I do not intend to recommend the continuation of the surtax beyond June 30."

However, as one CED source pointed out, Nixon pledged before his election to let the surtax expire last June but was forced by inflation to request it extention.

The CED committee suggested Congress tell the President to make a special review of federal financial needs in late 1970 and then recommend whether the surtax should be extended.

One committee member, Philip Sporn of New York, suggested a stronger statement, "that the proposed reduction from 10 per cent to 5 per cent was a mistake and that it is an even greater mistake to terminate the 5 per cent on July 1, 1970.

"We need to boldly say that we are in favor of restoring it to the original 10 per cent without any limitation as to date of expiration."

Without being specific, the committee statement said long-term changes in the nation's tax system should not lock in large revenue losses, and found fault with the planned tax reform bill for that reason.

Split Vote Reshuffles Public Works

Wade Lackey, foreman in the Novato public works department, will become acting superintendent of maintenance Jan. 1 under a reorganization approved last night by the Novato City Council.

The reorganization was urged by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and Public Works Director Clifford Temps to permit assignment of responsibility for specific maintenance tasks and eliminate half-time maintenance supervision by an assistant city engineer.

NEW POST ASKED

Brown and Temps did not get quite what they asked for, however. Both wanted to create a new position of superintendent of maintenance at $12,000 per year, with advertising for outside applicants and an examination to fill it.

City Councilman Babe Silva, who initally accused Brown of taking the plan to three other councilmen but not to him "because I was against it," declared he would not approve any reorganization which involved hiring new bosses from outside the city's employees.

SILVA OPPOSES

Silva wound up voting against the reorganization because he objected to new classifications which would create three crew bosses designated maintenance man II and maintenance man III, with pay raises of 7.5 to 15 per cent. But the other three councilmen present — Mayor Harley A. McAskill, Joseph D. Gargiulo and J. Wayne Womack — voted for the plan with Lackey as superintendent on a six-month trial basis at $894 per month (a 10 per cent raise from his present salary). One additional maintenance man will be hired.

The Novato City Council also:

CHRISTMAS PRESENT — Accepted from Mrs. William Carpenter a Chrismas present of a framed photograph of the present city council, to be hung on the wall of council chamber.

SALARIES — Received from the Novato City Employeees Association a salary review and request for a 2.5 per cent across-the-board increase. Councilmen made it plain they will adjust salaries only once each year — at start of the new fiscal year. Gary Miner of the engineering department, speaking for the employees, did not object to that but noted Novato salaries are lagging a year behind those in comparable cities. Mayor McAskill appointed Councilmen Gargiulo and Womack as a committee to work with employee represetatives in drawing up new guidelines by next June.

REZONING — Enacted an ordinance rezoning the Harry Locke property on DeLong Avenue between Reichert and Scott streets from duplex to commercial use.

COUNCIL OF MAYORS — Agreed to have the Jan. 28 meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen at the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Club.

UNDERGROUND FUNDS — Received word that Pacific Gas $28,200 for undergrounding power line in Novato during 1970.

BACKHOE — Authorized call for bids on a new backhoe for the maintenance division, estimated to cost $9,700.

DOWNTOWN SURVEY — Agreed to hold a meeting in mid-January with the planning commission to hear a report on progress of the downtown survey by Sedwat-Cooke, planning consultant firm.

$413 From Auction

Novato police collected $413 Saturday from the departments annual auction of found and recovered stolen property. The money will go into the City of Novato's general fund, a police spokesman said yesterday.

Novato Council Fills Planning, Rec Seats

Two new planning commissioners and a new recreation commissioner were appointed last night by the Novato City Council after a half-hour closed session to discuss candidates.

Named to the planning commission were Beverly Aaron of 729 St. Francis Avenue, co-owner of Amber Griffin Books in Novato, and John C. Schoonover of 1160 Rosalia Drive, a procedure designer for United States Steel Co. in San Francisco.

They replace Eugene D. McGillicuddy and Frank Valim, who had asked that they not be reappointed.

Renata (Mrs. Glenn E.) Barton of 6 Denise Court was appointed to the parks and recreation commission, replacing Harry J. Moore.

The council also appointed James D. Fritz to the underground utilities commission to represent the North Marin Water District in place of Jerome B. Gilbert, who is no longer with the district.

Other commission and committee members whose terms expire at the close of the year were reappointed.

Driver Fined $200

S. Lawrence Glazier, 36, 106 Reed Street, Mill Valley, has been placed on six months probation and fined $200 in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Dec. 3 on Highway 101.

Novato Wheels In Motion For New Rec Bond Ballot

Novato City Council took the initial step last night toward putting a bond issue for park purchase before voters next June.

There was no mention of the amount of the issue proposed, but Councilmen Joseph D. Gargiulo and Babe Silva made it plain they were thinking only of purchase of the 67-acre O'Hair property on Novato Creek west of Sutro Avenue. The property has been offered to the city for half a million dollars. Federal open space funds may be available for up to half of the purchase price.

"Let's acquire the property," urged Silva. "Then we can finance its development in stages. I'm sure the people will go for that."

He termed a parks and recreation commission recommendation for a $2 million park bond issue "too much." Gargiulo agreed.

Councilman Wayne Womack urged that no money be spent on detailed plans for the park until after the bond election. A preliminary study will be asked from Ribera and Sue, landscape architects.

The action taken last night submitted the proposal to the planning commission for review at its Jan. 12 meeting, and approved a proposed time schedule prepared by Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

This calls for the council to review the planning commission's recommendation Jan. 13, receive a report from Ribera and Sue on Feb. 10, and appoint a citizen bond committee on Feb. 24. The issue would then go on the June primary election ballot.

Adams presented a further breakdown of results of an opinion survey taken by the parks and recreation department which showed 78.8 per cent of those responding favored some sort of park bond issue. A $2.3 million issue for land purchase and park development was soundly defeated last year.

Hub Trustees Stop Short Of Joining Urban Program

The San Anselmo School District board last night went on record supporting the city's application for an urban planning grant, but stopped short of joining the program.

Planning Commission Chairman John F. West outlined the city's program in urban planning, and planning consultant Sydney H. Williams suggested the part of the plan dealing with schools could be expanded in more detail if the school district nelped fund the extra study. Federal funds would provide two-thirds of the extra money needed, reported Supt. Stephen L. Parodi.

The board, with only three members present, postponed a decision on joining the program until the entire board can discuss it.

Parodi reported the board took no action in a closed session at the end of the meeting at which hiring of nonteaching employees and firing of a teacher were discussed.

The board heard two informal bids by landscapers for grounds maintenance, but took no action. Each firm submitted bids for maintenance of school lawns, and for complete maintenance of lawns, playing fields, shrubbery and flowerbeds. A. and J. Shooter bid $740 a month for lawn maintenance and $1,190 a month for complete maintenance, and Forster and Kruger bid $1,100 a month and $2,000 a month. Both bids were for a three-year contract.

The board asked for more information on the proposals before acting.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Miguel B. Medeiros, head of maintenance and grounds.

MATERNITY — Granted a maternity leave from Jan. 5 to the end of the school year to speech therapist Caryl Kurtzman.

JOINT MEETING — Heard Parodi announce a meeting of English, language and social studies teachers from San Anselmo, Fairfax, Lagunitas, Nicasio and Sir Francis Drake High School Jan. 28 to exchange ideas and coordinate programs in their fields.

Hub Council To Clarify Garbage Fee Increase

Some San Anselmo residents may be surprised to find their garbage rates boosted next year, but the San Anselmo City Council moved last night to minimize the surprise.

At the request of William A. Trewhella, manager of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, the council agreed to write a form letter advising residents that they will be billed $4.50 or $4.75 a month for unlimited garbage pickups after Jan. 1, unless they write the San Anselmo Garbage Disposal company requesting the one-can pickup rate of $2.50 or $2.75 a month. The higher rate applies for hilly areas.

Trewhella said the garbage company has sent out notices, but many people are unable to understand that they will be charged the unlimited pickup rate unless they order the lower one.

The council approved minor amendments in the new garbage ordinance and passed it as an emergency ordinance to beat the Jan. 1 deadline on backyard burning. The new ordinance provides for the unlimited pickups and new rate schedule.

The council stayed its hand last night to save a house at 562 Scenic Avenue which it had ordered razed.

Instead of awarding a bid for demolition, the council yielded to the pleas of a youthful trio to let them bring the property up to building codes. The three were told to confer with City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell on their plans, then bring detailed plans before the council Jan. 13.

John Simontacchi, Mark Johnson and John Rambke said they are buying the property, and plan to convert the house at 562 Scenic into a workshop for the house at 564, which is on the same lot.

The council had ordered 562 razed because of its condition and because it was a second residence on the single-family lot.

The city received one bid to raze the house, but it was not discussed after City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel outlined the trio's proposal.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

REDWOOD — Approved plans and specifications for bids on repaving Redwood Road between Floribel and Oak avenues, and set 8 p.m. next Tuesday to open bids on the project.

BACKHOE — Authorized spending $13,445 previously budgeted for a backhoe. The machine was delivered a month ago, City Administrator Kaeppel said.

HOSE — Authorized buying 700 feet of 3-inch fire hose for $1,365 from American Rubber Manufacturing Co. and 700 feet of 1.5-inch hose for $595 from Western Fire Equipment Co.

BRIDGE — Approved paying $330 to Kunst Brothers to sandblast the bridge railing on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Tunstead Avenue, and paying $425 to Weber Plastering, Inc., to replaster the railing with concrete.

TRAFFIC — Agreed to take part in a county-wide inventory of traffic control devices by contributing approximately 15 man-days of work to list San Anselmo's controls. The plan is to bring all controls up to federal standards through a federally funded program.

YOUTH — Asked Kaeppel to write the Governor's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth for advice on youth councils. Councilmen agreed a city youth council would be desirable, but Councilman James F. Reed warned that it would "have to be treated properly . . . We can't give them lip service." Kaeppel is also to ask the Marin County Youth Commission for its advice.

ASSESSMENT — Agreed to transfer handling of bonds for the Ash Avenue assessment district to the county treasurer, at no cost to the city.

UNDERGROUND — Passed an ordinance establishing an underground utilities district on Greenfield Avenue from Lincoln Avenue to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and on Red Hill Avenue from Lincoln to Spaulding Street.

CHIMNEYS — Introduced an ordinance designating chimneys as architectural features which may extend two feet from buildings, or more if a variance is granted.

ADMINISTRATOR — Approved Kaeppel's attendance Feb. 25-27 at a city managers' conference in Newport Beach, and approved his request for vacation between Christmas and New Year's.

Consumers Bloc Blasts PG&E Hike

A 9.5 per cent increase in electricity rates, asked yesterday by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., drew immediate fire from the Association of California Consumers.

The Sausalito-based association, a federation of about 100 consumer groups throughout the state, said that "at a time when the economy is beginning to cool off, we think that the request for a 25 per cent increase in the rate of return is unconscionable."

The utility has been earning at a rate of return of 6.62 per cent for many months, "far in excess of the authorized 6.25 per cent," said Mrs. Sylvia M. Siegel, executive director of the ACC.

The California Public Utilities should order the company either to refund this exvess to its customers or to apply it to other parts of its operation to forestall rate hikes, she said in a statement to the press.

Mrs. Siegal also urged the PUC to conduct some of its hearings on the application in the evening, "so that the rate-paying public, which works during the day, can attend the hearings."

'Window Trip' Observation

A Mill Valley man in his early 20s was committed today to the Community Mental Health Center at Marin General Hospital after he went on a window breaking rampage in Mill Valley's Alto District.

Police said John Clayton of 23 Janes Street apparently was under the influence of LSD when he started breaking windows at 1:30 a.m.

Windows in about 10 cars and three homes in the 800 block of East Blithedale Avenue and 12 windows at Lou's service station at 5 Ashford Avenue were broken, police said.

When officers arrived, Clayton threw a hatchet at them before he was subdued, police said.

Tate Killings Suspect Pleads Innocent; May Get Solo Trial

COMBINED AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — A girl member of Charles Manson's hippie-style clan has pleaded innocent to murdering actress Sharon Tate and six others, and a prosecutor says she may get a separate trial.

Susan Denise Atkins, 21, willowy and impassive, spoke a soft "Not guilty," then flashed a bright grin as she made her plea yesterday before Superior Court Judge William Keene.

Miss Atkins, Manson, 35, Charles D. (Tex) Watson, 24, Linda Kasabian, 20, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, have been charged with five murders in the Tate case.

The county grand jury accused the same five, plus another girl clan member, Leslie Van Houten, 19, of killing Leno LaBianca, 44, and his wife Rosemary, 38, who owned a chain of Hollywood markets, in the LaBianca home the night after the slaughter at the Tate estate.

If prosecutors decide to use statements from Miss Atkins, who has said she was present at the killings, and if her attorneys request a separate trial for her, then under the law she can't be tried with the others, said Deputy Dist. Atty. Aaron Stovitz.

Judge Keene set Miss Atkins' trial for Feb. 9. He will hear pleas Monday from Manson, Mrs. Kasabian and Miss Van Houten.

Miss Krenwinkel and Watson are in the process of being extradited from Alabama and Texas respectively.

In San Jose, police said there was "substantial evidence" Manson and members of his commune were in the San Jose area when the two girls were murdered.

Kathy Snoozy, 15, and Deborah Furlong, 14, were found stabbed to death on a south San Jose hillside last August 3.

San Jose Chief of Detectives Barton L. Collins said several people here came to him after Manson's photo was published and one said he had cashed a check for Manson.

Collins said he had other evidence that the Manson "family" had been in San Jose around the time of the two girls' murders but declined to reveal the nature of the evidence.

Petaluma Planners Favor East Side Schools Site

The site of the new junior-senior high school development on the east side of Petaluma was approved last night by the city planning commission.

The board of education is negotiating to buy 80 acres of land on the northwest corner of Casa Grande and Ely roads. The architectural firm of Porter and Jensen of Santa Clara has been hired to plan the new building.

The commission said the site coincides with the city master plan.

The Petaluma Planning Commisision also:

DEVELOPMENT — Said Young America Homes could delay presentiation on a proposed development of houses, apartments and townhouses uitil the Feb. 3 meeting. The plan includes houses on 4,500 square foot lots rather than the required 6,000 square foot lots.

STAMPS — Approved the request of John Pennock to operate a rubber stamp-making business at his home at 1425 East Madison Street.

AGRICULTURE — Approved plans of the Sonoma County Planning Commission to forbid commercial uses in agricultural zones.

REZONING — Approved the request of Willow Creek Properties before the county planning commission to rezone 10 acres on Redwood Highway near McDowell Boulevard North from agricultural to commercial. The commission also recommended that meetings be scheduled to discuss annexation of the land.

Dope Raid Trio Held To Answer

Three persons arrested in a raid on a San Rafael apartment on Oct. 29 yesterday were bound over to Marin Superior Court on heroin charges after a preliminary hearing in municipal court.

Due to be arraigned Jan. 29 are Rosita Dolores Branstetter, 37, of San Rafael; Clarence Dale Taylor, 26, of Fairfax, and Michael Gordon Streib, 24, of San Francisco.

Streib is charged with selling marijuana; Mrs. Branstetter with a sale and possession of heroin for sale, and Taylor with possessing the narcotic.

Mrs. Branstetter, who is accused by narcotics agents of being a heroin dealer, was arrested at her apartment a second time on Nov. 7, when agents seized more suspected heroin, but tests showed that to be milk sugar, as she had claimed.

Park On Agenda

The Gallinas Village Community Services District will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church to discuss development of Rosal Adrian Park in Santa Venetia.

Rites Too Rough

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — One local school's unofficial initiation for new boys is called "hammer and nail." Ferdi Linde, 13, broke his arm in two places by acting as "nail" recently. The ceremony consisted of two upper class students swinging another boy as "hammer" against the crouching Ferdi.

Spiro Stirs New Flap With Press On Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An aide to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said today that the Baltimore Sun, Time Magazine, the Washington Post and the Christian Science Monitor were among more than 20 applicants who failed to get accreditation for Agnew's Asian trip.

The aide, Herbert L. Thompson, said that it was lack of space rather than disagreement with the Sun's editorial policies that led to the exclusion although he acknowledged that he told a Sun correspondent that Agnew "doesn't like the Sun."

Thompson noted that only 10 newsmen could be taken on the trip with Agnew, beginning Dec. 26.

"We regret we had to pick and choose from among 32 correspondents," he said. "We just don't have the space."

Thompson said he had recommended 10 reporters, chosen on the basis of geographical location and their circulation, and that Agnew made the final decision.

He said Time Magazine was excluded because another magazine, U.S. News and World Report, had been chosen.

Thompson acknowledged that he had mentioned the Sun's editorial policy in discussing the situation with the Baltimore paper's Washington bureau chief, Philip Potter. But he insisted this was not the main factor in the rejection of the paper's request to send a reporter with Agnew.

The Sun said Thompson told Potter "to be quite honest, he (Agnew) doesn't like the Sun.

"He feels he's been banged around quite a bit, especially since April 11," the Sun quoted Thompson as saying. The remark was an apparent reference to comments on the Sunday's editorial page the day after Agnew addressed a group of Negro community leaders after the civil disorders here in April, 1968.

In that editorial, the Sun called the Negro leaders men who had "worked courageously to prevent radicalism's taking over." At the meeting with the then governor of Maryland, the Sun editorial said Agnew "insulted them. He accused them of a failure of leadership, and of letting themselves be intimidated by radicals."

Solving New Careers Woes In The Works

Marin County's New Careers program is getting nowhere since Dr. Arthur Pearl of Oregon University came to Marin to set it up 16 months ago, the county's human rights chief complained to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Austin J. Thompson said he is getting calls from citizens who condemn him for lack of progress in getting new careerists into county employment.

"For the last six months, I've no contact with New Careers," said Thompson. "We feel like spectators at a Forty-Niner game watching the fourth quarter — all fumbles!"

Two months ago, the supervisors hired Michael R. James, 28, as New Careers coordinator. He had joined New Careers while serving a prison term and worked himself up to an executive position in Oakland when hired by Marin.

Last week, James was fired because he was arrested by San Francisco police on a drug possession charge Dec. 8.

Disappointed supervisors asked Administrator Alan Bruce to see what can be done about the sputtering program. Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni suggested that the director of the human rights department might take it over. This too will be considered by Bruce.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also

REED BONDS — Commended Wells Fargo Bank for agreeing to buy $180,000 in Reed School District bonds at 5 per cent interest. Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said the bank's offer "is obviously a public service" because the current interest rate is 6.5 per cent or better.

HOUSING COMMITTEE — Named Mrs. Leo Wagner of Novato to a new Citizens Committee on Low Rent Public Housing. She is the fifth member picked by supervisors to the committee, which will ultimately have 30 members.

TEACHERS INITIATIVE — Decided not to support a "tax-reform" iniative sponsored by the California Teachers Association and the County Supervisors Association of California. The CTA measure, which would increase state appropriation for schools and for welfare, would only increase other taxes such as on sales and income, the supervisors decided.

MILLER AVENUE — Contracted with Corte Madera civil engineers, Bala and Strandgaard, to design the Miller Avenue extension from a point near Tamalpais High School across the marshes to Shoreline Highway at Richardson Bay Bridge. The fee is not to exceed $20,000, which is about two per cent of the estimated cost.

GNOSS FIELD — Authorized the payment of $2,916 for removal of telephone poles and undergrounding of wires at the southerly approach to Gnoss Field north of Novato.

COASTLINE PROTECTION — Authorized William L. Hess, assistant public works director; and Harold E. Gregg, president of the Marin Conservation League, to urge the state to preserve the California coastline for public use. They will testify tomorrow and Friday in Los Angeles before the Assembly Committee on Natural Resources and Conservation.

COLLEGE PARKING — Authorized a $5,000 outlay to hire a meter maid and buy a three-wheeler patrol vehicle to enforce limited parking along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and cross streets surrounding College of Marin. Minimum fine will be raised from $2 to $5. Arrigone said customes in Kenfield cannot find parking because of all-day use by college students and employees.

PROBATION DEPARTMENT — Approved a $33,701 outlay to pay for four new typists and an assistant superintendent of Juvenile Hall for the Marin County Probation Department. The amount will cover salaries of the new positions between now and next June 30.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION — Paid $346 to cover the cost of hosting the California Highway Commission on Nov. 20 and 21.

LIBRARY GIFT — Commended the Schultz Foundation of Greenbrae for a $2,000 cash donation to the Marin County Library for use at a branch library that best serves Greenbrae residents.

Initiative Slap Comes From GOP

Criticism of two air pollution control measures, being pushed for the 1970 statewide ballot in an initiative campaign, was attributed incorrectly by the Independent-Journal on Saturday to the legislative counsel's office.

The criticism quoted was from a research paper prepared by the Republican staff in the Assembly. The paper included criticism of the measures by the legislative counsel's office, but the direct quotations appearing in the I-J were from a portion of the paper prepared by the GOP staff.

The staff termed the first measure, a constitutional amendment, "merely a ploicy statement without legal effect." But later it also said "there are no legal problems with the constitutional amendment initiative."

The legislative counsel's opinion of the second measure, however, a statute revision, "raises the spectre that the initiative statute is unconstitutional," the research paper said.

The research paper then quoted the counsel's opinion, which said the statute revision could violate the due process clauses of both the U.S. and California constitutions.

Novatans Held In Burglary Case

Two Novato men accused of burglarizing Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley Nov. 27 were bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday in the charge.

Dennis Leslie Yates and Paul Brent Caldwell, both 23, were told to appear in court Dec. 29 for arraignment.

After evidence at a preliminary hearing, Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court ruled there was sufficient reason also to charge Caldwell with a burglary of Reed School on the same date as the other burglary.

Caldwell and Yates were arrested when police said they found them inside Edna Maguire School about 2 a.m. Thanksgiving morning when they answered a silent burglar alarm.

Israeli Jets Hit Suez Area Again

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets pounded Egyptian positions for nearly three hours today along the northern reaches of the Gulf of Suez and the southern part of the Suez Canal, a Tel Aviv announcement said.

The targets were Egyptian artillery batteries that killed two Israeli soldiers and a civilian tractor driver in a bombardment last night, a spokesman said. He added that the planes returned unscathed.

Another Fair-Marin Round Set

By WAT TAKESHITA

Harold Stockstad, president of Fair-Marin board of directors, should resign if he is not willing to step up the pace on fund-raising for auditorium completion and preparation for the 1971 county fair, the Marin County Board of Supervisors declared yesterday.

"I will not be a member of a board that's going to be rushed," snapped Stockstad in a heated exchange yesterday at the Civic Center. Stockstad said the Fair-Marin board would need until September of 1970 before launching a campaign for $500,000 to complete the second phase of the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

"If you're not prepared to accelerate, then I think you should submit your resignation," said Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. Both chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Louis H. Baar backed Arrigoni.

The supervisors set another meeting for 2 p.m. next Tuesday. McInnis said he wants Fair-Marin officials and the county administrator to work out some timetable on site development at the auditorium and present suggestions for a theme for the 1971 county fair at the meeting.

The head-on clash between supervisors and Fair-Marin Inc., charged with operating the auditorium and fairgrounds, followed a recommendation from Administrator Alan Bruce.

Bruce suggested that Fair-Marin be stripped of its authority over the Civic Center fairgrounds because it is not complying with county directives.

Supervisors have asked, and Fair-Marin has agreed to raise $500,000 to complete the auditorium so that it can be made usable next year.

Controversy arose over the timing. Stockstad and Fair-Marin executive director Leon G. Kalimos contended that a long-range plan for an ultimate $9 million cultural center must be adopted before the fund-raising can start. County supervisors insisted that the half million should be raised first and the auditorium completed and in operation before further expansion plans are drawn up.

Fair-Marin officials replied that the concept of the annual fair should change from the present five-day event to an all-year cultural and educational activity.

Lotte McWatters, secretary of Fair-Marin, charged that it was the county which stymied every attempt to move ahead.

Mrs. Max Thelan Jr. of San Rafael, member of the Marin Civic Ballet, declared that supervisors and poor publicity shot down every program Fair-Marin tried to push: "Between the I-J and the supervisors, Fair-Marin never had a chance to present its views."

Mary Robinson Summers added that Bruce had even stopped Fair-Marin from contacting supervisors directly. "We were told we couldn't even talk to the architect."

Kalimos asked for more time. He said developing a program and winning public acceptance involves time and effort. "You've been working on this for 17 years," said Kalimos. "I've been here only since July. We need time."

W. P. (Doc) Duhamel was the only member of the Fair-Marin board who agreed with the supervisors. He said the main job of Fair-Marin is to raise the half-million and complete the auditorium before planning other projects.

Baar declared Fair-Marin is floundering. "If the charge is to raise funds, then they've done nothing about it. It seems to me there is no direction."

Supervisor Michael Wornum said operation of the fairgrounds will not be successful if run by the county alone because the project will require funds and community support. However, Wornum also agreed with his colleagues that Fair-Marin should set its sights on completion of the auditorium and development of a county fair at the Civic Center.

Without the half-million dollars to complete the second phase of the auditorium, McInnis warned that the building would lack proper acoustics and adequate seating to put on any major function.

Baar Urging Salary Hike Trim For County Assessor

Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, who is scheduled to get a salary raise from the present $22,000 to $25,200 next month, may have a part of that raise cut back to the level of the county sheriff or the county clerk.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar yesterday urged the cutback, arguing that he cannot see a big salary differential between the assessor's job and those of sheriff, county clerk, and auditor.

Baar asserted that salaries of Marin's elected officials are too high compared with officials in other Bay Area counties.

In reviewing salary raises voted Nov. 18 for six elected officials, supervisors stressed that their comments are aimed at the positions and not at the present office holders.

Supervisors Michale Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. agreed that they see no compelling reason why the assessor should draw higher pay than the auditor and the sheriff.

Chairman John F. McInnis once again defended the pay raise for the assessor. The job of Marin assessor cannot be compared with those in Sonoma, Solano and Napa where property ownership is more stable and the assessors are not faced with the constant changes in ownership and valuation, McInnis argued. He said Marin should be compared with counties like Santa Clara and San Mateo.

The San Mateo assessor's salary is now $24,444 and will go up to $26,568 next year. The Santa Clara assessor gets $29,100.

Baar, however, pointed to assessors in larger counties like Contra Costa and Alameda. In Conta Costa, the assessor's pay will go from $22,572 this year to $23,136; and in Alameda, from $18,372 to $23,604.

"Alameda has over a million people and they don't have salaries like that in the assessor's position," argued Baar.

Baar wanted to reduce the assessor's salary immediately, but other supervisors called for at least another week's time. "I wouldn't want to make the change today without first talking to the assessor," said Wornum.

"I'd like to hold it up a week," said Arrigoni.

McInnis announced that the salaries will be considered again next Tuesday.

Salaries approved on Nov. 18, were:

Assessor — $22,000 now; $25,-200 in January 1970; and $27,800 in 1973.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos — $21,000 now, $24,000 in 1970; and $26,400 in 1973.

Tax Collector - Treasurer Stanley J. Fontez — $19,500 now; $22,725 in 1970, and $24,600 in 1973.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss — $19,500 now, $22,725 in 1970, and $24,600 in 1973.

County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini — $15,500 now; $19,350 in 1970, and $22,300 in 1973.

Coroner Public Administrator Donovan O. Cooke — $13,000 now; $15,150 in 1970, and $16,400 in 1973.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell's pay is set separately by the state Legislature. Mitchell's pay went from $20,000 to $24,000 last month.

If the supervisors decide to drop the assessor's pay to the level of the sheriff and auditor, the assessor would get $24,000 in 1970 instead of $25,200. If it is dropped to the level of the tax collector and the county clerk, it would be $22,725 in 1970 instead of $25,200.

Purchase Of Tideland Lot Is Approved

Marin County supervisors yesterday voted unanimously to purchase a 7.9 -acre tideland lot on the west side of Bolinas Lagoon for $19,835.

The property, owned by Mary Francisco, had been under option to the Bolinas Harbor District. On Nov. 11, the county took over Bolinas Lagoon from the harbor district.

Purchase of the Francisco property means that the county will own most of the northwest shoreline of the lagoon.

The supervisors also appointed a seven-man ad hoc citizens advisory committee to plan the future development of Bolinas Lagoon.

On a motion by Louis H. Baar, supervisors asked the committee to draw up a plan for the Lagoon in 18 months.

11 Killed In Store Explosion

MEXICALI, Mexico (AP) — At least 11 died in an explosion and fire that destroyed a three-story downtown department store crowded with shoppers last night. Roberto Corte, vice fire commander, said today.

Corte said his men were searching for other bodies of persons reportedly trapped on the second floor.

Sacred Heart and Social Security hospitals reported treating 11 unjured.

Action To Halt Big Rock Concert

SALINAS (AP) — The Monterey County Board of Supervisors moved yesterday to halt plans for a giganitc rock concert near here.

The board passed a temporary ordinance barring the assembly of more than 5,000 persons in one place anywhere in the county for 90 days, and indicated it will act meanwhile to bar such events permanently.

Richard Schnal of Seaside, attorney for Mediametrics, Inc., which plans the concert, said the group will proceed with plans for the event to be held in March.

Child Loses Severed Arm Second Time

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Brent Gray has lost his left arm for the second time but the talkative 12-year-old is taking it bravely.

"Well, maybe you can study it and find a way to help some other boy," he told one of the surgeons after the amputation yesterday.

Both of Brent's arms were wrenched off Sunday by the drive belt on a feed grinder as he helped his father, Joe W. Gray, grind hog feed on their farm near Henrietta, Tex.

The youth was flown to Oklahoma City, his severed arms packed in ice, and surgeons reattached both limbs.

But Brent's left arm was removed again after doctors found it had little circulation and threatened to develop a toxic condition.

The right arm continued to look "very good," a hospital spokesman said.

Dr. Gael Frank, one of the surgeons, said Brent is "just amazing. He's perky and talkative and seems to be very optimistic."

Puppy Stolen

A seven-week-old black and silver Maltese-poodle crossbred dog valued at $75, was stolen yesterday from its cage at Fur, Feathers and Fins, 508 Fourth Street, San Rafael police reported.

Tiburon Design Panel Calls For Roof Plans

The Tiburon Board of Design Review last night required that remodeling plans for the Mobil service station at 1600 Tiburon Boulevard include a one-directional, single-hipped, pitched roof inits design, planning director Wayne E. Moody reported.

The board also said the roof- and gas pump canopies must be the same height, Moody said.

Prison School Too Small, County Told

Bayview School at San Quentin Prison has less than a seventh of the space it should have for the 2,298 inmate-students enrolled, the committees of the Marin County Board of Education were told Monday night.

Bayview has 20,699 square feet of space, and should have 154,200 square feet, according to state standards, reported Edward Brennan, director of special services.

Brennan also reported a long list of equipment and materials needed at Bayview, which offers a high school program for inmates.

Among the things needed, the committees were told, are a student library, a faculty room, a storeroom for curriculum materials, a staff library, a science library, a conference room, and offices for the principal and vice principal.

The educational services committee, administrative services committee and special services committee asked for a detailed report to be presented at the Jan. 5 board meeting.

The committees also recommended that each board meeting in 1970 be held at a different facility in the county schools system. The Jan. 5 meeting will be at Loma Alta School in juvenile hall, reported Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services.

The administrative services committee also recommended the board allow coverage of volunteer workers in the schools under workmen's compensation insurance, as allowed by 1969 legislation, Spain reported.

No Charges In Drug Probe

No charge was filed in Marin Municipal Court Monday against 14 persons arrested Saturday night on suspicion of being in a place where marijuana was being used after police broke up a party in a rural Novato home.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Peter Mitchell said that the case is still being investigated.

Released were the residents of the house, John Alexander Zacahriou, and Robert Willard Hansen, both 18, as well as John Joe Carvajal, 18; John Anthony Harris, 19; Bryan Wesley Colson, 22; Ronald Edward Longhi, 23; Mary Elizabeth Meador, 23; John Honoria Meador, 23; John L. Koehne, 19, all of San Francisco; William Gary Redmon, 20, and Loren James Marshall, 18, both of Novato.

Beer Is Stolen

Petaluma police reported yesterday that burglars took $35 worth of beer from a storage room at Sonoma-Marin Fairgrounds Sunday night. A padlock on the door had been broken to gain entry.

One Hurt In Six-Car Crash

One person was injured Monday in a six-car rush hour pile-up on southbound Highway 101 near the Manuel T. Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda, the California Highway Patrol reported yesterday.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for a slight neck injury was June Gwendolyn Perry, 43, of San Rafael, whose car was the first in the 6:45 a.m. rear-ender.

Her car was hit from behind by one driven by Christine Loretta Beck, 23, of 2 Via Navarro, Greenbrae. Other drivers involved were Allen Rasen, 49, of 830 Penny Royal Lane, San Rafael; Maj. Leon B. Hittner, 35, of 611 Wake Robin Lane, San Rafael; Robert Lewis Lemmelet, 22, of 195 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, and S/Sgt. Tommy Dale Creech, 23, of Santa Rosa.

Stolen Car Found, But Stereo Missing

Stereo equipment and a radio valued at $250 were stolen from a car belonging to a Fairfield woman who was visiting friends in Marin City Monday night, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Deputies said Pam Carter, 23, of Fairfield, reported she arrived at 46 Cole Drive to visit friends about 9 p.m. When she returned to her car at midnight, it had disappeared. The car, with the stereo equipment missing, was found a block away a short time later.

Injuries Minor In Collision

Charlotte Anne Herrick, 36, of Ross sustained minor injuries and was cited for failing to stop for a red light Monday following a three-car collision at Fifth Avenue and C Street at 2:55 p.m., San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Mrs. Herrick's car hit one driven by Martin H. Moder, 61, of 106 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo, and a stopped car driven by Timothy F. Murray, 24 of 404 Oakdale Avenue, Corte Madera, police said.

Mrs. Herrick did not require hospital treatment, according to police.

Defendant Warned Prison In Offing

John Curtis Gipson, 46, of San Francisco, pleaded guilty Monday in Marin Superior Court to one bad check charge and one count of auto theft. Two additional bad check charges were dismissed.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set sentencing for Jan. 5 after telling Gipson that he is going to state prison because he is now on parole from Wisconsin State Prison.

Warrant Issued

A bench warrant with bail set at $3,000 has been issued for Martin Johnson, 37, of San Francisco, who failed to appear Monday in Marin Superior Court to face a charge of burglarizing a Sausalito residence Nov. 19.

THE GRAND OLD MAN OF CHRISTMAS

Lacking snow, sleigh and reindeer, this Santa Claus and his missus are making visits to San Rafael elementary schools in a police car. The unusual Santa carrier doesn't faze these youngsters at Sun Valley School as they swarm around and collect candy canes. Even Santa's driver, Patrolman Kenneth R. Holman, was pressed into service Monday as a candy cane distributor. Santa will visit all of the city's elementary schools through tomorrow, his appearance sponsored by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department and the San Rafael Police Officers Association.

Business, Transit Boss Resigns Post

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gordon C. Luce resigned today as chief of the state Business and Transportation Agency to accept the presidency of a savings and loan association.

Luce, who has held the job since the beginning of Gov. Ronald Reagan's administration, January 1967, is the first of the governor's top agency chiefs to quit.

Reagan, in a statement, said he accepted Luce's resignation "with deep regret."

His departure from the administration had been rumored for weeks—and consistently denied by Luce.

He had been discussed as a possible successor to Caspar Weinberger, the outgoing state finance director, but last week Edwin Meese III, Reagan's executive secretary, said the job would not go to one of the four agency chiefs. Weinberger is leaving Jan. 1 to become chairman of the Federal Trade Commission.

Luce, who receives $35,000 a year, will become chairman of the San Diego Federal Savings and Loan Association. He said he expects to move into the new post in mid-January.

Luce said "I have turned down several possibilities in other private and governmental positions to accept this new assignment." He had reportedly been offered a job with the Nixon administration, but declined it.

Challenger To Glenn In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland attorney Howard M. Metzenbaum announced today as a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate, challenging former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. for the party nomination.

Metzenbaum, 52, pledged a campaign of "promise, not promises" in his bid to succeed 80-year-old Sen. Stephen Young, who is retiring because of age.

The former four-term state legislator managed successful campaigns for Young in 1958 and 1964.

Teen-Ager Hears Marijuana Count

Thomas Keith O'Donnell, 19, of San Rafael, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of possessing marijuana when he was arrested for being drunk at the Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael Friday.

His case was continued until Dec. 29 for entry of plea.

Sausalito Condemns Gate Span Fare Hike

The Sausalito City Council last night accused the Golden Gate Bridge District board of excluding the public from its decision to raise the price of and eventually to eliminate commuter fare books, then called on the district board to rescind the action until a public hearing could be held on it.

The council, expressing unanimous dismay at the swiftness of the bridge board's action, decided to send a letter of protest to the board.

Jan Paul Dyk pushed for the action, saying the bridge board has yet to provide alternate transit to commuters and, to get money, "is taking it out of the skin of the people who have to go to San Francisco." Dyk called the bridge board action "Absolutely outrageous."

He and Mayor Earl F. Dunphy both said the bridge district has a large cash reserve and challenged the need for increased revenues to finance still nonexistent bus and ferry service.

They suggested, and the council agreed, that the bridge board give a detailed accounting of why it needs the extra money and how it will be spent. Furthermore, the council said, public hearings should be held on the question.

The bridge district board last week voted to raise the book of 25 round trips from $6.50 to $10 on Dec. 27 and to eliminate the books completely next July.

Split Votes Launch Plan To Pay Councilmen $150

Splitting 3 to 2 on two separate votes, the Sausalito City Council last night directed its city attorney to draw up an ordinance which would provide a salary of $150 to councilmen beginning after the next council election.

Councilmen Robin Sweeney and Alexander R. Imlay held to their previous opposition to council salaries.

Imlay and Mrs. Sweeney favored putting the question of council salaries on the ballot so voters could decide but were outvoted by Wyman Hicks, Jan Paul Dyk and Mayor Earl F. Dunphy.

The council last spring voted to include funds for salaries in the current budget but final action putting them into effect has never been taken.

If the council salaries of $150 per month, the maximum allowed by state law, go into effect after the April 1970 elections, it would cost the taxpayers $9,000 a year.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

FORTS — Heard Councilman Dyk urge that the council make plans for annexing all or part of the Forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite if and when they become available from the military. Dyk said specific plans should be made during 1970 and the council directed City Mgr. George M. Patterson to come up with recommendations on annexation when possible.

LEASH — Heard Councilman Sweeney call for a leash law for commercial areas of Sausalito.

GARBAGE — Postponed final vote on a resolution increasing garbage rates in the city until City Atty. Leland H. Jordan can draft the final form of the resolution. The increased garbage rates still will go into effect on the first of the year.

BONDS — Approved a 15-year noncallable bond repayment plan for the city's bonds for improvements on the fire and police stations.

ARCHITECT — Selected Sausalito architect Donald Olsen to do the plans for expansion of the city's police station. Olsen also is the architect for the fire station.

CALIFORNIA'S 1970 OUTLOOK

Giddy Growth To Slow?

By JOHN M. LEIGHTY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—After a decade of giddy growth, California's economy will slow down somewhat in 1970.

Inflation will continue. Interest rates won't go down appreciably. There will be some increase in unemployment but real personal income will make further gains.

Those are the predictions of top businessnen, bankers and economists on the threshold of the 1970s.

"Indications are the economy is slowing down at the moment," said Richard Lazanski, chief economist for the State Department of Finance. "It is reasonable that it will continue, for awhile, at least. California can't go much different from the rest of the country."

There have been several economic forecasts for the state as it enters the new decade. These have been prepared by banks, universities and government agencies. They attempt to answer some serious questions.

—Will there be a recession?

—Will the average family income continue to grow or will increases in salary be eaten up by inflationary trends?

—Will people be put out of work faster than new jobs are created or will government and business strive for full employment?

—Will industry and agriculture be able to keep pace with the needs of a growing

—Will money be available for house and business loans? Will interest on these loans continue to spiral upward?

Here are some of the experts' answers:

INFLATION

"Inflation has been allowed to go on so long that people have future expectations for it," said Bill F. Roberts, associate professor of business administration at the University of California at Berkeley.

Roberts is a director of the California Economic Forecasting project, which is designed to set up a model of California economics in relation to the national economy.

Roberts' report agreed with several top bank economists that there would be no recession but a slower and continued inflationary trend.

Roberts said any attempt to curb inflation will be a long-term battle.

"I don't think choking the economy with stringent monetary policies is going to bring about a decline in inflation rates," he said. He suggested some alternatives.

A temporary set of wage-price controls would probably cool the economy, said Roberts, but he said he was "reluctant to go along" with any permanent system of that sort.

Another alternative would be for the government to issue real value bonds. Roberts said securities that have a real value would be a hedge against inflation. The bonds would carry purchasing power rather than monetary value.

"The government could get into the role of hedging against inflation so private economy could get away from that need," Roberts said. "Then the need for some price and wage increases might be eliminated."

Joe Wahed, a staff economist for Wells Fargo Bank, said flatly there would be no recession in 1970. He described the outlook for 1970 as "a moderately-strong difficult business year."

"Inflation will continue to be a problem not just regionally but nationally," Wahed said. "California will continue to feel the impact of rising prices around 4 per cent, compared to a nearly 6 per cent rise in 1969."

INCOME

Personal income in California will rise about 7 to 7.5 per cent during the coming year. This compares with a 9.8 per cent gain in 1969. With inflation predicted to keep moving at about a 5 per cent pace, actual real earnings would increase 2.5 per cent.

In 1960, actual personal income amounted to $42.5 billion. According to the Economic Forecast Project, the amount will reach $92 billion by the end of 1970.

JOBS

Wahed said employment should increase about 2.5 per cent, or about 200,000 persons in 1970. This compares with about 3.4 per cent average annual rate of increase during the decade.

Bank of America's predictions were a little lower, a 2 per cent increase. The UC economic report predicted this same trend without specific figures.

But unemployment will rise, too, because although there will be large additions to the labor force because of continued inflation, it won't keep up with increases in available workers on the job market.

Roberts said unemployment would probably peak at 5.8 per cent during the second quarter of 1970. He said he didn't see signs of massive unemployment.

"Automation hasn't demonstrated that it puts people out of work," Roberts said. "Computers have simply stimulated activity—changed the jobs."

If there is an abrupt end to the Vietnam War, California industry may not suffer greatly, but unemployment of the minimally trained may increase.

"I gather from preliminary studies that California's aerospace industry isn't as dependent on Vietnam type equipment as one might expect," Roberts said. "California's more involved in big jet liners and missile systems so I suspect the impact won't be as severe as one might guess."

Roberts said the bigger problem would be released servicemen entering the state already trained and to replace the minimally trained. He said the unemployment would likely cause social unrest, depending on the type of programs established to help the less skilled.

HOUSING

Most bankers are predicting that money will continue to be scarce in securing mortgages for homes and construction purposes.

Preston Martin, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, said interest rates on home mortgages will probably continue to climb even if the economy cools.

"Even when mortgage rates top out, they can not be brought down very much and still be competitive with other investments," Martin said.

Wahed said tight money will continue and housing in the state will be affected negatively.

"We are going to have built about 180,000 homes in 1969," he said. "But for 1970, indications are about 150,000 homes will be authorized."

Professor Roberts was a little nore optimistic than the business community in general. He predicted that interest rates would be reduced, but not to any substantial new low.

"People are used to paying higher interests. Young people who buy cars and have charge accounts are used to paying higher rates," Roberts said.

Some other predictions:

—Services and manufacturing will continue rapid expansion.

—State and local government will continue to grow but at a lower pace.

—Construction will dip during the first half of 1970, then expand during the second half.

—Estimated gross state product will increase from $96.3 billion to $103 billion during 1970.

Any state forecasts or future expectations could change or be reversed unexpectedly by world developments or new monetary policies.

But for California entering a new decade the outlook calls for a slackening of economic growth but continued inflation, a higher income per family, an increase in unemployment and a continued squeeze on housing and construction.

Guilty Plea Entered In Motorcycle Theft

Larry English Hamilton, 25, of Mill Valley, pleaded guilty Monday in Marin Superior Court to one count of receiving stolen property and a second such charge was dismissed. He had been accused of receiving stolen motorcycles in 1967 and 1968.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set sentencing for Feb. 2.

The Petaluma Junior High program will feature Christmas carols from around the world. Directing the program will be Thomas Jacobus, instrumental music teacher, and Mrs. Sandra Fujita, director of the girls' glee club.

Also performing will be the advanced band, intermediate band, brass choir and orchestra.

Judge Orders 45 Weekends In Jail

Allen George Wheeler, 20, of Pinole, has been ordered to spend the next 45 weekends in Marin County Jail for the burglary of a San Anselmo residence Jan. 16.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson on Monday also placed him on two years probation and ordered him to make $478 restitution to an insurance company.

Old-Fashioned Eggnog To Serve Group

Hot or cold, for young or old, eggnog fills holiday punch bowls throughout the land.

Eggnog made from fresh milk, cream and eggs holds a definite place in the history of American Christmastides. It is an American drink with English ancestors. Enjoyed by early colonists, eggnog traveled west with the settlers and today remains just as popular.

Known by various names such as egg-pop, flip, sack-posset, and syllabub, eggnog became a social custom early in American history. Serve with a bowl of fluffy whipped cream — and for extra holiday flair sprinkle the whipped cream with chocolate shavings or red and green sugar. This is a versatile recipe as it is delicious hot or cold and with or without liquor.

OLD-FASHIONED EGGNOG
(Serves 25)

- 1½ quarts milk, well chilled for cold nog
- ½ pint whipping cream
- 8 egg yolks
- 1½ cups confectioner's sugar
- teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon vanilla (omit if using liquor)
- 2 to 4 cups Sherry, bourbon, dark rum, brandy or rye (optional)
- 8 egg whites

To serve hot: Heat milk and cream in top of double boiler, with water temperature just under boiling. Beat egg yolks slightly with sugar, nutmeg and vanilla. Stir a little of the hot milk into the egg mixture, return to double boiler and heat gently for about 5 minutes, or until slightly thickened. Slowly stir in liquor. Beat egg whites until stiff, fold into milk-egg mixture. (If eggnog seems to separate when liquor is added, beat with rotary beater until smooth.) Serve with fluffs of whipped cream.

To serve cold: Chill several hours and then add liquor (if desired) and fold in the beaten egg whites. Serve with fluffs of whipped cream, sprinkled with nutmeg if desired.

Steamed Pudding A Tradition

Here are recipes for two holiday puddings, a delicious sauce and directions for flaming. The fig is an excellent one with which to end a holiday dinner and the chocolate, just a terrific dessert for any cold night.

HOLIDAY STEAMED FIG PUDDING
(8 servings)

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup light brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 cup sifted all purpose flour
- ½ cup dry bread crumbs
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon allspice
- ¼ cup milk
- ½ cup molasses
- 1 cup cut-up figs (about 6 ounces)
- ½ cup chipped walnuts

Cream butter with sugar; add egg and beat until fluffy. Sift dry ingredients together. Combine milk and molasses; and to butter mixture alternately with dry ingredients. Blend thoroughly, beat well. Add figs and nuts. Turn into a 1-½ quart buttered mold or bowl or eight 5-ounce cup molds. Cover with foil and steam large pudding two hours and small puddings one hour. Serve hot with Velvet Sauce.

STEAMED CHOCOLATE PUDDING
(8 servings)

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ⅔ cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate melted
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter and sugar; add egg and beat until light. Sift dry ingredients together. Add to butter mixture alternately with milk; beat well. Add chocolate and vanilla. Turn into buttered 1-½ quart mold or bowl or eight 5-ounce molds. Cover with foil and steam large pudding 1-½ hours and small puddings 40 minutes. Serve hot with Velvet Sauce.

How To Steam Puddings: Use any pan large enough to accommodate individual or large pudding molds. Put a wire rack in the bottom of the pan and place puddings on the rack. Pour in boiling water until it comes halfway up the sides of pudding containers. Cover pan and boil gently. Use towel to protect fingers when removing the finished pudding.

Individual puddings may be steamed piecemeal if no pan will hold all of them at once. The unsteamed batter will keep one week in the refrigerator and three months in the freezer. If frozen, thaw before steaming.

How To Freeze: If you don't need the containers for reuse, simply cool and turn out puddings, package in heavy duty foil wrap and freeze.

Pressure Cooker: Follow directions in instruction booklet that came with the cooker. It will reduce the cooking time. Secure foil cover on mold by tying with string.

To Serve Steamed Puddings: When cooking time is finished, turn down heat but keep in steamer until the moment of serving. Turn out of mold and serve with sauce. If puddings have been refrigerated or frozen, reheat in foil covered molds at 300° F. Allow 45 minutes for individual puddings 1-½ hours for a large pudding. Allow 10 minutes additional time for small frozen puddings. Thaw large frozen puddings before reheating.

VELVET SAUCE
(8 servings)

- 2 eggs
- 1 cup confectioners' sugar
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3 tablespoons brandy, rum, or
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ pint heavy cream, whipped

Beat the eggs. Add sugar gradually, then the lemon juice and the flavoring, continuing to beat until mixture is very light and fluffy. Fold in the whipped cream. Refrigerate until ready to serve. This is good on hot steamed puddings and on hot dessert souffles.

How To Flame Pudding: Heat ½-cup of brandy or rum in a small pan until lukewarm. Light with match and pour over large pudding or individual servings arranged on a warm serving plate. Spoon flaming liquor quickly over puddings. Or without liquor, moisten lumps of sugar in lemon or orange extract and arrange around pudding or place one lump on top of each individual pudding. Light lumps with match.

Elegant Pheasant For The Holidays

For a festive holiday dinner there is probably nothing more elegant than pheasants, carefully stuffed with savory ingredients and roasted to crisp perfection.

In many areas of the world, pheasants are abundant during the fall hunting season. Here in this country they are available at supermarkets, usually frozen, and during the holidays, sometimes fresh. They weigh from 2 to 3½ pounds after dressing and each bird will serve two people generously or a skillful carver can make one bird serve 4 people.

Like most game, pheasant has a tendency to be somewhat dry. Roasting in aluminum foil helps to make the meat of these birds more moist. A good stuffing and a delicious sauce, too, will help and add to the enjoyment of the dish.

PHEASANT ROASTED IN FOIL

Thaw pheasant if frozen. If from the hunter's bag, have the birds dressed at the market, making sure the shot is removed. Cut off the neck even with the body and place in pan with giblets and water to cover. Add seasonings and simmer to make broth. Rinse the birds, pat dry and season cavities.

Prepare this stuffing:

Fruit Stuffing
(for 4 pheasants)

- ¼ cup finely minced onion
- ¼ cup finely minced celery
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 4 cups soft stale bread crumbs
- ½ teaspoon salt
- freshly ground pepper
- ¼ teaspoon dried rosemary
- 1 cup soft dark or golden raisins
- 1 cup chopped pecans or walnuts

In a good sized skillet saute the onion in the butter until just tender. Add the crumbs and brown lightly. Add seasonings, raisins and nuts. Toss together and moisten with a little boiling water or broth from giblets.

Fill the birds lightly, then fasten neck skin to back with toothpicks, twist wing tips onto back, tie legs to tail. Place a large piece of heavy duty aluminum foil in a shallow roasting pan. Place a cut-up stalk of celery with leaves, a sliced onion and a sliced carrot on the foil and arrange birds on vegetables. Brush them with melted butter or margarine.

Roast at 425° F. for 40 minutes, basting with melted butter, to which a little white wine or broth from giblets has been added. Slide pan out of oven and cover birds with a second piece of foil, crimping to sides to hold in steam. Continue roasting 40 minutes longer, or until leg joints move easily. Lift foil to test. If pheasant is not tender at end of this time, reduce heat to 300° F. and continue cooking.

Lift pheasants to carving board or serving platter. Pour drippings into saucepan. Add ¼ cup dry white wine or vermouth and broth to make desired amount of sauce. Simmer until slightly reduced. If desired, thicken with 1 teaspoon cornstarch or arrowroot mixed with wine or vermouth, and add additional seasonings to taste.

Serve with a border of glazed onions and buttered steamed rice to which sauteed chopped celery and pimento have been added to give it gay color. Sauerkraut, cooked with wine, apples and juniper berries is a traditional accompaniment.

Glazed Small White Onions: Peel 1½ pounds small white onions. With sharp knife, cut a cross down into stem end. This helps prevent onions from bursting. Place onions in skillet with a small amount of boiling water and salt. Simmer slowly. When partially done, add two tablespoons butter and two tablespoons sugar. Continue cooking slowly, shaking pan until water is evaporated, the onions glazed and tender.

Sauerkraut with Apples and Spices: Cover 1 pound sauerkraut with cold water and bring to a boil, then drain. Add fresh boiling water or white wine to just cover, 1 or 2 sliced tart apples, a sprinkling of crushed juniper berries or caraway seeds. Cover and simmer for 2 hours.

Swedish Glogg

Swedish Glogg — a holiday tradition: Heat 1 (4-5-quart) bottle claret or burgundy, 1 teaspoon whole cloves and 3 sticks cinnamon to boiling. Add 1 cup brandy; summer. Divide ½ cup seedless raisins and ¼ cup slivered almonds among 3 cups; fill with wine. Try it for the tree trimmers.

Dress Up A Party Ham With Della Robbia Top

Many families prefer a Christams ham for dinner or for a buffet party during the holidays.

Here's a suggestion to dress up the entree della Robbia style with candied fruits and slivered lemon and lime peel to create a colorful and tasty effect on the top.

DELLA ROBBIA

- Cured ham
- ½ cup honey
- 3½ oz. jar candied red cherries
- 3½ oz. jar candied green cherries
- Candied pineapple cut in thin wedges
- Blanched whole almonds
- Lemon peel cut in slivers
- Lime peel cut in slivers
- Small bunch parsley

Cooking instructions: Bake ham according to directions on label. Half hour before end of baking time, brush with honey. Bake 30 minutes longer. Place ham on serving platter. Quickly arrange cut fruit, nuts and parsley in a circle on top of the ham. Tuck parsley between fruit to fill out the wreath.

Dark Meat

The dark meat of turkey takes longer to thaw and cook than the light meat. Tests show light meat is done at 165-170 degrees Fahrenheit, while dark meat requires 180-185 degrees. Because of this, some cooks prefer to roast the bird breast down, so that the dark meat is subject to the higher temperatures in the upper part of the oven. A V-shaped roasting rack and a pan no deeper than 2½ inches is needed for this method. Temperature variations of as much as 35 to 45 degrees have been reported by the American Gas Assn. when old-fashioned deep blue enamel roasters were used.

Olive, Beef And Cheese Create Western Casserole

Marin Women

A Return From Cloistered Silence To Outside World

By BARBARA HOSMER

Portrait photographer Rita Graves, who gave up a life of suburban comfort for one of cloistered silence, is hoping to return to live in Marin.

She found the contrast of life inside the convent and the outside world monumental. And although she has been back from the East and living in San Francisco since mid 1967, Rita says it has taken her a long time to "come back" into the world again.

"I had to learn to talk to people again," she says, and took a job as a market researcher, interviewing door to door, and at night she did babysitting.

Rita had always been very much in the world, having been an account executive in a New York based advertising agency, a successful free-lance writer, and assistant to the director of the Ford Foundation Television Workshop, before taking up photography. And her two and half years of cloistered silence was a life that seemed light years distant from her worldly one. She looks back upon it now as a valuable "spiritual period of my life."

RITA GRAVES, who was a portrait photographer in Tiburon for four years, gave up the "soft suburban life" to enter a cloistered order of nuns, is returning to Marin after two and a half years of convent life. Her portraits are familiar to many a Marin family. Here she holds her photo of one of the Richard McLaurys' daughters of Belvedere in a photograph taken just before she entered the convent in late 1963.

THE PORTRAIT photographer had been living and working in Tiburon for four years when in 1963 she decided to renounce worldly comfort to take up a life of silence and prayer.

She tells the story, amusement often lighting her eyes. A childhood friend who had joined the Sacramentine Order of Nuns celebrated her silver anniversary of entry into the order and Miss Graves flew back to the house near New York to attend. During the visit Rita decided to finish painting a statue of Bernadette and Our Lady of Lourdes that her friend had begun when she entered the order.

"While hanging on, working, I looked up into the statue face and thought, 'Oh, no, not me — you don't get me'," she said. The peace and contentment of the convent had settled upon her, but only for that time and place, she believed. Then on the plane flight to California she began to think, "you belong there, not here."

"I wrote about the feeling during the flight home and when I arrived back here I telephoned the nuns to ask if it was possible that I could have a vocation. 'Yes, we could see it,' they said."

She spoke with the priest at St. Hilary Church in Tiburon, her home parish, and he told her that she was the first in that area to have a vocation.

Thus, Rita Graves began the procedure to enter the convent of the small Belgian order. She filled out the application and had a complete medical and dental checkup.

"I ALSO stayed incommunicado to meditate, pray and see if it was not just a fluke," she said. It was hard to keep her friends away, but she did. Then the application was approved. Rita gave away most of her possessions — her furniture to the Village Salvage Shop.

"I took what might be helpful to them in the convent," she said, packed up a small trailer behind her car and drove away Thanksgiving Day, 1963. From her studio she took along camera, tripod and lights. Tiburon firends gave her her trousseau for entry into the convent.

She found the life rugged at the convent, which is located near Yonkers, N.Y. "We were up at 5 or 6 a.m., depending upon our duties, and as a novice I spent a hour in the middle of the night for the adoration — watching and praying," — a vigil that was continued by the other novices in turn throughout the night. And there was much just plain

Same Spirit With Different Customs

All over the world Christmas pageants and processions play an important role in the Christmas celebration.

AT LES BAUX, a medieval ruin in the South of France, a prologue is performed by the local shepherds outside the old church before the midnight mass is said. Standing under the stars with their sheep around them, listening to the village choir hidden from view, they depict their fear, puzzlement and doubt, which gives way to belief, joy and reverence, just as did the shepherds of Bethlehem on the first Christmas eve when they heard a heavenly host proclaim the birth of the Babe.

Then, following a band of boys playing flutes and drums, the shepherds walk into the church leading a ewe-sheep pulling a gaily-decorated cart on which lies a young snow-lamb. This gift for the Christ Child is placed on the communion altar in the same manner as the ancient shepherds brought their gifts to the child on the first Christmas Eve.

In a little suburb of Zurich, Switzerland, called Wollishafen, the Christmas holiday starts on St. Nicholas Day, Dec. 6, with children of all ages parading in the streets dressed in white robes and wearing towering, elaborately-fashioned headpieces in the shape of a bishop's mitre inside of which gleam lighted candles.

"Bringing In the Boar's Head," an ancient English tradition kept alive at old inns, castles and colleges, has been observed for over five centuries at Oxford's Queen's College. Each Christmas the Master and Fellows of Queen's, resplendent in ceremonial robes, march into the dining hall and take their seats. Then the boar's head, on a bed of ivy, rosemary and bay leaves with an orange in its huge mouth, is ceremoniously carried in by four bearers to the joyful sounding of the hunting horns. The men rise and sing the famous "Boar's Head Carol" and the feasting begins.

IN NORTH HOLLYWOOD each Christmas a neighborhood Lutheran Church builds a 200 foot stage-set of Bethlehem on which is reenacted the Christmas story. Four parishioners dressed as Roman soldiers on horseback announce Caesar's decree, while others play the parts of heralds and angels.

In Finland on Christmas morning, as they leave their homes in darkness to drive to church in open, horse-drawn sleighs, people carry huge, flaming torches to light their way. All along the route, houses are alight with burning torches placed in the snow outside the doors. When they arrive at the church, they toss their lighted torches into a blazing bonfire in the churchyard before entering the church aglow with the light of hundreds of tall, white tapers.

Lighting the Christmas log, or Buche de Noel, is a charming Christmas custom still practiced in rural areas of France. Before leaving for the midnight mass, the Christmas log is placed in the fireplace and ignited. The French believe that it must continue to burn till their return or it will be a bad omen. When it has burned completely, the ashes are carefully gathered and stored all year to keep the family from all harm till the next Christmas. Urban French families have substituted for this custom the baking of a chocolate-covered mock yule log or Buche de Noel, which is the traditional dessert at their Christmas Eve supper, or "Reveillon."

In Sweden on St. Lucia Day, Dec. 13, young maidens dressed in white, and wearing a crown of lighted candles, go through schools and offices singing the Lucia song and distributing coffee and buns. Young girls, similarly dressed and wearing the crown of candles, honor their parents by serving them breakfast in bed on that feast day. This signals the start of the Christmas holiday season.

IN THE UNITED STATES, a relatively recent observance for all the nation is the lighting of the giant Christmas tree on the White House lawn by the President, started by President Warren G. Harding.

The first and most splendid of Christmas gift bearers were Melchior, Balthazar and Gaspar, known as the Three Kings or the Wise Men, who brought gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh to the new-born babe.

ed

Today, the Three Kings come each year on Epiphany, Jan. 6 and bring gifts to the good children of Spain.

In Holland, Sinterklaas, or St. Nicholas, the patron saint of children, sailors and marriageable maids, arrives on Dec. 6th. Dressed in a bishop's robes and mitre, astride a white horse, he rides down the streets of Holland to the delight of young and old. Laden with gifts for good children, he leaves them that night in the little wooden shoes which were carefully set outside the door for just such a happy eventuality.

In Italy, La Befana, or the good witch, traditionally rides out on her broom at Epiphany, Jan. 6, to bring gifts to deserving small children Today, she is receiving some competition from a newcomer, Babbo Natale, a red-suited gentleman introduced to Italy by American G.I.'s during the war, when they dressed up like Santa and gave Christmas parties and distributed gifts to the local children.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Daughter Is Making Up For Past Mistakes–Made By Strict Father

DEAR HELEN:

My husband always kept a tight reign on the children. Too tight. He wouldn't let Nora, our daughter, date or even talk to boys. She seemed not to mind, and so I didn't stand up against him on this subject. I was having a hard enough time trying to hold my marriage together.

I finally realized that hanging on to a bad bargain was making everyone miserable, and so we were divorced, Reno style.

Nora, at 17, is dating for the first time and the sudden freedom, combined with all she has read, has given her bigger ideas than she can handle. She has fallen madly in love. She wants to go and live with this fellow, though he doesn't seem too enthused. She says she never wants to get married because if you can only hold a man with a legal document, you're holding him against his will and "the relationship will be hollow." She confesses she's still a virgin but "isn't proud of it."

I'm sure she'll frighten this young man away, but how about the others? There is bound to be one (or more) who sees her as an easy make, and by the time she wakes up, her reputation will be gone.

Please don't tell me I should have raised her differently. I know that. Is there any way to make up for past mistakes? — TOO LATE

DEAR T.L.:

Your daughter is making up for past mistakes with big talk, but so far, not much action. When she discovers that much of her "modernness" is rooted in evening the score with someone who is no longer an adversary, she may change course.

What Nora needs right now is much discussion but no lectures or hand-wringing. Given the proper listener, I'm quite sure she'll talk herself down to a sensible landing. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Please — some words of advice and consolation to golf widows. I am married to a man who loves his golf clubs better than me.

He takes golf vacations, goes to every tournament within 500 miles and watches the others on television, gets up at 5 a.m. to play, and naturally spends every weekend chasing that dumb ball.

With all this, he isn't even a good golfer. So now he has signed up for lessons twice a week.

What's a wife to do? — THE GAME'S THE SHAME

DEAR TGTS:

Why not beat your husband at his own game? Sneak in golf lessons until you're good at it. Then join him — and take him!

You'll either end up as big a golf nut as your man, or he'll decide golf isn't his game. Whichever, you'll be spending more weekends as a twosome. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We have been married six months and I'm afraid that I can't have a baby. You see, I didn't get pregnant for three years, while we were going together and there was every opportunity as I took no precautions.

I want to go to a doctor and get examined, but he'd think I was crazy for worrying after "only six months." I don't dare confess that it is actually three years. — EMBARRASSED AND WORRIED

DEAR E and W:

Why not? Your doctor won't even blink an eye. He isn't there to condemn but help. — H.

Concern About Fertility Drugs

By JAMES WILKINSON
London Express Feature

LONDON — The man in charge of giving fertility drugs to 23-year-old Mrs. Rosemary Letts, the mother of the five surviving sextuplets, said Monday he felt a great deal of concern about the multiple pregnancies fertility drugs can cause.

But he turned down the idea that the work should pause until doctors know more about how to give the correct dose which results in only one or two babies instead of five, six and seven.

THE DOCTOR — The consultant endocrinologist at London's University College Hospital said: "Multiple pregnancies occur in about a quarter of the cases treated. It is a most unfortunate side effect, but let's face it, by and large the women are delighted. They would much prefer to have too many babies rather than too few."

And while he spoke, Mrs. Letts' five babies were all progressing well in the incubators in the hospital's premature baby unit.

A bulletin issued by the hospital said they were having no difficulty with their breathing, and they were continuing to accept their milk feeds.

They are being fed through a tube which delivers half a millilitre of human milk to them every 15 minutes. Half a millilitre is a 10th of the standard 5 millilitre medicine spoon.

NONE OF THE doctors concerned with the birth of the babies wanted to be named, but they talked freely about the serious problems associated with the use of fertility drugs.

Said the fertility drug expert, "I don't think we should halt in our work or we will never know the answers."

At present, between 30 and 40 women are undergoing treatment with fertility drugs at the hospital clinic and probably over 200 women are having this treatment in other similar clinics in Britain.

Multiple pregnancies occur because of the difficulty in measuring certain hormone levels in the body.

"This is a major technical problem," he said, and he held out little hope that it would be solved in the near future.

But he also pointed out that if women did have a multiple pregnancy in this way they would probably be entitled to a therapeutic abortion should they want one.

AND HE ALSO revealed that he has purposely withheld fertility treatment from women whom he does not believe would become suitable mothers.

"We don't tell her why she cannot be treated or that we don't think she would be a suitable mother," he said.

There have also been women who have decided against the treatment once the risks had been explained and others who started the treatment and then changed their minds.

"I feel that our success in this case is only qualified. We aim to produce a single or perhaps a twin birth. More than this and we are disappointed," said the endocrinologist.

So far, out of 30 to 40 women who have been treated at the clinic there have been 12 pregnancies, including one set of twins, one set of aborted triplets, one set of quads and one set of sextuplets — the Letts.

THE FIVE LETTS' babies have a better than 50 per cent chance of survival, one of the team of doctors looking after them said.

The most serious risk that the babies face is that they may suddenly stop breathing because their central nervous system is not yet fully mature, but there is no sign of this at the moment.

The babies are all being carefully monitored so that if any of them do stop breathing an alarm will ring and nurses can take immediate action.

The consultant pediatrician in charge of the babies said, "They are progressing very well, but we had hoped the pregnancy would go on a bit longer."

One of the senior obstetricians said, "We were anticipating seven babies. But to be finally sure we were due to take a further X-ray one day this week."

SHORTLY AFTER Mrs. Letts became pregnant, the doctors realized that she was expecting more than one baby, because her hormone levels were particularly high.

Then, at about 13 weeks, doctors beamed sound waves into her abdomen and from the reflections which they traced on a piece of paper the multiple pregnancy was confirmed.

After 24 weeks, an X-ray showed that at least quints were expected — "But because of the size of her abdomen we could not be certain there would be seven" said the obstetrician.

The operation took 27 minutes. The third baby, a girl was the one which was still born. The cause of this is not evident at the moment.

NUN'S LIFE

Dinner was served at midday and later an hour and a half recreation period meant that conversation about religious subjects could be held, in contrast to the remainder of the hours in silence, but the work continued anyway, she said.

"I TOLD the nuns about frozen foods, but they replied 'but that would not be holy poverty' and preferred to spend much of the day preparing foods. After suppper we could go to the novitiate to read books about religious people or listen to religious records."

One of Rita's more enjoyable duties was helping to scrub and dust the chapel.

But having spent six months as a postulant and two years as a novice, she decided to give up her attempt at life of prayer within cloistered walls. When she emerged, "It was another world," she said, "the length of skirts, the boys' hair, the variety of foods in the supermarkets — I was like Alice."

RITA SPENT a month in Yonkers getting used to things again, and then came to San Francisco with little but the clothes she wore and her camera.

"I had to learn to talk again and to find out what went on in the world." Thus her job in market research, knocking on doors and being face to face with strangers, whom she interviewed.

It took her a long time to become comfortable with the daily rush, and gradually she is returning to her portrait photography career. She is eager now for studio space, "not much" as a little showcase for her work and to regain residence in Marin.

Diamonds

A new simulated diamond costs $50 per carat, compared with a price of more than $1,000 per carat for a natural diamond of similar color and quality. At a luncheon during which the stone was introduced by Litton Industries and Saks Fifth Avenue, Cordon Franklin, head of Saks, said, "Never before have we seen a simulated gem which compares so closely to the natural diamond in fiery, blue white brilliance."

Toothaches Aren't Always Caused By Teeth Troubles

NEW YORK (WMNS) — You can have a terrible toothache without there being a thing wrong with your teeth.

At a recent convention of the American Dental Association, Dr. Edward Beveridge of Pasadena listed these possible causes of inexplicable toothaches: referred pain from sinus or heart diseases, an emotional problem or insufficient sleep.

On the other hand, Dr. William Branstad of St. Paul, Minn., suggested that poorly-aligned jaws could cause such far-fetched complaints as psychic tension, arthritis of the jaw hinge joint and pain in the facial muscles.

Such misleading symptoms and confusing possibilities help account for Dr. Beveridge's estimate that 1,000,000 Americans suffer from undiagnosed or improperly diagnosed toothaches and other dental pain problems.

Charges Follow Shooting Scrape

A 19-year-old Tamalpais Valley man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder after he allegedly shot at a friend who had been visiting him and his wife.

Michael James Locatelli of 4 Central Drive was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Sheriff's deputies said Locatelli, his wife and a man identified only as John Gresser had been drinking at the Locatelli residence when a disagreement arose.

Gresser then left the house, deputies said, and Locatelli shot a carbine at his car. Locatelli, according to deputies, said he was only shooting at Gresser's taillight.

The incident occurred at 12:55 a.m.

DRAMA REVIEW

Playwright Is Unable To Link Theory And Success

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Semour Simckes is a teacher of college courses in experimental writing whose own first venture into dramatic expression, "Seven Days of Mourning," painfully emphasizes the distance between theory and success.

The play that opened last night at off-Broadway's noted Circle in the Square Theater is an obscure, unfocused, dubiously idiomatic and otherwise self-indulgent exercise about a Jewish family trapped in a moment of peculiar bereavement.

Since the piece is labled a fable and there are fitful, labored thrusts at both avant-garde absurdism and Judaic mysticism, a spectator can guess the intent was a mocking commentary on domestic hypocrisy and the emptiness of religious ritual. But it all comes out bosh.

The story involves a ferocious mother, an inept bumbler of spouse, their crippled, embittered son, a daughter returned after seven prodigal years and a gamey group of neighbors and unattractive kin.

Another daughter has killed herself and the controversial tangle centers upon how best to adhere to Talmudic code. Comedy contrast, such as it is, centers upon the anal aspects of existence.

There are probably a lot of symbols in there, perceptible only to Simckes initiates at Stanford, Vassar and, now, Harvard.

Shimen Ruskin, as a clownish rabbi, brings off a few moments of theatrical vitality, and Tony Schwab's portrayal of cynical youth shows determination.

Among the other performers, Paula Laurence is the loudly incredible mother while Carol Teitel handles embarrassing lines with professional detachment.

Ted Mann, the Circle's artistic director through 20 years, uses the arena stage with meticulous regard for the audience, a concern that doesn't help the play's eccentric structure at all.

Fans Mob Streisand At Opening Of 'Hello, Dolly'

NEW YORK (AP) — A screaming, shoving crowd of almost 1,000 movie fans mobbed Barbra Streisand last night when she arrived at a Broadway theater for the premiere of her film "Hello, Dolly!"

The crowd broke through police barriers outside the Rivoli Theater, between 49th and 50th streets, and surrounded her royal blue limousine, rocking it and preventing her from leaving.

Police waded into the throng, shoving hundreds of persons away from the red-carpeted entrance but it still took nearly 15 minutes for the star to make her way into the theater.

Miss Streisand barely managed to bolt through the doorway before the pressure of the crowd collapsed the sagging police lines that formed a lane to the door.

Once she was inside the crowd slowly dispersed and there were no reports of arrests or injuries.

Miss Streisand wore a white leather midicoat embroidered in red and edged with white fox and a white Turkestani hat.

The premiere of the movie had been held up for eight months because the stage version of the show is still running in its sixth year.

Marin GOP Asks Rock Concert Bonds

A $1 million bond or cash deposit should be required from sponsors of any mass "rock" concerts in Marin, the Marin County Republican Central Committee declared last night.

The money would protect the county and local government from costs and damage from such an event, the resolution said.

The resolution, adopted unanimously at the committee's monthly meeting in GOP headquarters in San Rafael, urged the Marin County Board of Supervisors to adopt legislation "sufficient on the one hand to protect the rights of freedom of speech and assembly, and on the other hand, to protect the county and other local governments from the adverse effects of such events."

Such legislation was needed, it said, "in view of the damage to private and public property, disruption of vehicular traffic, crime, violation of narcotic laws, menace to public health and morals, and general inconvenience and economic loss resulting from the recent 'rock' concert at the Altamont Speedway in Alameda County."

The legislation also should include a requirement that any permit for an event for 50,000 or more persons be granted only after public hearing with at least 30 days notice.

The GOP resolution said the legislation should require "adequate safeguards," including provision of private police, fire, medical, sanitary and cleanup arrangements.

Also, the committee declared, a special narcotics or drug abuse detail should be assigned to cover such events, with the cost of both apprehension and prosecution to be deducted from the $1 million deposit.

Four deaths, hundreds of "bad trips" on drugs, beatings by motorcycle toughs and tons of debris marred the Dec. 6 concert at Altamont.

Alameda County supervisors have vowed such an event never again will be held in that county, and Monterey County supervisors are considering legislation to ward off reported plans for a similar concert in the Salinas area.

Nixon Fires Southern New York Prosecutor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon announced to day he is firing Robert M. Morgenthau as U.S. attorney for the southern district of New York.

To succeed Democrat Morgenthau, who was his party's candidate for governor of New York in 1962, Nixon will nominate Republican Whitney North Seymour.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler acknowledged that Morgenthau had not resigned from the position. His term normally would have expired June 11, 1971.

Seymour, 46, has been a member of the Manhattan law firm of Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett since 1961. He was an assistant U.S. attorney for the southern district during three years of the Eisenhower administration and, between 1966 and 1968, was a state senator.

A World War II Army veteran, he was graduated with honors from Princeton University and received his law degree from Yale Law School.

Morgenthau, son of Henry Morgenthau Jr. who was secretary of the Treasury in the administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt, has served as U.S. attorney since 1961, except for a brief period when he resigned to run for governor.

Morgenthau's ouster comes four days after his successful prosecution of former Manhattan Democratic leader Carmine G. De Sapio on bribery conspiracy charges stemming from a scheme to bribe a former city official and extort contracts from Consolidated Edison.

The firing also comes five days after a federal jury found attorney-financier Roy M. Cohn, former aide to the late Republican Sen. Joseph B. McCarthy, innocent of bribery-conspiracy charges.

Tax Exempt Status Given Brown's Hall

Mill Valley's Brown's Hall has received tax exempt status from the state Board of Equalization, according to Bertram Davis, president of the Homestead Valley Community Association.

Davis said the change in tax status was the result of two years of negotiations with the state which included incorporation of the association and revisions in its bylaws.

THE VIET VETERANS

Staffs Lacking For Mental Casualities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mental casualties of the Vietnam War are being "chemically lobotomized" by substitution of tranquillizing drugs for proper psychiatric care at Veterans Administratration hospitals, Congress has been told.

"You can see such men at any mental hospital," Dr. Louis Jolyon West, medical director of the University of California at Los Angeles Neuropsychiatric Institute, said Monday.

But his testimony before a Senate veterans affairs subcommittee concentrated on V.A. institutions:

"We have abandoned the practice of lobotomy," West said, "but we are chemically lobotomizing thousands and thousands of patients, and we can keep it up for years."

Lobotomy, a form of brain surgery, has been used in the past to make mental patients docile.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., is probing treatment of mentally and physically wounded veterans.

West described some mental patients at Brentwood Veterans Administration Hospital in Los Angeles:

"They are easy to identify because the drugs used make them move slowly and stiffly. They walk around in a chemical cocoon, men with an invisible barrier between them and the rest of the world."

He said the hospital is operating "at a level that is mostly at, or even below, the level of 20 to 25 years ago."

Veterans Administration neuropsychiatric hospitals provide only one phychiatrist for every 535 patients—due mainly to low salaries and poor working conditions, West said.

Because there simply are too few psychiatrists to provide mentally ill veterans with proper care, the patients are given heavier and heavier doses of transquillizers to keep them quiet, he said.

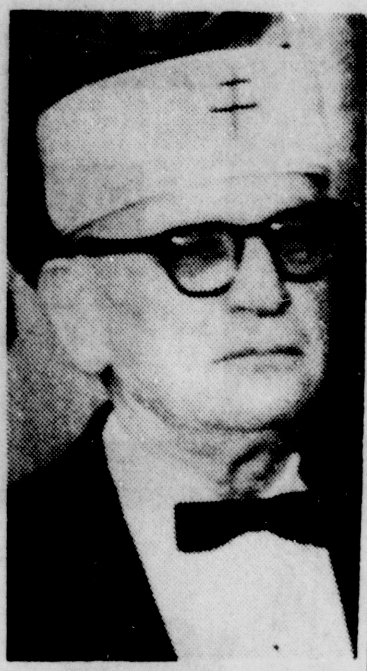
"A man can go on for years that way," he said, "That is not high quality care but only a substitute for it."

West is psychiatric consultant to Brentwood. Describing conditions there, which he contended are typical of institutions throughout the country, he said:

"The physical plant and facilities have not been properly improved. Air conditioning, standard in all modern hospitals in the area, has not been provided.

"While the previous overcrowding has diminished, certain patient areas are still too crowded, and sanitary facilities are inadequate by current standards. Treatment and testing facilities are inadequate.

"Staffing levels, especially for physicians, are low. A number of positions lie vacant. V.A. salaries are simply not competitive," he said.



HONORED — Harry Du Val Ballard of San Anselmo has been accorded the 33rd Degree, highest honor of Scottish Rite, is a retired sales executive and lives at 90 Spring Grove Avenue.

Girl's Death Sparks Suit Vs. County

The parents of a 16-year-old girl inmate of Marin Juvenile Hall who died March 14 have filed a $400,000 suit in Marin Superior Court against the County of Marin charging that the girl did not receive proper medical attention.

Robert and Beverly Hopps of 120 San Rafael Avenue, Belvedere, said that the staff at the pre-placement center where the girl was confined did not summon medical aid for her when she needed it the morning of her death.

A coroner's jury on April 25 found that the youngster probably died because her nervous system was so damaged by the use of such drugs as LSD that her normal responses were gone.

The jurors found that death was due to asphyxiation on vomit brought on by a neurological disorder.

Other teen-agers from the pre-placement center testified at the inquest that Cynthia had taken a "peace pill" (said to be a combination of LSD and other drugs) during an outing to the beach chaperoned by juvenile hall counselors.

Equipment Theft

Ninety-six yellow warning lights and cases valued at $1,344 owned by West Coast Dredging Co. of Martinez were stolen last month from a pipeline in the San Rafael Canal, police reported yesterday.

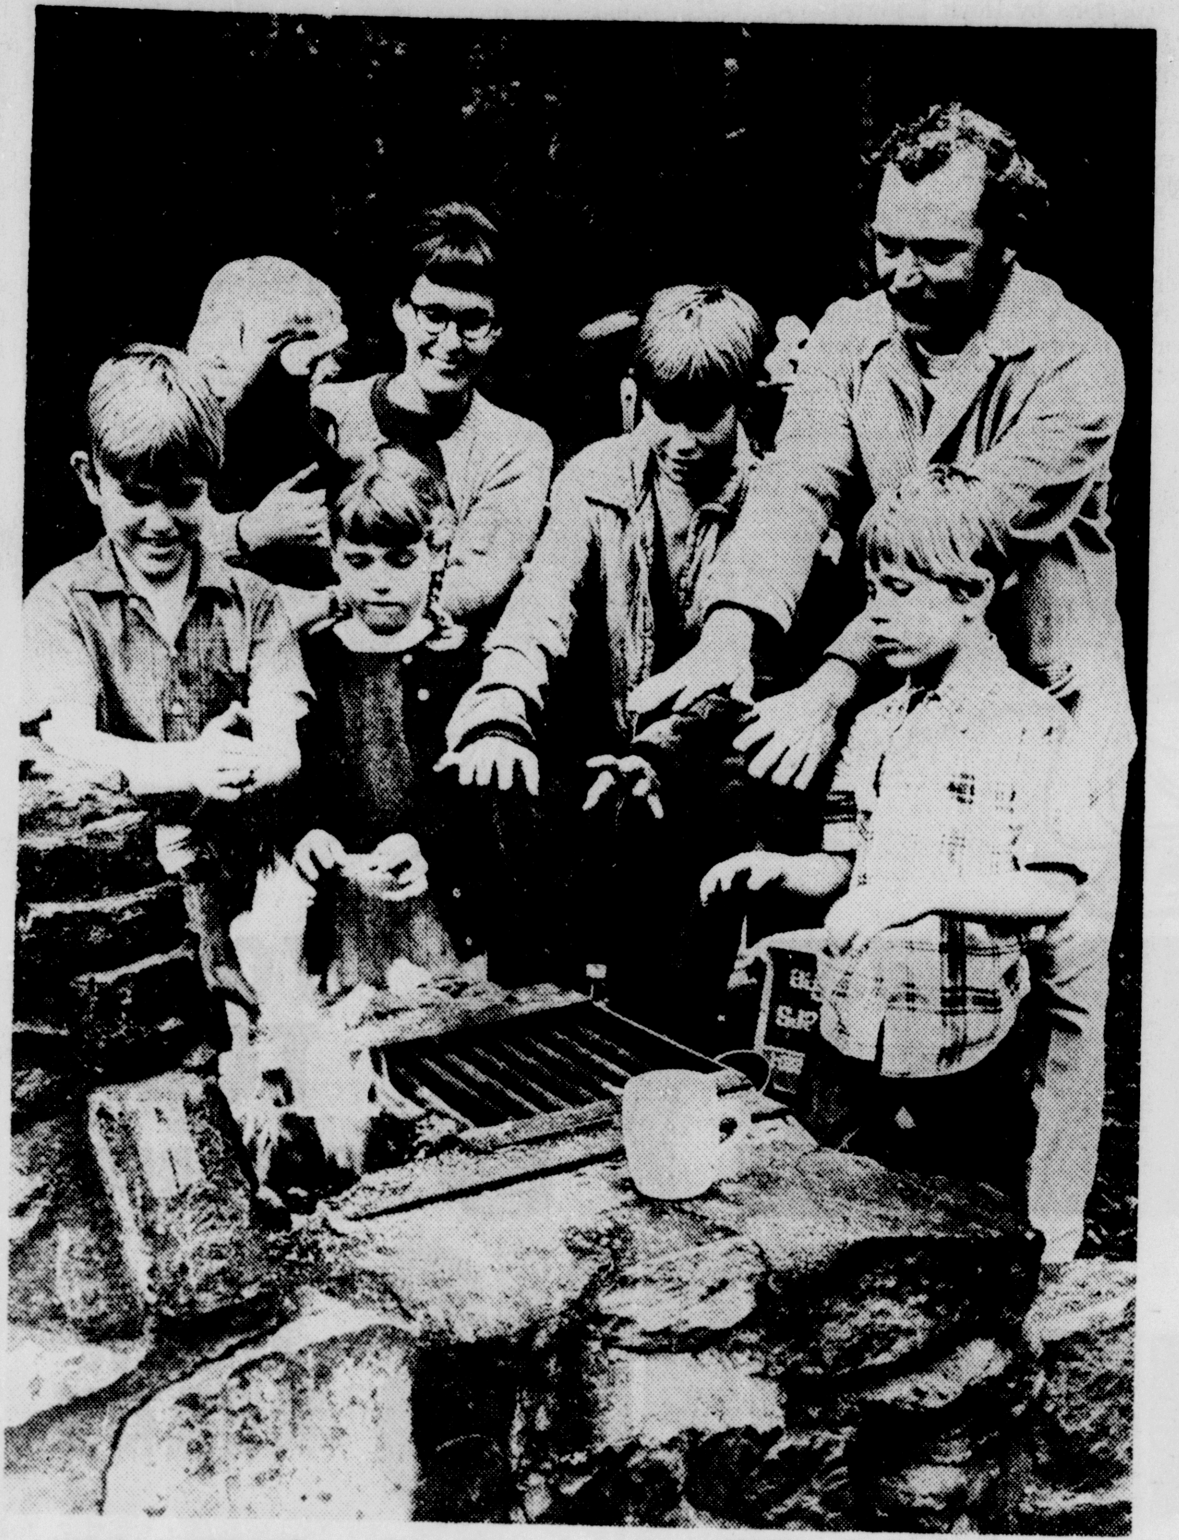
HOMELESS BUT OPTIMISTIC

Misfortune Befalls Family

By ANNE BARDWELL



COLD COOKOUT — The Huskey family (left to right), Mike, 10, Liz, 8; Katrina 2, their mother, Joy; Ray, 12; Timothy, 6, and father, William, warm their hands over a fire in William P. Taylor State Park. The family has been living in a tent in the park, unable to find a landlord that will take children at a rent the Huskeys can pay. (Independent-Journal photo)

A year ago. Joy and William Huskey were busily preparing for their first Christmas in their new home in Novato, wrapping Christmas presents for their five children and decorating the house for the holiday season.

This year, the seven-member Huskey family is sitting out the Christmas season in a leaky tent in Samuel P. Taylor Park waiting desperately for a change in the streak of misfortune which has left them homeless, jobless and sick.

To a large extent they are the victims of two peculiarities of Marin County, a shortage of moderately priced housing and a lack of public transportation.

Until March, Huskey, 32, had been employed for 10 years as a baker in San Francisco. The family had owned its own home for seven years in Tamalpais Valley, moving last year to Novato. "We were happy and really had no problems; we'd never really had to struggle at all," says 30-year-old Joy Huskey.

But now the family is camping in the park because its four-week search for a house to rent has ended in failure.

"The houses we can afford won't take children and the landlords who will take children charge too much rent," explains Huskey, a red-haired man with worried blue eyes which contradict his smiling face.

"And we can't stay at a motel because one week's rent uses up most of our money."

The Huskey family's streak of bad luck began in March when Joy Huskey learned she had cancer and was ordered into the hospital for immediate surgery.

Huskey decided to take a leave-of-absence from his job to care for the children, ranging in age from 2 to 12, after he was unable to find a baby-sitter for them.

The family savings were wiped out when complications extended Mrs. Huskey's expected one-month hospital stay into a two-and-one-half-month ordeal. "She nearly died several times," Huskey says. Though out of the hospital her future is uncertain.

The first day Huskey returned to work, his car broke down and there was no public transportation within walking distance of his home. It cost him $40 a week to travel to South San Francisco and back, mainly because he had to take a cab from his home to the Greyhound bus on Highway 101.

"That's when we started getting behind," he explains. "I didn't have enough money to buy a good car but I couldn't afford other transportation."

However, by July the family scraped together $200 to buy another car which broke down in three weeks.

By this time, the Huskeys had started to get behind in their rent.

"The landlord came to see us and we explained the situation. He said he'd give us time to catch up but three days later he served us with an eviction notice," Huskey said bitterly.

The landlord also threatened to attach half of Huskey's $150 a week salary. "There was no way I could support my family under those circumstances," he said.

They put their furniture in storage in November and moved into a Novato motel, "thinking it would take us only a couple of days to find another house," says Mrs. Huskey. Her husband, meantime, had left his job to help with the hunt or a home.

After living in a motel for a week "we searched all over the Bay Area for someplace decent to live," they said. The Huskeys then moved out of the motel because their funds were running low and because Huskey had learned his mother was hospitalized with a stroke and his father with a heart attack.

"We moved to South San Francisco to take care of the folks but couldn't stay long because the kids were too much for Bill's parents," Mrs. Husky explains.

Broke and homeless, the family moved into Samuel P. Taylor Park where they spent Thanksgiving Day. They had applied to the county for aid and were granted a $416 monthly allotment from the Aid to Families With Dependent Children Fund. Of that allotment, they are permitted by law to spend no more than $100 on rent.

"It was freezing in the park and all the children had ear infections, so as soon as the county's check came we moved back into the motel," Mrs. Huskey says.

But money soon started running out again so last week the Huskeys moved back into the park.

According to the Marin County Social Services Department, the Huskey story is not unusual. There are many families in Marin County without housing, says Sandy Northrup, the Huskeys family social worker. "People are living in cars, motels and sometines they have to parcel their children out until they can find a place to live. This is just the first time someone is living in a tent."

Miss Northrup says of the Huskeys: "Their optimism is remarkable. They never stop looking for a house, never stop trying."

"It's not so cold now — as long as it keeps raining, but the tent leaks and the children have been out of school for a month," Mrs. Huskey says.

Appeals to the Marin County Housing Authority placed them on the bottom of a list of 300 families waiting for county supported housing. The social services department also offered to enroll Huskey in a vocational training program so he can get a job which will pay more. "But I can't start that program until I get my family settled," Huskey says. "That's my first concern."

Despite all its misfortunes, the family is optimistic and surprisingly happy. The children laugh and play in the park, watching Paper Mill Creek for spawning salmon. Joy and Bill Huskey speak always of the optimistic picture, never losing faith the family will find a home, somewhere.

"But we know things can be better, because they have been better," Joy says. "Even with that, it's a temptation to give up to despair. For the first time, I can understand how families from the ghettos might not fight to get out. It's surprising how hard the system is to beat."

Mrs. Huskey admits she does get discouraged at times but says, "It's hardest on the children . . . They feel it's their fault we can't find a home."

She also worries about Christmas but says, "We have to stay here because if we move into a motel, we won't be able to have any Christmas at all. We'll stay unless it becomes a health hazard."

Both Joy and Bill Huskey work hard to keep a cheerful attitude, particularly in front of the children, and the children try to stay cheerful for their parents.

But sometimes it all breaks down.

"Last time we moved back to the park, Liz (the 8-year-old) began to cry 'I don't want to go to Camp Taylor again, it's cold'," reported Joy.

"And one time, while out looking for a house, one of the children began to cry, 'I want to go home.' and one of the others said, 'Shut up, we don't have a home'."

Rohnert Park Chamber Backs Hospital Push

The plan to bring a private, general hospital to Rohnert Park won support today from the directors of the Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce.

President John Henman said the directors passed a resolution urging that all steps be taken to bring a hospital to the city, saying a medical facility is badly needed.

Paul Golis, secretary of the Rohnert Park Hospital Foundation, told the directors that two private firms were interested in locating in the city. The developer had unsuccessfully asked the Rohnert Park City Council to donate half of the 12-acre civic center site for the hospital.

While chamber directors stopped short of supporting the land donation plan, they said all avenues should be explored in obtaining a hospital.

Churches Frown On State Policy

The Presbytery of San Francisco, representing 78 Presbyterian churches in the Bay Area, including Marin, has criticized the state Board of Education's decision to include the Genesis account of creation in California schools curriculum.

The presbytery said the inclusion of Genesis as an alternative to the findings of scientific investigation "completely misunderstands the significance of the Genesis account."

"As Christians we find no conflict between the emphasis in Genesis that God is creator and the objective findings of science that creation has occurred by means of an unimaginably long and complex evolutionary process," the presbytery's statement said.

The group also asked the board to consider teaching all of the Bible as literature.

Christmas Light Winners Chosen

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sullivan, of 260 Country Club Drive, Novato have been awarded first place in the outdoor Christmas lighting contest at Marin Country Club Estates, Novato.

The Sullivans received a $50 prize in last night's competition, sponsored by the Marin Country Club Garden Club.

Second prize of $25 went to Mr. and Mrs. Alton E. Cox of 20 Prestwick Court and Mr. and Mrs. Edson W. Berlin, 29 Olympia Way, received a $15 third prize.

Judges were: Mr. and Mrs. William E. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dinsmore and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Lindauer, all winners in last year's contest.

Juvenile Court Refuses Cases

The cases of Robert Lewis Johnson, 19, and Michael Lindell Brady, 19, both of Corte Madera, were refused by the Marin Juvenile Court, it was reported yesterday in municipal court.

A preliminary hearing for the youths, who are accused of felony counts of possessing marijuana as well as misdemeanor charges of having devices for smoking it, has been set for Dec. 23.

T third youth arrested with them, Mark Rocha, 18, of Greenbrae, has been accepted by juvenile court. He is accused only of having a device.

The three were arrested by an off-duty drug agent who followed them from Kentfield to Fairfax after seeing them smoking what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette. He found suspected pot in the glove compartment of their car.

Wells Fargo Buys Reed School Bonds

The Reed School District's $180,000 in school construction bonds were purchased yesterday by the Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors authorized the bonds' sale after receiving the bank's bid specifying 5 per cent interest payment. Wells Fargo's bid was the only one received on the bonds.

The school district has been searching for several months to find a purchaser for the bonds after escalating interest rates made the low interest bonds a poor investment for most banks and other regular school bond purchasers.

For a while, trustees asked other public agencies, including cities of Tiburon and Belvedere and local sanitary districts, to purchase the bonds.

However, trustees also privately approached investment firms and banks seeking aid and when they were assured in October of a bidder, the board authorized the bidding.

Petaluman Accused Of Marijuana Sale

A Petaluma man was arrested in a bar at 11 p.m. yesterday on suspicion of selling marijuana and possession of marijuana.

Eddie Ray Monroe, 32, of the Petaluma Hotel, was booked into the Petaluma City Jail and scheduled for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Police said a fellow patron of Sam's tavern, 171 Petaluma Boulevard South, called to say that a man had tried to sell him marijuana cigarettes. When police arrived the complainant pointed out Monroe as the salesman.

Collegians, Public Discuss Rapport

Faculty members and administrators from the College of Marin met last night with a small group from the community and decided more communication was needed between the two groups to solve conflicts which have divided them.

They discussed a meeting last week which was attended by 150 members of the community and faculty, students and administrators and noted the dialogue had helped to clear the air. That meeting had split into discussion groups.

Howard Blair, an English instructor at the college, said later he felt the first meeting "helped to change some negative attitudes on both sides."

"I saw it happen in my group," Blair said. "The students were surprised that any members of the establishment could exhibit so much tolerance and understanding of student problems and concerns."

Lothar Salin, a San Rafael businessman, said college education has become a necessity in this society and charged that taxpayers were balking at paying for the education of students who were not committed to "middle class goals and ideas."

He added that many members of the communiy were not interested in college programs, but only in tax savings, even if a number of young people could not get an education because of the tax cuts.

James Reed of San Anselmo said he was also concerned about the problem of student financial aid and suggested a meeting at which students could talk with members of the community about their financial needs.

The group agreed more meetings were needed to discuss financial aid, the college budget, student discipline, the function of a community college and some of the positive things happening at the school.

They set Jan. 13 at 8 p.m. at a place to be announced for the next meeting and decided those attending should break into small groups to discuss each issue.

Joe Stewart Sr., a real estate broker, suggested the group work to "make the College of Marin a good place for students and the rest of the problems will take care of themselves."

New Death Sentence For Inmate

A new trial for two San Quentin inmates on charges of kidnaping two Los Angeles policemen and killing one of them execution-style in 1963 has ended in a new death sentence for one prisoner and a life sentence for the other.

Resentenced to Death Row after trial in Los Angeles County Superior Court was Gregory Ulas Powell, 36. His crime partner, Jimmie Lee Smith, 39, who had originally been sentenced to death, received a life sentence.

The new trial had been ordered by the state Supreme Court in 1967 on the grounds the prisoners had not been advised of their rights to counsel or to remain silent.

James W. L. Park, associate warden at San Quentin, said that Powell had attempted to escape from Los Angeles County Jail during his new trial, but a friend carrying guns into the jail in a typewriter case was nabbed by authorities.

Powell also participated in the attempted Death Row break-out by four inmates in 1967.

'Call Santa' Is Off To Busy Start

The "Call Santa" project sponsored by the Independent-Journal and three junior chambers of commerce in Marin got off to a busy start last night.

Carl Lehman, I-J classified advertising manager, said 1,928 telephone calls to Santa were received at the I-J, Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley and at a Novato number which appears in an advertisement in today's newspaper.

The calls nearly reached a two-day total recorded last year.

One child told Santa last night, "You should take a vacation because your clothes get dirty." Said another, "My father is a doctor and he's made a cast in case you break your foot when you are coming down the chimney."

Santa will be available for calls again tonight.

Membership Appeal Made

An appeal to sponsor boys membership in the Marin City Boys' Club has gone out to Marin residents.

The president, Henry A. Rosso, has suggested sponsoring a membership as a Christmas gift to a family member or friend.

A gift of $97.50 will sponsor a boy for a year; $44.50 for six months, and $25 for three months. Such sponsorship will make all activities of the club available to boys aged 7 to 17.

The club will send a Christmas card to the person designated, stating that a gift has been made in his name, Rosso said.

U.C. Faculty Hits Rule On Communists

BERKELEY (UPI) — The Academic Senate of the University of California, which represents teachers at all nine U.C. campuses, has voted in favor of rescinding a resolution passed 19 years ago that said communists were not "acceptable" as faculty members.

In disavowing the 1950 resolution, the current senate members voted 2,487 to 1,139 in a recent secret mail ballot, Dr. Francis A. Sooy, a professor at the U.C. Medical Center in San Francisco, announced yesterday.

The senate at the same time, approved a resolution which said "free inquiry and free expression are essential attributes of the community of scholars..."

Sooy said the U.C. Board of Regents has been advised of the vote.

He said the resolutions should be considered "as a guide in the establishment of principles governing the appointment, a promotion and dismissal of faculty and officers of instruction."

The St. Lawrence Seaway is observing its 10th anniversary.

Motorcycle Stolen From Hub Residence

A brown 1940 Triumph motorcycle with California license 106609 was stolen yesterday from Thomas A. Atnip, 112 Humboldt Avenue, San Anselmo police reported today.

A neighbor told police she saw a bearded young man pushing the machine down the street at 7:15 p.m. Atnip said he had left it in his carport.

Special Session On New Store

The Novato Plan Review Committee has called a special meeting Friday to consider revised plans by Hoytt Enterprises for a department store in the Downtown Shopping Center.

The metting is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. in the city parks and recreation meeting room at 917 Sherman Avenue.

The committee also will review plans for the proposed historical museum in the Novato Creek park on Novato Boulevard, according to Brian Mattson, city planning director.

Dominican Coffee Concert Is Saturday

Young instrumentalists from Dominican College and the music department's preparatory division will present the final program in a fali series of coffee concerts Saturday at 8 p.m. in Studio 310 of Angelico Hall on the campus.

Musicians will be Jed Barahal, cellist; Lue Ann Fisher, Mark Jordan and Sue McClees, violinists; Lynn Gratonik and Brian Grant, pianists. The program will include a string trio by John Antes, Concerto in G Minor for Violin by Vivaldi, "Kol Nidrei" for Cello by Bruch and solos by Bach, Beethoven, Kreisler and Debussy.

Proceeds from the concerts benefit the Dominican College enrichment program, which began last September with weekly classes in piano for six 8-year-olds. Participants are selected on the basis of need and interest. Some also received scholarships for private lessons.

These students will continue to study piano in the spring, according to music department chairman Sister Antoinette, and a violin class will be added. This will be partially financed by $600 recently presented to the enrichment program from the proceeds of two performances of the ballet "The Adventures of Christopher." The ballet will be repeated on Jan. 16 in a special program for Marin public school children.

Parents of gifted children who are interested in the enrichment program may write or telephone Sister Antoinette at the college.

A. W. CLAUSEN
Bank of America president

From Vault Attendant To Bank's Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A. W. Clausen, a young-looking 46-year-old attorney whose first bank job was as a part-time vault attendant, is the new president of the world's largest commercial bank—Bank of America.

Clausen, a trim 6-footer was elected president and chief executive officer yesterday.

He replaces Rudolph A. Peterson, who reaches the mandatory retirement age of 65 on Jan. 1.

Since Peterson became president in 1963 the bank's assets have almost doubled, from $14.7 billion to $25 billion.

During those six years the number of its California branches grew from 850 to 954 and of its foreign branches from 22 to 96.

TO REMAIN ACTIVE

Peterson, who has been with the bank 27 years, will remain as chairman of the executive committee.

Clausen, born in Hamilton, Ill., came to California in 1949 after graduation from the University of Minnesota Law School.

He said he took the vault attendant's job 20 years ago because "I had to eat" while waiting to take the California bar examination.

He passed the exam but stayed with the bank in the executive training program.

Seven months ago Clausen was named vice chairman of the board. During the previous six years he headed the bank's national division as vice president, led Northern California loan activities as senior vice president, and served as chairman of the general finance committee, as executive vice president and a member of the bank's managing committee.

RETIRED PUBLISHER

His father, Morton Clausen of Hamilton, is the retired former owner, editor and publisher of the weekly Hamilton Press.

During World War II Clausen was a first lieutenant in weather reconnaissance with the Army Air Corps in Europe.

He asd his wife, the former Mary Margaret Crassweller of Duluth, Minn., have two sons, Eric and Mark. They live in suburban Hillsborough.

'Terror Terrace' Attack Is Fatal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Kristine Peterson, 17, latest victim in the Haight-Ashbury district's continuing rash of violence, died yesterday in San Francisco General Hospital.

Horace Mixon, 27, an escapee from Napa State Hospital arrested shortly after the girl's savage slashing, beating and rape eight days ago, was rebooked for investigation of murder. He had been implicated by the trail of blood Miss Peterson left on the 1400 block of Waller Street, police said.

The neighborhood, scene of four murders this year, plus dozens of other violent crimes and narcotics raids, has become known as "Terror Terrace."

The girl's face was so battered she was unidentified for nearly 24 hours in the hospital.

Coin Machine Looted

An amount estimated at between $50 and $55 was reported stolen yesterday from a coin-operated washing machine in the laundry room of an apartment building at 90 Hoag Avenue, according to San Rafael police.

School Walkway Set By Fairfax Board

The Fairfax School District board last night agreed to pay up to $1,750 to build a six-foot wide walkway between Oak Manor and White Hill School along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The city had proposed the walkway as a solution to the most serious safety problem police found in a daily check last month.

An existing walkway, about two feet wide, will be turned into a buffer zone with white breaker bars to separate vehicular traffic from pedestrian traffic, Supt. H. Reginald Hammond reported.

The district's share will be for materials and the city will pay the labor costs.

The board also scheduled a meeting with trustees from elementary schools in the Sir Francis Drake High School attendance area for 8 p.m. Jan. 5 at White Hill, and a meeting with the city to discuss annexation of Deer Park for 8 p.m. Jan. 14 at the district office.

Teachers and administrators from the Drake attendance area and from Drake will meet at 12:30 p.m. Jan. 28 at the Pepperwood restaurant in San Anselmo to discuss common problems and development of coordinated programs in English, social studies and foreign language.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Rural Kentuckians have greater access to community health centers than rural residents of any other state, the National Institute of Mental Health reports.

Mobile Homes To Be Eyed For Low Income Solution

Members of the Family and Children's Services Advisory Committee will visit mobile home parks in Sonoma County next month to see if mobile homes can meet short-range low income housing.

Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas, a member of the housing subcommittee, reported last night that a field trip is set for Jan. 9. Mrs. Jocelyn Bell, chairman of the advisory committee, will be among those taking the tour of mobile home parks.

The Family and Children's Services Advisory Committee also:

HOUSING — Decided to set up a legislative subcommittee to urge the state Legislature to pass a bill providing state loans for purchase of low and moderate-priced homes. Mrs. Frederick suggested a loan program similar to Cal-Vet.

LOST CHECKS — Recommednded to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that, in case of lost welfare checks, the waiting period for new payment be shortened from 20 days to seven days, provided that the bank has been able to put a stop on the lost check.

SCHOLARSHIPS — Decided to start work on a scholarship fund to help some worthy youth.

PUBLIC RELATIONS — Heard from Marion Barbier of the public subcommittee that a speakers bureau is planned, and a program might be set up to have members of the public accompany social workers who visit families reveiving aid.

NEW MEMBERS — Welcomed as new memberrs Dr. Malcolm Finley, a psychiatrist representing Marin Property owners Association, and Florence Gardner, a San Anselmo housewife.

Official Flower

Injured Youngster Released By Hospital

Richard B. Blaskower, 10, of 38 Southwood Avenue, Ross, was released yesterday from Marin General Hospital where he had been treated for scalp cuts and multiple scrapes and bruises after his bicycle collided with an auto on Monday.

Police said Blaskower was struck on Bolinas Avenue by a car driven by Herman C. Waetjen, 40, of 85 Jordan Avenue, San Anselmo, as the boy rode between cars stopped for a traffic signal and into Waetjen's path.

72-YEAR-OLD NO BELIEVER IN RETIRING

DETROIT (AP) — At 72, Morris Loren believes "everyone should work until they die. Not for money, but to improve the community."

Loren proved his point this week when he was awarded a master's degree in business administration from Wayne State University in Detroit.

Loren, who moved from the Ukraine after the Russian Revolution of 1917 and now lives in the Detroit suburb of Royal Oak, has started working on a doctorate in education and next month begins teaching college-level accounting.

Loren received his bachelor's degree in 1930 and returned to his laundry business for 36 years.

Novato Tot's Pill Found To Be LSD

A pill eaten by a 2-year-old Novato boy from his family's refrigerator has proved to be LSD, Marin Juvenile Officer Jeannette Prandi said today.

The child, Robert C. Baldi Jr., was treated at Marin General Hospital after he ate the pill on Oct. 26. The child recovered within a few days and is being cared for in a receiving home, Mrs. Prandi said. She added it is not known yet whether he suffered any brain damage from the LSD.

The boy's father, Robert C. Baldi of 5935 Redwood Highway, told officers that the child apparently opened the refrigerator and found two pills which were wrapped in foil.

Baldi said the pills had been placed in the refrigerator by a friend whom he met in Marin County Jail while serving time for a burglary conviction and traffic offenses.

The friend, whom Baldi knew only as "Tree," had arrived at the Baldi home the night before and asked to spend the night. He had placed the pills in the refrigerator to keep them cool, Baldi told police.

'Nutcracker' Tickets Not At College Office

College of Marin officials reported today that the college office is being swamped with misdirected calls for reservations for the "Nutcracker" performance by the Marin Civic Ballet at 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the college Fine Arts Building.

Tickets are not available through the college but either at the door or from Mrs. William L. Stewart III, 29 Lochness Lane, San Rafael.

THE STARS ABOVE

Sun Nears Farthest Southerly Travels

We are leaving Mars farther and farther behind on our long swing around the sun, and soon the planet will be on the other side of the sun and we cannot see it for a while. After that, it will be a morning star and we can see it only in the eastern sky before sunrise.

On Dec. 21 we will be at the winter solstice (literally sun stand) when the sun appears to stop on its apparent trip to the South and to stand still a short time before starting its journey North.

The moon is full on Dec. 23 and is at apogee, its greatest distance from the earth, on Dec. 26.

Mercury is at its greatest apparent distance from the sun on Dec. 27, but this is not a good time to try to see the tiny planet because the distance from the sun is only 20 degrees.

The moon passes 3 degrees south of Uranus on Dec. 31. The moon reaches its last-quarter phase on the same date, and its brightness will overwhelm the dim planet.

Break-In Try

A thief attempted to break into the student store at Terra Linda High School yesterday by smashing a window and prying a lock handle, San Rafael police reported. Nothing was reported missing.

Museum To Close

The Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael will be closed Dec. 24 to 28 for the Christmas holiday.

Yule Puppet Show Set For Mill Valley

"Jimmy Moonbeam's First Christmas," puppet show for children, will be presented by the Throckmorton Players at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday at the Frank Howard Allen real estate office, 535 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Proceeds will be given to the Marin Child Development Center in Tiburon.

55 Strep Cases

Fifty-five cases of streptococcus infection, 40 of gonorrhea, two of infectious hepatitis and one of salmonella were reported in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health director.

Health Planning Council Nominates 17 To Board

Seventeen persons have been nominated for election to the board of the Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council at the council's annual meeting at 8 p.m. Jan. 24 at the Marin Civic Center.

The present council of 36 members is scheduled to be cut, the board has recommended that it be reduced to 27.

If the membership agrees, nine of the nominees would be elected to terms expiring in January 1973.

Nominees, named by a council committee, are: Joseph Berruezo, assistant dean for vocational-technical education, College of Marin; C. Paul Bettini, mayor of San Rafael; Neil R. Brixon, mayor of Larkspur;

Robert Lomax, director Marin Economic Opportunity Council, San Rafael; Ernest Marris, conservationist, Kentfield; James Osbon, student, Novato; James Reed, San Anselmo councilman; Lawrence Shattuck, probation officer, San Anselmo;

Chester Villalba, executive director, Family Service Agency, San Rafael; Vera Watson, school nurse, Fairfax; Phyllis Widdershoven, director, Easter Seal Society, Larkspur, and Lester Young, machinists union, San Rafael.

Incumbents Harrold R. Cochran, engineer, San Rafael; Anne Ellinwood, Tiburon councilman; Edward Parnell, Tiburon fireman; Edward Ryken, director, Marin Senior Coordinating Council, and Elenor Rogers, physical therapist, San Rafael.

Council members in September adopted bylaws that the board should not have less than 20 nor more than 33 members, with one-third of board membership elected at each annual meeting.

Last month the directors recommended that the membership be 27, with nine elected each year.

Robert Brook, assistant regional director for comprehensive health planning, U. S. Public Health Service, will speak about "Better Health Through Comprehensive Health Planning."

'CORNER DRUG STORE' FIGHTS DRUG HABITS

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — University of Florida students have come up with a program they hope will help students who want to kick the drug habit — a "corner drug store" that will dispense friendship instead of pills.

Dr. Stephen O'Connell, president of the university, said he was so confident of the program's success that he has donated $500 of his own money.

The students plan to open a center where young people with drug problems can talk to other young people who have beaten the habit.

Friendship and understanding will be the ingredients of the drug store's prescriptions.

U.S. Funds For Police Draw Fire

A proposal for federal crime-fighting funds is "an eloquent attempt to bribe Americans into selling their right to local self-government," the chairman of the Larkspur Support Your Local Police Committee has charged.

Raymond C. Kesner said the report of the National Commission on Crime and Violence was part of a movement "toward a federal police state."

Statements by such bodies as the commission "condition local officials and politicians to accept federal aid," Kesner said.

"The real issue . . . is not law and order itself but who is going to enforce the law and maintain order. Will it be a local autonomous police agency . . . or will it be a federally subsidized and controlled police, totally accountable to the federal government?" Kersner asked in a statement for the committee, which is sponsored by the John Birch Society.

The commission's proposal to spend $20 billion more in federal support of police "means double the federal control of the local police process." He said the commission never recommends rigid enforcement of law, but only "more restraints on local police to justify more federal intervention and control in people's lives. The $20 billion now recommended by the commission is the worst example yet of this kind of blackmailing of Americans."

Kesner said federal aid to police in Marin would be administered by the Association of Bay Area Governments and the Marin County Human Rights Commission, which he said are both subsidized by the federal government.

Guilty Plea To Reduced Count

Lance L. Brown, 22, of Lagunitas, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced charge of petty theft stemming from the theft of 18 sheets of plywood from a building site in Malley Nov. 17. He had originally been charged with grand theft.

The same charge against James R. Watkins, 22, of El Sobrante, was dismissed yesterday for lack of evidence.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. set sentencing for Brown for Jan. 16.

Spanish Duchess Killed In Crash

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Spain's Duchess of Alburquerque was killed today when her car collided with one driven by Rafael (Ramfis) Leonidas Trujillo Jr., son of late Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo.

Trujillo was reported to be in grave condition after the crash and an 11-year-old son of the duchess was also seriously injured.

The duchess, 44-year-old Dona Beltran de Lis, died instantly in the accident near Madrid, traffic police said. The two cars collided head-on.

Pink Slip Taken

A burglar who removed louvres from a window at Blessed Sacrament School in Santa Venetia either Sunday or Monday stole a small pocket knife, a portable radio, about $40 in change and a pink slip to a car belonging to the school, sheriff's deputies said today.

Cooperation Clearing Way For Settlement In Oil Float Claims

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In what U.S. District Court Judge Albert Lee Stephens Jr. calls "the result of unprecedented efforts at cooperation," a plan is under way to settle promptly virtually all damage claims arising from massive oil seepage in the Santa Barbara Channel last January.

The unusual procedure, which call for three "masters of the court" to weigh claims in a class action, was disclosed in a statement released yesterday by Judge Stephens and attorneys involved. The statement said:

"The importance of what has been accomplished in this action by the court with the cooperation of all concerned lies in the fact that it will not be necessary to establish the cause of the blowout or who was responsible before claims can be paid.

"The oil companies, although denying any legal liability, agree to pay all legally compensable damages arising from a legally cognizable injury caused by the oil spill."

The statement, noting that an investigation into the cause of the spill would likely "be time-consuming and costly," termed the arrangement "in the urgent public interest."

The action is the result of two suits filed with Stephens against four oil companies — Union, Mobil, Texaco and Gulf —after a huge seepage of long duration from a Union Oil Co. offshore drilling rig.

Named by Stephens as masters were a trio of retired Superior Court judges, who are expected to function mainly in Santa Barbara and Ventura counties. They are Walter Odemar, Clarence Kincaid and Lewis Drucker.

All claims paid will be supervised by the federal court.

Meantime, Stephens said, an estimated 17,000 notices are to be mailed within the next few days to potential claimants.

The deadline for filing claims is April 6, 1970.

Individual persons in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties, as well as public entities and corporation, will be included in the plan if they fall within one or more of the following classes:

Owners of ocean-front property who claim property damage.

Owners of boats, ships and vessels assertedly damaged.

Fishermen operating in coastal waters of the two affected counties who can establish they sustained damage.

Merchants selling nautical goods and services in the two counties who claim damage.

Owners of certain beachfront hotels, motels or apartments who maintain they suffered damage.

The statement said: "The amount of each payment will be the amount for which they would have been legally responsible had the oil spill been caused by the negligence of the oil companies or their contractors."

Stephens said the agreement also contains a provision for formal trial of any claims which cannot be settled by the masters of the court.

Pounds Dropped

MBABANE, Swaziland (AP) — The cabinet has decided to switch this African monarchy's weights and measures from the British imperial to the metric system. The change will take place over a period of four to five years. Britain and South Africa, Swaziland's main markets, will be using the metric system in a few years' time.

Onassis Helps Nuns' Journey

NEW YOR (AP) — Aristotle Onassis is giving two American nuns a Christmas present—an expenses-paid holiday trip to Bethlehem.

Sister Margaret O'Neill of Englewood, N.J., and Sister Alodia Carney of Dyersville, Iowa, said they had tried in vain for the past six years to earn their way on a Holy Land visit.

Finally they asked Onassis if he could help. They said an Onassis aide advised them the Greek shipping tycoon would foot the bill for the trip. The nuns left for Israel Tuesday on a plane of Olympic Airways, which Onassis owns.

Fighter Of Pot Laws Enters Plea

Jeffery Neil Stallard, 28-year-old Lagunitas man who is attempting to test the constitutionality of state laws prohibiting use of marijuana, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing pot.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson on Monday set a jury trial for the week of April 27.

Last Wednesday Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court ruled after a preliminary hearing that marijuana does not have a recognized use as a sacrament in any church or religion and that furthermore, there is no such religion as "marijuanaism."

He said that Stallard had not been deprived of his religious freedom by laws which make it a crime to possess marijuana.

Stallard got himself arrested April 1 by handing a marijuana cigarette which he had taken out of his boot to a sheriff's deputy at the county jail.

Stallard's attorney, Richard Cohen of Sausalito, has said that he plans to use the religious defense when the case is tried in superior court.

At the northern tip of Idaho, the state is only 35 miles wide.

Firehouse Visit Is Scheduled By Santa

Santa Claus, Smokey the Bear and Sparkey will be at the San Rafael Firehouse at Fifth Avenue and C Street Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. to pass out badges, hats and candy canes to visiting youngsters.

All children are welcome, according to Fireman Robert E. Romer, and will be allowed to slide down the fire pole, climb the ladders and engines.

Motorcycle Stolen

Guilty Plea To Heroin Charge

David Roger Harris, 22, former Marinite who now lives in Santa Rosa, has pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to a charge of selling heroin May 23 and a reduced charge of possessing marijuana in 1967. Two charges of selling weed in 1967 were dismissed.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson on Monday set sentencing for Feb. 2.

Harris was among persons indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury in February 1968, for narcotics violations after a countywide drug roundup. He was not arrested for over a year after the indictment, however, and said he did not know there was a warrant out for his arrest.

While out on bail after his arrest, he was accused of making the heroin sale.

Rec Center Sets Holiday Schedule

The Rohnert Park Community and Recreation Center will be open for children's activities during the school holiday vacation, according to Thomas West, recreation director.

West said the center will be open from noon to 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and Benecia pool will be open Saturdays and Sundays from 12:30 to 4 p.m.

Smog Signatures

The number of valid signatures collected in Marin to qualify a constitutional amendment for next year's statewide ballot to toughen air pollution controls was 3,171, a figure dropped in an Independent-Journal report Monday because of a composing room error. A total of 5,046 signatures was turned in to the county elections office, but about one-third were disqualified for failure to match voter records.

Park Vandalism

Vandals smashed a window and 16 floodlights, causing $107 damaged at Albert Park Friday night, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

College Signups Deadline Passes

Yesterday was the last day of registration for first priority students — continuing students enrolled fulltime — at College of Marin for spring semester, the college reported.

Second priority students, new students enrolling full time, will start registration tomorrow through Jan. 6. Part-time students will enroll after that.

The college expected 2,800 full time continuing students to enroll, but the actual number will not be known until late this week.

Ex-Probation Aide's Jail Stay Is Cut

A former Marin County probation officer who admitted that he had sexual relations with a 17-year-old ward of the court and furnished her with marijuana, has been let out of jail after serving half of his one-year term.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court, who had sentenced Richard Jay Paris, 28, last June, made his decision Monday to shorten the term after learning of Paris's good behavior while a prisoner at the honor farm in Sonoma County.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas argued against the early release, noting that his office had asked a state prison term for Paris.

The judge said, however, he had not sent Paris to prison because he did not want to destroy a young man with talent and that he did not expect him to repeat his misdeeds. "He still has a suspended prison sentence hanging over his head if he gets in trouble again," the judge said.

Paris had pleaded guilty to two counts of statutory rape, one of furnishing marijuana to a minor and one charge of sexual perversion with the San Rafael girl whom he met when she was a resident at Marin Juvenile Hall.

Paris had been a probation officer for four years. He has been forbidden by the court to seek employment which brings him into contact with minors.

Nixon To Beef Lunch Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration plans to put an extra $100 million into school lunch programs. The intention, officials say, is a free or modestly priced meal for every needy youngster by the end of this school year.

A chief concern of many delegates to the recent White House hunger conference was free lunch and breakfast school programs. To dramatize their concern more than 500 delegates turned in their $18 a day conference meal tickets.

The Agriculture Department figures there are 6.6 million needy youngsters when it comes to school meals. To enroll all of these in the school lunch program is now the department goal, says school lunch director Herbert D. Rorex. Last year 3.1 million took part.

Weekend Jail Time Ordered

Adam Nicholas Mikolon, 38, of San Anselmo, ordered to spend 20 weekends in Marin County Jail for the second degree burglary of a Bolinas home in November, 1968.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court on Monday also placed Mikolon on two years probation.

Teen-Ager Arrested On Draft Charges

A 19-year old Indiana youth, arrested Friday in San Rafael, was being held today in San Francisco County Jail on suspicion of failing to report to his local induction center last October.

William Edward Pickard also faces possible drug charges after the Federal Bureau of Investigation agent who arrested him said he found two kilos of marujuana in the youth's possession during a preliminary search. Pickard was to be turned over to the federal authorities.

CREAMPUFF '63 CHEV STA. WAGON $650

If you're fussy and particular and looking for the best and cleanest older station wagon for the money—see this wagon before you buy any.

This all-white 6-cylinder station wagon will give unusually good mileage for the Marin family.

Local, one-owner wagon that defies the fact that it's 6 years old. There isn't a speck of wear anywhere inside or out, and if you've looked at any wagons, this is a rare trait.

Fully equipped including power steering, automatic, radio and heater. DNV 679.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Tired Muscles Fail Seriously In Myasthenia Gravis Cases

VAN DELLEN

In myasthenia gravis there is temporary loss of strength in certain voluntary muscles following exercise. Most frequently involved are the eyelid muscles; they function on awakening in the morning but shortly thereafter the lids droop because the muscles are tired, leading to a sleepy appearance.

TIME IS NEEDED for these muscles to recharge their batteries, and as function returns, the eyes open, but in time, the cycle repeats itself.

Weakness of the jaw leads to difficulty in talking and chewing. Involvement of the facial muscles interferes with the ability to smile and whistle and alters the facial expression.

The search for the cause of the disorder has narrowed down to the site where the nerve ending is attached to the muscle fiber.

There is an alteration in the chemical transfer of energy at this connection.

ONE HOUSEWIFE was unable to continue to raise her arms over her head to brush her hair or remove or replace objects from a high shelf. Others have difficulty when chewing, swallowing, talking, and keeping the mouth closed.

An elderly worker was unable to finish his usual noonday salami sandwich. Each succeeding bite became more feeble. Finally he had to close his mouth with his hand. He could not hold his pipe between his teeth or hold his head erect. The disease takes on a more serious aspect when the muscles concerned with coughing, swallowing, or breathing are involved.

Prostigmin, Mytelase, and Mestinon are the remedies most commonly used to pep up tired muscles. Their action is so specific, they are used also as tests for the presence of this disease.

IN SOME INSTANCES, cure in younger women follows removal of the thymus gland.

STONES—HOARD OR SAVE?

M. P. writes: Is it better to pass kidney stones or hoard them?

REPLY

You have no choice because smaller stones will pass regardless of your feelings along this line. Larger stones are removed when they are provoking pain or there is evidence that they are causing renal damage. Some individuals harbor many stones in the kidney without the slightest discomfort.

HER JAWS ACHE

Mrs. B. T. writes: My jaws ache constantly and I don't know why. Don't say it's because of coffee klatches or telephonitis because I'm not addicted to either.

REPLY

O. K. — I won't say it but I can think it. Other causes include dental disease, arthritis of the jaw, and neuritis of the large nerves that innervate the jaws.

VEINS IN NOSE

E. D. writes: Can you tell me if there is any medical way of removing veins in the nostrils?

REPLY

I understand that some dermatologists have been successful in destroying these veins with an electric current. On the other hand, it may be easier to camouflage them with a suitable cosmetic.

LIVER AFFLICTIONS

L. B. writes: Aside from cirrhosis, what other disorders affect the liver?

REPLY

This organ may become infected (hepatitis) or damaged by chemicals. Malignancy and abscess formation are other possibilities.

ELASTIC HOSIERY

C. M. writes: I do a lot of walking. Just as a precautionary measure, would wearing elastic hose be harmful? In other words, will these stockings prevent future foot or leg trouble?

REPLY

If the circulation is normal there is nothing to be gained by wearing these hose.

CALCIUM AND IRRITABILITY

A reader writes: Is it true that a calcium deficiency will make a person nervous and grouchy?

REPLY

Possibly, but muscle irritability and cramps (tetany) are the most common aftermath of too little calcium in the blood.

Pool System For Housing Presented

By FRANK FARRARA

A proposal to put all applications for housing — senior citizen, low cost and leased in a central pool — was presented last night to Marin City Housing Authority directors.

Under the present system, there are separate application lists, one for public housing in Marin City, another for leased housing and a third for senior citizen centers.

Under the proposed system, all housing applicants would be listed in order and when a vacancy occurred it would be offered to the top name on the list, no matter where the housing was.

Thus, an applicant from the Novato area might be offered a low-cost apartment in Marin City and an applicant from Marin City offered leased housing elsewhere in Marin.

Idealistically, it has the potential for increasing integregation in Marin, but applicants would have the right to turn down the offer at the penalty of being moved to the bottom of the list.

The proposal got a cautious reception from directors, who foresaw complications and stumbling blocks, particularly city residency requirements for leased housing.

The central pool idea reportedly developed from a feeling of low cost housing tenants in Marin City that they weren't being chosen for leased housing.

Wallace K. Shepherd, administrative assistant, reporting on a list of tenant proposals, said central pooling would provide applicants with more opportunity for mobility in housing.

Chairman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. felt there should be a strong mandate before any changes were made, and he pointed out that any changes within cities would require approval of city councils.

Cities have residency requirements for tenants under leased housing programs, which exclude Marin City residents from moving in.

Directors were prepared for a full-blown public hearing on a series of tenant proposals, including revisions in the rent including revisions in the rent schedule, but only a handful of residents showed up.

With an audience that varied from four to five, and with two directors, Arthur Miller and James O. Quiett absent, the board postponed action on major proposals until after another hearing at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 6 at the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Directors then zeroed in on the central pooling proposal which would have widespread implications for applicants.

Shepherd explained that if an applicant from San Rafael for housing were at the top of the list and a vacancy occurred in Marin City, he would be offered that unit. "If he turned it down he would go to the bottom of the list for leased housing."

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director, said central pooling would give an applicant a chance to occupy "any unit wherever," but there would be objection "to people being forced to move someplace they didn't want to move."

Melvin Randolph, Marin City housing manager, opposed the central pooling idea saying his smaller list of applicants for Marin City housing would get lost in the shuffle with the larger list of applicants for leased housing.

"I got 50 waiting and this is the only place they can get in, and if you put them in a shuffle, it lessens their chances of getting into a project," Randolph said.

He suggested that the authority work toward seeing that "all applicants are given equal opportunity to live in any of our projects and leave it there."

Senior citizens in Marin City have been told of the opportunty to move to senior citizen housing, "but some are not too anxious," he reported. "At least they know they have the opportunity to move."

Ehrlich questioned whether it would be "sound public policy" to force the central pooling plan, and directors referred it back to Shepherd for further study and a report back to the board Jan. 6.

In response to a comment from a resident that Marin City residents were getting a "runaround" in the leased housing program, Stutsman said there were few leased housing units available, a long waiting list and dim prospects for more leased housing.

On rent revision, Shepherd reported the proposed new schedule is:

One bedroom, $56 a month; two bedroom, $62 a month, and three, four and five-bedroom apartments, $68 a month.

There also is a provision for a minimum rent of $50 a month for those on fixed income, (older people on social security and pensions) whose income is less than $2,412 a year). If their income increased beyond $2,412, the rent would be raised to the flat schedule.

The special provision for the senior residents was drawn up after the initial hearing last month when there were protests that proposed rent increases would hit those on fixed income the hardest.

The present rent schedule is based on a proportion of income, averaging $57 and carrying a $40 minimum. There also is a welfare rent schedule in the present plan.

Under the proposed plan the rents are set by apartment size.

Directors, following staff recommendation, gave conditional approval to seven proposals regarding regulations governing applications and eligibility for low-cost housing and rejected eight.

They gave conditional approval by a 2-0 vote with Norman Campbell abstaining, and noted that since there wasn't wide public attendance they would withhold final approval until after the Jan. 6 hearing.

Gallinas Canal Silting Eyed

A survey to determine how much silt has collected in the Gallinas Canal since it was dredged three years ago was requested last night by the Santa Venetia County Service Area Advisory Board.

The board will ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors to contract for the study to show if more dredging is needed .

The problem of abandoned and sunken boats on the canal was also discussed at the meeting. The board agreed to notify owners first and, if no action is taken, request that county supervisors abate the nuisance.

Conductor Karl Kritz Of Syracuse Symphony Dies

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Karl Kritz, one-time conductor for the Metropolitan Opera Co. in New York City and also conductor of several other musical groups, died today. He was 63.

Kritz suffered a heart seizure last Thursday night while conducting this city's symphony orchestra, his most recent post. He rested during intermission, resumed conducting for the rest of the program, then was taken to Crouse Irving Memorial Hospital.

He had led the Syracuse orchestra since its inception in 1961.

In New York, he was on the conducting staff of the Metropolitan Opera Co. for five years.

Kritz subsequently was chosen head of the Fort Worth, (Tex.) Civic Opera Association. While in Texas, he also became associated with the San Francisco Opera Co., an association that lasted 20 years.

Reagan Studies Return Of Seal To Connecticut

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan plans to decide by Christmas whether Bobby Seale will be returned to Connecticut to face charges of kidnapping and murder in the grudge slaying of another Black Panther.

Seale's attorney admitted he is "not very hopeful" the Republican governor will side with the militant Negro. So he intends to ask the courts to block Seale's extradition to Connecticut.

The attorney, Charles Garry of San Francisco, contended at a hearing in Reagan's office yesterday that Connecticut's extradition attempt is "spurious" and "false" because Seale was not in the state when the crime was committed.

South Dakota has 742 postoffices.

Panama's Boss Faces A Problem

PANAMA (AP) — Brig. Gen. Omar Torrijos, firmly in control of Panama again after crushing a 24-hour palace revolt, may be faced with diplomatic repercussions if he ousts the two-man government junta which went along with the rebels.

Torrijos announced last night that Col. Ramiro Silvera and Col. Amada Sanjur, the two subordinates who tried Monday to remove him from command of the Panama National Guard, would be tried for subversion.

But the junta, although only a figurehead, officially heads Panama's government. If Torrijos changes the lineup, some foreign countries might find this grounds for withdrawing diplomatic recognition.

The two members of the junta, Col. Jose Pinilla and Col. Bolivar Urrutia, were under house arrest at the presidential palace.

Bridges Is A Busy Man: Two Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — There was an inadvertant Lloyd Bridges festival on network television last night.

Bridges, a busy free lance actor, starred in ABC's "Movie of the Week," playing an unshaven, white-haired gunfighter. A half hour after that 90-minute show started, he appeared as a solitary, anxious contemporary man in NBC's "World Premiere" feature, "Silent Night, Lonely Night."

Bridges was in better company and certainly possessed of a better script in the second show, which has to count as adult drama. It had some explicit situations and some explicit talk of a kind rarely seen in made-for-TV programs.

He played a husband summoned to a small New England town just before Christmas because there was a change in the condition of his wife, a patient for five years in a mental institution. There he meets an attractive young matron—Shirley Jones—also alone and unhappy over the holiday. Her son, attending a boys' school nearby, is in the infirmary and she has just received a letter from her husband in London, confessing an infidelity.

The relationship of the two developed against a winter background—exteriors were shot in Amherst—that sometimes looked like mobile Christmas cards. At first it was a most restrained acquaintance, and then as they revealed more and more of their inner selves they inevitably came together briefly.

Generally, however, it was an intelligent script with a point of view with which one might or might not agree. Bridges was excellent and Shirley Jones handled her role of a hurt, rejected woman effectively.

Raymond Burr and Betty White will team up for the second year in a row to narrate NBC's coverage of the New Year's Day Rose Parade. CBS, in the absence of Bess Myerson from show business, will turn the commenting over to June Lockart—who also took Bess' place in the "Miss America" finals—and Bob Barker.

Sweden Grants 10 More Asylum

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Sweden granted asylum today to 10 American soldiers and draft dodgers.

The Swedish Immigration Board said they could stay in Sweden as long as they want but will not be considered political refugees. The board did not list ranks or say which were servicemen and which were draft dodgers.

So far 337 American have been granted asylum in Sweden since early 1968.

Two Welfare Families Toil To Help Others' Christmas

EL CAJON (AP)—Two housewives who aren't exactly affluent themselves have teamed up with the Marine Corps to make Christmas brighter for about 500 underprivileged girls.

They restore dolls that otherwise would go to the dump.

Mrs. Kenneth Stephanus and her sister Mrs. Earl Brown Jr., who lives across the street, read last month about the Marine Corps Reserve's annual "Toys for Tots" campaign, a national effort to collect Christmas toys for less-fortunate children. They called M. Sgt. Don Gibbons at the 4th Tank Battalion.

"Every year," Gibbons said, "we receive thousands of dolls, some in real bad shape. Most of them have to be thrown away. So when these women called, we had nothing to lose.

"We sent them about 150 dolls, real raggedy, mostly without clothes. A couple of days later they called again, asking for more dolls. We put about 500 on a truck and took them out to El Cajon."

That's when Gibbons discovered what was going on in the Stephanus' garage. "We found a doll factory," he said.

Soiled dolls are scrubbed clean in the kitchen sink and clothes are sewed for the dolls. Earl Brown Sr., who is retired, rewires the heads, arms and legs of dolls that arrive in pieces.

Mrs. Stephanus touches up the dolls with paint and styles the hair. She said Monday that at least 500 will be spruced up in time for Christmas and picked up by the Marine Reserves for distribution to needy families.

Mrs. Stephanus knows what it's like for children to have a toyless Christmas.

"Two years ago," she said, "we had only $10. We had no Christmas presents, but we did go out and have a beautiful Christmas dinner."

She and her husband have two teen-age children. He has had open heart surgery and may need another operation.

"He can't work," she said. "I'll be blunt because we're not ashamed. We're on welfare."

Mrs. Brown has five children and lives across the street. Her husband has a disabling back injury and cannot work. They are on welfare, too.

The women's doll factory won't be shutting down after Christmas.

"We'll continue fixing dolls for orphanages and poor children who have birthdays during the year," Mrs. Stephanus said. "And we'll get a good start for next year's 'Toys for Tots' drive."

Marinite Named To New Maritime Agency Post

A San Rafael man will become Western Region director for the Maritime Administration next month as part of the administration's reorganization from coast districts to a regional area arrangement, the United States Department of Commerce announced yesterday.

Thomas J. Patterson Jr. of 8 Fairwood Court, San Rafael, assistant director for operations in the Pacific Coast District, will assume the Western Region directorship Jan. 1, a department spokesman said.

An Eastern and Central district will also be established at the same date.

Included in Patterson's district will be North and South Dakota and all states west of the central region including Alaska and Hawaii.

Clyde L. Miller of 180 Bayview Drive, San Rafael, Pacific Coast Director since 1968 declined accepting the regional directorship, according to the department spokesman, because of plans to retire within a few years.

Theft Suspect In Bound Over

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

SANTA ROSA — Bruce D. Allen, 23, of Petaluma, was bound over to Sonoma County Superior Court Monday after pleading innocent to grand theft in Central Sonoma Municipal Court.

Allen waived a preliminary hearing and was set to appear in superior court on Dec. 29 at 9 a.m.

Allen was arrested Nov. 28 on a complaint filed by the J. C. Penney Co. at the Coddingtown Shopping Center charging that he had taken $300 from a cash register. Allen was employed by the store at the time of the alleged theft.

Taxpayers Ask State Role In Welfare, Junior College

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California Taxpayers Association has proposed that the state take over all local costs of welfare and junior colleges as a means of reducing property taxes.

The plan was recommended to the legislature's tax writing committees at a hearing called to hear suggestions on putting together a consensus tax reform package at the 1970 session of the legislature.

Robert C. Brown, executive vice president of the association, said the state should assume "fu dw8v,ILITY" FOR assume "full responsibility" for financing welfare at the local level.

He said it offered "far greater potential for generating long overdue reforms in welfare programs than the proposal to retain the present chaotic structure of 58 welfare departments at 90 per cent state financing."

Such a plan is proposed in initiative form for the ballot by the California Teachers Association and the County Supervisors Association.

Brown in prepared testimony told the committee that removal of the junior colleges from the local property tax rolls "would provide immediate and permanent" tax reduction.

The association, representing mostly California businessmen, previously has called for state financing of the junior college system.

Brown said the proposal would "encourage economy as policies could force students to enroll where the best education could be provided for the least taxpayer investment."

Attempts Fail To Revive Infant

A seven-week-old San Anselmo boy was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital yesterday, despite efforts to revive him by San Anselmo firemen and ambulance attendants.

Conor Patrick McManus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence J. McManus of 1328 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, was rushed to the hospital after he stopped breathing this morning while in his crib.

An autopsy will be performed.

JIM GILMARTIN

It's A Bird-Brained Assignment, I Say

One of those dirtybird editors from the news department ruffled my feathers the other day by suggesting I publish a pigeon racing story in the sports department.

He's always trying to palm off things of that nature on me. Cat shows, chess tournaments, domino contests, bridge. Anything that has a winner and loser is a sport, according to him.

But, we steadfastly stick to our department motto: "If It Doesn't Sweat, It Ain't Sports." Compliments of Right Guard.

I somehow find it quite difficult to associate pigeon racing with the jocks of the sports pages — like John Brodie-bird, Willie Covey, Chirp Feeney and Vince Lombirdie. Parnelli wanna quacker?

"Hi, Bird Brain, I'm Jimmypoo Gullmockingbird of the San Rafael Eagle. How's the varsity shaping up?"

Game Against Vultures

"Uh. Tell us a little about your pigeon development program."

"Well, we start training 'em when they're 28 days old and really work their tails off. You know, a lot of exercises in the loft. Things like the deep knee bend, pushups, weight lifting, duck walk. But the most important phase of our training camp is teaching them to return to the loft after we liberate them. Hell, I've lost whole teams trying to take shortcuts through the Pacific Flyway. Got an epidemic of lead poisoning. Then we've had skyjackers who've defected to Capistrano and, of course, there are always a few dumb birds who somehow manage to get caught in holding patterns. Those holding penalties will kill you."

"Where do you get your material?"

"Well, most of our squad comes from Belgium where pigeon racing originated in 1818. Also, we pick up a few eggheads from the Ivy League and last week we recruited a hot prospect from Japan. He's majoring in pigeon English."

No Pit Stops, Either

"How far can these birds fly?"

"Well, they've been known to travel thousands of miles as combat messengers in wartime, but our races usually are 500 or 600 miles. That's non-stop. No pit stops."

"How does a pigeon feel after such an ordeal?"

"Pigeon pooped. That's FLIGHT, Lon."

"What makes a good racing pigeon?"

"Well, our bird dogs look for long wings and powerful flight muscles. We recruited our leading scorer from the Signal Corps because he had experience in the messenger service. He's our only letterman."

"What are your training rules?"

"We're pretty strict. I mean, after all, we can't let these birds run around at nights and have a wing-ding with some young pigeons and expect to maintain our image — pride and poise. We're a dynamic organization, not a bunch of fly-by-nighters."

"Any injury problems?"

Out With A Busted Beak

"Oh, a few things like pellet and hail bruises. And, in our last game we lost our most valuable pigeon with a busted beak. Our trainer was busy changing papers in the loft and forgot to open the window. Boy, was that a pane killer, son."

"Do you make any inter-league trades?"

"Sure, last season we gave St. Louis a pair of real fliers for one Cardinal. Figured a bird in hand is worth two in Busch. Ha-ha, get it, son?"

"Got any hot prospects in the farm system for next season?"

"Well, we don't look too far ahead. We lay 'em one at a time."

"I see that you're undefeated this season. Can anyone beat you?"

"Nope. We got a bunch of pigeons on our schedule."

"Would you care to devulge your game plans for the big game?"

"Well, we're going to stick to the air. Our ground game is awful. Most of our guys are pigeon-toed, you know."

Key Man In Our Plans

"Our pigeon-shooer. You know, he's the guy who takes 'em to the starting line and says, 'Pigeon shoo! Go home! Vamoose. Scat!"

"Do you only have a varsity squad?"

"No, we compete in two divisions — classified as young and old. Boy, is THAT a problem. I mean, trying to keep those old birds from chasing the young pigeons."

"How are you going to bet on the big game?"

"Never bet, son. What do you think I am, some kind of a pigeon?"

"How do you determine the winners in your races?"

"Well, we band the birds with rubber countermarks at the start of each race. Then, when they arrive home, the bands are placed in a pigeon timer that indicates the time of arrival. The distance is divided by the time consumed to determine the winner. Time flies, you know.

"Which reminds me, I've got to run along now. Don't wanna be late for the opening tickoff.

"Oh, show me the way to go home,
"I'm tired and I doo-be-doo-be-doo . . ."

Redwood, San Rafael Quints Get Scare Before Winning

Redwood and San Rafael high schools, the two teams most likely to succeed in the Marin County Athletic League, both took non-league victories yesterday, but not without some harrowing moments.

Redwood just did nick Salesian of Richmond, 69-68, after piling up as much as a 12-point lead early in the fourth quarter, and San Rafael, trailing most of the way, pulled out a 59-53 win over Petaluma High.

In other games, Drake dropped a 55-48 verdict to Balboa of San Francisco and Terra Linda nipped Piner, of Santa Rosa 45-44.

Jerry Piro's 23 points helped the Giants ease past Salesian while Bill Challender helped out with 14 points as Redwood hit on 44 per cent of its shots from the floor.

The big boy — 6-foot-7 Don Duryee — did the job for San Rafael, pumping in 23 points and grabbing 18 rebounds while Bruce Nave whipped in 10 points and top sub Russ Colombo got 11. Ross Goree and Joe Rodola with 15 points each topped Petaluma.

Drake, trailing Balboa by 20 points in the fourth quarter, saw the subs cut the margin to three points before losing. Glenn Pfaff was high with 13 points for the Pirates, who dropped their fourth straight.

Gary Wall pushed in 13 points for Terra Linda, which led by 26-15 at the half and hung on to win.

Shula To Stay In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—The owner of the Baltimore Colts says as far as he is concerned, Don Shula will continue as head coach of the National Football League club.

"When we hired Don Shula back in 1963, we told him we hoped it would be the last job he ever had to take," owner Carroll Rosenbloom told reporters yesterday. "As far as I'm concerned, the situation remains the same."

Shula, whose charges are 7-5-1 this NFL season, is under a perpetual five-year contract to the Colts. Talk has been circulating in Green Bay that Shula might replace Phil Bengtson as coach of the Packers, who have a 7-6 mark.

Raiders' Ace Punter Eischeid Wins Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Eischeid made his last point for the Oakland Raiders three years ago, but his contributions to the Raiders' 1969 title drive have been anything but pointless.

Eischeid, whose booming punts helped the Raiders stymie Kansas City 10-6 in last Saturday's showdown for the regular season Western Division crown, was selected by The Associated Press today as the American Football League's Defensive Player of the Week.

'BIG FACTOR'

"In a game when two great teams are playing, kicking usually has something to do with it," said Chiefs' Coach Hank Stram in trying to explain the low-scoring summit struggle. "Eischeid was a big factor keeping up backed up in the third quarter."

George Blanda, who replaced Eischeid as the Oakland placekicking specialist in 1967, provided three big points with his 20th field goal of the season. But it was Eischeid, averaging just under 50 yards on five punts, who gave the Raiders advantageous field position from the start and who set up the one, deciding touchdown.

51-YARDER

With the Raiders leading 3-0 late in the third quarter, the fourth-year pro from little Upper Iowa College got off a 51-yard boot that was downed on the Kansas City four-yard line. The Oakland defense held and the Chiefs' Jerrel Wilson punted from the end zone and Rod Sherman returned the kick to the Kansas City 34. Daryle Lamonica then took the Raiders in to score, flipping to Charlie Smith for the last eight yards.

Eischeid, who joined the Raiders as a free agent in 1966 and led the club in scoring as a rookie, gave way to the ageless Blanda the following year and has concentrated on punting ever since. His kicks of 42, 56, 49, 50 and 51 yards against Kansas City brought his season average to 42.7, fifth best in the league.

Six Marin Skaters In Finals

Juli, who got first place awardings from all five judges, qualified for the Pacific Coast figure skating finals Jan. 8-9-10 in Berkeley.

The regional competition ended yesterday.

Craig won in novice men and teamed with 11-year-old sister Lisa to place third in novice pairs. Pam McMurry, 13, of Ross, was third in novice ladies, and brother-sister Suzanne and J. R. LaNoue were third in bronze dance.

Alan Schram won first place in pre-juvenile boys, but the 10-year-old Greenbrae boy's division doesn't advance to the finals.

Tars To Host Napa Tonight In Kentfield

The Tars, now 5-3 on the season, play their fifth game in seven days when they host Napa tonight at 8 o' clock. The College of Marin frosh squad will meet the San Francisco City College frosh in a preliminary at 6 p.m.

Last night's win turned out to be something of a waiting game as the Tars spent much of the first half playing catch in a slow-down tactic designed to bring Ohlone out of its zone defense.

With the slow tempo of the game, the Tars didn't shoot much, but they shot well, finishing with a 58 per cent showing.

Lee Strong Man As Warriors Win

The 6-10 Lee, playing his most aggressive game of the season, collared 22 rebounds and added 16 points to help his mates square their record at 15-15 in a 125-119 win over the Seattle Supersonics at Civic Auditorium.

COOL SHOOTING

Thurmond, currently the leading rebounder in the NBA, plucked 19 off the boards but had a cool shooting night with 12 points.

However, Jeff Mullins, Joe Ellis and Lee picked up the slack to boost the Warriors past Chicago into second place in the Western Division, 4 1-2 games behind leader Atlanta. Mullins, one of the top scorers in the league, notched 31 points, including 13 in the final quarter, to pace the winners.

Ellis and guard Fritz Williams each tallied 24 points and Ellis snared 16 rebounds to help give San Francisco a 68-46 edge off the boards.

9-0 SPURT

It was a close game until late in the third period when San Francisco broke away with a 9-0 spurt for an 88-77 lead. The Warriors also scored the first seven points of the fourth quarter to boost their advantage to 95-79 before the Sonics began to close fast behind the outside shooting of center Bob Rule.

Rule scored 14 of his 33 points in the last quarter. Playing against Thurmond, Rule stayed outside the key and hit jump shots. He also led the Sonics with 11 rebounds.

The Warriors play Friday at San Diego before coming home to the Civic Auditorium for a Saturday night date with the Philadelphia 76ers.

Raiders Again Lead In Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Oakland's Western Division champions paced the American Football League in offensive yardage for the second year in succession and Kansas City again captured defensive honors, according to final statistics released yesterday by the AFL office.

The Raiders, whose 12-1-1 record was the best in the league averaged 360 yards per game of offense, including a league-leading 234 via passing. Kansas City retained the rushing title with a per-game average of 159 yards while San Diego was second over-all with 330 air-ground yards per-start.

Kansas City, which finished in the West, yielded the fewest rushing yards, 78, and passing yards, 148, per-game and allowed a league low of 177 points — seven more than its 1968 AFL mark.

Chargers' Dick Post Wins Rushing Honors

Alworth repeated as the top pass-catcher by grabbing seven against the Bills to beat out Oakland's Fred Biletnikoff 6'-54 for the season. The San Diego flash went over the 1,000-yard mark for the seventh successive season and set a pro record of one or more receptions in 96 straight games.

Turner registered 129 points on 32 field goals and 33 extra point kicks for a 10-point edge over Jan Stenerud of Kansas City. The Jet kicker won with 145 points a year ago.

Cook, first rookie passer to lead the league, nipped New York's Joe Namath and Oakland's Daryle Lamonica in the aerial ratings, based on average gain per pass play, percentage of completions, touchdown passes and interception percentage.

Umpires Score Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has served notice it will be calling the balls and strikes on labor-management disputes between 24 baseball umpires and the American League.

The NLRB, by a 4-1 vote, yesterday ordered a representation election among the umpires to be held within 30 days, thus opening up professional baseball to its jurisdiction for the first time.

"This is the first baseball case taken by the board," it said in an announcement.

The decision clears the way for board jurisdiction in other processes, including unfair labor practice charges filed in behalf of two umpires who said they were fired for support of union organizing.

The election, to be supervised by the board's Boston regional office, was requested by the National Association of Baseball Umpires. The association has filed unfair labor practice charges in behalf of umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine.

The board rejected the league's argument that umpires are supervisors and thus not eligible for union organization under the National Labor Relations act.

Mel Renfro Becomes Best Thief In NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Mel Renfro, key man in a shift in Dallas' defensive secondary, picked off two passes in the Cowboys' victory over Baltimore and vaulted into the National Football League's lead in interceptions.

Coach Tom Landry, concerned that the Cowboys had allowed 22 touchdown passes in their first 12 games, decided to work Renfro for one half at corner back and one half at his regular free safety spot against Baltimore, last Saturday with rookie Otto Brown also working a half at each position.

It paid off as the Cowboys scored their first regular season victory over the Colts. Renfro's two interceptions gave him a total of nine, according to league statistics released yesterday, and matched the club record.

FIRST DOWN, GOAL TO GO

Looking more like football than basketball players, College of Marin's Tom Seiderberg beat teammate Art Goepp to loose ball during mad scramble in last weekend's annual Marin Invitational Tournament. Viking Pair Lead UPI All-Star Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—Carl Eller and Alan Page, the charging Minnesota defensive linemen who have led the Vikings to 12 straight victories, were selected today to the United Press International 1969 National Football League All-Star team.

Eller, the 6-foot-6, 250-pound end chosen for the second straight year, was a near unanimous slection. He received 47 votes from a panel of 48 NFL experts around the nation —three from each league city.

Page, a 6-foot-4, 250-pound tackle, was named to the select unit for the first time. He ousted Dallas veteran Bob Lilly. Lilly ran third in the balloting behind Merlin Olsen of Los Angeles and Page had to settle for a second-team berth.

FIVE STRAIGHT

Minnesota center Mike Tingelhoff and Lilly both had been named for five straight years and Tingelhoff extended his streak to six straight.

Los Angeles led with six players on the team, three each on offense and defense, while Dallas had four players on the first team.

Quarterback Roman Gabriel, winning All-NFL recognition for the first time, led the Ram delegation. Gale Sayers won a running back spot for the fifth straight season while Dallas rookie Calvin Hill, the only rookie named, won the other spot.

Gary Collins of Cleveland and Roy Jefferson of Pittsburgh were named the wide receivers. It was the first time in the career of both that they've won the honor. Jerry Smith of Washington was also named tight end for the first time.

Gene Hickerson of Cleveland was named to a guard spot for the third straight year. Los Angeles' Tom Mack was selected to the other guard spot for the first time. The tackles are Dallas' Ralph Neeley, for the third straight year, and Los Angeles' Bob Brown, back on the team after a two-year absence.

Deacon Jones, selected for the fifth straight year although he was second to Eller in the voting, is the other end. Page, and Olsen, named for the fourth straight year are the tackles.

Dick Butkus of Chicago is the middle linebacker for the third straight year and Dave Robinson of Green Bay is a linebacker for the third straight season. Chuck Howley of Dallas won the other linebacker spot after a two-year absence.

Detroit's Lem Barney, named for the second straight year, and Dallas' Cornell Green, named after a year's absence, are the cornerbacks.

Larry Wilson of St. Louis, chosen for the fourth time since 1963, and Los Angeles' Ed Meador, selected for the second time in the last three years, are the safeties.

SECOND TEAM

The second team offense has Sonny Jurgensen of Washington at quarterback with Leroy Kelly of Cleveland and Tom Woodeshick of Philadelphia at running backs. Gene Washington of Minnesota and Dan Abramowicz of New Orleans are the wide receivers.

Grady Alderman of Minnesota and Bob Vogel of Baltimore are the tackles with John Niland of Dallas and Gale Gillingham of Green Bay at the guards and Bill Curry of Baltimore at center.

The defensive line has Jim Marshall of Minnesota and George Andrie of Dallas at ends with Lilly and Alex Karras of Detroit at the tackles. Mike Lucci of Detroit is the middle linebacker with Chris Hanburger of Washington and Dave Wilcox of San Francisco at the linebackers.

Jim Johnson of San Francisco and Bobby Bryant of Minnesota are the cornerbacks with Karl Kassulke of Minnesota and Mike Howell of Cleveland at the safeties.

NBA HIGHLIGHTS

Things Finally Looking Up For Celtics

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things are beginning to look up for the Boston Celtics again, and things are beginning to look down for the New York Knicks.

The once powerful Celtics, who ruled the National Basketball Association for so many years, have had their troubles this season in the absence of retired Bill Russell, but last night offered some hope—they moved out of the Eastern Division cellar with a 117-98 victory over Detroit.

On the other hand, the once lowly Knicks, who spent so much time at the bottom of the divison during Boston's hayday years, have become the scrouge of the league, until the last week. The Knicks lost their third straight and fourth game in five outings, dropping a 125-124 overtime decision to Atlanta.

OTHER GAMES

In other games, San Diego overcame a nine-point fourth quarter deficit and beat Chicago 110-101, Philadelphia crushed Phoenix 141-119, and San Francisco turned back Seattle 125-119.

In the American Basketball Association, Los Angeles edged Kentucky 102-101, Washington blasted Carolina 135-114 and Indiana nudged Dallas 108-104.

The Celtics moved a half game ahead of Detroit by rattling off 11 straight points in the last 1½ minutes of the third quarter for a decisive 18-point lead. Boston's Larry Siegfried and Detroit's Terry Dischinger exchanged punches with 2:25 left, but Siegfried finished with 27 points while Jimmy Walker had 28 for the Pistons.

BLEW CHANCES

Walt Hazzard's free throw with 44 seconds left gave Atlanta a decisive 125-122 lead that offset Dick Barnett's final two free throws for the Knicks. New York blew several chances to win, first in regulation time when Dave DeBusschere, who had 27 points, made only one of three free throws for a 113-113 tie with 13 seconds to go, and again when DeBusschere missed a jump shot with four seconds left in overtime and Willis Reed fielded the rebound in the last second.

New York, which had rolled to a 26-2 record and a record 18 straight victories earlier, now stands at 27-6 after Joe Caldwell's 28 points, Hazzard's 27 and Bill Bridges' 26 for the Hawks beat them.

Marin Junior Grid League Makes Room For Pee-Wees

Marin County's Pop Warner football program is expanding to make room for the little fellow, thanks largely to a man who's never even put on a set of pads.

Casalnuovo, under the auspices of his Marin Boy's Club poisition, is pretty much responsible for the planned expansion of Pop Warner which will include a full slate of junior varsity teams by next season, allowing the youngster who isn't big enough to play regularly on the big squad a chance to play.

The San Francisco lawyer started the ball rolling after becoming interested in Pop Warner football when his son, Damian, who played varsity guard for Drake High School this year, played for the Drake Junior Pirates four years ago.

What Casalnuovo saw was the younger and smaller boys standing around, not playing until the "fifth quarter" and then for a limited time only.

SMALLER BOYS

As president of the MBC, Casalnuovo started a campaign which would allow the league to accommodate the smaller boys. It was agreed to have a full schedule of complete games for boys 10-12 years old, under 105 pounds, by next year.

Casalnuovo got it going by doing things himself, taking over as Drake Junior Pirate junior varsity coach, even though he never played contact football in his life. He had directed a touch football program in his college days at St. Mary's, in Moraga, in addition to being a playground director for the summers in San Francisco.

Right now, the Marin County Pop Warner league is looking for more coaches for next year's season, which will be additionally bolstered by the addition of San Marin in Novato and the added jayvee teams.

Casalnuovo reports that the programs runs in cost to about $40 per boy playing, with most of the money going to up-dating equipment, insurance and referees. Boys Club volunteers help cover the cost with fund drives and other money-making activities, including, right now, the selling of Christmas trees at Sabacca's Service Station in Terra Linda and Purity Food Market in Mill Valley.

Menard To Make Debut With Seals

OAKLAND (UPI)—Newly acquired left winger Howie Menard makes his debut for the Oakland Seals tonight against the invading Minnesota North Stars, 8 o'clock in Oakland Arena.

He was obtained Monday from the Chicago Black Hawks in exchange for Gene Ubriaco.

This marks the second meeting this season between the North Stars and Seals. Oakland whipped the North Stars 4-2 on Minnesota's home ice Nov. 19. However, Minnesota is in second place in the NHL's Western Division, eight points ahead of the fifth-place Seals.

Good And Sad News At Mill Valley Club

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Just when the golfers are getting ready to honor Bill Rees, former club member, with a testimonial dinner on his 90th birthday, they lose another longtime member, Dilworth L. Hughes, known to his many friends as Dil.

Hughes, secretary for the club the past six years, died unexpectedly last Saturday in his Corte Madera home, and the shock is still being felt by his family and golfing friends. He was 56.

Rees, now living in Ohio, has been flown back to Marin County by his golfing buddies and will be feted at a testimonial tomorrow night at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael. About 50 friends are expected.

STAN FOGLER of Novato won the most improved golfer award at the Indian Valley Golf Club's annual Christmas dinner last Saturday at the clubhouse. Stan dropped his handicap from 13 to 9 strokes.

GEORGE STEINERT of the Meadow Club shot a recent eagle at the Fairfax course. He used a driver and three-wood to hole out the 421-yard second hole. A nine-handicapper, Steinert ended the round with a 77.

THERE ARE still openings in the Rohnert Park Women's Golf Club. In the club's last activity, Mrs. Robert Quinn won a ladder tourney with a score of 329 points, and Mrs. Bruce Barteaux, wife of the course's assistant professional, won the putting contest, 40 strokes.

MEMBERS OF Peacock Gap Golf Club in San Rafael will be engaged in the last tournament of the year Saturday. It will be the annual Christmas Tournament, a best-ball foursome event starting at 9 a.m., following an 8 a.m. breakfast. Some 95 members are expected for the finale.

ALL GOLFERS will be winners in the Turkey Shoot tournament at the Sonoma National course Sunday. The two winning scores of each foursome will be good for turkeys, the two losers will get Cornish game hens. It starts at 7 a.m., with 130 players expected.

HOW TO PLAY BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Dangerous Foe Must Be Kept From Gaining Defeat Lead

The prupose of the holdup play is to run one opponent out of cards in his partner's suit. If you later give the lead to the short opponent, he will be unable to return his partner's suit, and you thereby gain time to make your contract. You may have to use a magnifying glass to see how this principle applies in today's hand.

LEADS SPADES

West leads the queen of spades, and South is tempted to win the trick at once. There doesn't seem to be any point in running East out of spades, because East is never going to gain the lead. If you use that magnifying glass, however, you will see that East is going to win an important trick and that the holdup play is therefore absolutely necessary.

South refuses the first trick, allowing West to win it with the queen of spades. West continues spades, and South wins with the king. By this time East is out of spades, and South has accomplished the purpose of his holdup.

DEVELOPS DIAMONDS

South must develop the diamonds to make his contract. If he allows West to win two diamond tricks, West will use his first entry to knock out the ace of spades and the other entry to run the spades.

South solves his problem by allowing East to win one of the diamond tricks that must be given up to the defense. South begins the diamonds by leading a low card from his hand. West plays low, and declarer takes a deep finesse with dummy's nine.

NO RETURN

East wins this trick with the ten of diamonds and cannot return a spade. If East returns a heart (best defense), South steps up with the ace of hearts and leads another diamond. West can take the ace of diamonds and can cash the king of hearts, but then the defense is through. South is sure to win three diamonds, three clubs, two spades and one heart.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:
♠—7 3
♥—8 7 6 3
♦—10 8
♣—J 10 6 5 2
What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

You have excellent club support, but your hand is far too weak for any response. You have only 1 point for the jack, two points for the doubletons and perhaps one extra point for length in clubs. You might raise to two clubs if one of your doubletons were a singleton or if you had another queen or so.

School Concert

A holiday concert featuring the Davidson Junior High School orchestra, chorus and eighth grade band will be held at 7:45 p.m. today in the school gym at 280 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 17, the 351st day of 1969 with 14 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1903, Orville and Wilbur Wright made the first successful airplane flight at Kitty Hawk, N.C. It lasted 12 seconds.

In 1925, Gen. William Mitchell was found guilty of criticizing the Army and Navy and was suspended from the Army for five years. In 1945, the Senate voted to award Mitchell the Medal of Honor posthumously and promoted his rank to Major General.

In 1939, the Nazi vessel "Graf Spee," being chased by British warships, was scuttled off the coast of Uruguay.

In 1941, Adm. Chester Nimitz replaced Adm. Husband Kimmel as commander of the United States fleet in the Pacific.

A thought for the day: British poet Latitia Elizabeth Landon wrote, "Were it not better to forget than but remember and regret?"

Chorale's Concert Put Off To Jan. 25

A concert by the Winifred Baker Chorale scheduled at Dominican College Sunday has been postponed to 8 p.m. Jan. 25 in Caleruega Hall on the campus.

The January program will include Vivaldi's "Gloria" and Kirke Mechem's "Seven Joys of Christmas."

Market For Muni Bonds Demoralized

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am a member of an investment club and am investigating municipal bonds. What amount of capital is required for this form of investment? How long must it be invested for tax exemption? — F. C.

A. Municipal bonds are issued in $1,000 and $5,000 denominations. At this time any interest received on these bonds is exempt from federal income tax. Capital gains are, however, taxable. As a general rule these bonds are exempt from state and local tax in the state where issued. It would appear that the final tax reform bill will not change this tax feature noticeably. A House proposal to make tax-exempt income of $10,000 or more annually partially taxable will probably pass. While this will have little effect on most individual holders of municipals the market remains demoralized.

Overhanging this market is a sizable forward supply of expected new issues — estimated at close to $1 billion in the next 30 days. Dealer inventories of unsold new and older bonds according to the Blue List totaled around $610 million.

Banks, as a result of their various pressures, have reversed their customary role as buyers and have been unloading municipals from their holdings. A recent $75 million New Jersey bond issue, held back by its 6 per cent interest ceiling, was withdrawn by that state's treasurer.

But response to tax-exempts carrying 7 per cent rates has been better with acceptance running about 75 per cent. With rumors of further boosts in the prime rate circulating and no foreseeable relaxation of the Administration's tight money policy, the municipal market will continue to be distressed.

Tax Selling Hurts Board

NEW YORK (UPI)—Year-end tax selling and concern over inflation and the squeeze on corporate profits extended the stock market's slide today to three consecutive session in moderately active trading.

The U P I marketwide indicator showed a low of 0.79 per cent.

Adding further to the dismal atmosphere on Wall Street was a forecast for a general "tempering" of business activity during the first half of next year due to Washington's anti-inflation campaign.

The prediction was made by a panel of executives at the First National Bank of Chicago's annual business outlook meeting.

Most point-sized movers in the electronics pointed lower, while oils swung in both directions.

Aluminum shares traded narrowly. Alcoa President John D Harper said aluminum industry profits should set a new record this year.

Also moving narrowly were steels, motors, chemicals, rails, airlines, aircrafts and most conglomerates.

Prices retreated on the American Stock Exchange in moderate turnover.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New, Larger Pet Arcade In Northgate Shopping Center

A new and larger Pet Arcade has opened at 194 Northgate Shopping Center.

Owners David and Fred Plowman, who took over this business a little more than a year ago, have acquired the space formerly occupied by Bud's Northgate Sporting Goods Store, just four doors away from their previous location at 178. They completely remodeled it and say they now have the largest pet store north of the Golden Gate Bridge. At least, they have a full 3,500 square feet, compared to the previous 1,600.

One entire room in the back is devoted to fish, with a 350-gallon tank in the center and other tanks along the walls. A new feature is salt water fish, and the Plowmans may get into tank leasing for professional offices later.

Special glassed rooms are built for the animals to protect the rest of the establishment from odors, but customers may go inside these rooms.

THE NUMBER of retail establishments in Marin County increased 22.9 per cent from 1963 to 1967, according to a Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau fact sheet reporting figures from the U. S. Bureau of Census.

During that four-year period, payrolls went up 36.6 per cent, number of employees 16.6 per cent and volume of business 36.2 per cent.

Biggest annual dollar volume jump was by grocery stores which went from $68 million in 1963 to $87.3 million in 1967. But this represented only a 28.4 per cent increase and the number of grocery stores actually declined 30.7 per cent in that time.

There were only a few straight-line department stores reported, but their number doubled in the four-year period, their combined payrolls jumped 133 per cent, employees increased 71 per cent and annual dollar volume gained 121.3 per cent, reaching $27.1 million.

Other business which declined in number were motor vehicle dealers, down 30.2 per cent; men's and boys' clothing stores, down 23.8 per cent; and shoe stores, down 3.3 per cent.

Biggest payroll increase was by women's ready-to-wear stores. This went up 281.7 per cent in the four years, with the number of employees increasing 217 per cent. Family clothing stores were not far behind with a 217.2 per cent payroll increase and a 200 per cent gain in number of employees.

WILLIAM M. FORREST, formerly co-founder and vice president of marketing for Golden Pacific Airlines, has taken over as district sales manager of Envoy International Town Clubs, Inc., San Francisco, which provides traveling executives with professional business services.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Reason For Not Planning Now Reason For Planning

"The West Marin Master Plan was adopted by Marin County Board of Supervisors on July 10, 1967, and subsequently amended on March 4, 1969.

"The West Marin Master Plan omitted area intended to be included within the Point Reyes National Seashore because of impending acquisition thereof by the federal government."

Thus begins the preamble of an urgency ordinance adopted Dec. 2 by the county supervisors, by unanimous vote except for the absence of Supervisor William H. Gnoss.

What the ordinance does is freeze for 90 days any subdivision or any kind of building on privately owned lands within the limits of the proposed national seashore. Violation is a misdemeanor or punishable by $500 fine and/or six months in jail.

THE OSTENSIBLE PURPOSE of the 90-day freeze is to allow the county planning department time to draw up a master plan for the privately owned lands within the seashore — something purposely left out of the long-debated West Marin Master Plan which was adopted in 1967.

There is a strange anomaly here.

When the West Marin Master Plan was drawn up, it was quite evident that some years might elapse before the federal government completed purchase of lands for Point Reyes National Seashore. In fact, there was considerable doubt by 1967 whether the seashore would ever be expanded to the full acreage proposed for it.

The situation is quite different now.

A bill freeing $35 million to complete the land purchase is on the floor of the House of Representatives, approved by its committee on interior and insular affairs. The bill has the backing of the White House. President Nixon has pledged that the Point Reyes land purchases will get top priority if the bill passes. Opposition to it appears minimal.

THE REASON that prevailed for leaving the park lands out of the master plan when it was started in 1961, and when it was completed and adopted six years later, is much more cogent now. "Impending acquisition thereof by the federal government" is much more a reality now than it was then.

So now, the reason that was used for not master planning the area eight years ago, and four years ago, and two years ago, suddenly becomes a reason for doing a hurry-up master planning job for it.

This does not make much sense to the Marin Property Owners Association, who objected strongly to the quickie adoption of the urgency ordinance. It does not make much sense to us either.

IF THE PURPOSE is merely to prevent anything that would increase land values while Congress has time to complete action on the money bill, we would go along. But why the sudden desire for a master plan?

The Marin Property Owners Association is fearful the 90-day "freeze" is but a prelude to a much longer "freeze," whether the $35 million appropriation clears Congress or not.

The association has reason for its fear. No master plan has ever emerged from the county planning department in 90 days yet. Nor in six months. Nor, with perhaps one or two exceptions, in a year.

The board of supervisors appears to be playing some kind of a game here with people's private property. We don't like the look of it.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

State Senate Power Struggle Finds Republicans Disunited

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The power struggle in the state Senate is on full force as the 1970 session approaches, with a move to revise the membership of the important and powerful rules committee as it was set up by President Pro Tem Howard Way, R-Tulare.

Sen. H. L. Richardson, R-Arcadia, belonging to the more conservative group of Republicans in the Senate, has announced he will seek membership on the committee, when the membership is up for vote during organization of the Senate.

Richardson has had a remarkable record of getting what he wants from that body. At present, he is chairman of the Republican caucus, having succeeded veteran Donald Grunsky, R-Watsonville, in that position.

The Arcadia senator's reason for disturbing the makeup of the Senate is to displace Sen. Robert S. Stevens, R-Los Angeles, as a member. Stevens was appointed by Senator Way when the Tulare senator engineered the removal of Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, during the last session.

Richardson feels that the best interests of the Senate will be served if the conservatives have more authority in the operation of the upper house. Stevens has been, since his election, identified with the more liberal group of Republican senators.

One of the most important committee chairmanships, that of fish and game, is held by Richardson, and will have to be given up if he is elected to the rules committee. However, he expects to retain his membership on fish and game.

Meanwhile, Senator Way is not having all the smooth sailing that could be expected if the Republicans in the Senate were acting as a unit.

Sen. Jack Schrade, R-San Diego, a Way opponent from the beginning, is exploring the possibility of displacing the newly elected president pro tem.

However, Schrade's efforts are pretty well discounted. Generally, it is conceded that Way is safe in his post for the time being, and will remain safe if he keeps reasonably in line and doesn't ruffle too many feathers (not more than 19 at the most).

While the in-fighting goes on in the Republican ranks, the Democrats for the most part are sitting back chortling. They are aware that the Way faction in the Senate can do little if anything of importance without the cooperation of the Democratic group which put him in office in the first place.

Thus, it readily can be seen that the Republicans have a fairly long way to go before they are in complete control of the upper house.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Moon Flights: More Mixed Priorities

The letter from Dr. Carolyn B. Allbrecht recently published in the I-J should arouse mixed thoughts about our government spending. These moon flights are ill-timed with so much poverty and unrest on our own earth. America should rest on her laurels of being "first man to the moon" and turn her billions to earthly needs such as medical research and alleviating poverty.

Let man's lust for power take a temporary back-seat until the earth is once more at peace. No more trips to the moon. Remember, we, as taxpayers are paying dearly for those manned flights.

Nature Conservancy Likes Coverage

On behalf of the Nature Conservancy, I would like to thank the Independent-Journal for its recent coverage of our San Francisco Bay Project. As noted in our releases, we regard the bay coastline of Marin County to be the most beautiful on the whole bay and we are dedicating a great deal of energy to saving it in its natural state.

The coverage provided by your paper has helped tremendously in spreading the word about our project, and we have already noticed that nearly everyone we now talk to in Marin County has heard of the Nature Conservancy's work on San Francisco Bay. We very much appreciate your paper's contribution to our welcome in Marin County.

Student Disagrees With Carl Brown

I would like to air a few of my personal responses to San Rafael school board member Carl J. Brown's remarks concerning high schools printed in the Dec. 10 Independent-Journal.

As a high school student, I recognize the fact that I have biases, just as Mr. Brown has as a teacher. At the risk of being called a nit-picker, I must, in fairness to myself and my generation, respond to parts of his statement.

Mr. Brown states "there are too many bad apples", referring to disruptive high school students. I submit that this has always been the case; the difference is that the troublemakers of the present are far more vocal than those of the past, thus commanding more attention.

As far as these individuals making school "an impossible situation for those who really want to learn", I must again disagree. Anyone who has the ability and desire to excel, can do so. Learning is not hampered, at least not in my school. . .

Mr. Brown goes on to state, "Parents inform me of the odor of marijuana in the halls, and from parked cars at noon." . . . Perhaps Mr. Brown should do his own sniffing at all the schools, rather than rely on parents — a group which I honestly do not find as regular students in my classes. . .

I feel Mr. Brown has leveled an unfortunate indictment against the local high schools, which he has poorly supported in the above mentioned areas. . . .

Public Servants Deserve Praise

I am writing this to let you know what a wonderful police department, fire department and ambulance service we have in San Anselmo.

A lady fainted in front of a store and before I hung up the receiver the Policeman Del Santo was there and the wonderful cooperation, the team worked together, it was very touching to see such wonderful people so nice and kind and gentle.

Marty Kent Jones Alleges Bias

How grossly sad it is that your paper doesn't know the difference between reporting and passing judgement. If you had the time to reread every single article in your library written by the I-J, regarding the Corte Madera flood project, as I have recently done, you would evidence a classic collection of bias.

Your attitude and obvious contempt for the cause of saving Marin's natural assets is blatant. We who must push uphill against biased publicity find it a heartbreaking disgrace to our democratic way of life. A good, clean and open discussion of all sides of a question (no facts withheld and no fabrications made) is a wonderful thing to behold! Good reporting should be just that: the facts presented and the reader given the dignity of making up his own mind.

The "I-J Reporter's Notebook," Dec. 4 by Alan Jones, pointed an accusing finger at the (San Francisco) Chronicle's article of Nov. 30. He said the article was full of barnacles of untruth. I demand a retraction and also a statement of the facts as they were so professionally given by Carolyn Drewes in the Sunday Chronicle. She spent hours on research; your man Jones didn't even ask anyone whether I was behind bars or not; he just said it was a lie to say that I had been. What's his gripe? Why fuss over such small points anyway? The cause is the real point. Our county is disappearing under bulldozer and concrete, in cases where alternatives are possible; and we intend to enlist more and more wise and thoughtful and strong people to the cause of survival, Nature's and ours! Don't be so frightened; investigate; come talk to me; do research into all sides; "tell it like it is!"

Salvador Dali is not only a great artist, but a tough man to upstage. A hoity-hoity Italian countess tried it on him at a recent soiree, sniffing, "I'm afraid I don't understand what you're trying to do. I'm only familiar with such masters as Van Dyck, Rubens, and Michelangelo." Dali nodded, twirled his famous mustachio, and remarked, "Your contemporaries, no doubt."

THE DRUMMONDS

Senate Vote Adds To Doubt That Democracy Really Can Work

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Maybe the U.S. Senate just doesn't know what is going on in this country. It's acting that way.

It's making things worse.

It is abetting a mounting and perilous doubt that democratic government can work — work well and respond to the pressing needs of the nation.

Cynicism about the integrity of elected officials is growing. Many Americans with just grievances feel our institutions fail to do their job, unwilling or unable to come to grips with what most needs to be done. The Senate is adding to this spreading doubt.

HOW IS IT doing this? By passage of its who-cares-about-inflation tax bill on an overwhelming vote of 69 to 22.

Why should so many senators vote for this amendment-laden mess and simultaneously hope — almost pray — that the House-Senate conference will rescue them from the monstrosity they created?

Because one senator after another had piled it so high with what each thought would be an election-appeal goodie that in the end few had the courage to stand up and say no.

It is bad for the country, bad for the economy, bad for the government.

It is opportunist, please-the-voter, wreck-the-country politics carried out with sly confidence that the Senate could vote for the worst and be saved by the more responsible House of Representatives.

And that isn't the most grievous offense of what has just gone on in the Senate.

THE WORST is that so many senators should still be so buried in crass, buy-votes politics and so far removed from the realities of today's America that they can be so heedless, so unaware of what they are abetting.

When the Senate of the United States votes to deprive the federal government of some $12 billion critically needed for welfare, for antipollution, for aid to the ghettos, for revenue-sharing with the states, it fuels cynicism and destroys faith in the democratic process. It plays into the hands of the violent who want democracy to falter and fail.

When every Democratic liberal in the Senate — the big spenders — votes to provide the government with less money, they are showing that they are either politically insincere or fiscally reckless. And the end result is to spread cynicism, skepticism and voter alienation still further.

WHEN 69 SENATORS vote to reduce federal revenue at a time when the economy is still overheated and inflation still unchecked, they are showing that either they do not grasp or do not have the courage to apply the New Economics except when it is politically easy.

The New Economics says that when the economy needs stimulus, taxes should be reduced and when the economy needs restraint, taxes should be increased. But if the Senate is going to apply half of the New Economics — cutting taxes because it is pleasant and refusing to maintain or raise taxes because it is politically painful — then the nation is going to get the worst of both worlds. No wonder liberal Republican Sen. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts called what the Senate did last week "catastrophic" and voted against it.

THE GRIMMEST political truth today is that nationwide cynicism about the responsible, responsive functioning of our institutions of government is mounting and is eroding faith in democracy itself.

The House will probably remove the worst features of the tax bill, but it should not be overlooked that the Senate's irresponsible action tends to prove that the cynics are right and tears down confidence in democratic government when it most needs to be strengthened.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Post-Christmas Session On Money Bills Looms

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Congressional leaders are driving hard to complete action on appropriations bills before Christmas, but there are plenty of pitfalls ahead.

There is a very real possibility that President Nixon will have to make good on his recent threat to call the lawmakers back into session right after the holiday.

By tradition (and not by constitutional edict, as is sometimes claimed) the House originates all the money bills. They have been syrup-slow in reaching the Senate this year.

Now, with the holiday deadline ahead, there is an added hazard in the Senate's permissive rule book which lets any senator or group of senators offer just about any amendment and talk on it at length.

The annual appropriation bills tend themselves to replay major controversies, recent and long-gone. So there are many temptations for senators who have failed to get their way on authorizations previously rejected (or approved).

Before this year's appropriation bills are all sent to the President's desk, the Senate may even have to fight another skirmish in the battle over defense spending and renew the struggle over civil rights.

DEFENSE — In July, August and September the Senate spent six weeks on the military authorization bill. About a month of that period was devoted to President Nixon's controversial plan for deploying the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system.

Two very close votes, 51-49 and 51-50 (with Vice President Agnew casting a vote) approved the ABM deployment. Now two pro-ABM senators — Karl Mundt, R-S.D., and Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M. — are ill and not available for roll call votes.

The House has approved funds for the deployment. All Senate opponents could achieve now in the eventual Senate-House compromise would be a reduction in the deployment funds. That may not be worth the pre-holiday effort, since a similar opportunity will be offered early next year.

There is sure to be some talk, however, on the ABM and on other weapons projects which figured in the long procurement controversy. That talk will be time-consuming as the Christmas carols echo elsewhere.

CIVIL RIGHTS — Also pending in the Senate is the annual money bill for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In recent weeks Senate southerners, led by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., have been making speeches highlighting school segregation in northern states.

If they seek to restrict availability of funds for the office of education, they could tie the Senate in knots and dim hopes for pre-Christmas approval of all the money bills.

There is another civil rights controversy which could cause delay. It involves the so-called "Philadelphia Plan," devised by the Labor Department, which requires contractors on government construction projects in the Philadelphia area to meet goals for employment of Negroes and other racial minorities.

Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats has told a judiciary subcommittee that the Philadelphia Plan is a quota system — discrimination in reverse — and is therefore barred under civil rights laws. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell is supporting the Labor Department and the plan.

The "Philadelphia Plan" could cause delay if opponents seek to void it through one of the still-pending money bills.

If you make people think they're thinking, they'll love you; but if you really make them think, they'll hate you. — Don Marquis.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Powerful Tropic Marijuana Really Blows Soldiers' Minds

What makes some marijuana stronger than others?

According to reports in recent medical journals, the mind-bending chemicals are found in the plant's resins. In hot climates the plant develops more resins to protect itself from the sun, and thus marijuana from the tropics is much more powerful than that grown in milder climates.

Several cases of "freaked-out" soldiers treated in Vietnam after smoking marijuana have been reported by doctors there, who were surprised to find that the plant can have such hallucinogenic properties.

One case described in a medical journal tells of a soldier who shot a fellow guard, thinking that he had killed Ho Chi Minh. For two days he insisted that he had done away with the Communist leader and couldn't understand until the marijuana wore off why he wasn't being treated like a hero.

Dr. William Lamers Jr., a Marin psychiatrist who has been speaking to various groups lately about his own experiences with the strong, tropical marijuana, even has wondered aloud if the Song My tragedy could have had some connection with the abundance of potent marijuana in Vietnam.

SPEAKING OF DOPE, a story that I had heard some weeks ago reguarding problems at San Quentin Prison with heroin has been confirmed by Warden Louis S. Nelson in the San Quentin News.

He recently wrote of a call from an inmate who was out on a 72-hour furlough who was afraid to return to the prison. It seems the convict had been instructed before he left on furlough to return with narcotics "or else."

"He was faced with a serious problem," the warden wrote. " . . . If he carried out the plan he would be committing a felony; if he didn't, he would be committing suicide, and if he failed to return, he would be wanted for escape."

Fortunately, this particular inmate took the only course by calling the warden and, according to Nelson, the problem was satisfactorily handled.

THERE'S PRETTY MUCH agreement among those who follow the scene that the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau has cleaned up the county so that it no longer is a haven for big drug pushers. The biggest fish caught in the narks' nets are mostly in prison or long gone from the county.

"However," someone commented to me sadly recently, "anyone who wants drugs can just drive over to San Francisco."

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Bagley In New Approach To School Tax Control

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A different approach to school taxes is contained in a bill that may be hotly debated in the 1970 session of the California Legislature.

The measure would replace the limit on school tax rates by a limit on the amount per pupil that a school district could spend without voter authorization.

These ceilings would be on the spending for what the Education Code calls "current expenses of education." These include most of the schools' operating expenses except for various miscellaneous costs. Whenever the California Department of Education reports expenditures per pupil, it bases these solely on the "current expenses of education."

THE PROPOSED measure would not reduce this outlay per pupil in any district below what it is in the current school year.

The ceiling for next year would be whichever of these is higher:

1. The amount per pupil in average daily attendance expended for "current expenses of education" this fiscal year, or,

2. In an elementary district $574 per pupil; in a high school district, $706 per pupil; in a unified school district, $683 per pupil; in a junior college district, $873 per pupil.

To allow for inflation, it would permit these figures to rise by not more than 4 per cent per year.

The district board could then levy whatever tax rate was necessary to provide this amount per pupil. If it wanted to spend more per pupil, it would have to go to the voters.

THIS NEW approach did not come out of the education committeee in either house of the legislature. It originated in the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, headed by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley points out that it would get rid of the outmoded statutory limits on the "general purpose operating tax rates" of school districts — which are the rates that, plus state funds, provide the money for "current expenses of education." But it would not leave the school districts free to hike tax rates as they pleased.

IT WOULD, in addition, impose a new kind of tax rate ceiling that is not included in existing law. It would put a limit on the levies for things outside of "current expenses of education," other than retirement of bond issues and repayment of state school building loans.

These are the levies known as "overides." There are more than 30 of them — not all applying to all kinds of school districts. Some of them have statutory limits but some have none. In some districts these overrides increase the school tax rate by $1 or more per $100 assessed valuation.

The proposed bill would limit the "override" levy to 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation in unified districts, 7 cents in elementary districts, and 8 cents in high school and junior college districts. This in itself would mean a tax reduction in most school districts.

THE BILL actually came into being in the Revenue and Taxation Committee during the 1969 legislature. The committee simply took Bagley's AB 1430, dealing with property tax assessment appeals, and substituted the wording of the school tax measure, leaving only the number intact.

In the fight over repeal of the Unruh Education Act section which would have given school districts carte blanche taxing power in 1971, Bagley's AB 1430 never reached a vote. But — with a new number and probably a little revision — it is likely to get a good deal more attention next session.

'Loaded' Candy Arraignment

Robert Reamer Jackson, 18, of 99 Magnolia Avenue, San Anselmo, was arraigned Monday in Marin Municipal Court on a felony charge of possessing LSD after police said that he had jelly beans which were spiked with the drug.

Jackson was stopped Saturday by police who wanted to serve a traffic warrant on him. They said they were suspicious of the candy because a 16-year-old girl treated a few days earlier for a "bad trip" reported eating a jelly bean laced with LSD.

Lt. James Schwedhelm of the Marin Country Drug Abuse Bureau said that a test showed that Jackson's candy was loaded.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. yesterday ordered that Jackson be held at Marin Juvenile Hall instead of the county jail.

Nixon In Peace Call At Lighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon has dedicated the nation's Christmas tree as a symbol of America's hope for peace in a ceremony in which a small group of antiwar demonstrators chanted peace slogans in the background.

The chanting came as Nixon spoke at the Pageant of Peace last night, then pressed a button that lit up 5,000 red and white lights on the 65-foot high spruce.

"May this moment be one when America looked forward to a decade in which America could enjoy Christmas at peace with all the countries of the world," the President said.

Stolen Engine Leads To Teen's Guilty Plea

Carl Leon Curry, 19, of San Rafael, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of receiving stolen property. A second charge of auto theft was dismissed.

Curry was arrested Nov. 15 after sheriff's deputies, acting on a tip, found a stolen engine in his car.

Frisbee Playing In Nude Is Hit

BERKELEY (AP) — Playing frisbee in the nude on Faculty Glade at the University of California is unlawful, a municipal court jury decided last night.

After three hours of deliberation, jurors convicted non-students Reginald Gulick, 21, and Della Striker, 19, of nude exposure, a misdemeanor punishable by not more than six months in prison and $500 fine.

During the trial, campus policeman Ralph Gano said that on Sept. 25, "I observed this couple playing frisbee in the nude."
